Heather Olson, 18, daughter of Myles and Susan Olson of Thief River Falls and a 1991 graduate of Lincoln high school, is one of eight candidates for the Miss Thief River Falls title this year. Candidates will be introduced in a series beginning with this issue and photos will feature poses at Pennington Pioneer Village.

Zoning amendments get approval from city council

Change would allow construction of convenience store

Thief River Falls city council approved zoning amendments and variances Tuesday night that will permit construction of a gas and convenience store at the intersection of Pennington avenue and First Street.

Other items on the council agenda included a resolution to participate in the Drug Abuse Resistance Education Program, changes to the parking ordinance, and many other items.

Despite a lengthy discussion of the proposed gas station and convenience store at the intersection of Pennington avenue and First street by the Planning Commission, Mayor Bob Carlson said he intended to bring up things that were discussed even if they are perceived as negative so that the public is privy to what was discussed.

Don Stewart, community development director, said the major concern at the planning commission hearing was traffic. He explained that Mike Wiebolt wanted to build a gas and convenience store at the intersection. Wiebolt was requesting the commission to rezone the property from C-4 downtown fringe, to C-2 general business.

Stewart reported that there was no one in attendance at the hearing in opposition to the request. During the hearing, however, a considerable amount of discussion centered on the amount of traffic and public safety at the busy intersection.

There was so much concern about the traffic patterns at the intersection the Minnesota department of transportation was contacted. Based on traffic counts from 1979 and 1987, the department of transportation concluded that it wouldn't be much of a problem. Traffic counts in 1977 exceeded 11,000 per day, and counts in 1987 exceeded 8,000. Another traffic count is expected to be taken this summer.

Mayor Carlson stated that nobody on the council could think of turning down the request based on economic reasons. Despite the fact that it will create more competition among the existing gas and convenience store, competition is the nature of business. But Mayor Carlson wondered why a more up-to-date survey had not been taken, especially in view of the addition of Hugo's and more students at the Technical College. He also pointed out that the city had turned down a request to locate the Holiday gas station at First and Horace in 1978 because of traffic problems at First street bridge.

Stewart said he would be surprised if the traffic count this summer was much higher than the traffic count of 1977. Arctic was in full swing then and there was only a two lane bridge, he said.

Alderman Don Barron explained the decision in 1978 not to grant the request of Holiday gas station was because there was only a two lane bridge at the time.

Stewart said the main concern at the meeting was for traffic going south on Pennington avenue. One way to prevent a problem would be to prohibit people going south from making a left hand turn into the store. He suggested double striping, putting up a sign saying "no left turn", and later suggested extending the island in the intersection past the exit from the station. It's a matter of educating the public, he said. People will have to learn to take the turn on First street into the station.

Alderwoman Jean Heinrichs said she didn't think the city has a problem at the intersection.

Mayor Carlson disagreed. He said he travels it every day and knows that it's a problem.

But Heinrichs said many people in Thief River Falls are just too impatient. When they get to an intersection they want to be able to go right away.

Upon a roll call vote the council unanimously approved the zoning request. The council was also asked to consider a 10 foot variance, at the roof line, to the 20 feet rear yard setback required for the construction of a convenience store and gas station.

Stewart explained that the Lindahl building on the property now has a setback of about two feet, which would mean the new store would be in a better position. He also explained that Wiebolt proposed to provide landscaping an plantings in a 10-foot wide buffering strip along the easterly property line. The buffer strip would consist of lower-growing shrubs and that planting to the south of this area should include evergreens not less than six feet in height and or deciduous trees.

Wiebolt also requested a 25-foot variance to the 35-foot wide buffer strip and required by ordinance. Stewart said the request met all six of the criteria for granting variances, the Soo line railroad right of way provided additional buffering between the development and residential area, and that landscaping and planting were subject to review and approval by the zoning administrator and city forester.

The council approved the recommendation from the Board of Zoning and Appeals.

Wiebolt said the store will consist of three gas pumpers (18 hoses), a convenience store with hot fast food and maybe bait. He said he hopes it will be open by Christmas.

Heather Olson candidate for Miss TR Falls

(This is the first in a series of articles concerning candidates for the Miss Thief River Falls pageant to be held Saturday, August 3, in the Lincoln high school auditorium. Stories on the other candidates will appear in later issues of the Times.)

by Marvin Lundin
Times Editor

If Heather Olson wore a medal for each of her accomplishments and honors through her high school years, she would have a collection resembling that of a Russian general.

One of eight candidates for the Miss Thief River Falls title this year, 18-year-old Heather is the daughter of Myles and Susan Olson of rural Thief River Falls. A 1991 graduate of Lincoln high school, she is five feet, two inches tall, has brown hair and blue eyes. Her talent presentation will be a vocal solo.

Heather has taken private voice lessons from Darcy Reese and Vi Barr and piano lessons from Elaine Idso. She earned a superior rating for her vocal solo at regional competition and also received an award for being most improved singer in the high school concert choir.

She received the principal's leadership award and was voted "most

Smerek wins Miss Marshall County title

Linda Smerek, 17, daughter of Rev. Percy and Ada Smerek of Grygla and Miss Grygla 1990, was crowned Miss Marshall County at the seventh annual scholarship pageant Sunday evening in Kimball auditorium in Stephen.

First runner-up was Randalyn Potucek, Miss Warren and second runner-up was Laura LaBine, Miss Argyle.

Talent competition was won by Linda Smerek, personal interview and swimsuit divisions were won by Randalyn Potucek, on-stage personality was won by Deborah Schindele, Miss Stephen, and Miss Congeniality winner was Amber Simonson, Miss Oslo.

Linda succeeds Michelle Bergeron of Argyle and will represent Marshall county in the Miss Minnesota pageant in Austin next June. She has been attending Northland community college in Thief River Falls and will graduate from Grygla high school next spring.

Linda's father is pastor of Grace Lutheran church in Grygla and her mother is a teacher of piano and voice. For her winning pageant talent number Linda sang an Italian aria entitled "Pieta Signore."

In addition to vocal training received from her mother, Linda has studied with Vi Barr in Thief River Falls. She has won star ratings in vocal solo and trombone duet competition in high school, gold cups in piano and voice from the Federation of Music Clubs and sung at many events in the Grygla community.

A summer camp helper at Pines Youth Camp in Montana, Linda also worked part-time during the school year at Hardee's and the Best Western in Thief River Falls.

Enrolled in pre-nursing at Northland college, Linda plans to major in nursing at the University of North Dakota in Grand Forks.

Linda has one older brother, Thor, 21 and an older sister, Heidi, 19. She enjoys being with children, horseback riding, camping, downhill skiing, training dogs, volleyball, softball, swimming and jogging. She was sponsored by the Grygla Lioness club.

Mental illness topic of new book

Cindy and LaVerne Nyflot co-author "I Made It Back."

Co-authors of the book "I Made It Back", Cindy Nyflot and her mother LaVerne will be at Corner Drug store in Thief River Falls on Saturday, July 6 from 10 a.m. to 12 noon for a book signing.

Cindy and LaVerne based their book on the "highway of horror" they faced by the bipolar disorder—manic depressive illness that afflicted Cindy.

The illness started out with a bump on the head when Cindy was just nine years old, and continued on through a grand mal seizure, to sleeping 15 to 16 hours a day and finally to travels to New York, Tennessee and Texas.

Cindy's travels to New York forced her two brothers Lonnie and Jeff to hunt her down and after much convincing they got her to come home. The whole family knew of Cindy's illness, but Cindy was much too stubborn to believe anything anyone had to say.

During the years that Cindy suffered from the disease she didn't think anything was wrong with her and she neglected to take her lithium pills. She continually got worse and was finally placed in the Jamestown State Hospital where she tried to escape twice and was LaVerne Nyflot (left) and Cindy Nyflot (right) from Lake Bronson are co-authors of the book "I Made It Back". This is the story of how Cindy suffered and recovered from a bipolar disorder, better known as a manic-depressive illness. The book is available at Corner Drug, Hugo's, Bethany Book Store; Home Sweet Home and Nyflot Car Wash. Both women will be at Corner Drug in Thief River Falls on Saturday, July 6 for a book signing.

Horse show at fair open to all entries

Sunday horse show July 14 at the Pennington county fair is open to all entrants, according to Fawn Willett of Plummer who is coordinating the show.

Willett noted that the county fair premium list shows the Plummer Saddle Club as a sponsor of the show. The club is not sponsoring the show, Willett said, and funds for trophies, ribbons and judging is being collected from sponsoring Thief River Falls business places.

Registration for the show will begin at 9 a.m. Sunday, July 14, with the halter, performance and game events to start at 10 a.m.

Wendy Kopkie & Jerry Hoffman wed June 1

Wendy Kay Kopkie and Jerry David Hoffman were united in marriage at 6:30 p.m. June 1. The double ring ceremony was held outdoors at the Ingeborg Johnson home in Thief River Falls.

The yard was decorated with a white archway and an attached picket fence.

The bride is the daughter of Pearl Hooker and Raymond Kopkie of International Falls. The groom is the son of John and Marcella Hoffman of Thief River Falls.

Carol Krankel was the organist and singer. She sang "One Friend", Battle Hymn of Love" and "Vows Go Unbroken".

The bride's gown of white bridal satin featured a V-neckline in the front and back, leg-o-mutton sleeves decorated with lace and pearls. The bodice was detailed with reembroidered silkfloss lace and pearls. The skirt and semi-cathedral length train was shaped with silkfloss window appliques. A satin bow trimmed the back. The veil was a drop pearl head-band, pouf and fingertip length with streamers of lilly of the valley silk flowers cascading.

The bride's bouquet was made of large white roses, royal blue carnations, babies' breath and greenery.

Brenda Home sister of the bride, (of International Falls) was the maid of honor. Sheila Johnson, friend of the bride, of Thief River Falls, was bridesmaid. They wore royal blue, tea length gowns with a lace inset on the neckline. They carried three white roses with greenery and babies' breath and royal blue ribbons.

Jessica Home, niece of the bride, of International Falls, was the flower girl. She wore a royal blue satin balloon skirt with a fitted bodice. Mitch Home, nephew of the bride, was the ring bearer.

The bride's personal attendants were Mary Cullen of Fargo, ND, and Marsha Kezar of Thief River Falls.

The groom wore a silver-grey tuxedo with tails and his boutonniere was made of one large and one small rose.

Dennis Hoffman brother of the groom, (of Edgerton, WI.) was the best man. Bill Moreau of Thief River Falls, friend of the groom was a groomsman. Ushering the guests was Dan Kopkie, brother of the bride, and Keith Home, brother-in-law of the bride.

The men wore silver-grey suit length tuxedos. Their boutonnieres were two white carnations.

The brides mother wore a blue chiffon tea length dress. The mother of the groom wore a dress of brown tones of splashed color. Each wore a corsage made of five baby white roses, greenery and babies breath with royal blue ribbon.

Honored guests were Bruce and Opal Brown, grandparents of the bride.

A reception was held at the Best Western Inn in Thief River Falls.

The wedding cake was made of three tiers with a water fountain flowing under the bottom tier. The cake featured a staircase with miniature attendants. On the side of the cake was an open faced book with the reading "On this day I will marry my friend, the one who shares my life and love."

The cake was cut by Clara Guptill, aunt of the groom and Judy Otto, sister of the groom. Hollie Walseth, friend of the couple served champagne, and Elizabeth Odette, niece of the groom, poured punch.

At the guest book were Raquel Frank and Ronda Frank, sisters of the bride. Flower hostess was Paulette Odette, sister of the groom. Kevin Odette, nephew of the groom and Ryan Home, nephew of the bride, arranged the gifts.

David Odette, brother-in-law of the groom video taped the ceremony.

The bride is a graduate of International Falls senior high school. The groom is a graduate of Marshall County Central high school. The couple is now at home farming in rural Thief River Falls.

Donna Rae Thorson, 56

Spokane, WA — Donna Rae Thorson, 56, died June 30 at her home in Spokane, WA. Arrangements are pending at this time.

A complete obituary will be printed in a later edition of the Times.

CORRECTION

A photo caption in the June 18 issue of the Times regarding Lowell Swenson of Thief River Falls receiving an honorary Doctor of Laws degree from the University of North Dakota identified him as founder of Arctic Enterprises.

Swenson has asked that the Times make a correction note that Edgar Hetteen was the founder of Arctic Enterprises and that Hetteen should be credited with that distinction. Swenson purchased the company during its early years of operation.

Dear Readers,
If you have experienced the death of someone close to you, your presence at the visitation or funeral of a friend or relative is of special benefit to the bereaved family. The fact that you have come through your ordeal and can now offer them support in their anguish helps very much to assuage their grief.
Respectfully,
Belmont Funeral Home

Brief Bits from Pioneer Village

by
Donna Myhrer

Buildings and Displays

Pioneer Village had a large crowd of visitors during the past weekend for the Pioneer Days celebration. In the past, instead of arriving in cars, visitors would often arrive by train at a depot such as the Viking Soo Depot. The waiting room looks much as it would have years ago, with benches and luggage and even a chest with the address, "St. Hilaire P.O., Polk County, Minnesota, America," carved in the wood. The fact that St. Hilaire was then in Polk county dates the chest in the early 1890's before Red Lake county was formed from the northern portion of Polk. The depot office shows off telegraph and teletype equipment as well as other office machines such as a variety of typewriters. Upstairs is a replica of the sort of furnishings which may have been found in the station manager's home. The freight area of the depot presently has a display of logging and railroad tools and washday items such as a mangle and several washing machines. A woodworking display is also being developed there.

Another interesting display is the collection of toys which may be seen in the Berg log cabin. The collection includes sleds and skates, dolls and doll carriages and beds, games and many other things. Children especially enjoy seeing the kinds of playthings their parents and grandparents may have used.

Special Events

This week a display of hats from Pioneer Village was used for part of the Thief River Falls public library's "Hats Off to Libraries" program for young children. About 15 hats of different colors and sizes and shapes were modeled by Librarian Heidi Hoks and such things as why we wear hats and how they can keep us both warm and cool (at different times) were discussed. The Pennington County Historical society is interested in doing more travelling displays and programs pertaining to the history of the local area. For more information, call Donna Myhrer at 681-5767 or 964-5245.

Can You Help?

Pioneer Village is filled with many items which help to give a view of the past one hundred years in this area. Unfortunately, the records of many of these things are incomplete, and, in some cases, descriptions of how items were used would be helpful. If you would be interested in helping with developing an inventory or preparing a description of how something was used, please call Donna Myhrer at 681-5767 at Pioneer Village or 964-5245 at home.

Mental illness topic of book

placed in seclusion numerous times.

After leaving United Hospital in Grand Forks, Cindy found her way to Texas where she again neglected to take her pills and continually got worse.

The book is an exploration of a young girl lost in the cyclone of a mental illness and how she fought her way back to normalcy.

The intention of the book is to help others recognize the symptoms of the disease, and also for those who don't understand what it means to be "mentally ill".

In an interview with the two women written by the North Star News in Karlstad it said:

"The Nyflot parents did not recognize the first symptoms of Cindy's affliction. It began while she was attending high school in Karlstad.

"She slept 16 to 18 hours a day... just all of the time. She'd get up for school and for some other things, but most of the time only after we practically pulled her from her bed," LaVerne acknowledged.

They didn't know it at the time, but they found out later that Cindy was deeply depressed and this depression was revealed in her sleeping habits.

"We took her to many doctors, even down to the Mayo Clinic in Rochester," LaVerne related. "When we did find out she was depressed, we suspected that it might have been caused from something in the family. Everything had been going well for us in Lake Bronson and suddenly we lost the creamery which was our main business. We thought that might have perpetuated the depression, but that turned out to be a false assumption."

Dr. John Jamieson of St. Luke's Hospital in Fargo was worthy of praise and trust. He had helped her understand the illness with care and knowledge. In recognition of all he had done for her Cindy dedicated the book to him.

On the cover of the book is a sketched photo of Cindy and her cat, with a car and different road signs which indicate where she had traveled.

The book itself includes a preface written by LaVerne, an epilogue and a last chapter titled "Bipolar Affective Disorder" by Dr. John Jamieson that says in the first paragraph, "This chapter has been written, at the request of Cindy and her mother, in the hope that the reader has been stimulated to learn more about this fascinating mental disorder which has wreaked havoc in the lives of so many."

Cindy is now stabilized on lithium, tegratol and wellbutrin and leads a normal life. Without her medication she would again be in a mentally abnormal (hypomanic) state.

Cindy is now employed at the Fargo Medical Clinic as a medical records messenger and LaVerne is a teacher and is in charge of the DAC in Lake Bronson.

Writing the book was a task that took both women to complete. The North Star News said: "She (LaVerne) began keeping a notebook about her daughter. She subsequently lost the notebook, but one day after things started to get better, she began work sketching some of the things which had occurred to Cindy and consequently the family. That, plus many revelations from Cindy herself as she started to recuperate became the basis for the new book.

"They sent the copy to at least 20 different publishers before finally finding one to put the book together. The comments were always good when the publishers returned the copy, but most of them said the same thing in their rejection letter, "It's a powerful and moving story, but it's hard to sell a personal story.""

The book was published by FAIRWAY PRESS in Lima, Ohio, and was titled "I Made it Back, "A Highway of Horror".

In Thief River Falls the book can be found at Corner Drug store, Hugo's, Bethany Book Store, Home Sweet Home and Nyflot Car Wash. In Newfolden it is available at Stan's Grocery and Hardware Hank.

City council approves zonning changes and allows store to be built approved a public safety recommendation to participate in the D.A.R.E. program.

As explained by Police Chief Ken Fraschheiser and Alderwoman Jean Heinrichs, D.A.R.E. or Drug Abuse Resistance Education is the result of a cooperative effort between the Los Angeles Unified School District and the Los Angeles Police department. The program is now mandatory in all LA public schools and has been picked up by many school districts throughout the country.

Because of the demand that communities have for D.A.R.E. in Minnesota, the state has established its own training center from a $350,000 training-specific appropriation to the Bureau of Criminal Apprehension (BCA) by the 1989 State Legislature for the biennium.

Heinrichs said that she hopes Pennington county will also participate in the cost of the program. A grant that would pay for the training of one police officer and one sheriff's deputy has been applied for. If the grant is received and training conducted, an officer will teach the course to students two hours a day for 17 weeks.

The city council has approved changes to the city's parking ordinance. Stewart explained that the planning commission had unanimously recommended the city council adopt the ordinance which amends certain provisions of the parking ordinance.

He explained that while attempting to assist Our Saviours Lutheran church with a zoning matter related to their parking lot last year, he came to the realization that the current provisions for parking in the ordinance were such that a property owner could not provide a parking lot on a parcel of land that was less than 52 feet wide. He said the city attorney and he were also concerned for some time that the existing parking ordinance made no mention nor any provision, for participation in the downtown parking assessment district.

In other business, the council: took no action on a request to amend the C-1 neighborhood business district zone to provide for residential uses; approved hiring of Anderson, Poissant, Kays & Co. for the 1992 audit; set up a special revenue fund for arena improvement; will advertise for a volunteer firefighter to replace Glen Haugen who will retire on August 1; resolved to direct law enforcement to work with the county in placing a warning sign for water skiing and swimming on the river because of the weeds; approved a progression raise for Mark Josephson at the airport; agreed to proceed with underground tank testing at the airport; will allow Ron Studer to negotiate for land acquisition on First street east; directed the engineer department supervisor to work on plans and specifications for improvements to the Armory parking lot; approved a progression raise for Diane Torblaa; approved a progression raise for Arlo Rude, director of Utilities; agreed to plans for relocation of the Highway 1 substation; agreed to a department directive not to have city employees do electrical trouble shooting of Minnesota traffic signals; accepted a bid of $35,370 from Border State for three padmount switches; accepted quotations for reclosers; agreed to go ahead with a tree program; approved a dance permit for Pennington County Fair on July 11 from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. at the fairgrounds; and approved a request by John Wolbeck of the Knights of Columbus to allow consumption of beer at Oakland Park on July 21 from noon to 5 p.m. for a picnic.

likely to succeed" in the class of 1991. Named to the National Honor society and National Athletic Honor society, Heather also earned varsity letters for speech, golf and concert choir and an academic letter for maintaining a 3.5 grade point average.

She was a member of the top 10 academic students in her graduating class and received the distinguished service award from the Key Club. And she was a member of the mock trial team, playing roles of both lawyer and witness.

Heather served as secretary of the sophomore class and was a class representative on the student council as a junior. She was selected to attend the Hugh O'Brian leadership seminar as a sophomore and was a state finalist.

Last summer Heather traveled twice to Washington, DC, representing Minnesota. She visited with many of the nation's lawmakers and toured the capital. A past president of her 4-H club, Heather was also secretary of the 4-H leader's council. She received the I Dare You award and achievement award from the Pennington county 4-H.

Recipient of the Good Citizen award, Heather was recently chosen to represent Minnesota in the area of 4-H achievement at the National 4-H Congress in Chicago. She has also served as secretary and president of her Luther League group and served as a volunteer for a Bible camp last summer.

Recipient of a faculty scholarship from Concordia college in Moorhead for academics and leadership, she also received scholarships from Teamsters Local 320, Red Lake Electric cooperative and the Masonic Lodge.

"I plan to major in communications English with a minor in political science," Heather said. "I chose the major because I am interested in working with people. I also enjoy writing and I feel that a second major in this area would help make me more marketable. By minoring in political science I will open the way to many opportunities in politics and government."

Heather has two younger sisters, Myndy, 13 and Katy, nine. She previously worked at the Rex Cafe but is now employed at the Pizza Hut and as a substitute lifeguard at the Franklin middle school pool.

Her hobbies include reading, swimming, water skiing, biking, fishing, and working with young children and children with special needs.

As for the future, Heather states: "I hope to work as a public relations agent for an international business or write for a magazine or newspaper. I also hope to be able to volunteer my time and talents to help make whatever community I choose to live in a better place."

Youngsters attend Deep Portage Forkhorn camp near Hackensack

Three youngsters from Thief River Falls and one from Newfolden were in attendance at the first of four Forkhorn camps June 16-22 at Deep Portage, conservation reserve near Hackensack. All Forkhorn camps are sponsored by the Minnesota Deer Hunters association.

Thief River Falls chapter of the Minnesota Deer Hunters association sponsored Ryan Viktora, Darwin Klemetson and Andrew Tri of Thief River Falls and Gabriel Hagenbeck of Newfolden.

As the boys studied various aspects of the whitetail deer, emphasis was placed on wildlife management, deer habitat and population dynamics. Skills taught were map and compass, canoeing, safety, first aid, woodcraft and survival.

Newly-acquired skills were tested on a canoeing overnight, survival camp and the Forkhorn Woodcraft Olympics.

All campers were given an opportunity to practice shooting a .22 caliber rifle, 30-30 rifle and .50 caliber black powder rifle. At range firing competition at the end of the week, Ryan Viktora won "Top Gun" honors with one of the highest scores in the camp's history.

Each student who completes the Forkhorn camp this summer can return to Deep Portage next summer for the advanced Forkhorn camp. In addition to more in depth study on skills introduced this year, emphasis at the advanced camp is on archery.

Deep Portage is a 6,100 acre resident environmental learning center. During the school year thousands of youngsters from throughout Minnesota, Iowa and North Dakota experience three-day adventures of environmental awareness activities taught by Deep Portage faculty.

Subscribers can pick up Times

Subscribers who would like to pick up their issue of the Times on publication day instead of receiving it in the mail may now do so, according to publisher John P. Mattson.

The pick-up subscription will apply to the Times only. The Northern Watch publication will be delivered by mail or carrier as it has been in the past. It will not be available for pick-up as part of the subscription.

Subscribers who opt for the pick-up instead of having their paper mailed will have to pick it up at the Times office during regular office hours. There will not be an option to have some of the issues mailed and others held for pick-up.

"A subscription assures the reader of getting every issue," Mattson said, "and with the single issue price now being 75 cents, the saving offered by a $20 annual subscription over purchasing each issue on paper day is significant."

Persons interested in new subscriptions or in converting their present subscription to the pick-up schedule are encouraged to stop at the Times office and make arrangements with the circulation department.

Fire Department responds to several alarms

Thief River Falls fire department responded to several fire alarms last week.

On June 25 the fire department received three fire alarms. One alarm involved a car fire at 824 North LaBree. A 1985 Plymouth Voyageur mini van belonging to Jeff Storhaug was damaged, according to the fire department. Another fire call involved a smoke alarm at 110 Kenwood court. The residence was cleared of the smoke and there was no fire or damage. The fire department also responded to a false alarm at Northwest Medical Center.

Firefighters fought one fire at the St. Hilaire Sunflower elevator on Fifth and Davis for several hours. The fire department received a report of a fire at the elevator at 1:53 a.m. on the 27th.

According to the report, a belt conveyor system got hot and caught some sunflowers on fire. Firefighters had to climb about 80 feet above the ground to work on the belt fire. The fire department had to use ladders because it does not own any aerial equipment.

No serious damage was reported even though there was about two million pounds of sunflowers in the elevator. A fire department spokesperson said the fire department spent most of their time moving sunflowers. The elevator will have to be watched for several days because the threat of a smoldering fire remains.

Thursday evening, June 27, the fire department also responded to the plane accident report.

PRAIRIE RAMBLING

by Gratchen Beito

Myrtle Myrin grew up where Northland College now stands, at the junction of the Red Lake River and the Thief River. For Pioneer Tales: A History of Pennington County Myrtle wrote, "In the early days, logs would come floating down the river to the sawmill. How nimbly the log drivers would leap from log to log, busily keeping logs moving with a jab from a pike pole. In this way they prevented a log jam from forming. If we got too close to the log drivers, we could sometimes hear their rough language. So we kept our distance.

"Sometimes we saw their wanigan, a house boat, on which they could eat and sleep during the drive."

The word "wanigan" is not in Webster's Dictionary, but wanigans were important in our early history. A good description of a wanigan was given by a former log driver, Fred E. Cyr of Red Lake Falls in A History of Red Lake County. Cyr said, "We had wanigans which were houses built on flat bottomed boats where we ate and slept. Half of each house was used for cooking and the other half for sleeping quarters. There were double bunks with an aisle in the center. These boats were quite long but not very high. Sometimes we had to cut them down even more to get them under the bridges.

The mosquitoes were the worst trouble. We couldn't sleep without mosquito nets which we got in Red Lake Falls, ready made. Lice also became a problem in the summer on the wanigans, and we often spent time to "Read our shirts to look for lice in the seams."

The wanigans, 8 or 10 of them, had been built in readiness for the drive. It was 140 miles from Clearwater Lake to Red Lake Falls. Every few days a crew with a wanigan would start down the river, until there would be as many as ten crews scattered along a hundred miles of river.

Cyr's wanigan was disposable. Once a wanigan reached the mills, they were torn apart for lumber. Sometimes they were allowed to sink from sight.

The last wanigan in Minnesota was seen in 1937. However, in 1990 the Minnesota Historical Society reconstructed a wanigan and moved it on the Mississippi River at the Forest History Center in Grand Rapids.

The men who lived in these wanigans had a rigorous job. It was not hard to get a job as a log driver, but it was hard to keep it. Fred Cyr was born in 1882 near Red Lake Falls. He told an historian how he got his job: "As a young boy I played on the logs coming down past our home on the Clearwater River near where it runs into the Red Lake River. We could tell when the logs were coming because the water roiled and the next day the chips would come down, and then it wouldn't be long until the logs would come."

"When I first started to drive logs, I was hired by J.C. Parker who came to Red Lake Falls about 1900 to recruit men because his drive was hung up in a big meadow someplace. We got $2.00 a day with our food and we worked from 5 a.m. to 8 at night. We got four meals a day and the best food there was. It was hauled by team right alongside the river or was brought from the farmers as the drive proceeded. Sometimes a cow bought from a farmer would be killed and cooked and we would have fresh meat."

"At the beginning of a drive, Parker would hire anybody who wanted a job. The men would go to work and he would watch to see how they did. The next morning he "passed the sieve," that is, he pointed out those he did not want and said, "You don't have to put up your lunch today" and they knew what that meant. After he picked a good crew, and after they got below the dam at Clearwater Lake, he never fired them.

"Logs were boomed and towed across Clearwater Lake with a steam outfit and grower. These logs were all stamped and bark-marked. I stamped some of them myself when I worked in the woods. The stamp mark would compress the grain in three inches from each end of the log, so if the log was sawed off near either end, the mark would still show. It was made with an axe and maybe it was 4X or something like that. I remember that the Red Lake Falls sawmill had a crow foot as a bark mark. The logs were put into the river all along the bank."

"I think that logging on the Clearwater River wound up around 1908, and then I went driving on the Red Lake River. Most of these logs were sawed at the Newton and Pots Sawmill that was started in Red Lake Falls about 1900."

"I worked with logs until 1911 or so. At that time things were pretty well cleaned up and there wasn't anymore driving to speak of. It was also about that time they closed the mills at St. Hilaire and Thief River Falls."

Fred Cyr lived 92 years, and is buried at the place he loved best - Red Lake Falls.

Impressions . . .

July 4th is this week. We who have flags will most likely be displaying our nation's flag with pride.

Do you know the history of our flag? Did you know that at least 27 different flags have flown over our nation? That of course, does not count state flags and various organizational flags.

The first flag, historically, to fly in North America was flown by Leif Ericson in the 1000's—(and all good Scandinavians like to think that North America was first discovered by this noted Viking!)!!

After Leif Ericson's flag, there were flags from Spain, France, England, the Netherlands and Russia which flew over our nation for periods of time. Columbus brought the Spanish flag, and a flag of his own. The French flag flew here between 1604 and 1763. The British flag flew over it's various colonies. The Dutch flag flew over New York, and the Russian-American Company flew a flag over Russian settlements in Alaska in the early 1800's.

But, the flag as we know it today has also had a variety of changes throughout history.

During the Revolutionary War our nation changed from a nation fighting under many flags, to having one flag as its symbol. This flag was known as the Continental Colors. It was our official flag from 1775 to 1777. It was red, white, and blue. It had 13 stripes. It had in the corner where we now have stars, a replica of the British flag.

After the Revolution was concluded, and we were no longer under British rule, the Continental Congress deemed it appropriate to remove the British flag from our official flag. On June 14, 1777, they decided that our flag should be "13 stripes alternate red and white, and the Union be 13 stars white in a blue field representing a new constellation". What a sense of hope for our nation that Continental Congress had to even equate the formation of this fledging nation with the greatness of the constellations!!!

The colors of our flag were chosen for unknown reasons. But, in 1782 that was rectified by the Congress of the Confederation. They designed the Great Seal of our land, choosing the some colors of which the flag was made. In determining the Seal, they defined the colors. Red signified hardiness and courage. White represented purity and innocence. Blue represented vigilance, perseverance, and justice.

The stripes of our flag today stand for the 13 original colonies. However, there was a time, in 1794, when the first 2 new states were added to the Union, that 15 stripes and 15 stars became the flag. Congress soon noted that adding an additional stripe per new state would make the flag cumbersome, so in April 4, 1818, it was decreed that our flag should return to the original 13 stripes, representing the 13 colonies.

The stars on our flag today represent each state. In 1777, it was decreed that our flag should have 13 stars, but it did not specify that the stars should represent a state each, or even how the stars should be arranged. Thus, a variety of original arrangements of the stars have been noted.

The same Congress, in 1818, which decreed that the 13 stripes should represent the 13 colonies also decreed that a star should represent each state. So, thereafter, on the July 4th following the admittance of a new state to the Union, our flag would be officially changed to represent the new state with a star. Congress did not, however, determine how the stars should be arranged. So various arrangements have existed for the stars on our flags. However, Presidential order has determined the location of the last 3 stars.

The Civil War caused some concern for our flag. Lincoln did not allow the southern states' stars to be removed. So, for parts of the war, Union troops fought under a 33 star flag, a 34 star flag, or a 35 star flag.

So now that you know a bit of the history of our flag, fly it even more proudly this Fourth of July. If you don't know proper flag etiquette, take the time to learn it. Our flag has flown proudly for generations, representing our nation and her people during many kinds of struggles and victories. Our nation still perseveres. Our nation still is vigilant. Our nation still strives for justice. Our nation, still among the nations of this world, represents purity and innocence and courage and hardiness. Our flag still truly represents us. Fly her respectfully and proudly.

Speaking Of . . .

. . . Enjoying our Nation's Birthday

July fourth means more than fireworks, picnics and parades. The Fourth of July is a birthday celebration—the birthday of our nation. This year we celebrate the 215th birthday of the United States of America. What better time than this 215th birthday to get interested in the history of our country?

What, you don't like history? Too many people say that history is boring and uninteresting. My children have all moaned and groaned about learning history. I've heard all of them say, at various times, "We aren't ever going to use this stuff in everyday life. Why are we studying this old junk anyway? Who cares what happened hundreds of years ago?"

I think that's an awful attitude. I love history and historical things. I can't believe my children don't like it.

I began to wonder when I heard them say that they didn't like learning about history. First of all, immediately placing the blame somewhere else, I decided that maybe there is something wrong with the way that history is taught in the schools. I figured the kids are expected to memorize too many boring dates and names and maybe the teachers don't make history exciting enough for them.

Even though it may very well be that some history classes are more boring than they should be, I eventually decided that the problem must lie somewhere else. After all, back in my day, history classes were about as boring and uninteresting as they could be. We memorized and recited and rattled off dates, names and places by rote like little robots, but that didn't keep me from enjoying history. Yes, I decided that even though I hate to admit it, maybe some of the reason that my children don't like history is my fault.

Maybe I forgot to share my interest with them. Maybe I forgot to talk to them about the "olden days," and tell them those stories my grandmother told me about how it was when she was growing up and what this area was like when Thief River Falls was young.

Maybe nobody has bothered to talk about history at our house; maybe we have been over-using the television set instead of using our communication skills and talking with one another. I guess I forget that they might even like to hear what it was like when I was growing up. Perhaps I hate to admit that my growing up years are the "olden days" to them.

Maybe I forgot to tell them the tales behind some of the trinkets I have that are very old and about some of Grandma's old dishes, that I treasure and the special handiwork that was done by my great-aunts. Maybe I forgot to tell them about my relatives who are no longer here and how exciting their lives were.

Maybe I forgot to tell them that we study history so that we can understand the present better, and so that we will know what happened and why it happened in the past so that our future will be better.

I've decided that there are some other ways of getting my children interested in history. Besides talking about it, one way to learn about history is to experience it. I decided that we should go out and look at old places, especially some right around us in this area.

Old cemeteries can be interesting. Yes they can. Wander through one some time. Nearly every old, weathered headstone has a story, and, if it doesn't, a story can be imagined. The dates on the headstones can be one way of learning about dates without using a textbook.

Then too, there are several old houses and buildings right here in Thief River Falls. We should drive around and look at them. It wouldn't hurt to do some research on the area, either, because you can bet that every one of those old houses and buildings had a tale or two behind it.

We should walk the Indian trails and wander through the parks and meander around the river banks and remember that they are a historical part of this town, too. Native Americans have so much to do with our area, and what interesting stories there are about the Indians in the area.

Another place that absolutely must be visited is the Pioneer Village. How fortunate we are to have history at our fingertips right here in town. What better way to learn about the history of this area than to see it in the proper setting?

A little time, a little imagination, a little communication, and history will come alive. What could be better than sharing these things with family, especially at such a special time as a birthday, after all.

FmHA lifts limits on housing loans

Revised income limits for the Farmers Home administration (FmHA) single family housing program will allow FmHA to extend credit to higher income families in Pennington, east Marshall and northwest Beltrami counties, according to David Altenbernd, county supervisor in the Thief River Falls office.

This loan program is available to low and very low-income individuals and families who need permanent housing and wish to purchase existing housing or built a new home.

"Qualifications for FmHA credit vary," Altenbernd said, "depending upon family size, annual family income and the county that the applicant resides in. For example, in Pennington county the adjusted family income limits range from $18,250 for an individual to $28,150 for a family of five. Adjusted income can be calculated by taking the total gross income of the household from all sources and deducting $480 for each child under the age of 18 living at home.

"Ability to repay the loan within a maximum period of 33 years must be clearly demonstrated by a sound credit rating and solid employment history," Altenbernd added.

By the use of interest credit, qualified borrowers may have part of their payments deferred. Payments may be reduced to as low as one per cent interest. Under this system, the payment of principal, interest, real estate taxes and insurance typically runs 20 per cent of a family's adjusted income.

A portion of the deferred interest payments may be repaid at a later date from the equity generated from the proceeds when the borrower decides to sell the property and repay the loan.

FmHA is a federal agency charged with administering Title V of the Housing Act of 1949, the law authorizing rural housing loans.

"Currently FmHA has loans on over 8,250 homes financed to residents of rural Minnesota," Altenbernd said. "In Pennington and east Marshall counties there are presently 145 FmHA borrower families who have home loan assistance."

Further information can be obtained by contacting the Farmers Home Administration office at P.O. Box 486, Thief River Falls, MN 56701 or by calling 681-2843.

County Board Proceedings

condemned houses situated on tax forfeited property in Thief River Falls. The Sentence to Serve people are keeping these areas clean. Commissioner Murphy moved, seconded by Commissioner Koop to take bids for demolition of both condemned buildings with bids to comply with City Codes. Motion unanimously carried.

The County Board then reviewed a letter from the Northwest RC & D noting that the annual dues were set at $200. Commissioner Penning moved, seconded by Commissioner Koop to approve payment of $200 for annual dues of the Northwest RC & D. Motion unanimously carried.

The County Board then discussed the 1/2-sales tax issue. This subject will be brought up at the next County Board meeting.

County Board Chairman Don Jensen gave a report on the meeting with Red Lake County concerning a joint engineer position for the two counties. Red Lake County was going to hold their interviews then let Pennington County know if they wanted to consider it further.

It was noted that the County Board of Equalization was set for Monday June 17th, 1991 at 10:00 a.m.

Discussion was held on Larry Rux's request for an increase in wages while the Head Custodian is out on Leave of Absence. Commissioner Penning moved, seconded by Commissioner Murphy to refer this to the Building and Maintenance Committee for a recommendation. Motion carried.

Commissioner Swenson moved, seconded by Commissioner Murphy to refer the bills submitted for extra help to move furniture to lay carpet at the Welfare building to the Building and Maintenance Committee. Motion unanimously carried.

Commissioner Penning moved, seconded by Commissioner Swanson to approve the Commissioner Warrants as represented with the exception of the Richard Haugen and Welfare carpeting bills as previously acted upon. Motion unanimously carried.

The County Board discussed briefly the need for a dead animal service in Northwest Minnesota. More information will be coming from Red Lake County on this issue.

Commissioner Murphy discussed two concerns at Oakland Park. The first being that the City of Thief River Falls lose control people requested they remove the cable that went around the parking lot and now cars are driving into the park. The second concern involved lighting in the restrooms. The City of Thief River Falls Park & Recreation Department suggests a plastic sky light be installed. Commissioner Koop moved, seconded by Commissioner Murphy to authorize the City of Thief River Falls to install the sky light and bill the work to Pennington County. Motion unanimously carried.

Moved by Commissioner Koop, seconded by Commissioner Swanson to adjourn to June 25th at 3:00 p.m. Motion carried.

OFFICIAL PROCEEDINGS
BOARD OF EQUALIZATION
PENNINGTON COUNTY
June 17th, 1991 - 10:00 A.M.

Pursuant to Law the Pennington County Board of Equalization met in the Board room of the Pennington County Courthouse in Thief River Falls on Monday June 17th 1991 at 10:00 a.m.

Members Present: Commissioner Don Jensen, Bill Penning, Oliver Swanson, Albert Koop & County Auditor Kenneth Olson.

Also Present were County Assessor Gerry DeHann and Deputy Assessor, Adeline Olson.

The County Assessor reviewed three letters he had received concerning Market Value disagreements and Homestead classifications.

The first letter reviewed was from A.G. Gregerson and Violet E. Larson, husband and wife, requesting homestead classification on Violet's home in Thief River Falls. They had attended the City of Thief River Falls Board of Review and are seeking to retain homestead on their property in Thief River Falls along with having homestead on his property in another county. Commissioner Koop moved, seconded by Commissioner Swanson to deny A.G. Gregerson and Violet E. Larson Homestead classification on Violet's property in Thief River Falls. Motion unanimously carried.

The County Assessor then reviewed Sue Fredeen's letter asking that her home be lowered to a Market value of $40,000. This request had been denied at the City of Thief River Falls Board of Review. The Assessor's Office had lowered the value from $60,000 to $52,300 and recommends this value. Commissioner Penning moved, seconded by Commissioner Koop to deny Sue Fredeen's request to lower the value of her property described as Rustad's Addition, Lot 59 and to leave the Market Value at $52,300 for taxes payable 1992. Motion unanimously carried.

The Assessor then reviewed a letter from Bud Wallenberg requesting that the value of his land in Cloverleaf Township be lowered. Mr. Wallenberg had not sent a letter or appeared before the Township Board of Review. Commissioner Penning moved, seconded by Commissioner Koop that Bud Wallenberg's request be denied as the Assessor had valued this land the same as comparable land and also Mr. Wallenberg did not appear at the Township Board of Review. Motion unanimously carried.

The County Assessor then presented a chart of land and building valuations between townships. Also presented were reports on the tillable land values in the County and copies of the Sales Ratio Study from October 1989 to September 1990. The Assessor indicated that there should be no increases or decreases coming from the State Board of Equalization.

Moved by Commissioner Koop, seconded by Commissioner Swanson that the real estate and personal property values as returned by the Local Board of Review and submitted by the County Assessor be accepted and approved. Motion unanimously carried.

Moved by Commissioner Swanson, seconded by Commissioner Koop to adjourn the County Board of Equalization. Motion carried.

ORDINANCE NO. 177 2ND SERIES

AN ORDINANCE OF THE CITY OF THIEF RIVER FALLS, MINNESOTA AMENDING CITY CODE CHAPTER 11 ENTITLED "LAND USE REGULATIONS" BY AMENDING GENERAL PERFORMANCE STANDARDS RELATING TO PARKING AND BY ADOPTING BY REFERENCE CITY CODE CHAPTER 1 AND SECTION 11.99, WHICH AMONG OTHER THINGS CONTAIN PENALTY PROVISIONS

THE CITY COUNCIL OF THIEF RIVER FALLS ORDAINS:

Section 1. City Code Sec. 11.71, Subd. 3 entitled "Parking" is hereby amended to read:

Subd. 3. Parking

A. Surface and Drainage. Off street parking areas shall be improved with a durable material. Parking areas shall be graded and drained to dispose of all surface water without damage to adjoining property. These requirements also apply to open sales lots.

B. Location. Parking spaces shall be located as follows:

1. Parking areas for one, two, and multi-family dwellings shall be adjacent to the principal use.

2. Parking areas for commercial and industrial uses shall be within 300 feet of the principal building.

3. There shall be no off street parking area within any street right-of-way.

C. General Provisions

1. Each parking stall shall, at a minimum, have 162 square feet, shall be nine feet in width, and shall be 18 feet in length. Parking stalls shall at a minimum meet the requirements set forth in Diagrams 3 and 4, which are hereby made a part of this ordinance.

2. Handicap parking stalls shall be 15 feet wide and 18 feet in length. Such areas shall be located within 100 feet of the principal building entrance.

3. Parking areas shall not be utilized for storage of goods.

4. Where a commercial or industrial use establishes a reciprocating parking agreement with a commercial or industrial use that is within 300 feet, only one-third (1/3) of the required parking need be provided on site. However the parking area as a whole shall be equal to the total requirements for each use.

5. No motor vehicle over one ton capacity bearing a commercial license and no commercially licensed trailer shall be parked or stored in a residential district or a public street except when loading, unloading, or rendering a service. Recreation vehicles and pickups are not restricted by the terms of this provision.

6. Any area designated as a parking area to meet off-street parking requirements shall not be converted to another use, or be used by another, unless other eligible parking area is obtained to meet off-street parking requirements.

D. Design and Maintenance of Off Street Parking Areas

1. Off-street parking areas shall be designed, laid out and maintained as set forth in Diagrams 3 and 4, which are hereby made a part of this ordinance.

2. The minimum curb cut for driveways at the right-of-way line shall be 18 feet.

3. It shall be the joint and several responsibility of the operator and owner of the principal use or building to maintain in a neat and adequate manner, the parking area, driveways, landscaping, and screening.

E. Off-Street Parking Requirements.

1. Single Family: Two stalls per dwelling unit and one stall per accessory apartment, subject to specific uses set forth in paragraphs E.10 through E.20 herein.

2. Duplex: Two stalls per dwelling unit subject to specific uses set forth in paragraphs E.10. through E.20. herein.

3. Townhouses and Condominiums: Two stalls per dwelling unit, subject to specific uses set forth in paragraphs E.10 through E.20 herein.

4. Multiple Family: Two stalls per dwelling unit up to an eight-plex; dwellings having more than eight dwelling units shall have 1.5 stalls per dwelling unit, subject to specific uses set forth in paragraphs E.10 through E.20. herein.

5. Neighborhood Business District: One stall per 200 square feet of sales floor area plus one stall per employee on maximum shift, subject to specific uses set forth in paragraphs E.19 through E.20. herein.

6. General Business District: One stall per 20. Churches, Auditoriums, and Mortuaries: One stall per six seats.

F. Parking Assessment District ("PAD")

1. In Central Business District (C-3) and Downtown Fringe District (C-4), off-street parking requirements may be satisfied if the commercial use is included within a PAD and has been assessed pursuant to that PAD. Should the commercial use change, after the establishment and assessment of the PAD, requiring an increase in off-street parking requirements, the commercial use shall be required to meet the additional off-street parking requirements or be assessed pursuant to the PAD assessment formula for the additional off-street parking requirements.

2. Should a participant within a PAD have received credit for providing a certain number of off-street parking stalls, and should those parking stalls later be converted to another use or become unavailable for use by that participant, that participant, or the participant's successors or assigns, shall reimburse the City for the credit received in the PAD for those parking stalls that become unavailable for use. This shall not apply where parking stalls are lost due to establishment of a City utility easement. Any reimbursement received by the City shall be held for those uses allowed pursuant to M.S.A. § 450.14.

Section 2. City Code Chapter 1 entitled "General Provisions and Definitions Applicable to the Entire Code Including Penalty for Violations" and Section 11.99 entitled "Violation A Misdemeanor" are hereby adopted in their entirety by reference, as though repeated verbatim herein.

Section 3. This ordinance shall be in force and effect from and after its passage, approval and publication.

Junior golf program participants and volunteer adult helpers were treated to a hot dog picnic after their weekly session Thursday at the Thief River Golf Club. Some 93 golfers, ages 5-17, take part in the first-year program.

New junior program is big hit with young golfers

First year of the junior program at the Thief River Golf Club has been well-received, as evidenced by the 93 participants who are registered for the weekly lessons.

Club pro Tom Olson anticipated maybe 40 youngsters when he instigated the program June 6, but was pleasantly surprised when that number more than doubled as registrations came in.

Designed for boys and girls ages 5-17, junior golf has the course each Thursday from 9 a.m. to 12-noon through August 18. Each week participants receive instructions from Olson covering the basics of the sport, ranging from proper grip to course etiquette, before they head out on the course to practice what they've been taught.

The number of holes each group plays depends upon their age. The older participants golf a full 9-hole round, while the younger golfers might play three holes.

Parents and other volunteers are recruited to help supervise and keep score during the junior golf rounds.

A free picnic for the junior golf program participants and helpers was presented Thursday.

Haugen trying out with Rochester...

Seaverson lands spot with Sioux City squad

John Seaverson, a 1991 Lincoln High School graduate, will be playing junior hockey this year at Sioux City, Iowa in the United States Hockey League (USHL).

Seaverson, who led the Prowlers in scoring the past three years, was the No. 1 pick in this year's USHL draft and just returned from a weekend try-out where 80 players were vying for 25 roster spots – 22 skaters and three goalies.

After starting his high school career as a forward, Seaverson was switched to defense as a junior to help solidify the Prowlers' blue line. He will be used as a forward at Sioux City.

An opportunity to play college hockey at the NCAA Division III level awaited Seaverson after high school, but dreams of eventually playing Division I hockey prompted his decision to try juniors.

A year or two of playing an expanded junior schedule has become a familiar route for more and more Division I skaters, who gain experience and maturity while retaining their college eligibility.

Seaverson skated in a development camp at Brainerd before heading to Sioux City, and will return there before reporting for the Sioux City training camp in early September.

While playing hockey in Sioux City, Seaverson will attend Morningside College. Juniors can take 10 college credits without losing a year of athletic eligibility if they eventually get the opportunity to play college hockey.

Ryan Haugen, another 1991 LHS graduate, will also try to land a spot in the USHL this year as a goalie at Rochester. He attended a rookie try-out camp in June that attracted 60 skaters, including eight goalies, and was one of three netminders selected to join the regular try-out camp Aug. 9-11, where the newcomers and veterans will be competing for roster spots.

Rochester, like the rest of the USHL, will carry three goalies. The Mustangs have one veteran goalie returning, leaving the three newcomers competing for two available spots.

Elks games rained out

Rain first delayed, then wiped out the 23rd annual Thief River Falls Elks Invitational baseball tournament for 14-15-year-olds Saturday and Sunday.

Using both Irv Wilson Field and the Northland Community College diamond, the eight-team tournament was scheduled to get underway Saturday at 9 a.m., but was pushed back to later that day when wet grounds from Friday rains forced schedule changes.

Rain came again Sunday and erased the entire Day 2 schedule.

In Saturday's quarterfinals, Roseau edged the East Grand Forks A's 6-5, the Bemidji Braves stopped the East Grand Forks Vets 5-2, Thief River Falls knocked off Warroad 5-4 and Moorhead beat the Bemidji Lions 6-1.

Upper Bracket semifinals were completed Saturday – with the Bemidji Braves out-scoring Roseau 8-3 in the championship round and the East Grand Forks A's downing the Grand Forks Vets in the consolation round – but the Lower Bracket semifinals were shifted to Sunday morning, and they fell victim, along with the consolation final, third place and championship games, to the wet weather.

The washed out portion of the tournament will not be rescheduled, according to tournament manager Myron Peterson.

Jason Hruby had a pair of hits for the Chris Mills/Steve Henke-coached Thief River Falls squad in its lone tournament outing. Chris Vanyo was the winning pitcher and Steve Burslie picked up a save with a seventh inning relief appearance.

Rain interrupts EGF Legion baseball tournament...

TRF in third place game

Weather-interrupted East Grand Forks Invitational American Legion baseball tournament will be completed Wednesday when four of the original eight-team field will be on hand to wrap things up.

Games that day will find East Grand Forks and Bemidji meeting at 3 p.m., with the winner taking on Roseau at 5:30 p.m. on Field 1 in the championship game and the loser meeting Thief River Falls at the same time on Field 2 in the third place game.

Scheduled as a three-day, eight-team, two-division round-robin tournament, the event was first rained out Friday. A portion of the round-robin schedule was compacted into a revised Saturday draw, but Sunday's games were again wiped out by rain.

What was completed left Roseau 2-0, Thief River Falls 1-1, Groton 1-1 and West Duluth 0-2 in the North Division, while East Grand Forks and Bemidji were both 2-0, and Hawley and Winnipeg South were both 0-2 in the South Division.

That projected Roseau as the North Division winner and gave them a spot in the Wednesday finals, while East Grand Forks and Bemidji were matched up to decide their first place deadlock in the South Division.

Thief River Falls lost an 11-6 game to Roseau, but beat Groton 10-3 Saturday to gain the edge over the South Dakota team in the head-to-head competition for the third place game spot.

The Saturday split left Thief River Falls at 7-11 for the year. Post 117 visits Karlstad tonight (Tuesday) for a 6:30 p.m. game before returning to East Grand Forks Wednesday.

Another weekend tournament, this one at Williston, ND, awaits Thief River Falls beginning Friday.

Roseau 11
Thief River Falls 6

Roseau beat Thief River Falls for the third time in four days Saturday, following a regular season 6-2, 8-0 Wednesday doubleheader sweep at Irv Wilson Field with an 11-6 Saturday decision in the East Grand Forks Invitational.

Most of the Thief River Falls offense was confined to a four-run fourth inning, but by that time Roseau already had a 6-0 lead.

An RBI triple by Mike Pesek gave Roseau a 1-0 first inning edge. A two-out outfield error opened the door to a three-run Roseau second inning, with run-scoring hits by Josh Stromlund and Pesek in the third making it 4-0.

It became 6-0 before Thief River Falls came back in the bottom of the fourth when walks issued to Barry Dowers and Cory Offerdahl were sandwiched around a single by Pete Balmer to load the bases with one out. Back on back-to-back doubles by David Blazek and Mitch Bernstein trimmed the difference to 6-4.

Dave McDonald hit a lead-off home run in the top of the fifth for the winners, a run that was matched by an RBI single from Balmer in the bottom of the inning.

Roseau put it away with a three-run sixth that included a two-run Todd Wensloff home run.

A run-scoring double by Mike Rokke produced the final Thief River Falls run in the sixth, with Stromlund following suit in the seventh for Roseau.

Mitch Bernstein was the losing pitcher, striking out seven and walking five. McDonald was the winner, striking out seven and walking six.

Bernstein, Rokke and Balmer were all 2-for-3 in the eight-hit Thief River Falls attack. Roseau finished with 12 hits, including a 3-for-4 effort by No. 9 hitter Jamie Everett and two hits apiece for Stromlund, Pesek, Wensloff and McDonald.

Groton 3

A five-run Thief River Falls first inning led to a 10-3 Saturday evening win over Groton.

Back-to-back home runs by Mike Rokke and Mike Swanson got the inning going – with Rokke hitting a two-run shot. Darin Wald came up with a two-run, two-out single to close out the first-inning outburst.

A two-out, two-run error in the second inning made it 7-0.

Rokke drove in a run with a sacrifice fly in the fourth and Swanson connected on his second home run of the day in the sixth – a two-run job – to close out the Thief River Falls scoring.

Groton picked up single runs in the third, fourth and sixth innings.

Swanson, Wald and Mitch Bernstein all had two hits as Thief River Falls out-hit Groton 9-3. Swanson and Rokke both finished with three RBI and Wald had two.

Mike Frey, hitting eighth in the Groton line-up, was 2-for-3.

Rokke struck out 12 and walked two in a complete-game pitching performance. Troy Horth failed to make it out of the first inning for Groton before being replaced by Trent Osborne. They struck out four and walked five.

Bombers split with Warroad

A come-from-behind effort netted the Thief River Falls Bombers an 18-17 first-game win, but Warroad came back to pick up an 8-3 second-game decision in a Ninth District Tier II American Legion baseball doubleheader at Irv Wilson Field Monday.

The 26-6 Bombers are scheduled to host the Grand Forks Reds tonight (Tuesday) in a 6 p.m. Legion doubleheader at Irv Wilson Field and will host Park River, ND Wednesday at 6 for the title in the of the rain-interrupted Lake Region Classic at Devils Lake over the weekend. The busy week ends with a VFW doubleheader at Fergus Falls Friday starting at 5 p.m., and picks right up Monday with a 6 p.m. VFW twinbill here vs. East Grand Forks.

TRF Bombers 18
Warroad 17

Thief River Falls spotted Warroad a 7-0 headstart and still trailed 12-8 heading into the bottom of the sixth inning before a 10-run outburst lifted the Bombers to a high-scoring 18-17 doubleheader-opening win.

Jason Svir hit a pair of home runs and two doubles, driving in nine runs in five at-bats to spark the come-from-behind win. He hit a two-run home run in the first inning and highlighted the sixth inning rally with a three-run shot.

Trevor Haugen was 3-for-4 and Rick Ostby was 2-for-4 in the Bombers' 17-hit attack.

Marc Haugen, the third of three Thief River Falls pitchers used in the game, picked up the win. Jeremy Tallum was the starter, but he was succeeded by Trevor Haugen in the second inning, with Marc Haugen working the final 1 1/3 frames. Together, they struck out three, walked eight and gave up 12 hits.

After going ahead 18-12 in the sixth, the Bombers had to hold on as the first four Warroad batters drew walks in the top of the seventh and the fifth hitter doubled to make it a one-run game.

James Molstre is intern pastor...

Former NDSU player is serving at Our Savior's

Former North State State University football standout James Molstre is currently serving as intern pastor at Our Savior's Lutheran Church in Thief River Falls.

James Molstre

Molstre was a member of three NDSU national championship teams from 1983-86 as part of the Bison backfield that included Jeff Bentrim and Chad Stark.

A four-year starter, Molstre rushed for 2,500 yards with the Bison, playing in three straight NCAA Division II championship games before missing the playoffs as a senior because of a knee injury.

After graduating from NDSU in 1987, Molstre taught high school history and coached both football and track at Idaho Falls for two years before he began studying for the ministry.

Molstre will serve a year of internship before completing his senior year at the Association of Free Lutheran Congregations (AFLC) seminary and take a call to a parish.

In entering the ministry, Molstre follows a family line that started with his grandfather, and includes his father, a brother and a brother-in-law.

Molstre and his wife, Kristin, have a 2-month old son and expect another child in August.

TRF runner wins Clearbrook race

Pat Susnik of Thief River Falls, competing in the men's 20-29-year-old age group, was the top overall winner in the 5-mile Clearbrook Run for Fun June 29.

Susnik turned in a 28:25 for his age-group and overall title, topping John Peterson of Fargo by eight seconds.

Seventy-eight runners and walkers took part in the event, which also offered a 2.1-mile course.

TRF Gophers split with Crookston Gold squad

Thief River Falls Gophers won the opener 12-1, but host Crookston Gold took the second game 10-9 Monday in a Babe Ruth baseball doubleheader for 14-15-year-olds.

The split left the Gophers at 8-3 for the year, 7-3 in league play. They were scheduled to host the East Grand Forks A's and Blue Jays in a split doubleheader today (Tuesday) beginning at 10 a.m. It'll be a Thief River Falls twinbill at Irv Wilson Field Friday when the Gophers play the Strikers at 5 p.m. and then take on the Shockers at 7.

Two Thief River Falls teams are scheduled to compete in the annual Bemidji Horace May Invitational Saturday and Sunday, completing a six-team field that includes Leech Lake, plus the Braves, Lions and Voyageurs of Bemidji.

Today's Thief River Falls Babe Ruth schedule also had the Shockers heading to Warroad for a 10 a.m. doubleheader.

Wednesday, the Thief River Falls Prep 13-year-olds take over as the Gamecocks host Warroad in a 10 a.m. doubleheader, while the Lobos and Mudhens head to Roseau for a split doubleheader beginning at 10 a.m.

The Mudhens and Lobos will hook up Saturday for a 10 a.m. Thief River Falls doubleheader at Irv Wilson Field.

Annual Fair Week Tournament for the Thief River Falls Park & Recreation Department youth baseball program 11-12-year-olds will be played July 8-11.

The Dodgers and Pirates will start the 10-team, double-elimination tournament at 9 a.m. at the Little League Field Monday.

Rest of Monday's match-ups include the A's vs. Yankees at 9 a.m. at the Fast Pitch Field; Astros vs. Twins, 12-noon at the Little League Field; Indians vs. Mariners, 12-noon at the Fast Pitch Field; and Blue Jays vs. the Dodgers/Pirates winner at 3 p.m. at the Little League Field.

Play continues in the winners and losers bracket Tuesday and Wednesday, leading to the finals Thursday at 4:30 p.m. at the Little League Field.

Because of Pennington County Fair activity, the 7-8-year-olds and 9-10-year-olds will have a one-week break in their 1991 schedules.

Wet weather jumbles Lake Region Invitational...

Bombers host title game

Lake Region Classic American Legion baseball tournament, which began Saturday in Devils Lake, ND, will be completed Wednesday at Irv Wilson Field when the Thief River Falls Bombers play host to Park River at 6 p.m.

Thief River Falls was a 4-3 quarterfinal winner over Winnipeg and a 7-6 extra-inning semifinal winner over host Devils Lake and was ready for a Sunday night championship encounter with Park River, an 8-3 quarterfinal winner over Rolette and a 2-1 extra-inning semifinal winner over Grafton/St. Thomas.

But rain washed out the entire Sunday schedule – the consolation semifinals, seventh place game, third place game, consolation final and championship game.

Thief River Falls and Park River agreed to work out their own championship game arrangements, and wound up with Wednesday's Irv Wilson Field match-up. Like the rest of the Lake Region Classic games, it'll be a scheduled six-inning affair instead of the regular seven innings.

Park River was here earlier in the year for a game against the Thief River Falls Post 117 Tier I squad, losing a 7-6 decision. The Bombers are a combination VFW 16-year-old and Legion Tier II program.

The two tournament wins put the Bombers at 25-5 for the year.

TRF Bombers 4
Winnipeg 3

Marc Haugen came through with a two-out, bases-loaded double in the top of the sixth inning to break a tie and give Thief River Falls a 4-3 Saturday afternoon quarterfinal win over Winnipeg.

Winnipeg had a 3-0 lead through three innings. A Jason Svir triple and a Jeremy Tallum single put Thief River Falls on the board in the fourth inning, then an RBI single by Haugen and an infield ground-out by Svir produced a 3-3 fifth inning tie.

Tallum started the Bombers' sixth with a walk. Carter Rogalla doubled and Wade Evenson drew a two-out walk before Haugen stepped to the plate.

Balmer was 2-for-3 and Haugen was 2-for-4 in the Bombers' nine-hit attack. Winnipeg came up with just four hits off Jeremy Olson and Haugen. Olson worked the first 4 2/3 innings before Haugen came on for a win in relief. They struck out seven and walked four.

TRF Bombers 7
Devils Lake 6

Errors played a big part in the game as the Bombers got by Devils Lake 7-6 in a seven inning Saturday night semifinal.

A 6-1 Thief River Falls lead disappeared when Devils Lake scored four unearned runs in the bottom of the fourth and tacked on another unearned run in the fifth as the Bombers struggled through seven errors.

But Devils Lake had trouble, too, committing four errors, giving up the game-winning run on a seventh inning miscue.

A one out walk issued to Carter Rogalla started the Bombers' seventh. He stole second and with two outs took off for third on another stolen base attempt. The throw from the catcher sailed into left field on the play, allowing Rogalla to score the tie-breaker.

Marc Haugen was 2-for-3 and Josh Balmer was 2-for-4 as the Bombers out-hit Devils Lake 8-5.

Rick Ostby had a complete game pitching performance for the win, getting by with eight walks while striking out seven.

Want to see your community beautified by more trees? Have budget cuts impacted community tree planting efforts? Help may be available through a grant program for community tree planting being offered by the Minnesota Department of Natural Resources in conjunction with the Federal Small Business Administration (SBA). Minnesota will receive $127,155 for community tree planting grants under the SBA's Natural Resources Development Program.

To receive funding, a community must have an eligible tree planting project, must meet the standards of the Tree City USA program, and Eric Dowers, Jason Hruby and Brent Kleinvachter were all 2-for-3 as the Gophers beat Crookston Gold 12-1 in Monday's doubleheader opener.

All 12 Thief River Falls runs were scored in the fourth inning.

Brett Peterson pitched four shutout innings and finished with a three-hit winning performance.

A six-run Thief River Falls rally in the top of the sixth wiped out an 8-3 Crookston lead, but Gold came back to tie the game in the bottom of the inning and picked up the game-winner in the bottom of the seventh for a see-saw 10-9 second-game victory.

Thief River Falls out-hit Crookston 15-7, but also had five errors while Gold played error-free ball.

Eric Dowers was 4-for-5 to lead the Gophers' offense, while Preston Treat had three hits and Jason Hruby, Brett Peterson and Tim Barry all had two.

David Johnson was the losing pitcher.

contribute at least 50 percent of the total project cost either in cash or in-kind contributions. To become a Tree City USA, communities must have:

- A legally constituted tree board or department.
- A municipal tree ordinance.
- A comprehensive community forestry program supported by a minimum of $2 per capital.
- An annual Arbor Day proclamation and observance.

Furthermore, communities must agree to utilize small business contractors or concerns in connection with the planting project. To the extent possible, communities must also divide the planting project so more than one small business concern may perform the work. Planting projects are scheduled to start as early as this fall.

Communities that do not currently meet the Tree City USA standards may still apply for grant funding, but will not receive approval until the standards are achieved. (Grant monies may be used to help meet the per capita expenditure requirement.)

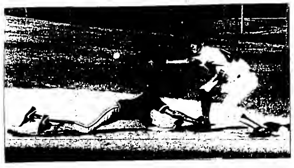
Application materials may be obtained by contacting the DNR Division of Forestry at (612) 297-3507. Completed applications must be received in the DNR Forestry Division Office at 500 Lafayette Road in St. Paul no later than 4:30 p.m. on Wednesday, July 10.

DNR Appointment

Norman Moody, Beltrami County coordinator, has been appointed Local Government Liaison Officer for the Minnesota Department of Natural Resources by Commissioner Rod Sando.

In his new position, Moody will serve as a special assistant to the commissioner, planning and directing a program to strengthen working relationships between the DNR Commissioner's Office and local units of government.

Sando is a strong advocate of closer working relationships between the DNR and local government.



It wound up as a close play, but Roseau runner Randy Burkel was able to reach the bag before Thief River Falls first baseman Pete Salmar could make the tag on a pick-off throw from pitcher Mike Swanson in the first inning of Wednesday's American Legion baseball doubleheader at Irv Wilson Field. Roseau swept the twinbill 6-2, 8-0. Post 117 is scheduled to play a 6:30 p.m. game at Karlstad tonight (Tuesday).

DNR Stamp Contests

Criteria for the 1992 Minnesota Department of Natural Resources (DNR) stamp contests are now available for artists considering submission of entries. Contests are held to select designs for the Minnesota Migratory Waterfowl Stamp, Pheasant Habitat Stamp, and Trout and Salmon Stamp.

Stamp art contests, which are open only to Minnesota artists, offer no prizes. Winning artists retain reproduction rights, however, and they usually issue limited edition prints of the artwork.

Each contest will have a separate six-member judging panel consisting of members with expertise in art, ornithology, ichthyology, hunting, angling, conservation or printing.

Trout/Salmon Stamp contest entries are due at the DNR, 500 Lafayette Road in St. Paul, by 4 p.m. on Friday, Aug. 9. Judging is set for Thursday, Aug. 15.

Waterfowl Stamp (Duck Stamp) contest entries are due Friday, Aug. 30, with judging scheduled for Thursday, Sept. 5.

Pheasant Habitat Stamp contest artwork is due Friday, Sept. 20, with judging set for Thursday, Sept. 26.

Finalists and other selected entries will be exhibited at the Bell Museum of Natural History in Minneapolis from Oct. 26, 1991, through Jan. 26, 1992.

Revenues from stamp sales are dedicated to the development, restoration, maintenance and preservation of the species and their habitats.

For contest criteria information, write the Minnesota DNR Information Center, 500 Lafayette Road, St. Paul, MN 55155-4040. The information is also available by calling the DNR toll free in Minnesota at 1-800-652-9747 (ask for the DNR). The Telecommunications Device for the Deaf (TDD) number is (612) 296-5484.

Heartland State Trail

Minnesota's Trail of the Year will soon be designated a National Recreation Trail by the National Park Service. The Minnesota Department of Natural Resources (DNR) said the official national designation for the Heartland State Trail is expected sometime this summer. It also was recently featured in the leading bicycle magazine as one of the top 11 rail trails in the country.

Heartland State Trail, which runs from Walker through Akeley to Park Rapids along an abandoned railroad bed, was selected Trail of the Year for 1991 by the Minnesota DNR. It will be the site of the DNR's eighth annual Trail of the Year Bicycle Ride July 6 and 7.

"I'm delighted by the national attention being given to the trail," said Dennis Asmussen, acting director of the DNR Trails and Waterways Unit. "We know that trails are important to Minnesotans. It's great to see they have a national audience as well."

The upcoming ride is designed to help build public awareness of the 27-mile trail, which cuts through pristine forests and along side northern lakes.

A 27-mile ride will begin in Park Rapids at 9:30 a.m. on Saturday, July 6, following a breakfast, registration and a brief ceremony. The ride will finish in Walker that afternoon. Riders may also chose to begin the ride at 9:30 a.m. in Nevis, for a 13-mile trip to Walker. On Sunday, riders may chose to return to Park Rapids or Nevis along the same bike trail.

Evening activities in Walker will include a slide presentation by around-the-world bicyclist Dan Buettner, plus boat rides, a camp fire, and overnight lakeside camping.

For more information, call toll free in Minnesota 1-800-652-9747 and ask for the DNR bicycle ride message line. Maps of the Heartland Bicycle Trail or other state bicycle trails are available from the DNR Information Center by calling the toll free number above and asking for the DNR Information Center.

CHESTER STRATTON SR.
Who was called home
July 3, 1990

You bid no one last farewell
Or never said good-bye,
You were gone before we knew it
And only God knows why.
A million times we needed you
A million times we cried,
If love alone could of saved you,
You never would of died.
In life we loved you dearly,
In death we love you still,
In our hearts you hold a place
No one could ever fill.
It broke our hearts to lose you,
But you didn't go alone;
For a part of us went with you
The day God took you home.

Sadly Missed By
Wife, children, grandchildren and great-grandchildren

Commissioner Swanson moved, seconded by Commissioner Murphy to adjourn to June 11th 1991 at 10:00 a.m. Motion carried.

OFFICIAL PROCEEDINGS
BOARD OF COMMISSIONERS,
PENNINGTON COUNTY
June 11, 1991 - 10:00 A.M.

Pursuant to adjournment the Pennington County Board of Commissioners met in the Commissioners room in the courthouse in Thief River Falls, on Tuesday, June 11, 1991 at 10:00 a.m. Members present: Jensen, Murphy, Penning, Swanson and Koop.

[illegible] and Gloria Erickson met with the County Board regarding the new site for a demolition pit on the John and Gloria Erickson property in Sanders Township and the extension of Steve's permit in Rocksbury Township until the new site is ready for use. Steve has met with the Pollution Control Agency and they have seen the site in Sanders Township and it appears alright to them, but they need to do various tests before they will approve it. Steve made a request that a resolution be made by the Board in support of extending his permit.

The following resolution was moved by Commissioner Murphy, seconded by Commissioner Penning and upon vote unanimously carried.

WHEREAS, John and Gloria Erickson are submitting an application for a Demolition Permit to establish a Demolition Landfill on their property in Sanders Township, and

WHEREAS, Establishing a Demolition Landfill in Pennington County is consistent with Pennington County's goals set out in the Comprehensive Solid Waste Plan.

BE IT RESOLVED, that the Pennington County Board of commissioners supports the application for Permit and establishment of a Demolition Landfill by John and Gloria Erickson on their property conditioned on the testing and approval of the site by Minnesota Pollution Control Agency.

The following resolution was moved by Commissioner Swanson, seconded by Commissioner Koop and upon vote unanimously carried.

WHEREAS, Pennington County needs a demolition landfill, and

WHEREAS, the temporary permit by rule for the demolition landfill on the Les Nordhagen property has expired, and

WHEREAS, John and Gloria Erickson are in the process of applying for a permit for Demolition on a permanent site.

BE IT RESOLVED, that the Pennington County Board request an Extension of the Temporary Demolition Permit by Rule for Steve Nordhagen until such time that it can be determined if the new purposed site is acceptable by the Minnesota Pollution Control Agency.

Lloyd Noreen and Curtis Swanson representing Bray Township met with the County Board regarding Beaver dams on the south side of section 34 in Bray Township built across JD #25. The dams are causing water to back up and the large culverts are almost completely filled with water. Their fear is that the next big rain will cause water to back up into the fields causing extensive crop damage. They request that something be done to prevent this occurance. Commissioner Swanson moved, seconded by Commissioner Murphy to request the Red Lake Watershed to dynamite the dams to allow water to flow with the cost not to exceed $300.00, and to have Dave Olin research the legality of removing the Beavers & dams. Motion unanimously carried.

Commissioner Murphy moved, seconded by Commissioner Swanson to approve the minutes of May 24, 1991, May 28, 1991, May 31, 1991 and June 3, 1991 as submitted. Motion carried.

The County Board reviewed the claim for reimbursement from Richard Haugen for getting parts in Cherokee, Iowa. This bill was referred to the Solid Waste committee for recommendation.

John Ellison, County AWAIR Coordinator met with the County Board to discuss the safety policy as presented to the Department heads. The County Board discussed some minor changes in wording. This was held over to the June 25th County Board meeting.

County Assessor Gerry DeHaan presented a request for abatement of Mobile Home taxes on a Mobile Home that was destroyed by fire owned by Keith Espeseth. Commissioner Murphy moved, seconded by Commissioner Swanson to abate the 1991 taxes on the Mobile Home owned by Keith Espeseth. Motion unanimously carried.

Rocksbury Township Officers, Ken Mehrkens, Ray Owen and Clayton Mattson met with the County Board concerning the Nordhagen Demolition Pit. They brought up that the Permit was for one year and that they were getting complaints and questions of why its continuing. The Board explained that they had taken action earlier this meeting requesting an extension on the permit until the site owned by John and Gloria Erickson could be tested and permitted.

The Rocksbury Township officers also updated the County Board on the Riverbend Trail. The road would be paved by the property owners with the Township considering special assessment to pay for the improvement.

Commissioner Penning moved, seconded by Commissioner Koop to recommend Rogar J. Rauter for the position of Economic Development at Large for appointment to the Private Industry Council. Motion unanimously carried.

The County Board then reviewed a letter from the Court Administrator requesting to fill a vacant position and to retain a current employee on a part-time basis. Commissioner Koop moved, seconded by Commissioner Murphy to authorize the Court Administrator to fill a vacant full-time Deputy Clerk position and to retain Beth Wilson on a Part-time basis. Motion carried, with Commissioner Swanson voting against. The starting wage for the new full time employee was set at $6.00/hour.

Ken Murphy discussed Ray Nelson's request that the county Board assist with having a survey done of the A & W property. Commissioner Murphy moved, seconded by Commissioner Penning that the County Attorney contact Ray Nelson and Walter Raedel to assist them in resolving the property dispute. Motion unanimously carried.

Commissioner Koop will represent the Pennington County Board of Commissioners at a special recognition program for Inga Geving at the Pioneer Village on June 29th, 1991.

Commissioner Murphy discussed a problem they are having at the Pioneer Village of youths getting over the fence and climbing onto the round building's roof that has an open pit below it. The roof needs to be repaired or removed. Commissioner Murphy moved, seconded by Commissioner Koop to authorize the Historical Society to remove the roof of that building. Motion unanimously carried.

Barb Kalinoski and Mary V[illegible]son representing the Northwest Regional Library made their request for funding for 1992. They are requesting a 3% increase for 1992 or $780 for a total appropriation of $26,700. They also discussed the use of the Bookmobile. The County Board expressed a desire to have the old Bookmobile continue in service but they are not interested in funding a new Bookmobile. Commissioner Murphy moved, seconded by Commissioner Penning to approve the Northwest Regional Library request for 1992 of $26,780 and to appropriate the same. Motion unanimously carried.

Rick Nordhagen met with the County Board to discuss the operation of the Solid Waste Facility. Mr. Nordhagen reported good usage of the tire bunker with 605 car tires, 52 truck tires and 5 tractor tires taken in. The area to be black topped has been staked and the gravel base had been put in place. The legislation that would allow the burning of 30% refuse derived fuel in authorized pallet furnaces has been passed which could help in the area of pellet sales. The County Board then discussed the different possibilities of raising more revenues from the Solid Waste Facility.

George Broadwell - Acting County Engineer gave a report on the construction projects and on the Consulting Bridge Engineers inspection of Long's Bridge. The Bridge Engineer needs some measurements and then he will get back to us with a rating. Commissioner Murphy moved, seconded by Commissioner Penning to increase 4 probationary maintenance employees who have successfully completed their probationary period up one step in the pay schedule. Motion unanimously carried.

Commissioner Murphy moved, seconded by Commissioner Koop to authorize the Acting County Engineer to hire temporary Motor Grader operators as needed. Motion unanimously carried.

The County Board then discussed the Reed family has Home Sweet Home

by Amy Isaacson
Times Reporter

On April 1, Nanci Reed was the new owner of Home Sweet Home. But it wasn't just the first day of her new business, it was also the beginning of a lifetime of learning, sharing and harmony for her and her family.

Nanci worked at Home Sweet Home for two and one-half years before she bought the business from Arlys Hendrickson.

"Prior to that I was thankful that I could stay home and take care of my kids," Nanci said.

During that time Nanci taught an occasional community education class and also did seamstress work, which helps her in finding quality things for Home Sweet Home.

When Nanci bought Home Sweet Home, along with the sale came the inventory and the house itself which is 102 years old and is located at 503 LaBree Avenue North. She is starting the process of finding the history of the home by making phone calls and inquiring with previous residents.

Nanci will go to any length to help out customers who are working with decor. She thinks that it's important to be able to work closely with people when they are having problems matching colors or if they need help with putting the room together in an artistic fashion that will reflect their personality.

"I'm trying to make the store unique and nostalgic by bringing things from far away. I also want to carry things that people haven't seen before," she said. By having things like this in stock, Nanci finds a lot of people will travel a long distance just to see the store.

Nanci is also trying to help customers by starting a gift registry. Anyone can come in and fill out a gift registry card which says what their favorite color is or what they like in the store. When someone wants to buy that person a gift, they can come in and look at that person's gift registry card if it is on file. The registry is a good idea for people with an anniversary or a birthday that they know they will be receiving gifts. This way people are assured that the gift they are giving is going to be appreciated.

Since Nanci took over the store she has been making some changes in her inventory, and has been doing a lot of reading to learn about new products. The latest addition to the store is handcrafted Willow furniture made in Texas by a small family operated business.

Since Home Sweet Home is more or less a family business to Nanci, she likes to support craftsmen like these who work as a family unit for their sole means of support.

Another product that Nanci is proud to have in her store is "Aromatique". Many customers have learned to appreciate this quality room fragrance line and Nanci is pleased to announce that the new "Aromatique" bath product line will arrive any day. This wasn't an easy product to get; not every store can carry these products. Only the very "special" specialty shops can carry them.

Nanci also has a "passion" for lace, and she likes to collect antique pieces of it. She tries to inspire people by the lace curtains in the store and she's very proud of the "Heritage" lace curtains that are imported from Europe. She is also proud of the fact that Home Sweet Home is the only store in town that carries them.

Helping customers special order items that they would like is another way Nanci likes to be of assistance to people. She'll order whatever they need to coordinate a room.

Not only does Home Sweet Home have decorative specialty items, but it also carries a line of music. "Everyone needs calming music whether it's for studying, cooking, or just to relieve stress," she said. Later this summer they will be featuring a new piano artist.

"Americana" is a new decorating item that can be found at Home Sweet Home. This is a darling country look done in the all-American red, white and blue. "I am very patriotic, and it's really important to me. 'Americana' is a fun way to express patriotism all year long. It's a fun thing to do," she said. Nanci also made sure to mention that almost everything in the store is American made.

Last year Nanci gave classes on stenciling and embossing and later this year she will be offering classes on the antique art of papier mache'.

You may be asking yourself, "where does Nanci get all the time

Chamber Spotlight

The purpose of this column will be to highlight a committee or task force of the Chamber of Commerce as to what project or projects each is working on, and to inform our community of their efforts.

All committees, task forces and individual volunteers involved in the chamber are to be complimented for their efforts to better the community.

Hats off to the dedicated services of all the volunteers who recognize community needs and devote time and effort to make new things happen. Thanks.

What is the Chamber? Basically, it is the business community at work. It is the enthusiastic business, farmer, industrial and professional people of Thief River Falls banding together to promote the expansion and civic welfare of the area in which you have chosen to live and make your living.

How Is It financed? Your chamber is supported by memberships, not by donations. They are necessary investments in the future of your community and your business, and they are recognized as such when listed as a business expense on your income tax return. No other business investment will pay such large dividends as the one which helps to guarantee a comfortable future.

Why is it? Your chamber of commerce exists today for the same reason it was founded in 1913 — No one man could possibly do the job that this group, your chamber of commerce, can, and does do, for the business, farmer, industrial and professional people of your community.

Why do we need one? Every house needs a front! Your chamber of commerce is the front door of Thief River Falls.

Detailed civic information is given out by means of telephone calls and correspondence to residents, tourists, newcomers, visitors (including industrial prospects or any person making inquiries.)

In addition to servicing committees, which are the means of activating an ever-expanding plan of action, the chamber of commerce office and staff are available as a coordination element for the unification of the organized efforts of the entire community.

Yes, our town needs a front door.

Thief River Falls needs, has and uses its chamber of commerce.

Amy Oscarson

Oscarson is '91 Northwest Beef Princess

Amy Oscarson, daughter of Tom and Pam Oscarson of Red Lake Falls, was crowned 1991 Northwest Beef Princess Sunday, June 23, following the annual Northwestern Stockmen's and Cattlewomen's tour and picnic in the Thief River Falls area.

Presenting the western hat and tiara was Nevette Revier, the 1990 princess.

Amy is a senior at Red Lake Falls high school where she is active in basketball, volleyball, track and student council. She has double starred in solo clarinet competition, serves as president of the Hilltop Ramblers 4-H club and has been county dress revue queen three times. She also enjoys showing cattle in conformation and showmanship classes.

As Northwestern Beef Princess Amy will appear in parades, attend several fairs in the area as well as the state fair, Red River Valley winter shows, Red Lake Falls rodeo and compete for the Minnesota State Beef Queen title in December at the state cattlemen's and cattlewomen's convention.

"The best way to have people recognize the importance of beef in the diet and economy is through public education," Amy said when asked why she wanted to be an ambassador for the beef industry.

"I intend to do my part to further the beef industry of Northwestern Minnesota."

Weekend visitors at Lloyd and Henry Knutson were Danny and Carmen Knutson of Warren, Dean, Tereso and Steven Knutson of Gonvick, picnic dinner was enjoyed by all, prepared by Janet and Henrietta Knutson.

FAITH TELLS US TO PRESERVE
OUR HERITAGE OF FREEDOM

We're living in a land that's free,
Because throughout our history
Our founding fathers' legacy
Established the machinery
By which our nation came to be
A system of democracy,
Where we're allowed to disagree
With governmental policy,
And thus our ingenuity
And enterprise provide the key
To progress and prosperity,
A model for the world to see
Our House of Worship makes this plea
To pray for all humanity,
While we preserve eternally
Our precious land of liberty.

— Gloria Nowak

The God who gave us life, gave us liberty at the same time.

Minn. County Biological plans field trip

Minnesota County Biological Survey is planning a field trip to Polk County prairies on Saturday, July 6. This is an opportunity for local residents and other prairie enthusiasts to see the Federally threatened Western Prairie fringed orchid and to become acquainted with some of the best examples of remaining tall grass prairie in North America.

the trip is co-sponsored by the Minnesota Native Plant Society and will be led by Nancy Sather, ecologist with the County biological survey and a Polk County native. Participants should meet to car pool from Mac's Cafe in Fertile leaving at 10 a.m. Bring a sack lunch, beverages, protection from the sun, sturdy shoes and rain gear. Long pants and long-sleeved cotton shirts are recommended for protection from insects and sun. The trip will take place in light rain, but not in the event of local severe thunderstorm warnings.

Participants will be visiting a local Scientific and Natural area and one or more Wildlife Management Areas.

Only about one per cent of Minnesota's original tall grass prairie remains today. Much of these remaining prairie is in the Polk and neighboring counties, where native prairie escaped the plow because of gravelly or wet soils. Much of central Polk County's native prairie was formerly used as pasture or hay land and is now protected in natural areas, preserves, and Prairie chicken habitat.

The Western prairie fringed orchid is one of three federally protected Minnesota plants. Federal listing protects these plants from destruction or removal under penalty of a $25,000 fine. The show Western prairie fringed orchid is now known in only 40 locations in seven states and Manitoba.

The Minnesota County Biological Survey is a systematic inventory of natural communities and rare plants and animals. Counties presently being surveyed for high quality examples of natural communities include Marshall, Kittson, Roseau, Rice, Goodhue, Wabasha, Winona, and Morrison. In addition the Biological Survey has initiated rare plant searches in Pennington, Red Lake and Polk counties.

Interested field trip participants will have the opportunity to spend part of the afternoon searching for new populations of Western fringed prairie orchid at Chicog Wildlife Management Area. There are additional opportunities to volunteer with the DNR for rare plant searches the following week.

For more information about the field trip or volunteer opportunities call the County Biological Survey at (218) 459-3452 between 8 and 10 p.m. to do these things?" Well, she doesn't do it alone. She's grateful to her husband and children for all of the support they have given her.

"This is a family endeavor. We're trying to teach the children responsibility by being interested in the store. It's important to have something to share by having the business to bring the family together instead of apart," Nanci said.

Nanci's children have been a big help to her new business. Wyatt, Nanci's four year old son, sweeps the sidewalk after the lawn has been mowed; Steven, who will be eight, mows the grass; and her nine year old daughter Meghan helps clean, dust, sweep and mark tags.

"And my husband Gary has been very supportive too, but he's especially helpful at home," she said.

"I wouldn't have been able to do it without the help of my day care provider, Jerri Bottom. I love her, she's the best! She makes my children happy and that makes me happy," Nanci said.

Nanci is also thankful to Arlys Hendrickson for setting an example in the business that she hopes she can follow. Of course she would also like to thank her parents and her workers at the store.

After a day at the store, Nanci goes to her own home sweet home and enjoys her children, her husband and her garden.

"I am proud to contribute to this community and I love Thief River Falls. I thinks it's a nice place to raise a family."

Finalists for Scavenger Hunt promotion named

Finalists for the $200 grand prize in The Times/KTRF Savenger Hunt have been selected.

Last week, Desirae Alberg of Thief River Falls and Jeff Brouse of Thief River Falls were named as two of the four semi-finalists. The final two finalists were Nancy Fellman of Thief River Falls and Yvonne Blodgett of Thief River Falls. Each will receive $75.

The promotion, which involves 30 merchants in Thief River Falls, began June 17 and ended June 28. Contestants were asked to answer one question from each of the sponsoring stores and drop the completed form off at The Times or Chamber of Commerce office on Highway 59 South. After the four finalists were selected, a drawing was held for the $200 Grand Prize winner. The $200 grand prize winner was Desirae Alberg of Thief River Falls.

(Contest forms were in The Times and Northern Watch.)

Heritage Community Center made a donation to the Thief River Falls fire department for the department to purchase turnout gear and self-contained breathing apparatus. Heritage community center was one of several organizations to donate a total of over $11,000 for the equipment. Pictured from left during a recent brunch given to those who donated funds are Mayor Bob Carlaon, Kon Sunsdahl of Heritage Community Center, Olive Lunke of Heritage Community Center, Fire Chief Dave Bjorkman, Alderman Robert Reeve, and Alderman Dele Wannberg.

Local donations help fire dept. purchase turnout equipment

Thief River Falls Fire department held a lunch Tuesday at the fire station honoring organizations which donated funds for additional turn-out gear, self-contained breathing apparatus and spare air cylinders.

The five sets of turnout gear and self-contained breathing apparatus and spare tanks represent an investment of over $11,000. Organizations contributing to the purchase included the Elk's club, American Legion, Sons of the American Legion, Veteran's of Foreign Wars, Eagles club, the Volunteer Fire Department and Heritage Community Center.

The seven full-time firemen and 23 part-time volunteers in the Thief River Falls fire department provide fire protection for the city of Thief River Falls and the five townships of North, Norden, Rocksbury, Smiley, and Silverton. It also has mutual aid agreements with communities within a 35-mile radius. The station, which is located near Second street and Atlantic avenue, is equipped with three pumpers, a water tanker, and an emergency response vehicle.

Fire Chief Dave Bjorkman explained that the fire department is waiting for a new fire pumper that is being made for them. The city and fire department have been saving for the pumper for several years now. Because fire trucks are so expensive the city has had to put aside money each year for the past several years in order to afford the truck. It will cost the city over $150,000.

Bjorkman thanked the many organizations in Thief River Falls that have made contributions to purchase equipment for the fire department. The Thief River Falls fire department is now one of the best equipped fire departments in the region.

If there is any one piece of equipment that he would want it would have to be a ladder truck, Bjorkman said. A ladder truck, however, would cost more than the new pumper. Bjorkman said Thief River Falls is fortunate that its high-rise has a sprinkler system.

Bjorkman said the station always seems to have to replace some of its equipment for one reason or another. Turnout gear, like the sets just purchased for the fire department, however, could last as long as the fireman who uses the equipment is a fireman, which is about 20 years.

Outfitting a firefighter is an expensive proposition. Bjorkman said costs in excess of $2,000 to fully outfit a fireman.

The new turnout gear purchased with the donations from the several organizations is made of a Kevlar mix and protects the fireman from being injured. The outer-shell is made of PBI-Kevlar, the vapor barrier of Gortex with a Teflan memory, and the lining of Nomex. Bjorkman said it conforms to National Fire Protection Association standards. The turn-out gear also has strips of 3M Scotch lite reflective strips on them so that they are visible at night.

The new light weight self-contained breathing apparatus with the new air cylinders allow fireman to enter a burning building or into areas where dangerous fumes or smoke endanger firefighters.

Bjorkman said safety is becoming a bigger issue all the time. It used to be, he said, that firemen would go to a fire in their work clothes and throw on a coat and helmet. Because of the liability problems that arose from that practice, tougher rules and regulations have been passed down to address the problem.

It has been a long time since a fireman has been injured on the job. Chief Bjorkman thanked local organizations for their contributions because it helps equip and protect local firemen and volunteers.

THE TIMES' Editorial Opinion

The Times
Thief River Falls
Thief River Falls, Minnesota

J.P. Mattson, publisher
Marvin Lundin, editor
David Hill, associate editor

Editorial opinion published on this page, whether locally written or re-printed from other sources is intended to stimulate thinking and discussion among our readers. Opinions expressed by the editor are his own and not necessarily those of other staff members. Opinions expressed in items from other publications may be contradictory to the editor's own views but are offered for their general interest.

Two Bits, Four Bits, Six Bits......A Dollar?

One of the popular high school cheers back in the dark ages when this editor attended school was the one that went: "Two bits, four bits, six bits, a dollar: All for (insert whatever school you like) stand up and holler!" This was followed by a shout of exhuberance from the loyal followers of that team, and usually touched off a similar response from the fans of the opposing team.

We always liked that cheer. It not only was an inspiration to the players on the field or court but it gave the fans an opportunity to stand up for something once in awhile. When that cheer came along and you were sitting among the faithful, it was pretty difficult not to get to your feet and at least stand up, if not holler.

For the younger generation not tuned in to the old ways, we should explain that two bits was slang for a quarter—25 cents. Four bits meant 50 cents and six bits meant 75 cents. Nobody ever talked about one bit being 12 1/2 cents, but that would be a logical assumption, given the progression from two bits to six bits. Even today's youngsters know what a dollar is, although they generally refer to it in plural form.

Today's topic for editorial comment is six bits—the new price of 75 cents for an individual copy of the Thief River Falls Times beginning with today's issue. We fully expect that there will be some standing up and hollering about the price increase from our single copy purchasers who have paid 50 cents for the past couple of years—and it probably won't be a clamor of support like the old sports teams received.

The last price increase for individual copies of The Times was from 35 cents to 50 cents on March 1, 1989. We heard about that price boost, too, just as we did when the price went from two bits to 35 cents....and before that when it went up to a quarter. People just don't like to see prices going up, regardless of what product they are buying. And they are a lot more cognizant of the increase if it is a product that they purchase on a regular basis.

We value our regular newsstand purchasers, the folks who just can't wait to get their hands on the paper each time it comes off the press. They are among our most enthusiastic and interested readers and probably among the best informed people in the community.

But according to our publisher, the costs of producing the newspaper keep going up. We have passed along a part of the huge increase in postal costs in the past couple of years to our subscribers. It is now deemed necessary to ask the newsstand purchasers to share in the costs which must be paid to keep the newspaper operation financially afloat.

It does cost money to purchase all the things that make producing a newspaper possible—from the film in our cameras to the payroll every pay day. And the companies which sell us our supplies and equipment are not bashful about passing their increasing costs along to us. Businesses which pay out more than they take in don't remain businesses very long.

So is the paper worth another quarter? That will be up to our readers to decide.

We can remember when people were saying that if gasoline went up to 50 cents a gallon nobody would drive their cars. We remember when a burger and fries cost a quarter but people didn't eat away from home very often because of the expense. Everything, as some learned person once said, is relative.

For those of us who find writing news and selling advertising for each issue of the Times to be a major part of our lives as well as our living, placing a few cents' additional value on our efforts isn't too disturbing. Our concern is that you continue to be our readers so that we have reason to continue our efforts. We would be pleased to have you look at the Times as one of those necessities you must have and find the increased cost to be merely relative.

Come on, now—is six bits really too much to pay for the best paper in Thief River Falls?

Letters To The Editor and Corrections

Letters To The Editor: The Times encourages written responses to editorial comment or letters with original thoughts or ideas of general interest. Letters should be intended for publication in The Times exclusively; letters sent to multiple publications will generally not be accepted. Right is reserved to edit letters for length and clarity and to reject letters deemed to be promotional in nature or in poor taste.

Letters Must Be Signed: All letters must be signed and contain an address or phone number of the writer so authenticity can be verified. Signatures must appear on letters published. The Times believes that there is greater credibility in letters signed in print and will no longer withhold names of writers from publication.

Responses Invited: Letters critical of individuals or other entities may be shown to those individuals or representatives of those entities in advance of publication with an invitation by The Times for response in the same issue as the original letter.

Corrections:: If an error is made in news or advertising publication, The Times encourages readers to call it to our immediate attention at 881-4450. We will attempt to correct the error or clarify the misunderstanding in the next issue.

LETTERS

To The Editor:

I would like to express my opinion to the state's dairy producers.

It seems everyone has a so-called solution to our present low dairy farm prices. Some bills in Congress propose $11.60 per hundredweight as a top price. According to long-time analyst Ed Jessie of the University of Wisconsin, this doesn't even cover the cost of production, which he reports to be around $13 per hundredweight.

It may be well to remember that the $11.60 price advocated by the National Milk Producers association is suggested by a group of the nation's larger milk processors, not the nation's dairy farmers who actually produce the product.

The House sub-committee just approved a bill with a $12.60 price and deductions for over-production.

Perhaps the time has come for all dairy producers to set aside our differences and support the bill sponsored by Senator Daschle of South Dakota and co-sponsored by Sen. Paul Wellstone of Minnesota. This bill provides for a $13.60 support price—much more in line with the true cost of production and also long established by several national farm organizations as a logical price structure.

Write letters and make phone calls immediately to your senators in support of a reasonable price for our product.

Sincerely,
Jim Muzzy

American Legion Installs Officers

On June 11th Paul Wilkens was installed as Commander of the American Legion for 1991-92. The installing officer was John Columbus of Red Lake Falls, who will be the 9th District Commander for the following Legion year. Paul is a past president, having served this office for the past three terms. His adjutant will be Marvin Engesether and Bill Peterson is finance officer. On June 13th Ruth Wilkens was installed as President of the Legion Auxiliary for 1991-92. She has held this office for the past year. Installing officer was Nadine Johnson, who has also held many other Auxiliary offices in the past years. Ruth has held the office for four years beginning in 1984 to 1988. Judy Engesether will be Secretary and Jean Mott, Treasurer. These ladies also held the offices the past year. This will be the second term that Commander Paul and wife Ruth have held these offices in the same year.

Bunny, Debbie and Marci DuChamp, accompanied by Cathy Seaverson of Thief River Falls, and Gerte Haugen of Goodridge, went to Salol on June 8th to help Orville and Tillie Askeland celebrate their 50th wedding anniversary, which was hosted by their daughter and son-in-law, Keith and Elaine Millstrom. Bunny was her sister's bridesmaid on June 7th, 1941. Over 50 relatives were in attendance.

Gust and Loretta Croft of Fargo, arrived on June 14th, to spend a week at the Myrtle Patnode home. While there they were supper guests of Arlene Kelly, and also the Allan Guillemette's of rural Plummer. They were afternoon guests of Don and June Lokken, Lester and Gloria Larson and Clara Mickelson of Thief River Falls. They attended the Thursday morning prayer breakfast and the Senior Citizen's picnic, seeing many other friends and relatives of the area.

Mrs. Bill Rehm of Goodridge, was a Monday visitor of Idella Peterson.

Carl Smith and Carl, Jr., of Fargo, spent Tuesday evening at the Art Erickson, Jr. home.

Wavell Sorenson and Sheila Gerardy spent most of Monday and Tuesday with Lloyd Sorenson, who is a patient in Grand Forks hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Art Schiefert spent from Friday to Monday with the Harley Schiefert family of Fargo, and attended the baptism of their granddaughter, Danielle.

Farewell to Father Joe

The congregation of St. Vincent de Paul's church had a potluck picnic supper in the Plummer park on June 20th, to honor their beloved priest, Father Joe DeCrane, as he will be moving to Thief River Falls. Hamburgers were grilled and other foods were shared. A short program included a song for him that had been learned at camp, sung by Catherine Rosten and Rebecca Demarais, a poem of tribute written and presented by Karen Konickson, and the presentation of a sky-blue linen vestment and stole as a token of appreciation for his years as their parish priest. The Guild furnished the linen and the vestments were made by Madonna Lailler using her own unique creativity in the symbols used in the design. Father Joe has won the hearts of his congregation, young and adults alike, as well as friends in the community it was hard to say farewell.

Trip to Europe

From May 6th to June 5th the Concordia College Political Science Department sent 23 students across the ocean to analyze the political changes in East Central Europe. Neil Huotari, a recent Plummer and Concordia graduate, was one who participated. The countries they visited were Sweden, Finland, USSR, Poland, Hungary, Czechoslovakia, Austria and Switzerland. Some highlights the group experienced were: 1. Visited the famous Kremlin and Red Square and saw Gorbachev drive and wave from his motorcade; 2. Visited Lenin's tomb; 3. Participated in a solidarity protest in Warsaw, Poland; 4. Seeing the historical beauty of Leningrad, USSR; 5. Living with families in Leningrad, Moscow and Prague. This gave the students insight into the family life of the once Eastern Bloc countries. All in all, this was an incredible trip for the young political scientists. Eastern Europe creates an extremely interesting atmosphere for studying political movements. This is shown by the many anti-Communist beliefs throughout the countries. Beliefs that were once labeled illegal, but now are a type of freedom that will hopefully soon be realized by the common people.

Mortensen Family Reunion

Art Mortensen left Friday afternoon for Minneapolis, to attend a family reunion at a park in South St. Paul Saturday, of the late Mr. and Mrs. Carl Mortensen. When 18 years old Carl came to America from Denmark, where he had lived in a house built for livestock as well as humans, all in one dwelling, as was the custom at that time. Carl died in a tractor accident in August, 1954, at a local farm. Art was a Friday overnight guest at the home of his youngest living brother, Orville, at Montrose. His three sisters, Myrtle, Blanche and Karen were all present at the reunion, besides his brothers, Andreas, Dale, Gerald and Orville. His youngest brother Allen, was killed in 1963 while walking along the Autobaun Highway in Germany, by a speeding car. The girl he was planning to marry was killed in a car accident a short time before. Art stayed overnight Saturday with his brother, Andreas, at Ogilvie, near St. Cloud. A booklet representing 140 of the late Carl Mortensen family had been printed with many pictures, as a keepsake for family. Before returning to the Richard Nelson farm near Goodridge, where he is presently employed. He was a coffee guest at the Alfred Solom home. He reported approximately 200 relatives had attended the reunion.

Dan Baumgartner turns the gavel over to Dick Reger. Reger has become the president of Lions International in Thief River Falls. Baumgartner is now immediate past president. The club recently elected officers who officially took office on July 1.

Hospital Board begins accepting board nominations

Nominations for three positions on the Northwest Medical Center board of directors will close 5 p.m. August 1.

The Northwest Medical Center Board of Directors met June 24 and as part of that meeting, reviewed and approve the report of the Northwest Medical Center Board of Directors Nomination Committee relative to board of director nominations for three three-year terms expiring in September, 1994.

In September, 1991, the terms of James Rogalla, Ken Froschheiser, William Hogan, and Roger DeLap will expire as directors on the Northwest Medical Center board of directors.

Directors Ken Froschheiser and William Hogan will complete nine years of service on the Northwest Medical Center Board of Directors in September, 1991, and the Corporate by-laws prohibit them from seeking election until they are off from the board of directors for at least one calendar year.

Directors expressed their appreciation to Froschheiser and Hogan for their nine years of service on the board.

James Rogalla and Roger DeLap have agreed to have their names placed into nomination for three year terms expiring in September 1994.

In addition to Rogalla and DeLap, the nomination committee also nominated Thomas Kays and Larry Lee for the three years terms expiring in September 1991.

Association members can also nominate candidates from among the membership. By-laws provide that such nominations shall be accompanied by each nominee's written consent and shall contain the signatures of five association members. The additional nominations shall be received in the principal office of the corporation on or before 5 p.m. August 1, 1991.

The annual meeting of the Northwest Medical Center Association is scheduled for Monday, September 9, 1991, at the Best Western Inn of Thief River Falls. The annual meeting time and agenda have not been determined by the board of directors as of yet.

ST. HILAIRE SPECTATOR

St. Hilaire, Polk County, Minnesota July 8, 1891

From Newspaper Files of One Hundred Years Ago

St. Hilaire Roads

"Our county commissioner C. P. DeMers was in town yesterday on official business. He went out to the township of Sanders to look over some road work making there. The county has appropriated $100 for the road leading to the sand ridge and the township officers are doing considerable work there this summer."

At Thief River Falls on the Fourth of July

"I went up to Thief River Falls last Saturday to take in the fourth of July celebration. I went there mainly because there was no celebration at St. Hilaire and I understood the St. Hilaire boys were to play a match game of baseball for a purse of $10. The day was fine and I enjoyed my ride looking over the prosperous farms between here and there. Upon arriving I was met by a prominent citizen of the Falls who immediately came forward with his hat in his hand. Thinking he was excessively polite and not wishing to be outdone I immediately did the same, but my illusion was soon dispelled for he said 'Chip in twenty-five cents to see the Indians dance.' He got the quarter and I started for the grove where I found about forty Indians fantastically dressed prancing around a big drum. Here I was invited some thirty-five or forty-five times (more or less) to chip in and see the Indians dance, and think I was accosted by nearly every citizen of the place with the exception of Editor Mussey, and, come to think of it, did you ever hear of an editor being allowed to pass the hat? I then went over to see the horse races and found the self-same citizens with the same old hats saying 'chip in and see the horse race.' After we had had about a dozen races and the crow, I was pretty well skinned of small change, we went over to see the ball game. Our boys were playing good ball and the Falls club, which was composed mostly of Mud Lake boys, were not in it from the start. The Falls club succeeded in making five scores in five innings while the St. Hilaire club succeeded in pounding out thirty-seven scores in four innings. I then went over to see the foot races and found the same men with the same hats. I had the satisfaction of seeing the St. Hilaire boys carry off all the prizes in the running races. I also chipped in and made up a purse to see Martin Williams throw their champion wrestler. In the evening I saw the fireworks from a safe distance, fearing the everlasting hat, and also took in the dance, supped sumptuously on cove oyster soup, ham sandwiches and lemonade. I learn that everyone made money and they will try it again next year. I also hear that they intend to apply for letters of patent on their entirely new and novel 'drop a nickel in the slot and see a celebration' scheme. (Signed: Ananias)"

Trail News

Around a hundred and fifty people attended the 50th wedding anniversary for Gilbert and Mabel Nelson of Trail. All their children were here except their daughter, Clara. The VFW Auxiliary served the meatball and ham dinner. Rose Aaknes made the wedding cake. The Nelson's received many gifts and cards from relatives and friends. We wish Mabel and Gilbert many more years of happiness and good health.

Olaf and Hazel Rikji of Crandon, WI, are visiting his brother and wife, Halvor and Vivien Rikji at Gully. They also attended the 50th anniversary of Gilbert and Mabel Nelson at the VFW hall in Trail on Sunday noon.

Saturday afternoon visitors with Rose Aaknes were Erwin and Adeline Prevost of Oklee, and Frances Sunsdahl of Tower. Evening visitors were Wayne and Kathy Bakke of Gonvick. They also called on Olaf and Hazel Rikji of Crandon, WI. They are living in their house at Gully for a few weeks.

Erwin and Adeline Prevost of Oklee, and Rose Aaknes, Janet Halvorson and children of Trail, attended the baby shower for Samantha Jo Bakke, at the Samhold Lutheran church at Gonvick on Sunday afternoon. Samantha Jo is the daughter of Wade and Roxy Bakke and a great-granddaughter of Rose Aaknes.

Helen Sardahl of McCleary, WA, is spending her vacation with her mother, Berget Sardahl and her brother, Gaylen Sardahl of Gully, and sister, Mrs. Dennis Halvorson all of Trail, and her nieces and nephew.

Helen Sardahl of McCleary, WA, picked up a birthday cake at the Rose Aaknes home on Sunday forenoon.

Capitol Commentary

by LeRoy Stumpf

State Senator — District 1

The past session was a tough one to understand. Unfortunately, this interim is not much easier—especially when it comes to how much the state spends to help local governments hold down property taxes.

One reason is that the Governor used his line-item veto to cut out a local government section. That section has some surprising twists to it if you look a couple of years down the road.

Governor Carlson vetoed the part that would have sent dollars from the new local government trust fund to local governments in fiscal years 1994 and 1995. Most people figured that meant state aids would be not be paid for that time, but that is not the case.

Another part of the tax bill still appropriates money for local government aid during that period. It is just the type of aid, its distribution, and the amount that will change. The veto has the effect of appropriating the state and local share of the fund. Instead of getting $282 million in aid, local governments would get $820 million.

It's obvious the Governor did not accomplish what he set out to do. He has said he wants local government aid cut as part of a restructuring of the state-local relationship.

In making the veto, he said that the provision was not part of the deal he made with the Legislature. He did not mention anything about more money going to local governments because of it.

(If you are wondering how this affects the new local option sales tax for the coming year, it doesn't. Counties will still have to enact that in order to get state aid for 1991-92.)

Because the Governor's veto was aimed at 1994-95 expect some more political fireworks on it next year. I am sure the Legislature will work with the Governor to straighten out all this, but it will give local governments a stronger hand at the Capitol when the issue is debated again.

Precautions against ticks are suggested

A University of Minnesota Lyme disease expert and the Arthritis Foundation are urging Minnesota residents and visitors to take precautions against tick bites this summer.

Russell C. Johnson, PhD, microbiology professor and internationally recognized Lyme disease expert, said the Minnesota tick population, including those known to carry Lyme disease, could be larger than usual this year because of the mild winter and increased spring moisture. He added that infestation of the Lyme disease-carrying tick appears to be spreading geographically, and the number of Lyme cases seems to be increasing.

Lyme disease is an infectious disease caused by bacteria and passed to humans and animals by a tick bite. In Minnesota and Wisconsin, only the deer tick (sometimes called the bear tick) carries the bacteria. Not all bites from these ticks result in the disease, which generally begins with an expanding red rash and flu-like symptoms such as a stiff neck, chills, fever, fatigue and joint pain.

Dr. Doyt L. Conn, a rheumatologist and Arthritis Foundation-Minnesota board chairman, said serious complications such as heart and nervous system problems and a disabling, chronic arthritis, which often affects the knees, may result if the disease is not diagnosed early. Treatment of Lyme disease is more difficult and less successful in later stages.

"Lyme disease may be a diagnostic dilemma for physicians," Johnson said. "The diagnosis of early Lyme disease is usually made after a patient experiences the flu-like symptoms and develops a circular rash characterized by a bright red outer edge and a clear center at the site of a tick bite.

"Physicians are making clinical diagnoses with this information. The blood test may not be positive in early disease," he added. "We need better ways to detect early and late disease."

Because diagnosing Lyme disease is still difficult and untreated cases lead to serious problems, both Johnson and Dr. Conn urge people with questions to see their physicians.

"Preventing Lyme disease by checking for ticks and carefully removing those found continues to be very important, and is especially important this year," Johnson said.

To receive a free Lyme disease brochure on protecting yourself from ticks and recognizing symptoms, contact the Arthritis Foundation by calling 1-800-333-1380 toll-free from outside the Twin Cities metro area.

Initiative Fund awards grants to area organizations

Northwest Minnesota Initiative Fund board of directors awarded $79,213 in grant for human service and economic development projects at its June board meeting.

The city of Red Lake Falls received a grant of $14,201 to develop a business incubator which will provide space and shared support services for small businesses seeking to locate in the city. The Red Lake Falls Economic Development Coordinator will be housed in the incubator center and will be available to provide technical assistance to businesses.

The Polk County Central Cities (PCCC), a consortium of the communities of Erskine, Fertile, McIntosh, Mentor, and Winger, received a grant of $30,000 to develop a mentor/apprenticeship program to keep anchor businesses in the communities. Developed by the Rural Opportunities Steering Committee of the PCCC, the program will match potential buyers with business owners who are thinking about retirement and/or the need to sell their business. This concept has already been used successfully by one area business. The Initiative Fund will work with project personnel in documenting the process so that other small rural communities can implement the program.

The University of Minnesota-Crookston received a grant of $8,255 for the Red River Region Economic Developers' Network Planning/Strategy project. NWMIF funds will be used to establish a network and define strategies relating to activities resulting from national and international promotion of the Red River Basin trade region. Representatives from Minnesota, North Dakota, and Manitoba will be included in the program.

The Red Lake Falls School District received $18,467 for expanded development of the Global Studies Institute. The Institute is dedicated to preparing people for participation in the "global society" of the 21st century through the study of languages, geographies, cultures, customs, and outlooks of people from throughout the world. A combination of academic and hands-on experiences, as well as personal interactions with people from numerous countries, are at the core of the Institute's program.

Two organizations received grants from the Initiative Fund's Non-profit Technical Assistance Funds. This special NWMIF program assists regional non-profits in increasing their operational and management effectiveness.

The Bemidji Area Habitat for Humanity Inc., received $4,900 for organizational planning including the development of an advisory committee and a financial management system.

The Northwoods Coalition for Battered Women Inc., received $3,390 for development of a long range plan and an assessment of financial and operating systems, personnel policies and organizational by-laws.

Oakes on Wadena school board

Charlie Oakes, formerly of Thief River Falls, was recently selected from a field of five candidates for appointment to fill a vacancy on the Wadena board of education.

While in Thief River Falls Oakes was business manager of the Occupational Development center and later executive director of the Falls Day Activity center. He also chaired the local swimming pool committee and headed its fund-raising efforts. He moved to Wadena in 1989 when he became director of the Wadena county DAC.

Oakes told the Wadena Pioneer Journal that he thought "it would be interesting" to be on the school board. "We have an entire generation that has chosen not to get involved," he said. "It's time for some of boomers to raise our hands to help."

The Journal said the school board at first planned to narrow the field of candidates to two, but when Oakes received votes from everyone he was appointed. He will serve in the appointive position until next spring's school board election.

Charges filed in shooting

Second degree assault charges have been filed against a Thief River Falls man after he allegedly threatened a woman and a shot was fired from a gun he was holding.

Pennington county sheriff's department received a report at 5:42 p.m. on July 3 that a woman had been shot at with a .22 rifle. According to the report, Gary George Cooley, 49, rural Thief River Falls, got into an argument with a local woman. He allegedly threatened to kill her after he got a .22 rifle from upstairs area of the residence. The woman struggled with the man and the gun went off. The bullet struck the wall. Cooley then pulled the gun from her hands.

A third party arrived at the scene when Cooley pulled the gun from her hands. He then ran from the residence with the gun and got into a car and drove away. The woman ran to a neighbors to call the law enforcement center.

Information about the incident was put out on a teletype to other law enforcement agencies. A Red Lake county sheriff's deputy then reported seeing the vehicle Cooley was allegedly driving traveling north on Highway 32. The Minnesota state patrol was alerted and with the assistance of Pennington county deputies the vehicle was stopped just north of Kruse Inn in St. Hilaire. Police in Thief River Falls assisted by holding up traffic while the stop was made.

Cooley gave up without a struggle. He was arrested and has been charged with second degree assault. Charges are also pending for aggravated driving while intoxicated.

Tammy Johanning, who will be 20 years old this week, is one of eight candidates for the Miss Thief River Falls title this year. She is the daughter of Arlene Johanning of Thief River Falls and Bob Johanning of Plummer and a 1989 graduate of Our Saviour's Christian Academy. Her pageant talent number will be a vocal solo accompanied by sign language.

90th county fair opens tomorrow

Murphy Bros. carnival rides are still arriving today from Wisconsin and setting up at the fairgrounds in Thief River Falls in preparation for the 90th annual Pennington county fair July 10-14.

The carnival sprawls across the entire area of the fairgrounds from a few feet east of the curling club building to Brooks avenue. One of the rides will be an aerial tramway which extends virtually all the way from the curling club building to Brooks avenue, paralleling highway 59. The roadway into the fairgrounds from highway 59 has been closed to provide space for the carnival.

"Carnival arrangement this year is different from the pattern we have been accustomed to over the years," stated fair board chairman Richard Anderson. "Advance ride ticket sales have picked up at most outlets in the past few days and we expect the public to be well satisfied with the carnival this year."

While the carnival will be in operation beginning at 5 p.m. Wednesday, entries will not be received until Thursday beginning at 9 a.m. Fairgoers should not expect to find any activities other than the carnival on Wednesday evening.

Open class entries in the arena, curling club building and livestock areas will be received from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. Thursday and are open to all exhibitors in northwestern Minnesota.

A special division for woodworking has been created this year and an expanded number of entries is being expected in that area of competition. Northland Woodcrafters club will also have a non-competitive woodworking exhibit at the curling club building.

Entries by 4-H club members will be received until 3:30 p.m. and conference judging will be used, whereby judges discuss the project with the exhibitor and make immediate placing in ribbon classes.

One of the special events Thursday will take place at the band shell where a "Country Hoedown" will feature local and area performers from 7:30 to 10 p.m.

Also on Thursday the Prairie Schooner car club will sponsor a drive through Thief River Falls and then park the vehicles for exhibit that evening on the apron in front of the sports arena.

Most of the scheduled activities of the fair were included in a story in the Friday, July 5 issue of the Northern Watch. Events are also listed in the county fair premium list which has been available in local and area grocery and convenience stores.

Persons attending the fair are reminded to use only the east and west entrances to the grounds. There is no admission to the fairgrounds but a parking fee of $1 per day or $2 for the duration of the fair will be charged vehicles entering the grounds.

"A lot of work has gone into preparation for the fair again this year and we hope we are ready for an enthusiastic public which will guarantee another successful event," Anderson said.

Donna Jorde is Artist of the Month for July

by Cathy Mueller, President
Northern Prairie
Artists Association

When Donna Jorde and her husband Glenn sold their dairy herd about 10 years ago, Donna started working at Northwest Medical center in Thief River Falls as an afternoon dietary cook and also discovered an interest in painting. Now her home is filled with many lovely and interesting items that she has painted over the last 10 years.

She first purchased a Tole style painted item from Country Class Arts and decided she would like to learn how to do Tole painting. She and several of her friends began taking classes from LaVonne Forsberg. After working primarily on wood items such as shelves, jewelry boxes, trunks and other items, she decided to try painting on canvas. Oil paints were used at first, but Donna now works exclusively with acrylics.

"I like acrylics because they dry fast and I can go over something I want to change almost right away," she said. "You can't do that with oil paint without it getting 'muddy.'"

Donna paints on large canvases and can start and finish a painting in one day. She has a small corner of the basement with many lights where she paints and most of the painting is done during the winter months.

Not guilty plea entered by Wojahn

Dennis Wojahn of Thief River Falls pled not guilty to five counts of theft over $2,500 and one count of theft over $500 in Ninth district court in Pennington county Monday.

The complaint against Wojahn was amended by the County Attorney. Charges of embezzlement were changed to charges of theft over $2,500. Wojahn pled not guilty to the charges of theft.

The charges stem from an investigation into the theft of money from Thune-Upham & Associates Inc. of Thief River Falls. Wojahn was an employee of the company.

Monday, Wojahn pled not guilty to all six charges. He is represented in court by Attorney Richard Sather of Thief River Falls. The prosecuting attorney is Al Rogalla of the County Attorneys office in Thief River Falls.

T. Johanning enters pageant

Tammy Johanning plans an education and career in nursing with a specialty in dealing with diabetes patients for a very logical reason.

"I was diagnosed as a diabetic when I was 13," she said, "and also experienced a ruptured/abscessed appendix. I know what it's like to depend on God and my insulin for life and sometimes it's scary. I want to be a nurse so I can encourage those who have life diseases and have them know someone does care and understands."

Tammy, who will be 20 in a few days, is the daughter of Arlene Johanning of Thief River Falls and Bob Johanning of Plummer. She is a 1989 graduate of Our Saviour's Christian academy and has attended North Central Bible college in Minneapolis for the past two years. This fall she will enter the nursing program at the Thief River Falls technical college.

Five feet five inches tall with blond hair and brown eyes, Tammy will present a vocal solo with accompanying sign language for her pageant talent number.

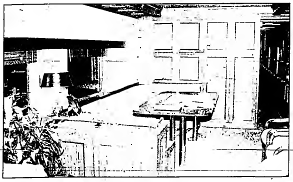
Passengers ride Soo Line tracks again



Interior of the "North Star" business car on the "Heartland Explorer V" rail cruise was impressively finished in walnut and brass. Remainder of the car was devoted to Pullman berths. The car was built in 1946 and used on the Great Northern's Empire Builder from Chicago to Seattle and later its Winnipeg Limited from St. Paul to Winnipeg, Man.

As the "Heartland Explorer V" rail cruise train gently clinked and clattered past the Soo Line depot on Third street on its way out of Thief River Falls on a muggy Independence Day morning Thursday, every passenger looking out the observation car windows or leaning nonchalantly on the railing of the open platforms had a look of utter contentment. Most smiled and many returned waves from the small scattering of on-lookers along the tracks.

Once again, for the first time in several decades, a passenger train was traversing the Soo Line rails through Thief River Falls. What once was a common mode of travel for the public was now somewhat of an oddity—a collection of privately owned cars put together in a seven-unit train for the benefit of a relative handful of enthusiasts who believe railroad excursions are the greatest thing since sliced bread.

There were actually 49 guests on the "Heartland Explorer V" rail cruise that stopped in Thief River Falls the night of July 3 to replenish its water supply. They were served by a crew of 24-cooks, waiters, waitresses, a dishwasher, porters and mechanics, not counting the Soo Line crews which operated the new 2,000 horsepower Generation II diesel engine which pulled the seven cars.

During the wee hours of the morning July 4 the train made its way north up the tracks from Thief River Falls to Noyes where passengers were permitted to disembark and set foot on Canadian soil. It then lurched its way back into Thief River Falls for a brief stop to allow passenger picture-taking of the depot on Third Street before traveling south to reach the Twin Cities in time for Fourth of July fireworks that evening.

The "Heartland Explorer V" left Chicago's Union Station Saturday, June 29, beginning an eight-day excursion on the Soo Line railroad. Stops had been scheduled in advance at Mason City, IA, Glenwood, MN; Harvey, Minot, Portal and Kenmare, ND, Minneapolis/St Paul, MN, and Kansas City, MO.

The paying passengers were served in full Pullman-style by the crew throughout the trip, with arrangements made by the High Iron Travel Corporation. Included were two dome cars, three sleepers, a business car and a platform car. Several of the cars served double duty—for both observation and dining, for instance.

Each of the cars was privately owned by an individual or group and all had been restored and brought up to federal safety standards. Each car had its own unique history and was given a specific name.

Kristine Kjos & Michael Albers wed June 15

Kristine Carol Kjos and Michael John Albers were united in marriage June 15 at the St. Bernard's Catholic church in Thief River Falls. Rev. Dave Super officiated at the 2 p.m. double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Lucille Kjos of Thief River Falls and the late Herman C. Kjos. Parents of the groom are Darrold and Joy Albers of Bemidji.

Special music was provided by Laura Stark, niece of the groom, who sang "This Is The Day," "Time For Joy" and "There Is Love." Amy Padilla served a organist, playing "Cannon in D," and "Jesu, Joy of Man's Desiring." Reader was Beverly Reinertson, aunt of the bride.

The church was decorated with white carnation and pink gladioli with babies' breath bouquet and a bouquet of aqua mist flowers and white roses in memory of the bride's father. On the pews were candles, white and aqua bows.

The bride chose a floor length gown of satin brocade, fitted bodice with scalloped waistline. It had a sweetheart neckline, large bow and covered pearl buttons at the back and short puffed sleeves, topped with white satin rose and bow. The bride complemented her gown with a white simulated pearl wreath headpiece and shoulder length veil. She carried a bouquet of aqua and white roses, green ivy and small pink, aqua and white flowers.

Paula Kjos of Thief River Falls served as her sister's maid of honor. Matron of honor was Kathy Coit of Burnsville, sister of the bride. Bridesmaids were Deb Dallmann of Prior Lake, friend of the bride, and Joy Stark of Bemidji, niece of the groom. They wore aqua mist gowns of lace and satin with scooped front and back necklines, framed puffed and shirred elbow length sleeves and basque waistlines. Each wore a white rose in her hair. They carried bouquets of aqua and white roses and pink and aqua mist flowers accented with babies' breath, crowns, pearls and aqua satin ribbons.

Jennifer Kjos, cousin of the bride, served as the bride's personal attendant.

The groom was attired in a dark gray pin-striped tuxedo with dark gray bow tie, satin lapels and a matching vest. His boutonniere was white rose and aqua rose with small pink flowers and babies' breath.

Sam Dewesse of Waconia, friend of the groom, served as best man, with Phil Albers of Bemidji, brother of the groom, Dan Stark of Bemidji, brother-in-law of the groom, and Brian Kjos of McHenry, IL, brother of the bride, as groomsmen. They wore dark gray pin striped tuxedos with dark gray bow ties, satin lapels and matching vests. Their boutonnieres were white roses and aqua roses with small pink flowers and babies breath.

Michael Floyd of Bemidji, nephew of the groom was ring bearer. He wore a dark gray pin striped tuxedo with dark gray bow tie, satin lapels and a matching vest.

Ushering the guests was Mike Kjos, cousin of the bride. Cross bearer was Carl Floyd, nephew of the groom. They wore dark gray pin-striped tuxedos with dark gray bow ties, satin lapels and matching vests. Their boutonnieres were white rose and aqua rose with small pink flowers and babies' breath.

For her daughter's wedding, the mother of the bride chose a dark blue brocade jacket over a white and blue street length dress. The groom's mother wore a two-piece mauve-colored street length dress. Each wore a corsage of large white roses, baby aqua and white roses and babies' breath and satin ribbon.

A reception was held for the couple following the ceremony at St. Bernard's hall. Host couple was Tony and Greta Mack, cousins of the bride, who also presided over the guest book.

Highlighting the serving table was a three tier wedding cake, decorated with aqua and white roses, with a fountain at the base and topped with a miniature bride and groom. It was cut by Julia Nicholls, aunt of the bride, and Susan Stark, sister of the groom. Coffee was served by Lee and Kay Kjos, uncle and aunt of the bride. Susan Sabol, aunt of the bride, and Linda Floyd, sister of the groom, served punch.

Flower hostesses were Diane Sabol, cousin of the bride, who made all bouquets and floral arrangements, and Katy Henke, friend of the bride. The reception was videotaped by Bill Coit, brother-in-law of the bride.

Following a wedding trip to Niagara Falls and eastern Canada and United States, the couple is now at home in McAllen, TX. The groom, a graduate of Bemidji high school and Bemidji state university, is employed as a high school history teacher in McAllen, TX. The bride, a graduate of Lincoln high school and Moorhead state university, is employed in elementary education in McAllen, TX.

Tamara Kostrzewski to wed LeRoy Mattern

Richard and Cheryl Kostrzewski of Thief River Falls and Clayton and Ilene Mattern of Rugby, ND, announce the engagement and forthcoming marriage of their children, Tamara Rae-Anne and LeRoy Alan.

The bride-to-be is a 1986 graduate of Lincoln high school and is currently employed by American Linen and Domino's Pizza of Fargo, ND. Her fiance is a 1985 graduate of Rugby high school and is presently employed by Sunmart in Fargo.

A July 27 wedding is planned at 5 p.m. at Zion Lutheran church in Thief River Falls. All friends and relatives are invited to attend.

Wedding reception set for Todd/Ann Stokke

An open house wedding reception will held July 14 from 2 to 5 p.m. for Todd and Ann Stokke, who were married June 29 at the Central Lutheran church in Winona. The reception will take place at the Bethlehem Lutheran church in Newfolden. All friends and relatives are invited to attend.

Karla Dahlen & Wayne Byklum wed June 8

Karla Jean Dahlen and Wayne Alan Byklum were united in marriage June 8 at the Faith Lutheran church in Goodridge. Rev. Robert Dahlen officiated at the 5 p.m. double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Galen and Jane Dahlen of Goodridge. Parents of the groom are Wallace and Karol Byklum of Grygla.

Special music was provided by Lisa Verhout and Randy Larson, friends of the couple, who sang "All My Life," "Forever's As Far As I'll Go," "Doubly Good to You" and "The Gift." Carol Kriel, friend of the couple, served as organist. The processional was "Lost In Your Eyes" and the recessional was the Wedding March.

The church was decorated with fuchsia crepe paper and white bells with floral arrangements in memory of the groom's grandmothers and grandfather and the groom's godfather.

The bride chose a traditional white satin gown with an illusion bateau neckline, pouff sleeves that fell to a point at the wrist and were accented with lace cutouts, sequins and pearls, and a fitted bodice adorned with schiffli lace, irridescent sequins and pearls. The basque waistline flowed into a full skirt. The back of the dress was accented with rows of draped pearls and a bow. The cathedral train was embellished with lace cutouts, beads, irridescent sequins and pearls. The bride complemented her gown with a beaded headband with teardrop irridescent beading and sprays of pearls and poufed layered veil which flowed to shoulder length. She carried a bouquet of white roses, fuchsia roses and white lilies, accented by greens, sprays of pearls and irridescent babies' breath.

Jacqueline Drangstveit of Goodridge served as her sister's matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Tami Mickelson of Salol, cousin of the bride, Becky Johnson of Minneapolis, Shannon French of Alexandria and Denise Aune of Thief River Falls, all friends of the bride. The junior bridesmaid was Tabitha Drangstveit of Goodridge, niece of the bride. They wore fuchsia short sleeved street length dresses with princess seamed bodices and flared peplum at waist. The V backed dresses were accented with rows of pearls and shoulder appliques. They wore headpieces of fuchsia netting with pearl sprays and white roses and carried arm bouquets of fuchsia and whites roses with white lilies, irridescent babies' breath and fuchsia and irridescent ribbon.

Chelsey Drangstveit of Goodridge, niece of the bride, was the miniature bride. She wore a white satin gown with empire waist and a large bow at the back. Her veil was a wreath of miniature roses with sprays of pearls and poufed veil in back to the shoulder.

Kim Gilbert and Arlene Rolland, both friends of the bride, served as the bride's personal attendants.

The groom was attired in a white tuxedo with tails and white tie and vest. His boutonniere was a fuchsia rose with white lilies and irridescent babies' breath.

Darrin Byklum of Grygla, brother of the groom, served as best man, with Mike Drangstveit of Goodridge, brother-in-law of the bride, Steve Anderson of Grygla, Brian Aune of Thief River falls, DelRay Dahl of Grygla, all friends of the groom, as groomsmen. Nicholas Harris of Thief River Falls, friend of the groom, was the junior groomsman. They wore gray onyx tuxedos with tails, fuchsia bow ties and cummerbunds, and boutonnieres of fuchsia roses with white lilies and irridescent babies' breath.

Chad Byklum of Fargo, ND, nephew of the groom, was ring bearer. He wore a white tuxedo with tails and white vest and tie and a boutonniere of fuchsia rose with white lilies and irridescent babies' breath.

Dayna Sustad & Kraig Melvie wed May 18

Dayna Lynn Sustad and Kraig Ryan Melvie were united in marriage May 18 at the Viking Covenant church. Rev. Michael Herschburger officiated at the 7:30 p.m. candlelight double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Daniel and Donna Sustad of Viking. Parents of the groom are Ernie and Theresa Melvie of Viking.

Special music was provided by Daniel and Tricia Olson, friends of the bride, who sang "God, a Woman and a Man" and "The Wedding Song" and Sherri and Allan Melvie, cousins of the groom, who sang "On Eagles Wings." Donna Mae Hogberg served as organist, playing "Jesu, Joy of Man's Desiring," "The Wedding March" and the "Bridal Chorus." Pianist was Judy Hogberg, friend of the bride.

The church was decorated with candelabra with metallic blue bows and an arrangements of flowers around a tall candle at each window and pink and blue pew markers.

The bride chose a traditional white satin gown with lace capped pouff sleeves, fitted bodice and lace rosettes at each shoulder. The full skirt was covered with tiers of lace and had a large bow at the back. The bride complemented her gown with a hat and full length veil. She carried a cascading bouquet of riviera blue and shell pink open roses and buds.

Dawn Sustad of Viking served as her sister's maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Kristi Nelson of Barnsville, sister of the groom, Nancy Newland of Thief River Falls and Darcene Moen of Newfolden, both friends of the bride. They wore royal blue tea length gowns with pearl necklaces and earrings. They carried nosegay bouquets of open roses and buds in riviera blue and shell pink.

SashaRae Hugg of Keene, ND, cousin of the groom, was flower girl. She wore a tea length light pink dress with tears of lace. She carried a pink satin-covered basket with an arrangements of pink and blue flowers.

Tricia Olson, friend of the bride, served as the bride's personal attendant.

The groom was attired in a white tuxedo with tails and a boutonniere of one small open rose in riviera blue and shell pink bud.

Kevin Melvie of Thief River falls, brother of the groom, served as best man, with Randy Nelson of Barnesville, brother-in-law of the groom, Howard Hugg of Keene, ND and Shane Wahl of Middle River, both cousins of the groom, as groomsmen. They wore black tuxedos, with royal blue bow ties and cummerbunds. Their boutonnieres were single riviera blue sweetheart roses buds with babies' breath.

Jacoby Nelson of Barnesville, nephew of the groom, was ring bearer. He wore a white tuxedo with tails and pink bow tie and cummerbund and a boutonniere matching the groom's.

Ushering the guests were Haven Hugg and Joe Melvie, both cousins of the groom. They wore black tuxedos with pink bow ties and cummerbunds and pink rose boutonnieres. Programs were handed out by Corey Hogberg, cousin of the bride.

For her daughter's wedding, the mother of the bride chose a pink satin two piece dress. The groom's mother wore a royal blue dress. Each wore a corsage of open riviera blue roses and shell pink buds with narrow pink and blue ribbon. The fathers of the couple wore black tuxedos with tails and matching black vests with riviera blue sweetheart rosebud boutonnieres.

Honored guests at the ceremony were Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Ness, Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Sustad and Mrs. Alma Melvie, grandparents of the couple.

A reception was held for the couple following the ceremony. Host couples were Daniel and Peggy Hogberg, uncle and aunt of the bride, and Allan and Orlette Gjerde, uncle and aunt of the groom. Jill Melvie, cousin of the groom, presided over the guest book.

Highlighting the serving table was a three tier white wedding cake, decorated with white icing and pink flowers with two stairways extending down to heart-shaped cakes at each side with the names of the bride and groom on them. The cake was topped with a miniature bride and groom. It was cut by Carol Penner and Arlene Molskness, both friends of the bride. Cake servers were Holly Sustad, sister of the bride, and Corey Hogberg, cousin of the bride. Coffee was served by Judy Frazer, aunt of the bride, and Carolyn Hugg, aunt of the groom. Verona Hovelson, friend of the couple, and Jennifer Frazer, cousin of the bride, served punch.

Flower hostesses were Marilyn Wahl and Darlene Wakefield, both aunts of the groom. Gift table attendant was Wendy Frazer, cousin of the bride. Gift carriers were Austin Hugg and Kylen Hagen, both cousins of the groom. Thank you scrolls were handed out by Holly Sustad, sister of the bride. Candy favors were distributed by Jennifer Sustad, sister of the bride, and SashaRae Hugg, cousin of the groom. Waitresses were Jan Gustafson and Sandi Gustafson, friends of the couple, and Jennifer Frazer, cousin of the bride. The reception was videotaped by Dale Penner, friend of the bride.

The couple is now at home in Viking. The groom, a 1987 graduate of Marshall County Central high school, is employed by Melvie Trucking. The bride, a 1990 graduate of Marshall County Central high school and a 1991 graduate of Interstate Business college, is employed by Pamida.

BOOKMARKS

These books are available at the Thief River Falls Public Library, 101 East First Street, Phone 681-4325

Want a good book to relax with at the lake or while sunning? Here are some suggestions available at the Thief River Falls Public Library:

"The Druid of Shannara" - by Terry Brooks: A new volume in the series about Shannara, a fantasy land.

"The Novel" - by James A Michener: Hailed as an interesting departure from his other work, Michener's "The Novel" is about life as lived by writers, critics and book editors.

"Aspen Gold" - by Janet Dailey: A women comes to a psychological fork in the road and returns to her home state in order to make a choice between fame or love.

Children

"Take a Chance, Gramps" - by Jean Okimoto: 12 year old Jane Higgins is terrified of starting junior high without her best friend. Her grandfather encourages her to take the initiative in friendmaking and Janie finds it works. Then it's up to Janie to return the favor and get her recently widowed grandfather out of his doldrums by escorting him to a senior citizen's dance.

"The Potato Man" - by Megan McDonald: A wonderful book to share days of long ago when peddlers drove horse-driven carts down the streets to sell their ware. And how one act of kindness dispelled fear.

"Dragon for Breakfast" - by Eunice and Nigel McMullen: As King Ulf cracks open his hard-boiled egg at breakfast, he gets a surprise: A dragon springs out! The small dragon grows up to be a big nuisance around the castle until the king finds him a special job.

CLARIFICATION

Public defender Daniel Scott, who represented Paul Tangquist of Thief River Falls in federal court in St. Paul, has informed the Times that money taken from the U.S. Postal Service by the defendant was repaid early in the proceedings.

An article in the Northern Watch Friday, July 5, regarding sentencing of Tangquist on charges of embezzling $6,935 in funds from the U.S. Postal Service, stated that the sentencing involved no fine and no restitution.

"Judge Alsop found in his ruling on the case that the money involved had been repaid the day the audit began in September of 1990," public defender Scott said, "and because of the repayment there was no further restitution to be made."

Kainz receives residence hall scholarship

Kay Kainz, of Thief River Falls, was selected as one of the two National Residence Hall Honorary (NRHH) scholarship recipients for outstanding leadership in the residence halls at the University of North Dakota.

Kainz, the daughter of Dennis and Cathy Kainz of Thief River Falls, is a senior at UND majoring in elementary and early childhood education. Kainz is the national board of directors liaison between the UND residence hall system and the national directors for the upcoming national conference to be held at UND next spring. She has served the Association of Residence Halls (ARH) as the Hall Orientation Team Co-Chair and Swanson Hall Programmer and is presently serving as National Communications Coordinator and Vice President of ARH for her second term.

Everett Amundgaard, 68

Thief River Falls — Everett Amundgaard, 68, died July 2 at his home in Thief River Falls.

Funeral services were held July 5 at the Zion Lutheran church in Thief River Falls with Rev. Dennis Raymond officiating. Special music was provided by Van Swanson, soloist, and Ida Nordvall, organist. Honorary casketbearers were members of the Thief River Falls Rifle club. Active casketbearers were Tony Kozojed, Richard Jorde, Glenn Peterson, Robert Nelson, William Robertson, Clifton Johnson. Interment was in the Wood Lawn cemetery at Argyle, with military honors conducted by the American Legion posts of Thief River Falls and Argyle. The Green Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements.

Everett Amundgaard was born Sept. 18, 1922 at Argyle, the son of Ivar and Julia (Nygaard) Amundgaard. He graduated from high school at Argyle and attended St. Olaf college in Northfield and the University of North Dakota. He served in the U.S. Navy during World War II. On June 7, 1946 he was united in marriage to Lois Nelson at Warren. He worked with his father at his Our Own Hardware store in Argyle. In 1948 he moved to Thief River Falls and joined Mr. Lunke in the farm implement business which they operated as the Amundgaard Lunke Implement. When Mr. Lunke retired, Everett's brother, Jerry, joined him in the operation of Amundgaard, Inc. In 1978 they both retired and continued to live in Thief River Falls. He was active in the Thief River Falls Rifle club and served as regional director of the National Bench Rest Shooters. He was a member of Zion Lutheran church, the American Legion, the Veterans of Foreign Wars, and the Curling club.

He is survived by his wife, one daughter, Mrs. Michael (Nancy) Peterson of Moorhead; two sons, James of Thief River Falls and Thomas of Los Angeles, CA; two granddaughters; two brothers, Jerry Amundgaard of Thief River Falls and Roger Amundgaard of Geneseo, IL.

He was preceded in death by his parents.

Willmar C. Brekke, 78

Plummer — Willmar C. "Willie" Brekke, 78, died July 3 at Northwest Medical center in Thief River Falls.

Funeral services were held July 6 at the Immanuel Lutheran church in Plummer with the Rev. Clarence Johnson officiating. Special music was provided by Don Wahlbeck, soloist, and Effie Vigstol, organist. Casketbearers were Clarence Hanson, Lewis Jesperson, Alvin Johnson, George Ollie, Ernest Peterson and Roger Skjerven. Interment was in the Clearwater cemetery with military honors by the Plummer American Legion post. The Green Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements.

Willmar Carl Brekke was born June 7, 1913 at Plummer, the son of Leonard O. and Ellna (Peterson) Brekke. He attended school in Strandquist and at Plummer. He served with the U.S. Army during World War II with the First Special Forces in the Aleutian Island, Africa and Italy campaigns. He worked on road construction and later on the Soo Line railroad section crew, retiring after 15 years of service. He was a member of the VFW of Thief River Falls, the Thief River Falls Eagles, the Plummer American Legion post, a former member of the Thief River Falls American Legion and a volunteer fireman in Plummer.

He is survived by four brothers: Joe of Minneapolis, Leonard of Thief River Falls, Donald of Plummer and LeRoy of Mesa, AZ; and four sisters: Elayne Pahlen of Anoka, Mrs. Keough (Lillian) Fournier of Plummer, Mrs. Maurice (Ruth) Perreault of Bellingham, WA and DeLores Donarski of Grand Forks, ND.

He was preceded in death by his parents; one brother, Walter; and one sister, Marie Brekke.

Philip Walker, 64

Moorhead — Philip Walker, 64, died July 1 at a Moorhead hospital.

Funeral services were held July 3 at the Wright chapel in Moorhead, with Rev. Hal Pease officiating. Special music was provided by David Lindell, soloist, and Margery Posschl, organist. Interment was in the Oak Grove cemetery at Red Lake Falls. The Wright Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements.

Philip Walker was born Aug. 11, 1926 in Red Lake Falls, the son of Clayton and Hope Walker. He grew up there and graduated from Red Lake Falls high school. He then worked at the creamery in Red Lake Falls. He married Alice Violette on Dec. 9, 1947 in Minneapolis. He worked for Fairmont creamery in Moorhead from 1952-67, and then with the U.S. Postal Service as a mail carrier in Fargo until his retirement in 1990.

He is survived by his wife; one son, Earl Walker of So. St. Paul; four daughters: Mrs. Dennis (Suzanne) Dessellier of Minneapolis, Mrs. Dennis (Joan) Reopelle of Blaine, Mrs. Bruce (Linda) Nelson of Walcott, ND, and Mrs. Steve (Evelyn) Johnson of Kansas City, KS; 12 grandchildren; one brother, Donald Walker of Red Lake Falls; and one sister, Mrs. Allan (Sharon) Dupont of Red Lake Falls.

Dear Friends:
The other evening, while turning thru the various TV channels, I came across an interesting program. A speaker testified that he could judge a community as being either stagnant or progressive on three criteria. 1. The respect for the living and the deceased. 2. Harmony in the environment. 3. The quest for educational improvement. We believe our community rates well on these criteria. But education and improvement of the environment must be a continuing process to assure a good quality of life.
Respectfully

Academy had first reunion

Fifteen graduates of Our Saviour's Christian Academy in Thief River Falls—about half of the graduates of the school—attended the first all-school reunion last weekend at the academy.

Reunion program was held Saturday evening in the academy's gymnasium with principal Delores Kading giving the welcome and Rev. Michael Forsberg offering a prayer.

Following a potluck dinner Rev. Del Palmer led an opening prayer and Audrey Halvorson read a poem. Baird McDowell gave a scripture reading, tribute to his sister Anna who died during the past year, and played a musical number on the electronic keyboard.

Jodi Gustafson sang a solo, Kelly McIntosh related stories from his experiences with the school and its students and Jodi Gustafson read a poem. Mrs. Don Lerud, a teacher at the school, presented a Scripture reading and fellowship reminiscing and group singing followed the formal program.

Open house for the graduates, present students at the academy, parents and other interested persons was held on Sunday with a good attendance noted. Jodi Gustafson and Audrey Halvorson co-chaired the reunion planning.

Lull to tell about China experiences

Alan Lull, formerly of St. Hilaire, will speak Sunday, July 14, at 9:30 a.m. at Zion Lutheran church in Thief River Falls about his experiences in China.

Lull has been an English teacher for the past two years at Yantai Teachers college in China. Anyone interested in hearing the presentation is invited to attend.

by Sharon LaCoursiere

Speaking Of . . .

. . . Oh Ho! Go!

So, did I hear you say you don't plan to go to the Pennington County Fair this week? What kind of excuse could you possibly have for missing all of that fun?

It seems to me that a good county fair is just what this place needs to liven things up a bit. I think the fair has something for just about everyone, yet there are people who don't plan on going. They don't know what they will be missing, so I'm going to tell them. Here are some excuses people will give for missing the fair and my answers to them:

1. "I don't like all those wild rides. They make me sick, so I'm not going to the fair."

—Oh ho! The Pennington County Fair is much more than rides. Leave the riding to the younger generation with stronger stomachs, and take in some of the other exciting things.

2. "I don't have any money to spend, so I'm not going to the fair."

—Oh ho! There are many things to enjoy at the fair that don't cost a thing. In fact, a person can wander through the fairgrounds all day long and not spend a thing if they pack their own picnic lunch. The glitter, noise and excitement are all free.

3. "I don't want to go look at cows and pigs and animals, even if it is free, so I'm not going to the fair."

—Oh ho! Not only are the animal exhibits free, but so are many other interesting things. There is something for everyone at the fair, with handicrafts and needlework, science and technology, art work, woodworking, farm machinery, fashions, flowers, crops and garden displays, and tables filled with every kind of food imaginable, as well as some mighty pretty animals.

4. "I just want to stay home and listen to music, so I'm not going to the fair," or "I'd rather stay home and watch television, so I'm not going to the fair."

—Oh ho! Why not go to the fair and listen to music and watch performers instead of being a couch potato? There will be music and entertainment to rival anything you could see at home on television. Patty Loveless and Travis Tritt will give live performances at the grandstand on Friday and Saturday, and there will be a teen dance with "Tommy's Promotions" on Thursday. The bandshell will feature local bands all afternoon and evening for all four fair days.

5. "I'm too old to go to the fair."

—Oh ho! Nobody is too old for the fair. There is a Senior Citizen Day at the fair on Friday and the Pennington County Outstanding Senior Citizen will be recognized at the Senior Citizen program at 2:00.

6. "I'd rather visit with my neighbors than go to the fair."

—Oh ho! All your neighbors will be at the fair because they know it is the best place to run into and visit with friends and relatives that they haven't seen in a long while. People come from hither and yon for the fair. Some people who were originally from the area even make a point of coming back home to visit from far away places during fair time. The fair is a good place to meet old classmates, friends, buddies and business colleagues.

7. "I'd rather spend 'quality time' with my family so I'm not going to the fair."

—Oh ho! What better place to bring the family for some fun quality time than the Pennington County Fair. Saturday is Family Day at the fair, and there will be horse, goat and dog shows and a rooster crowing contest in the morning and King Agassiz crowning at the evening grandstand show. Families can come in the morning and spend all day checking out the displays and exhibits, riding rides and playing games.

8. "I don't like to play anything except bingo, so I'm not going to the fair."

—Oh ho! The fair is a bingo lover's delight, with bingo offered every afternoon and evening in the Curling Club Building. Come and play 'til you drop or 'til you win, whichever comes first.

9. "I don't care about anything except cars, so I'm not going to the fair."

—Oh ho! Car lovers can gander at cars all they want at the Prairie Schooners Car Club Drive and Display from 7 to 10 P.M. on Thursday, and then turn out Sunday afternoon at 5:30 to watch smash 'em crash 'em action by local drivers at the big Jaycee Demolition Derby.

10. "I have youngsters at home and just can't take time to go to the fair."

—Oh ho! Let me tell you, there is nothing more enjoyable than meandering through the fairgrounds with a little person in tow. Watching the sights, sniffing the smells, hearing the sounds and feeling the excitement with a child will remind you of the thrills you got when you were young and the carnival came to town for the county fair.

Do try to get out and enjoy it again this year!

Local man arrested in G.F.

Monday morning a Thief River Falls man surrendered to Grand Forks police and appeared in Grand Forks county court where he was charged with theft of property.

Wayne Halbasch, 35, Thief River Falls, appeared in Grand Forks County Court where he was charged with theft of property following an investigation into the theft of a stolen credit card.

According to Lt. Dennis Dunn of the Grand Forks Police department, Janet Roisland, Thief River Falls, reported that her Sears credit card had been stolen on or about May 8, 1991 in Grand Forks, ND. The suspect, a white male, used the credit card to purchase $1,860 worth of items from Sears in Grand Forks and Fargo.

According to Lt. Dunn, a joint investigation by Grand Forks police, Thief River Falls police, Minnesota Bureau of Criminal Apprehension revealed the true place of credit card theft was in Thief River Falls.

Lt. Dunn said Wayne Allen Halbasch, Thief River Falls, was subsequently arrested and the following items purchased on the stolen credit card were recovered: four tires, four shock absorbers, a grass trimmer, a camping lantern, a garage door opener system, two car batteries, a Camcorder and gas grill.

Passenger train rides Soo tracks again

One such collector is Rev. Charles D. Anderson of Redwood Falls, bishop of the Southwest Minnesota Synod of the Evangelical Lutheran Church in America (ELCA). Bishop Anderson was making the "Heartland Explorer V" cruise in the company of Rev. Stephen Morse of Birmingham, AL, a Presbyterian minister who served a parish at Marshall, MN, in the 1970s.

Rev. Morse expects to travel about 10,000 miles by rail this year. Bishop Anderson will log three times that total, bringing his recorded lifetime rail mileage to just under 400,000 miles.

"I started riding trains when I was five years old," said Bishop Anderson, who admits that was more than a few years ago. "It has been a fascination for me ever since. I travel by rail whenever I can, usually adding vacation time to my business time because it would take so much less time to fly and I can't justify the extra time spent on the train."

But the Anderson family vacation this year will be by rail, and the good bishop will be smiling every sway and bump of the way.

Other passengers on the Heartland Explorer came from diverse backgrounds. Dean McCormick of Santa Ana, CA, is president of the Orange County board of education—an elective office which makes him both an educator and a politician. He has taken several of the rail cruises and finds them to be relaxing and educational.

Clark Johnson headed arrangements for the Heartland Explorer tour and one of the railroad cars belongs to him. Watson Warriner of Greenville, DE, also was one on the trip with a part interest in one of the cars.

Capt. Dan Pierce of Camp Hill, PA, had just retired from an airline career with Pan American Airline and said he became involved with railroading because he hates airlines. Pointing to his empty dinner plate and commenting on the "gourmet food" served on the train, he asked, "Have you ever eaten a meal on an airplane?" The comparison was obvious; the difference was well understood.

Capt. Pierce was high in his praise of the Soo Line for its cooperative spirit and attention to safety. The comments were echoed by others at his table, including F. Taylor Johnson, operations director for the sponsoring High Iron Travel Corporation. He also noted the enthusiasm shown at towns along the Soo Line and how spectators seemed to view a passenger train as a welcome sight once again.

One of the impressive cars on the train was "The North Star," a business car which had been tastefully (and expensively) rebuilt in black walnut wood and brass fixtures. The car was built by Pullman-Standard in 1946 and operated as the "Oberlin Glacier" on the Great Northern Empire Builder from Chicago to Seattle for several years. It later became part of the Winnipeg Limited which ran from St. Paul to Winnipeg, Man., Canada and was used there for a number of years.

It was privately purchased and restored earlier, with the last restoration being completed in March of this year.

All along the Soo Line route the Soo provided crews to operate the locomotive. Richard Clark was the engineer of the train from Kenmare to Fordville with Tony Noel as conductor and Chad Pesch as brakeman. From Fordville to Thief River Falls the crew included Larry Panek, Ron Ostby, Don Tunheim and Gary Anderson. All are from Thief River Falls.

Among the crew serving the passengers on the eight-day excursion were Chris Pyle of Twin Peaks, CA and his friend Stacy Harris of San Diego, CA. Pyle works in the food service area in California and his employer gave him the time to make the trip. Stacy is a lab technician in a hospital and made the trip as sort of a working vacation, serving as a waitress.

Both chuckled at some of the problems of providing first class service from a very limited work area.

"Our kitchen isn't as big as the kitchen in a lot of homes," Pyle said, "yet we have to serve close to 80 people all their meals for over a week. It takes quite a bit of planning and organizing to get the job done."

Refrigeration is one of the problems. Each of the cars seemed to have some small refrigerated area, so food was stored in those areas from one end of the train to the other. When stops were made there were frantic rushes to grocery stores to pick up whatever might be needed for the next several meals.

Chris and Stacy were among nearly half the work crew which came from California on one of the cars used in the seven-car train. They made the trip to Chicago by way of Seattle and would return from Kansas City on a southern route, each taking about five days and making the total package about three weeks in length.

When the train came to Thief River Falls from Kenmare, ND, it made a stop where the line crosses the Red River of the North at Oslo and also passed through Warren.

When the Heartland Special reached Kansas City, the passengers, crew and train cars themselves headed in many different directions, returning to their home bases. Before dispersal preliminary plans were made for Explorer VI which will travel again around the Fourth of July in 1992.

Rates varied for the passengers, some of whom joined the tour at different points along the way. Rides of one or more day trips were available which cost $350 per day per person and included meals and refreshments but no overnight accommodations. Travel on these trips was one-way with passengers responsible to arrange their own return transportation.

Persons interested in the rail cruise may contact the High Iron Travel Corporation, P.O. Box 3544, Denver, CO 80217 (phone 303-825-8885) or at Box 954, Plaistow, ND 03865 (phone 603-382-4515).

Karydon and Carol Chervestad and family spent the Fourth of July weekend at the Iron Range. They enjoyed the Iron World tour in Chisholm, also many other sight-seeing tours.

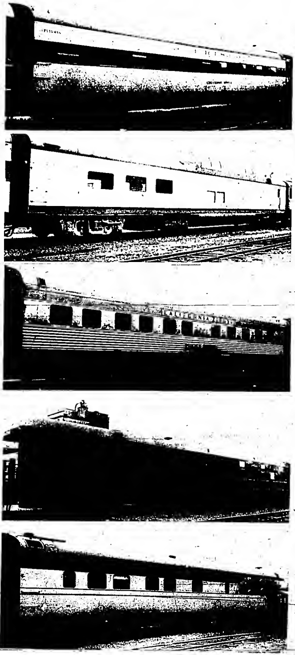
Many attended the Joann Hansen/Kent Olson wedding at Nazareth church, officiated by Pastor Roger Fehr, pastor of Bethlehem church of Warroad. The couple are residing on a farm near Wannaska, and employed at Warroad. Congratulations.

Fourth of July family get-together at the Kelly and Connie Lundeen home. Potluck dinner was served. Coming to the special event were Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Nelson, Edna Nelson, Ordean Nelson, Lila Johnson of Seattle, WA, George and Verona Gardner of Grand Forks, Russel and Marilyn Nelson and Racheal of Fisher, David and Judy Lundeen and Kyle of Red Lake Falls, Jeff and Sheri Nelson of Thief River Falls, Mark and Travis Nelson of Erskine, Tim Nelson of Brooks, Jim and Kathy Dulka and Jimmey.

Joe and Sheryl Stahl of Eagle, ID, were visitors on Saturday evening June 15, at the Arlen Marquis home. Joe and Arlen used to do carpentry work together before the Stahls moved to Idaho in 1977.

A coffee party was held Tuesday at Connie Lundeen home. Guests were Ione Olson and Mable Hofstad, Lana Nelson and boys, Barb Chervestad and family, Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Nelson, Evelyn Erickson of Plummer, Annabelle and Helen Chervestad, Linda Hofstad, Annette Vettleson and Anita Halvorson.

Hilge and Clara Johnson of Thief River Falls, were visitors of Robert Flaton recently.



Railroad cars which were part of the "Heartland Explorer V" rail excursion train which stopped in Thief River Falls last Wednesday evening and Thursday morning are shown in the photos above. Each car is privately owned and has its own unique name and history. Names included the "Cimarron River," "Columbia River," "Silver Rapids," "North Star" and "Caritas." The train left Chicago's Union Station June 29 and concluded its eight-day excursion on the Soo Line in Kansas City, MO on July 6. The tour was arranged by High Iron Travel Corporation.

TRF has unusual tournament finish

Thief River Falls ledger shows Post 117 climbing back to .500 for the year with weekend wins over Saskatoon, Williston, Detroit Lakes and Devils Lake at the Williston Invitational American Legion baseball tournament.

But in the eyes of tournament officials, Thief River Falls was 2-2 and not 4-0 in the eight-team, two-division, round-robin field after ordering Post 117 to forfeit a pair of wins for using an ineligible player.

A Williston Invitational participant in the past, Thief River Falls had competed against over-age players in a field featuring a number of Canadian entries. This time Post 117 coach Howard Dalager was looking for some kind of edge for his team when he dressed Corey Poole for the tournament.

Most high school seniors, and in fact, some college freshmen, have a year of American Legion baseball left before their eligibility date arrives. Poole completed his senior year of high school baseball this spring, but turned 19 before the cut-off date for Legion eligibility.

Dalager, looking back at the history of the eligibility situation at the Williston Invitational, thought the addition of Poole, a standout shortstop and a .300 hitter, would pass tournament inspection.

"We actually thought the tournament would be a lot tougher than it was," noted Dalager. "We were 7-11 going in, and struggling. We hadn't been playing very good baseball. We were looking for a spark to get us going, and we figure Poole would give that to us."

Poole was in the line-up as Thief River Falls beat Saskatoon 6-3 Friday night and edged Williston 4-3 Saturday afternoon.

But before he stepped on the diamond against Detroit Lakes later that day, the Thief River Falls Ninth District rival filed a protest. Post 117 crushed Detroit Lakes 13-3 without Poole in the line-up to go 3-0 – a first place finish within the division, meaning a championship game match-up Sunday against the Grand Forks Royals.

However, the tournament officials, following the protest filed by Detroit Lakes, ruled Thief River Falls would have to forfeit the earlier wins over Saskatoon and Williston.

That dropped Post 117 into the Sunday afternoon seventh place game, where Thief River Falls shut out Devils Lake, a last-minute tournament replacement for a non-showing Minnetonka, 13-0.

"We feel bad about what happened," offered Dalager. "It wasn't like we were trying to hide anything. It's too bad it happened because the kids played really well. We were the best team there."

Thief River Falls will return to action Wednesday with a 5:30 p.m. doubleheader at East Grand Forks. Post 117 will be at Park River Friday for a 5 p.m. twinbill before heading to Bemidji for another weekend invitational – replacing a Crookston tournament appearance.

Thief River Falls 6

Corey Poole was 4-for-4 with a double, Kyle Evenson went 3-for-3 and David Blazek kicked off a great weekend at the plate with a 3-for-4 game that included a home run, as Thief River Falls beat Saskatoon 6-3 in first-round play.

Blazek went on to collect 11 hits in 15 tournament at-bats, collecting two triples and two doubles in addition to the first-game home run.

Winning pitcher Mitch Bernstein give up only four hits, striking out four and walking three.

A two-run single by Mike Rokke highlighted a three-run Thief River Falls fifth inning that led to a 4-3 second-round victory over host Williston.

David Blazek was 3-for-4 in the eight-hit Thief River Falls attack.

Rokke was the winning pitcher, scattering six hits while striking out six and waling three. A two-out Thief River Falls error led to a Williston run and a 4-3 game in the bottom of the seventh, sending the tying run to third with Williston's No. 4 hitter coming to the plate. But Rokke ended with threat with a strike-out.

Despite the eligibility controversy that developed before the start of the game, Thief River Falls was an easy 13-3 winner over Detroit Lakes in Round 3.

A 15-hit Thief River Falls attack included a 3-for-4 performance by David Blazek and Kyle Evenson, a 2-for-3 game by Barry Dowers and a tie-breaking second inning solo home run by Chris Aune. Blazek doubled and tripled, Evenson doubled and Blazek, Evenson and Dowers all drove in two runs.

Meanwhile, Darin Wald turned in four innings of scoreless, one-hit relief pitching. He struck out six as he took over after starter Mike Swanson gave up three second inning runs.

Track meet set July 18

First of two Thief River Falls summer track meets will be held Thursday, July 18, beginning at 6:30 p.m. at Prowler Field.

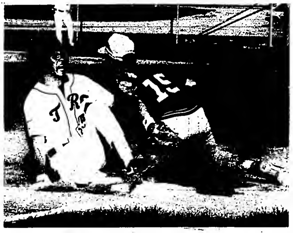
Second meet will be held August 15.

The meets are open to children and adults of all ages. Events include 100, 200, 400, 800, 1600 and 3200 meter races, plus the shot put and long jump. There will also be a 50-meter run and a softball throw for children ages 6-under.

A $1 entry fee covers all events. The proceeds will go to the Lincoln High School track program.

The track meets are sponsored by the Falls Clinic, div. of Dakota Clinic Ltd., Northwest Medical Center, Pepsi-Cola Bottling Company of Thief River Falls and the Lincoln coaches.

For additional information Northwest Medical Central public relations coordinator Gail Holland at 681-4240, extension 210.



Thief River Falls runner Josh Balmer hit the bag after advancing from second to third on an infield ground out during the third inning of the Bombers' Monday night VFW baseball doubleheader opener against East Grand Forks at Irv Wilson Field.

Bombers sweep EGF VFW

A 10-0, 10-3 VFW sweep over visiting East Grand Forks Monday put the Thief River Falls Bombers at 29-7 for the year, 7-3 in the VFW District 9 baseball standings for 16-year-olds.

The Wayne Rahlf-coached Bombers will close out their 1991 home season Wednesday with a 6 p.m. Ninth District Tier II American Legion doubleheader against Red Lake Falls. Final five Thief River Falls regular season outings, all doubleheader affairs, will be played on the road, including a 2 p.m. Legion start at Warroad Saturday and a 5:30 p.m. VFW match-up at East Grand Forks Monday.

Triathlon planned July 20

Seventh annual Thief River Falls Pepsi-Cola Triathlon will be held Saturday, July 20.

The event will be expanded this year to include a children's triathlon and a relay triathlon.

Regular triathlon and relay triathlon will both start at 8:30 a.m. The children's triathlon is scheduled to start at 10:30 a.m.

Both the triathlon and relay event will include a 500-yard swim, a 12-mile bike ride and a 3-mile run. The children's triathlon, designed for ages 12-under, will feature a 50-yord swim, 2.4-mile bike and 1.2-mile run.

A new rule this year will require a hard shell bike or hockey helmet for all bikers.

Swimming portion of the competition will take place in the Franklin Middle School pool, starting in waves to avoid congestion. From the pool participants will ride bicycles on an out-and-back course via Nora and Pennington avenues. The run will also start and finish at the school.

After the swim, the children's triathlon bike ride will involve two laps on Spruce Street, Gulf Street and Edgewood Drive. The run will involve one lap of the same course.

Race shirts will be given to all finishers. Trophies will be awarded to the first place male and female finishers in various age categories. Refreshments will be provided at the finish.

You must pre-register. There will be no registration allowed the morning of the race. Entry forms at available at the Falls Clinic and the Franklin pool, or they can be obtained by writing race director Jim Langland at the Falls Clinic div. of Dakota Clinic Ltd., 120 LaBree Avenue South, Thief River Falls, MN 56701.

Entry fee is $12 for the triathlon, $18 for each relay team and $5 for the children's triathlon.

TRF Babe Ruth teams nearing end of season

Host Warroad swept the Thief River Falls Shockers 18-8 and 13-12 Monday in a rescheduled Babe Ruth baseball doubleheader for 14-15-year-olds.

The Shockers, along with the Thief River Falls Gophers and Strikers, will be part of the Lake Agassiz South Sub-District tournament field Saturday, Sunday and Monday in Crookston.

Steve Henke-coached Strikers and Myron Peterson-coached Gophers were scheduled to meet Crookston Blue in a split doubleheader today (Tuesday) at 10 a.m. and 12-noon, respectively, before the Gophers took on the Chris Mills-coached Shockers this afternoon at 3 in make-up action at Irv Wilson Field. It'll be the final regular season game of the year for the Strikers.

The Shockers will wrap up the regular season with a 10 a.m. doubleheader at Red Lake Falls Wednesday and the Gophers will finish with a 1 p.m. game at Roseau Thursday.

Top two teams in the sub-district field will advance to the Lake Agassiz District tournament vs. the North qualifiers July 19-20 in Roseau.

Thief River Falls Lobos, Mudhens and Gamecocks 13-year-olds will not begin post-season play until the July 18-20 Lake Agassiz District Prep tournament in Crookston.

This week's Prep schedule will find the Hunter Boldt-coached Lobos and the Chris Nelson-coached Gamecocks sharing a Thursday doubleheader at Roseau, while the Corey Poole-coached Mudhens head to Warroad for a twinbill that day. The Gamecocks and Lobos will meet in an all-Thief River Falls affair Friday at 10 a.m. at Irv Wilson Field.

TRF teams play in Bemidji Invitational

Two Thief River Falls entries had trouble picking up wins at the 26th annual Horace May Invitational youth baseball tournament played Saturday and Sunday in Bemidji.

Formed by combining rosters from the the regular season Gophers, Strikers and Shockers Babe Ruth teams, the Thief River Falls entries for the six-team, two-division, round-robin Bemidji tournament included a team of 15-year-olds coached by Myron Petersan and a squad of 14-year-olds coached by Steve Henke.

The 15-year-olds lost to the Bemidji Lions 13-3 and beat the Bemidji Voyageurs 12-2 in round-robin play Saturday, then fell to Leech Lake 5-2 in Sunday's third place game.

Thief River Falls 14-year-olds lost to the Bemidji Braves 13-6 and Leech Lake 8-3 in round-round play Saturday before claiming a 15-1 consolation decision over the Bemidji Voyageurs Sunday.

In an all-Bemidji final, the Braves beat the Lions 6-1.

Reivers top Karlstad

Chris Nelson struck out 13 Karlstad batters, while Andy Larson went 3-for-5 at the plate Saturday as the host Middle River Reivers doubled Karlstad 10-5 in amateur baseball action.

Nelson scattered eight hits and walked just two in the scheduled nine-inning contest and also came up with a lead-off triple to start a seven-run Middle River sixth inning that broke open a 4-3 game.

Nelson, Robb Coltom, Rick Looker and Jason Kempert all had two hits for the Reivers, who won their third straight game to go 4-5 for the year.

With many of the Reivers having Thief River Falls and Northland Community College baseball backgrounds, a couple of upcoming Middle River games will be played at Irv Wilson Field in Thief River Falls, including a 6:30 p.m. match-up with Ada Wednesday and a 2 p.m. contest against East Grand Forks Sunday. DNR News

Shoreland Improvement

Summer weather may be fine for waterfront improvements but there are many other factors to consider before beginning a project, according to the Minnesota Department of Natural Resources (DNR).

Any project constructed below the ordinary high water mark (OHW) which alters the course, current or cross-section of protected waters or wetlands, is subject to regulation and may require a DNR Waters permit. For lakes and wetlands, the OHW is the highest water level that has been maintained long enough to leave evidence on the landscape, usually where natural vegetation changes from predominantly aquatic to predominantly terrestrial. Some projects that require DNR permits include Excavating, Draining, filling, dredging, channelizing and placement of bridges and culverts.

Work above the OHW is subject to shoreland regulation through local zoning control. "Here it is always best to check with the local zoning administrator", said DNR Shoreland Management Supervisor, Peder Otterson. Placement of structures on lots, sewage treatment systems, and shoreland alterations (grading, filling and vegetation removal) require local zoning permits.

"Shoreland regulations and permit requirements are meant to protect water resources and those who benefit from them, so careful planning is important," said Otterson. "Discussing your project with a DNR conservation officer or area hydrologist before work begins could improve it and enable you to avoid costly mistakes and inadvertent violations."

More information about guidelines and regulations affecting shoreland activities can be obtained by contacting the DNR area hydrologist nearest you, or requesting the brochures on water permits and land use programs from the DNR information Center, 500 Lafayette Road, St. Paul, MN 55155-4040 or call 1-800-652-9747.

Jorde Artist of the Month

oped her own unique style. Donna finds her favorite subject is florals and she paints mostly roses, mums and daisies. She also uses an oval mat to emphasize the lovely floral paintings. She has completed more than 125 paintings, many of which have been sold or given as gifts to her children and friends. Many of her paintings were hung in the hospital cafeteria before it was recently remodeled.

Glenn does the framing for most of his wife's work. Antique frames, which she loves to use around her paintings, require a little more work than new ones but are deemed worth the effort. Glenn and their children are very supportive of her art work, she said. Whenever she has the time she and daughter Penny like to go to auction sales where Donna finds many of the items that she decorates with Tole painting.

One of Donna's largest art projects was painting all the kitchen cabinets for her married daughter in California, then doing decorative Tole painting on each one of them. Both she and her daughter were very satisfied with the results.

Donna admires the work of fellow artists Pat Kotschevar and LaVonne Forsberg and is another who appreciates the work of wildlife artist Terry Redlin.

Several of Donna's paintings will be on display beginning Thursday and continuing during the rest of July at the Northern Prairie Arts Gallery in the Country Class Arts store in Thief River Falls. The public is welcome to stop by the gallery and view her paintings.

Donna Jorde's favorite among her floral paintings is this work which has been attractively placed in a wide frame. Donna is July Artist of the Month for the Northern Prairie Artists association and her work will be on display beginning Thursday and continuing the rest of this month at the Northern Prairie Arts Gallery in the County Class Arts store on Riverside avenue in Thief River Falls.

Johanning in pageant

at Our Saviour's Christian academy, she participated in statewide ACE competitions for four years. In her junior year she qualified for advancement to international competition in puppetry, radio program, and vocal duet, trio and ensemble. She had also qualified for advancement the first year she entered state competition.

The international competition was in New Brunswick, NJ, and she also visited Washington, DC and New York City, climbing the 300 steps to the top of the Statue of Liberty.

She has been a youth leader, Sunday school teacher and very active at the Assembly of God church as a singer on the worship team. She has sung at nursing homes and other community places and events.

Having worked at Northland Foods in previous years, she became manager of the delicatessen at the downtown Hartz store when she returned from college this spring. She has also worked for a yogurt retailer at Southdale and Eden Prairie malls in the Twin Cities, at an Arby's restaurant there and at the Subway sandwich shop in Thief River Falls.

"I know it's the 'in thing' to say that I want to be the best I can be, but it really is true," she said. "I want to be all that God has for me and to live my life to please Him. I also enjoy being a member of a very close family where we do almost everything together."

Tammy said she likes to read, go on moonlight walks, talk to and go out with friends, play volleyball and tennis, swim, cook, do cross-stitch and watch romantic movies.

Members of her family include four sisters: Cheryl, 16; Karie, 11; Ashley, 4; and Nicole, 2.

REPORT

MINNESOTA HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

by Rep. Wallace Sparby
District 1B

DFL members of the state House of Representatives will be holding one more official meeting this summer than we'd planned. We'll be gathering in St. Paul this week to elect a new Speaker of the House.

Our current Speaker, Robert Vanasek of New Prague, has announced he will be resigning as Speaker at the onset of the 1992 legislative session, although he plans to finish his term representing his district.

Members will likely also be choosing a new Majority Leader in the same meeting, since current Majority Leader Dee Long of Minneapolis will probably be chosen the new Speaker. Making these choices in the middle of the term is unfortunate, but doing it now will allow time for an orderly transition within the House of Representatives.

I'd like to make some comments about this change, discuss the role of House leadership in general, and highlight some of Speaker Vanasek's accomplishments.

The Speaker of the House is often considered the second most powerful person in state government, next to the Governor. One of the reasons for this is that the state constitution calls for tax and spending legislation to originate in the House, and the Speaker plays a prominent role in shaping the budget as well as setting priorities for state spending.

Also, the House is a larger, more diverse body than the Senate, and that gives the Speaker a little more clout than the Senate Majority Leader. The Speaker also names committee chairs and makes committee assignments in the House.

Rep. Vanasek has been Speaker since 1987. During his tenure he has done a good job opening up government to the public. He instituted House mini-sessions, when we travel to rural communities to conduct in-depth public hearings on issues important to people there. Rep. Vanasek has also worked hard to be sure checks and balances exist among the three branches of state government.

In addition, Rep. Vanasek has played a major role in campaign finance, education and election reform. He is leaving his position to work for the Minnesota High Technology Council where he can further his work in promoting education in the state.

When we choose the next House leaders this week, my colleagues and myself will look for the right combination of experience, ability to communicate to the press and the public, and understanding of issues important to the people of Minnesota in the 1990s.

A picnic with a potluck lunch at the Florian State Park Thursday, July 4, was enjoyed by Alfred and Rebecca Solem, Roger Solem, Doug and Cindi Klien, Jade and Kolton, Pastor Kermit and Bonnie Solem, Cassie, Anan and Carson of Salem, WI, and Peter and Valerie Solem, Andrew and Robekah.

Mrs. Harryet Larson attended morning services at the Nazareth Lutheran church in Holt Sunday, with Jim Olos delivering the message, after which she attended the Mud Lake reunion at the Holt Community Center, where a potluck dinner was served. Mrs. Doris Kaushagen was a guest at the Larson home following the reunion.

Attending memorial services in honor of Mrs. Carrie Solem Wednesday afternoon in the Kingdom Hall of Jehovah's Witness in Thief River Falls, were Arnold and Elaine Austinson, Alfred and Rebecca Solem and Kermit and Peter Solem. Speaker for the service was Elder Orvis Mugaas. Refreshments were served following the service in the auditorium basement, with relatives from Portland, Oregon, Grygla, Andover, Sartell, Ada and other areas present. Sincere sympathy is extended to Carrie's children and grandchildren as well as other relatives.

Strandquist

The Strandquist Senior Citizens did not meet last week due to the celebration of the Fourth of July but will be back to the Thursday meeting again this week. Next Sunday an open house is going to be held there honoring Elsie Lefrooth's 80th birthday. See you all there.

Sherrie, Scott and Steffanie Steward and Steffie's friend, Angie Prestegard of Bloomington, came on Thursday to spend the weekend. While here they were the guests of Peter E. and Pearl Thompson. They left for home on Sunday morning.

Richard Johnson of Lino Lakes, spent the weekend visiting his parents, Mike and Betty Johnson in Warroad, and on his way home Sunday evening, stopped to visit his grandmother, Elphie Adlis.

Hazel Anderson accompanied Jim, Cindy and Christy Wetterlund to Winnipeg on Wednesday. The Wetterlunds returned to East Grand Forks, Thursday evening after visiting in the area.

Marie and Bud Steffan of Argyle, took Frank and Judy Kleinvachter out to dinner Tuesday evening to celebrate Judy's birthday. Other visitors were Larina, Claudia and Jessie Berggren and Ellen Stromberg and Frank Grochowski. Julius and Toni Kleinvachter and Patty Larson and girls stopped in at Frank's on Thursday afternoon, to bring birthday wishes to Judy.

Arnold and Polly Anderson of Longview, WA, visited with Morris and Hazel Anderson on Sunday.

LaVerne and Beverly Rasmussen and their daughter, MaryLynn Klingler and children, Matthew, Tammy and Mike of Chicago, IL, have been visiting with George Rasmussen this past week. MaryLynn and family have been the guests of Danny and Becky Johnson since Wednesday, and they returned to Chicago on Monday. On Thursday a lovely supper was had for all of them at the Danny Johnson home. LaVerne stayed with his father, George Rasmussen for a longer time.

Steve Benson and friend, Kathy of Rochester, visited Frank and Judy Kleinvachter Wednesday afternoon. Roger Holmstrom stopped by in the evening. Alyce Anderson and Melvin Kittleson visited them on Friday evening.

The following had supper at David and Phaela Thompson's on Thursday, Sherrie, Stephanie and Scott Stewart and Angie Prestegard from Bloomington, LaVonne and Brian Johnson, Barry and Loni Sarkalotti and children and Peter E. and Pearl Thompson.

Fourth of July visitors at Earl and Ebba Sihlberg's were Dona Donarski, her sister, Aggie and husband, Chuck from the Cities, Donovan and Kellis Donarski and family and the Wesley Rud family. This past week Philip Hoyek and Viola Fredricks, Richard Larson and Alvin Erickson also visited the Sihlbergs.

Dean Grandstrand of Clinton, visited his grandparents, the Louis Lofstroms a week ago Saturday. Other visitors there this week have been Myrne Meader, Anthony Kasprowicz and Lonny and DeeAnn Lofstrom.

Steve Benson and Kathy Kihne of Rochester, joined Ben Kleinvachter and family for dinner at J.R. and Toni Kleinwachter's on Wednesday.

Wednesday Adeline Stennes and LaVol Thun visited Fern Krantz in Thief River Falls. On Friday evening, Don, Vangie and Ronnie Carlson visited LaVol Thun, Mr. and Mrs. George Monroe, Ella Thun, LaVol Thun and Mr. and Mrs. Cory Myhrho enjoyed a picnic at Lake Bronson State Park on the Fourth.

Fourth of July weekend visitors at Philip and Yvonne Boen's have been Dave and Yvette Moberg, Mikhal and Peter of Port St. Lucie, FL, Brent and Carla Boen of Robbinsdale, Mark and Nancy Larson and Jordan of Brooklyn Park, Mike and Kristo Proutz, Brent, Matthew and Mark of Crookston, Michelle Boen of Grand Forks, Ben and Lila Bollanger of Baton Rouge, LA, and their daughter, Julie of Minneapolis, Melford and Millie Boen of Buena Park, CA, Evelyn Louis of Phoenix, AZ, Mr. and Mrs. Morris Koland and daughter Colleen and granddaughter, Sierra from California, Cory Boen, Paul and Jackie Boen and Chelsea and Chase. They really had a house full but a great time.

Frank and Judy Kleinvachter visited with Steve Benson and friend, Kathy on Friday afternoon and later treated them at the Pizza Plus. Frank and Judy visited with Vance and Kelly Lefrooth at June Kasprowicz's Sunday.

LaVerne and Beverly Rasmussen, Mary Lynn Klingler and children, LaVonne Johnson, Sherrie, Scott and Steffanie Steward, Angie Prestegaard and George Rasmussen enjoyed potato dumplings for supper at Peter E. and Pearl Thompson's on Friday evening. Elsie Lefrooth joined them later.

Elmer and Anna Holmstrom were Thursday evening visitors at the Isaac Thompson farm. Nelson LaDoux was a Sunday dinner guest there also.

Douglas and Karleen Holmstrom of St. Paul, Barb Brockman and friend from Vermillion have been visiting at Dean and JoAnne Holmstrom over the Fourth. On their way home from Spring Steel Island where they had been fishing a few days, they stopped to visit Elsie Lefrooth Saturday evening.

Pearl Thompson accompanied Becky, Michelle and Jeremy to Warroad, to pick strawberries. The berries were plentiful, but so was the rain. Brent and Kari Thompson of Roseau, visited at Peter and Pearl's on Sunday afternoon.

Elphie Adlis visited Elsie Lefrooth on Friday.

Jerome Thompson from New York, and his mother, Julie Kittleson from Seattle, WA, arrived in Karlstad and will be here visiting friends and relatives for a few days.

Ida Blaze, who was in Minneapolis for medical reasons, was called home as her basement was flooded in the storm that hit Stephen Saturday evening. When the people who were in the auditorium came out after the pageant was over, some had water up to the bumpers. Three inches of rain had fallen in a half hour and the storm sewers couldn't carry it away fast enough.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of Ralph Wold, who was taken from us July 12, 1982.

Just a thought of sweet remembrance,
Just a memory fond and true.
Just a token of affection, and a heartache still for you,
Just a sign of golden moments
Just a smile of love anew
Just a tear in silence falling and a longing just for you.

Sadly missed by his family 1t55p

THANK YOU

Thanks to everyone for cards, letters, visits, calls and gifts while I was at the hospital in So. St. Paul and now at the nursing home in Grand Forks. Your kindness has meant so much to me. May God Bless you all.

Sincerely,
Alice Skreland

Alvin and Bonnie Jenson were Sunday evening visitors at Arlen Marquis home. Alvin has been home for two weeks from his sailing adventure to Saudi Arabia. He had been aboard the USNS Regulus, which is one of the eight Military Sealift Command ships transporting military equipment from Saudia Arabia.

On Monday June 24, Alvin Jenson, Joani Marquis, Tara, Shandrae and Brianne traveled to Fargo, to visit with Dione Jansan who had been a patient at St. Lukes Hospital for the past month. Diana has Guillain Barre virus and has been very sick. She is gradually getting better and was discharged on Wednesday afternoon.

Saturday June 29, Joani Marquis, Terra and Brianne attended the Pauline Lindberg/Michael Norgard wedding at St. Bernards in Thief River Falls.

LEC news:

Accidents listed in LEC reports

Several accidents were reported to the law enforcement center over the long holiday weekend.

Accidents. On July 3 at 6:02 p.m. police investigated an accident that happened at Highway 59 and Barzen. According to the report, a car driven by Kimberly Magner, route 8, Thief River Falls, was going west on Highway 59 and a pickup driven by Michael Verbout, Thief River Falls, was going south on Barzen. Verbout stopped at a stop sign and then proceeded into the intersection where the vehicles collided. Damages were estimated at $1,200 to the Magner vehicle and $400 to the Verbout vehicle.

On July 3 at 6:05 p.m. police investigated an accident that happened on the Third street bridge. According to the report, a car owned by Tim Hasby, Thief River Falls, and driven by Judy Karen Johnson, Thief River Falls, was facing west and stopped in traffic on Third street bridge waiting for a train when a car driven by Jeffrey Kulvik, Viking, struck the rear of the vehicle driven by Johnson. The Johnson vehicle then collided with the rear of a van ahead of her and driven by Melvin Scholin, Thief River Falls. Damages were estimated at $400 to the Hasby vehicle, $1,500 to the Kulvik vehicle and $100 to the Scholin vehicle. Johnson complained of a sore neck. Dixie Morton, a passenger in the Kulvik vehicle complained of a bump to her head.

On July 4 at 7:30 p.m. Pennington county sheriff's department received a report of an accident on County road 64. According to the report, a car driven by Jeanne Sharon Johnson, route 2, Goodridge, was going east on County road 64 and a pickup driven by Henry Zinter, Goodridge, was going north on 219. Zinter allegedly made a wide turn onto County road 64 and struck the quarter panel of the Johnson vehicle. Damages were estimated at $500 to the Johnson vehicle and $300 to the Zinter vehicle. Zinter was cited for no insurance.

On July 5 at 5:09 a.m. the police department received a report of an accident on Douglas Avenue in Aaseby trailer court. According to the report, Gary Anenson, route 1, Thief River Falls, reported that he was driving a pickup owned by Rick Hopper, Thief River Falls, on Douglas avenue, located in Aaseby trailer court when he lost control of the vehicle on a curve. It went into the ditch where it rolled. Damages were estimated at $600. Charges are pending.

On July 7 at 7 p.m. the law enforcement center received a report of an accident from Northwest Medical center. According to the report that was filed, two youths were riding a three-wheel vehicle owned by Clayton Johnsrud of Goodridge, near the Johnsrud residence when it struck a machine believed to be a corn planter. Jennifer Ann Dahlstrom, Thief River Falls, was steering the vehicle and Miranda Jean Nelson was operating the throttle of the three-wheeler which was traveling through high grass when the accident happened. Miranda Jean Nelson apparently fractured her left arm in the accident.

Thefts. On July 2 the police department received a complaint from Hugo's that someone had rented two VCR movies and had not returned them. Karen Ann York, route 1, Newfolden, has been cited for theft under $200.

On July 2 at 10:41 p.m. Pennington county sheriff's department received a report from Al Walseth, Thief River Falls, that while his vehicle was parked at the Golf Club during the night of July 1 because of car trouble, about 80 CDs were taken from the vehicle. The theft loss was estimated at $1,200. The CDs were contained in an old wood Pepsi case.

On July 3 at 8:58 a.m. police received a report from Les's Sanitation that someone had been dumping garbage in a dumpster in the city. A citation for theft of services was issued to David Messner, rural Thief River Falls, for theft of services.

On July 3 at 11 p.m. Erl's Market reported that a 23-year-old man had left without paying for a package of cupcakes. He was arrested by store personnel. The 23-year-old male from Newfolden was charged with theft.

On July 8 at 11:06 a.m. Dan Benoit, Thief River Falls, reported that his phazer 3 amp which had been taken from his vehicle about three weeks ago, was seen in a vehicle parked in a local downtown parking lot. The amp, valued at $150, was recovered from the vehicle. It is under investigation.

Fireworks. On July 4 at 3:44 p.m. police received a complaint of fireworks, noise and obscenity at Bill LaFave park. Shortly after, four males who matched the description given in the complaint were stopped. The officer allegedly observed fireworks and cigarettes in their possession. A 15-year-old male was cited for possession of fireworks. A 14-year-old male was cited for possession of fireworks and cigarettes. One other youth was warned.

Public nuisance. On July 3 at 12:46 a.m. police received a report of loud noise coming from a residence in Countryside trailer court. Kordel Jablinske, 19, Thief River Falls, was given a citation for public nuisance.

Pizza Mill is new business

New pizza business opens in downtown Thief River Falls

by Amy Isaacson
Times Reporter

Lana Halling traveled three hours to find her son Robert a job. She didn't only find him a job, she opened up a business for him to operate. Now Robert is left with his own restaurant, "The Pizza Mill".

Lana and her husband Harold Halling own "In-Town" pizza in Nashwauk on the Iron Range.

"Robert is a student in the aviation program. We came to visit him a couple of times and we thought maybe people would like our subs and pizzas," Lana said.

"The Pizza Mill" is located on Second street across from "Creative Clippers". It doesn't have a sign up yet but Hallings will be putting one up soon.

The Hallings decided to give their son a chance to have his own business. Robert is managing the restaurant for now while his mother is staying in Thief River Falls helping him get started. "I'll go back as soon as everyone gets trained in," Lana said. She commutes to Nashwauk when she gets a chance, but for the first few weeks she's staying with her son.

Lana's husband started remodeling the store earlier this spring. The building used to be a bakery outlet store, and was recently M&M arcade, so he needed to build a kitchen area, counter space, and a

A new business to Thief River Falls is "The Pizza Mill". People who haven't visited the new establishment can find it across the street from Creative Clippers. The owners are Lana Halling and her son Robert, who is a student at the technical college. Lana and her family are natives of Nashwauk, and will be returning there after she gets the business started.

Times to again feature photos of champions

Again this year the Thief River Falls Times will feature photos of 4-H club grand champions and selected open class grand champions from the Pennington county fair.

Photos of 4-H grand champions in the sports arena will be taken at 4 p.m. Thursday, immediately following conference judging. All 4-H grand champions are urged to be on hand for the photo session.

4-H livestock, poultry and rabbit champion photos will be taken following livestock judging early Friday afternoon.

Open class grand champions selected in the sports arena will have their photos taken at 1 p.m. Saturday.

Amateur talent contest set

The Marshall county fair will host its annual amateur talent contest at 7 p.m., Sunday July 21.

The fair association will offer $200 first prize, $100 second prize and $10 for each entry. The first prize winner will be eligible to represent Marshall county at the Minnesota state fair competition.

All registrations must be made by July 12, and no entries will be accepted after that date. A rehearsal will be held at the grandstand at the fair grounds in Warren on Friday, July 19 at 5:30 p.m. All contestants are required to attend. Each entry is restricted to a three to five minute performance or one song.

Anyone interested may contact Joan Peterson at 745-5460 or Diane Abrahamson at 745-4042.

NWCA board will hold meet July 18

The Northwest Community Action, Inc. board of directors will hold its regular monthly meeting on July 18, at 7 p.m. in the Badger office. This meeting is open to the public.

84th Marshall County Fair set July 18-21

Marshall county's 84th annual fair will be presented Thursday through Sunday, July 18-21, at the fairgrounds in Warren with something special planned for each day of the exposition.

Williams and Ree, irreverently known as "the Indian and the white guy," will open the entertainment program Thursday, July 18, when they bring their unique brand of humor to the grandstand stage.

Thursday is also entry day with entries accepted from 1 to 10 p.m. Premium lists have been mailed to 9,500 homes in the Marshall county area.

Dale T. Thomas Shows will be on the midway and advance tickets good for 10 rides will be sold for $7.50. The tickets are good for any ageperson and any time during the fair. A new feature will be a Midnight Madness Ride-a-Thon following the fireworks from 11 p.m. Friday, July 19 to 2 a.m. Saturday, July 20. A $5 ticket will permit holders to ride any ride during those three hours.

Friday will feature kid's games in the afternoon, a senior citizens program at 3 p.m. and 4-H program with share-the-fun and style revue at 7 p.m. A free dance and free fireworks will follow in front of the grandstand.

Starting at 1 p.m. Saturday will be four hours of continuous Bingo games in the grandstand and the annual demo car races will be at 7 p.m.

All-faiths religious service will be held at 10:30 a.m. Sunday under direction of the Leland DeMars family of Neche, ND. Demolition derby will start at 1 p.m. and the area amateur talent contest will start at 7 p.m.

Brochures on QMB program available

Due to an increase in requests for information, Minnesota Department of Human Services is making a special effort to distribute brochures on the Qualified Medicare Beneficiary (QMB) program. The program will pay for Medicare premiums, co-insurance and deductibles for eligible seniors and disabled individuals.

The brochures are available by contacting the following: Pennington County Department of Welfare and Human Services, phone 681-2880; Red Lake County Social Service Center, phone 253-4131; Marshall County Social Services Department, phone 745-5124; Roseau County Social Service Center, phone 463-2411, and Polk County Social Service Center, phone 281-3127 (Crookston), 773-2431 (East Grand Forks) or 435-1585 (Fosston).

The two brochures are entitled "Your Guide to Health Care Assistance Programs" and "Medical Assistance for Qualified Medicare Beneficiaries."

Since early 1989 Minnesota county social service agencies have enrolled nearly 38,000 individuals in the new benefit program for Qualified Medicare Beneficiaries. The program is available for low-income seniors (age 65 and older) and disabled individuals who are enrolled in or are eligible for Medicare.

The QMB program will pay the cost of Medicare premiums, co-insurance and deductibles for a person with a monthly income of $552 or less and assets of $4,000 or less. With a few exceptions, the home and automobile are not counted in the eligibility determination. Couples will qualify for the QMB program if they have a monthly income of $740 or less and assets up to $6,000.

Income limits for the QMB program increase each year with publication of new federal poverty standards. Seniors and disabled individuals should check for the new QMB income limits at their county social service agency in April of each year.

Kiss-a-pig contest at Roseau fair

A face only a mother could love

To benefit local, area, state and national diabetes projects, the Nordic chapter of the American Diabetes association is sponsoring a kiss-a-pig contest at the Roseau county fair. Voters will pay $1 a vote to select the person they most want to see kiss a pig.

Candidates for whom votes may be cast include Roseau Mayor Bernie Burggraf, State Representative Jim Tunheim of Kennedy, State Senator LeRoy Stumpf of Thief River Falls, KRWB radio employee Don Barthaiume of Roseau and KQ92 radio employee Keith Leiran of Warroad.

Site of the pig kissing will be the mini-stage at the Roseau county fair grounds at 6 p.m. Wednesday, July 24.

County Fair Time

Ballots may be purchased for $1 each from Burggraf's or Hartz Food store in Roseau, Corner Cafe, The Head Shed or Dean & Greg's Quik Stop in Wannaska.

Funds raised will go to patient and public education in Roseau, Kittson, Marshall and Pennington counties, to a summer camp for children with diabetes, research, social services to deal with the emotional trauma associated with the disease and professional and patient education throughout Minnesota.

Campaign organizer Cheryl Palm pointed out that diabetes is the leading cause of blindness, kidney disease and non-traumatic amputations among adults and the third leading cause of death by disease in the United States.

Pizza Mill opens doors in Thief River Falls

walk-in area for customers. As for now "The Pizza Mill" is only take-out and delivery, leaving no room to have an eating place, but the Hallings will soon have a few tables and chairs so customers can eat-in. Lana's still waiting for the air conditioning to be put in and she's not so sure people want to eat in such a warm place. But as soon as it's in, things will be normal.

"The Pizza Mill" serves pizza, subs, salads, garlic toast and pizza fries. Pizza fries are thin strips of pizza crust dipped in pizza sauce and are very popular in Nashwauk. The favorite food of customers it seems is the taco pizza, but everything is good.

A typical day consists of coming in to the store early to chop, slice and dice everything for the day ahead, and Lana makes her own pizza sauce every morning from her secret "special" recipe.

The hours at "The Pizza Mill" are Monday - Thursday 11 a.m. to 10 p.m., Friday 11 a.m. - 1 a.m., Saturday 3 p.m. - 1 a.m. and Sunday 3 p.m. - 10 p.m. Delivery is free for in-town customers, and they will deliver to St. Hilaire.

So far, the Hallings have taken a liking to Thief River Falls. "The country is beautiful, and the people are friendly and nice," Lana said. The scenery is much different from that of the Iron Range, but Lana likes the flat land and rolling hills too.

After a few weeks, Lana will leave Robert to his business and head back Nashwauk to take care of her own business, husband and 16-year-old daughter at home.

Grygla church radio program to air Sunday

First broadcast of "Hearts Aglow," a radio program sponsored by Community Bible church in Grygla, will be presented Sunday, July 7 from 7:30 to 8 p.m. on KTRF radio in Thief River Falls.

Pastor Mike Palkie said music on the program will include local talent as well as selections by various Christian music artists.

Mr. and Mrs. Juell Chervestad, Glen Tesa, Jim and Joy Johnson of Fairmont, Ramona Bush of Columbia Heights, Gary and Connie Carlson and family of White Bear Lake, attended to Cook's family reunion at Farmington Park, south of the Cities over the weekend. On their way home Sunday evening they drove into a cloud burst near the cities.

Many attended the Kjarvestad/Hamme reunion at Maple Lake June 23rd. Hosts for the special event were Juell and Annebelle Chervestad. 75 folks from far and near attended, California, Grand Forks, Thompson, ND, Erskine, Crookston, White Bear Lake, Bemidji, Trail, Oklee and Grygla. A potluck dinner was served. The day was spent mostly on the water, wet bike, canoeing, paddle boat, swimming, playing in the sand, also enjoyed a train ride on 30 gallon drums built by a guy from Grand Forks, Bernice Kjorvestad brought her photo album, looking at pictures from the 1945 reunion when it was first held. I remember so well, Korydon was only six weeks old. Next year the Grand Forks folks will host the reunion the third weekend in June.

Mr. and Mrs. Greg Hilgeman and family enjoyed the weekend recently in the Cities visiting with his folks, the Phil Hilgemans.

Helen Chervestad enjoyed visiting recently at the Harry Hanson home of Trail. The Olel Olsons came over to wish Harry a happy birthday that same evening. Helen also visited with Mrs. Donald Mack and enjoyed coffee and looking at all her pretty flower beds. Also visited with Ione Austad and viewing her flower garden. The Austads are lowering their old barn, a unique landmark built in the 1900's.

Many attended the Ben Olson funeral at Oak Park church Saturday. Also the Marvin Burman funeral held at the Clearwater church. Sympathy is extended to their families. Ben and Marvin will be greatly missed by their friends and relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Julian Gunderson went on a business trip to Minneapolis Wednesday. Archie Gunderson enjoyed a sight-seeing trip with his brother and sister, but ended up at the hospital. They changed his medication now and Archie is doing better.

The Deer Park Garden club met at the Ethel Wiseth home. An outdoor luncheon was served near her water-pool garden. The next meeting will be held July 9th at 6:30 at the Gretchen Belto home in Thief River Falls. A potluck supper. Topic lesson by Gretchen on lily gardens, beautiful flower garden with little easy care. Hostess Helen Chervestad.

Mr. and Mrs. Julien Gunderson, Audrey Bergeson, Gloria Rustan, Milan Rustan, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bluemke, attended the Tabor Minnesota 2nd farm polka fest Saturday. The 4th day fest was held at a farm in a pole shed. The group enjoyed a Chinese supper and the excellent dancing and music that was provided for the special event.

GOD'S WORLD OFFERS AN ENJOYABLE ECONOMY VACATION

Vacation time can mean many things to many people, depending on their interests as well as what the budget will allow. They may travel a great distance in style, go camping in the nearby woods, or just languish in the back yard. All of these places can provide enjoyment and relaxation, being a departure from the normal routine. Moreover, even a low budget vacation can be a learning experience, because it is not necessary to go far in order to observe the wonders of God's creation. They are on display everywhere, in different forms, just waiting for you to discover them. Take your Bible along as a sort of guide book, and remember that wherever you go on your vacation, God will be there to watch over you and protect you.

Come forth into the light of things. Let Nature be your teacher. — William Wordsworth

"Come and see the works of God." — Psalm 66:5

Impressions . . .

by Beth Johnson

Summer has arrived. The words of the song from Porgy and Bess say "Summertime, and the livin' is easy".

Is your livin' easy this summer? Or, are you swamped with all of the fun summertime activities which purport to be times of relaxation!!!?

As we juggle work and play and fun times with the children, we can sometimes feel that we truly are being juggled. We chauffeur our children to the various fun summertime activities and lessons. We try to see as many of their games or events we can possibly squeeze into our already busy schedules. We attend work related picnics and parties. We attend various community and church summertime events. We tend to our gardens. We pull weeds and mow the lawn. We try to schedule significant vacation times into our schedules. We get tired of summer and all of the fun it brings. We long for easy livin'.

This summer is not yet half over. There is still some time to amend our ways and spend some easy livin' time this summer.

There's another song, which Mac Davis sang, which tells us to "stop and smell the roses". If we are going to have a summer of easy livin', we must stop. If we are going to have an easy livin' this summer, we must smell the roses along the way.

There are many ways in which we can stop for a while. Take some time to simply sit in your yard. Look around you. Watch the birds flying so high in the sky. They are truly beautiful in flight.

Take some time to read. Find a book you have always wanted to read. Find a quiet corner, or some quiet time, and simply read. You will find yourself refreshed.

Take some time to pamper yourself. What do you like to do? Is there something special which you would like to do—or a place you would like to go? Stop your daily activities and do that which you desire.

Take some time to also pamper your family. Stop and see the good qualities in them. See each of your family members as the special person they are. Is there something which you could do especially for them? Do it—your livin' will feel easy because of the kindnesses you did for your family.

It's not enough to simply stop for a while. One can stop one's daily activities for a special time of vacationing without seeing the good things that vacation is offering. For instance, if a vacation is costing a lot of money, if you focus on the cost of the vacation you will probably not enjoy yourself. If the fish in the lake are not biting during your vacation, you can either concentrate on your lack of fish or the wonder of being able to be away from the hustle of your daily activity. The latter will make your summertime livin' easy.

When you garden, do you see only the weeds, or do you bother to sit a while and admire the beauty which is there in your garden just waiting for you to admire it? Taking the time to admire nature's beauty will cause your livin' to be easy.

Farmers are the busiest during the summer. They must do all that needs doing to tend daily to their fields. But, perhaps even for those busy tending a farm, some summertime easy livin' can exist. As the fields are being watched over so carefully, count yourself among the especially blessed to be living in a land which is uncluttered with the busyness of too many people. Count the blessings of rain and soil and warmth tending your fields. Count the blessings of health and family. Stop from your busy summertime work and count all of the blessings which have been bestowed upon you. Your summertime livin' will be easier because of taking the time for thankfulness.

Summertime easy livin' is not impossible. It simply takes us bothering to stop and to see the beauty in what is all around us. It simply takes us to bother to be thankful for all that we take for granted. It simply takes us to bother to take time to be grateful for one another. Take some time for easy livin' this summer. Life is too precious to waste in a flurry of busy activities.

The Thief River Falls Library invites you to check out these books:

For Adults

"Riders on the Storm" - by John Densmore: A selection on the New York Times bestseller list, this book is a collection of memories of Jim Morrison and the Doors, from the viewpoint of that rock band's drummer.

"Invasions" - by Eugene Izzi: Two burglars decide to go straight, but the "dream score of all time" drops in their laps and they can't resist. But they're about to be taught the lesson of their lives by the most unsavory lot of all times.

"You'll Never Eat Lunch In This Town Again" - by Julia Phillips: An Academy award-winning producer talks - no holds barred - about her experiences in Hollywood.

"In Our Defense" - by Ellen Alderman and Caroline Kennedy: Another selection from the New York Times bestseller list, this book discusses how the Bill of Rights affects our daily life.

Children

"Oh, the Places You'll Go" - by Dr. Seuss: Dr. Seuss is on the loose again in this rollicking book in verse.

"The Butterfly Jar" - by Jeff Moss: Moss, one of the original creators and head writers for Sesame Street, introduces a wonderful collection of poems fun for adults and children alike.

"Grandpa's Face" - by Eloise Greenfield: Grandpa is an actor and young Tomika adores him. One day she sees him rehearsing to be a cruel person and it frightens her. It takes a great deal for her grandfather to convince her of the difference between fantasy and reality.

Halvorson Family Reunion

Descendants of the late Halvor and Emma Halvorson enjoyed a reunion Saturday, June 29, at the Hartz Park in Thief River Falls, beginning with a noon potluck-dinner. The afternoon was spent reminiscing, the little ones enjoyed the swings and slides, and the young people played ball and a bean-bag toss game, with competition two against two. Relatives present at the reunion were Mrs. Helen Carlson of Duluth, Alfred and Rebecca Solem, Roger Solem, Douglas and Cindi Klien, Jade and Kolton, Kenneth and Kathryn Nelson, Kari and Kent of Spring Lake Park, Peter and Valerie Solem, Robert, Andrew and Rebekah, Lester and Thelma Halvorson, Larry Halvorson of Fridley, Mrs. Dagny Wick of Grand Forks, Mrs. Barbara Helms, Valerie and JoAnna of East Grand Forks, Bud and Stella Bitzer of Williams, Mrs. Charlotte TeHennepe of Leonard, Mrs. Marcie Welch and Preston of Wausau, WI, Mrs. Kim Sanow and Emily Droce of Marshall, Mrs. Sharon Young of Elk River, Darrel Bitzer of Baudette, Mrs. Adeline Halvorson, Renee, Sandra, Richard and Julie, Robert and Naomi Halvorson, twins Joshua and Luke and Lindsey all of Minneapolis, Owen and Bernice Soupe of Anchorage, Alaska, Harold and Alpha Halvorson, David and Gary Halvorson, both of Bemidji, Nick and Debi Drees, Nicholas, Michael and Jon, Brad and Patty Halvorson, Anthony and Samuel of Minneapolis. Guests present were Bonnie Anderson of Thief River Falls, and Halverson cousins, Ralph Sunde and Mrs. Delores Halverson both from Luverne. William and Helen Halvorson of Phoenix, AZ, and Phyllis Styles of Littleton, CO, were unable to attend the reunion. Of the ten Halvorson sisters and brothers only one is deceased, Morris and his family of five children and three grandchildren was the only one with perfect attendance. The sky was overcast but it was a pleasant day with no rain, and everyone had an enjoyable time.

Itasca Centennial Wagon Train

Harold and Alpha Halvorson, together with Earl and Helen Halvorson of Goodridge, left from a Bible camp south of Fosston Wednesday morning, June 19, with covered wagons pulled by teams owned by Bill Fritz of McIntosh, for Itasca State Park, to mark its centennial. They were in a group of six wagons that camped the first night at an Indian Mission church and by McKenzie Lake the second night, arriving at Lake Itasca State Park Friday evening. Harold and Alpha returned home Saturday, but went back to the park Sunday, accompanied by their daughter, Debi Drees and little Jon Marcus, to watch the arrival of the Wagon Trail from St. Paul, which at its stop at Menahga counted 44 wagons, 115 saddle horses, 90 wagon horses, and between 200 and 225 people. Harold reported they had met Galen Adkins, who is a grandson of the late Dr. C.M. Adkins who practiced in Thief River Falls years ago. Galen followed the trail as a Minnesota State Veterinarian. They had also met Norma Hanson of Goodridge who had joined the train at Little Falls, and her husband Lynn who joined later and were surprised to meet their son, Dery from Bemidji and a girl friend strolling in the park.

Monday last week Harryet Larson's brother-in-law and sister, Bob and Esther Caillier from Boron, CA, arrived at the Larson home to spend the day. Bob went to Crookston that evening to visit his relatives for a few days. Esther and Harryet drove up to Strandquist towards evening for a visit at the Eugene and Dianne Kleinwachter home.

Mrs. Anne Muzzy was honored guest on her 96th birthday at the home of Lester and Violet Muzzy, Saturday, June 29, with the following family members present to help her celebrate, Erwin and Leone Muzzy, Steve and Shaun Muzzy, Kellie, Kirstin and Nathaniel, Jim and Dariene Muzzy, Jerry Muzzy, Scott and Debbie Muzzy and Jake, Odin Hanson, Ella Ranum, Delores Muzzy and Roy Laliberte. The main feature of the luncheon served was the decorated cake.

Oak Ridge Church Centennial Observed

Many people from the local area attended events Saturday and Sunday at the Oak Ridge Lutheran church, located seven miles west and one mile north of Thief River Falls, to observe its 100th anniversary. Saturday afternoon program included musical numbers by the Oak Ridge Centennial Choir, by a group including Eldon Moe, Arlynn Tunheim, Allen Swenson and Donald Wahlbeck, and another group with Duane Vatsaas, Dianne Klemmetson and Mike Santeberg participating. Former pastors who have served the church commented on noticeable changes and the growth of the membership and the various organized groups. Following the program a light supper was served. At 10:00 Sunday morning a joint service was held with the Zion Lutheran church of Viking with Rev. Steve Hogberg of the synod office in Moorhead as the speaker. A Swiss steak dinner was served following the service, with a count of 245 plates. The history of the church booklets printed were dedicated to Norval Johnson, 90, whose parents were charter members of the first church and who had been baptized and confirmed there. He was present for services and the dinner served Sunday, June 30.

Nashville/Fair Trip

The Carpenter Charter bus, with Randy Carpenter as the driver and Eldon and Evonna Moe as tour guides, left Thief River Falls Sunday morning, June 9, with members of the Overland Travel club on a fun trip to the Grand Ole Opry in Nashville, TN. Passengers on board were Roy and Rosie DeMeyer, Russell and Fern Nelson, David and Nona Stromlund, Arlyne Solney, Ardelle Wells, Marion Largevon, Charlotte Lemky, Marles Gillespie, Stanley and Caroline Egense, Verne Knaack, Lona Christianson, Harron Clausen, Maxine and Laverne Filpula all of Thief River Falls, Anna Nelson and Henry and Anna Vonasek all of Warren, Leonard and Martha Vonasek of East Grand Forks, Donald and Ilo Harder of International Falls, Vernon and Violet Knaack of Red Lake Falls, Frank and Shirley Cwikla of Wannaska and Ann Palm of Roseau. The bus stopped at Grand Rapids to pick up Dorothy Brace and Beathie McLean, both of Grand Rapids and Nick and Fern Kovich of Warba. From there it was on to St. Paul to pick up Avis Stein of St. Paul, and Duane and Eileen Wickstrom of Anaheim, CA. Overnight the first night was at the Alpine Inn in Rockford, IL, where everyone also enjoyed breakfast before the bus headed south and east towards Nashville. The scenery was really beautiful. The group spent the night at the Days Inn in Madisonville, KY. From there the bus left early, as Tuesday, June 11th, had been scheduled to be a full day. The first stop was to drop David and Nona Stromlund off so they could have breakfast with Charley Pride. The rest went on to downtown Nashville to Music Row. From here Randy and Eldon and Evonna drove out to the State Fair grounds to pick up the Fan Fair packets. As soon as everyone got together they all toured the "Country Hall of Fame," which was very interesting. Then, too it had been raining all morning so the group appreciated being in [illegible] where it was dry. The rest of the day was spent at the fairgrounds at the Fan Fair. Lodging for the next three nights was at the Super 8 in Nashville. Wednesday, June 12th, the group first visited at the "Ryman Auditorium" where the "Grand Ole Opry" was first started. Next stop was to see the famous "Tootsie's Bar" where most of the Country Stars meet before they appear on the "Opry" stage. Signatures of the Stars were seen on the walls as well as many pictures of them. The remainder of the morning was spent at the Fan Fair, where some of the bus group got autographs from some of the Stars. In the afternoon they went back to Music Row where some met at "Gilles" to hear a group sing. In the evening they enjoyed hearing Johnny Gilman sing. The last event of the day was a walk through the Opryland Hotel. The last day in Nashville was spent at the "Opryland Theme Park" and attending the show at "The Grand Ole Opry". After three long days in Nashville the group were ready early to call it a day. Friday morning, now June 14th, the travelers bid farewell to Nashville and headed north, enjoying the scenery along the way and found lodging at the Days Inn in Davenport, IA. Saturday they motored across Wisconsin, stopping at Dickeyville to tour "The Grotto". At Red Wing some of the group enjoyed some shopping at outlet stores. Overnight was at the Sunwood Inn in Minneapolis. Here many of the passengers met members of family or friends. It was a special day for Maxine Filpula, who celebrated her birthday with cake and coffee served at the motel. Sunday morning the group boarded the bus for the last day of the tour. Shirley Cwikla from Wannaska and Avis Stein of St. Paul, and Eileen Wickstrom from Anaheim, CA, had spent eight days together visiting and travelling with their mother, Ann Palm from Roseau, which proved to be a unique event. At Grand Rapids the four travelers from there left the group. In Thief River Falls folks were waiting to welcome relatives back and giving rides home, while a few had their cars at the Randy Carpenter farm. Reports were that everyone had a very enjoyable and interesting tour.

Thursday Mrs. Harryet Larson and her sister, Esther Caillier from Boron, CA, enjoyed a leisurely and scenic drive, ending at the trailer house of Larson's at Rocky Point on Lake of the Woods. They also called at the mobile home of Mabel Senske before returning home later in the afternoon.

It's County Fair Time..... Join In The Fun!

For 90 years there has been a county fair in the Thief River Falls community—a time when friends and neighbors get together to display some of their crops, livestock and home-made projects and products. Members of the fair board are excited about the 90th annual fair this year—just as previous boards have anticipated the previous years' fairs.

Wouldn't it be fun to take a trip back to that time only a decade short of a century ago to see what the first county fair was like? What were the new products on display at that time? What did the crops and garden produce look like? What kind of facilities were available and what sort of attractions were used to draw people to the event?

This was livestock country back in 1901 but the quality of animals was far from what it is now. Most cattle herds were multi-purpose, providing both meat and milk. It would be enlightening to see what purebred animals were exhibited and what they looked like compared to today's specialty breeds.

As livestock have evolved over the years so have people and their interests changed and developed. With all the changes, however, many things have remained the same in the make-up of people. Folks still have pride in work well done and ownership of high class animals. They still like competition, they enjoy seeing what their neighbors have produced, they revel in the growth and development of their children's interests and abilities.

The task of the volunteer fair board which arranges for the fair each year is still much the same as it was years ago. It must anticipate what the public wants and attempt to provide it, to let that public know what is available and to put forth the effort and time and expertise to see that the plans are carried out and the operation runs smoothly.

Pennington county has the great good fortune to have assembled a county fair board which is active, imaginative, innovative, dedicated and takes an immense pride in the fair each year. It works year-around to come up with new ideas, arrange, organize, refine and develop with a view toward constant growth and improvement.

The result of this effort is an excellent county fair that deserves the pride of all Pennington county residents. There is truly something for everyone at the fair and it has to be considered one of the social events of the year. Taking a few hours or a day or two away from other activities to enjoy the fair as a family or to meet and greet old friends is an institution for many people.

Take a look at the 1991 county fair offerings. There are four days of free music and comedy entertainment at the band shell, free admission to the grounds, free viewing of all the exhibits.

There is first class country music entertainment with concert appearances in person by Patty Loveless and Travis Tritt. There is a new carnival with different rides than have been here before. There is the mud, smoke and jolts of the Jaycee [illegible] derby, teen dance, country hoedown, farm toy show, woodworking exhibit, children's barnyard, senior citizen program, 4-H-style revue and awards program, collectors' car tour, horse shows, dairy goat show— even a chance to win a new 1991 Chevrolet Silverado C1500 pickup truck.

(Here's a personal tip from the editor: Be sure to catch at least one performance at the band shell by comedian Kenny Byrd. He will be on stage at 2:30, 5:30 and 8:30 p.m. Friday, Saturday and Sunday and we guarantee you can't sit through one performance without laughing out loud at least once.)

Everyone can enjoy the county fair by being a spectator, but it's much more fun to be a participant. If you're not ready to enter an item or two in the competition this year, take a good look around at the 1991 fair and see where you can get in on the fun in 1992.

Press Muzzles Itself

Former manager of the Minnesota Newspaper association Robert Shaw made a personal survey recently and discovered there is very little personal contact between members of the press and members of the Congress. And his conclusion was that "this situation was and is more a fault of the press than the politicians'"

"Where does the responsibility lie?" he asks. "Is it the politician's duty to organize cozy chats with the press? If newspapers in a district ignore covering congressmen's performance and behaviour on a day-by-day, week-by-week basis, which most of them do; if endorsing candidates and writing editorials has almost fallen dead by the wayside; which it has; if it's possible these days for a politician to get elected with lots of special-interest money and TV commercials; then why should politicians take the press seriously?"

Shaw was hoping to find out in his informal survey that relations between Congress and the press had worsened over the years, but he found that now much of a relationship had ever existed. Sure, the congressmen—or more often their staff members—dropped in at newspaper offices around election time, but there was little if any effort toward a one-to-one relationship.

"In my years I have watched the steady decline of political parties, the corruption of election campaigns in which special-interest PAC money and TV commercials practically guarantee reelection, and the spectacle of Congress' giving up its constitutional right to declare war," Shaw points out.

He said he wrote to our U.S. Senators for response to a couple of his questions on foreign policy and proliferation of nuclear weapons.

"Sen. Wellstone answered promptly," Shaw writes. "His answer, though, seemed to deal with a completely different subject. Sen. Durenberger some weeks later also answered but in the passive voice: Yes, he said in effect, it's a problem which should be studied. Neither response showed the mark of much thought. Both were reflex actions; you know, in which the nervous impulse goes to and from the spine and by-passes the brain."

And Shaw faults the press for ignoring its role.

"We also need newspapers, we have always needed them, who take seriously their role as watchdogs of government," he says. "Most of the watchdogs these days, it seems to me, have no teeth or wear muzzles which they themselves have made and tied in place."

Trimming Newspaper From Your Ad Budget Would Be Like Cutting Out Money To Close The Sale.
You've got their attention. You've piqued their interest. You've got them right smack up to the line. And then, just when they're ready to buy, you turn tail and walk away.
That's what happens when you don't run in newspaper. You're thumbing your nose at millions of ready prospects and leaving the money behind. Because that's where most people make their decisions on where to shop and what to buy.
Studies show that 71% say newspaper is the place they turn for shopping advice. They rate the information as four times more helpful than tv. Overwhelmingly more effective than direct mail. And the only source of information that gets them when they're actually in the mood to buy.
So before you consider cutting newspaper from your budget, ask yourself this question: Are you also prepared to take a cut in sales?

MHFA offers low interest home loans

Minnesota Housing Finance agency (MHFA) is making $95 million in low interest loans available to first time home buyers, according to Sen. LeRoy Stumpf of Thief River Falls.

"This is a good opportunity for people to get the financial help they need to invest in the first home they own," Sen. Stumpf said. He pointed out that potential home buyers should not delay because lenders will start accepting applications on July 3.

The loans are available through two programs—the Minnesota Mortgage program and the Minnesota City Participation program. More than 307 lending institutions throughout the state will handle loans through the Minnesota Mortgage program—the program which will be most useful for residents in Senate District 1. Interest rate on the loans is 7.875 per cent.

For more information potential home buyers should call the Minnesota Housing Finance agency at 1-800-652-9747 and ask for "Home."

At noon Owen and Bernice Saupe and Helen Carlson were dinner guests at Lester Halvorson's.

Before leaving for Grand Rapids Monday, July 1st, Owen and Bernice Saupe of Anchorage, and Mrs. Helen Carlson of Duluth, were noon luncheon guests at the Alfred Solem home. At Grand Rapids, they were houseguests for a couple of days at the home of Stuart and Carmen Solem. Rev. Kermit and Bonnie Solem, Cassy, Arlen and Carson of Salem, WI, were also overnight guests Monday at the Stuart Solem home and arrived at the Peter and Valerie Solem home in time for supper Tuesday evening.

Alfred Stroberg had the misfortune of falling one day last week and was hospitalized.

Luncheon guests at the Alfred and Rebecca Solem home Friday evening were Ralph Sunde and Mrs. Delores Halverson of Luverne, Owen and Bernice Saupe of Anchorage, Alaska, Helen Carlson of Duluth, Kenneth and Kathryn Nelson, Karl and Kent of Spring Lake Park, Harold Halvorson, Doug and Cindi Kilen, Jade and Kolton and Peter Solem and Andrew.

Nicholas Drees Has a Birthday

Supper guests at the Nick and Debi Drees home Tuesday evening were grandparents, Harold and Alpha Halvorson and Mrs. Pearl Drees of St. Hilaire to help Nicholas celebrate his tenth birthday. Thursday Nicholas enjoyed a party at the Bowling Alley, together with about ten school friends and others. Nicholas received many gifts and cards.

Houseguests at the Harold and Alpha Halvorson home from Wednesday to Sunday were Brad and Patty Halvorson, Anthony and Samuel from Minneapolis. They came to attend the Halverson reunion Saturday, held at the Hartz Park in Thief River Falls.

Friday afternoon and evening visitors at the Lloyd and Harryet Larson home were Mrs. Dianne Kleinwachter, Hope and Stacy of Strandquist. Roger and Ronda Nelson arrived in the evening from their home in Fargo, to spend the weekend.

Saturday noon Bob Caltiler came back from Crookston, to the Lloyd and Harryet Larson home. His wife Esther, who had been a houseguest at the Larson home since Monday, accompanied him to Crookston that evening and visited there until Tuesday when they left for Esthervillo, IA, to be guests at the home of Mrs. Lillian Lufkin.

Sunday evening supper guests at the Harold and Alpha Halvorson home were Owen and Bernice Saupe from Anchorage, Alaska, and Mrs. Helen Carlsen from Duluth.

Saturday evening Roger and Ronda Nelson of Fargo, attended Ronda's 20th class reunion at the Country Golf club at Thief River Falls. Sunday they were visitors at the Larson home, together with Jerry and Lynnet Swasor of Newfolden, and Lance Solberg of Thief River Falls. Later in the afternoon Mrs. Violet Muzzy was a visitor.

Carrie Solem Passed Away

Word was received last week that Carrie Solem passed away Monday night at the CNC Unit of Northwest Medical Center in Thief River Falls, where she had lived for several weeks. Memorial services were held Wednesday, July 3, at Kingdom Hall in Thief River Falls. She worked at the home of the late Christ and Harold Berg for thirteen years and was known in our area.

Black River Church Notes 60th Year

"The sixtieth anniversary of the organization of the Black River Lutheran church, perhaps the oldest church group in what is now Pennington county, observed with appropriate exercises at the church Saturday and Sunday. Dr. James Moody of Roseau and Rev. Alex Sand of Annandale, were speakers at a program Saturday evening and at a historical program Sunday afternoon."

From The Editorial Page

"There is merit in the request of the Marshall County Welfare Board asking that government relief work projects be discontinued for the time being in order that more labor will be available to the farmers for haying and harvesting. The relief projects, it should be remembered, were set up to meet an unemployment emergency. That emergency no longer exists. Those who are willing and able to work can now find jobs. This is true especially for the young men. There will come a time when there will again be need for government work projects but right now, when we are confronted with an actual labor shortage, let's save the relief funds for the more difficult period ahead of us. At the present time the relief problem should be at a lower than normal level and well within the means of the local communities to provide for."

HELP YOURSELF TO BETTER HEALTH

Northwest Medical Center and the Falls Clinic, div. of Dakota Clinic Ltd., again offer you and your family two more opportunities to improve your health.

CHOLESTEROL TESTING

Cholesterol screening examinations will be offered at the following two locations during July:

Pennington County Fair - July 11 - 14 at the Pennington County Sports Arena

Red Lake County Fair - July 19 - 21 at the Oklee High School gym.

The National Cholesterol Education program, a combined effort of 30 government agencies and private health groups, has recommended that all adults have their cholesterol level determined. The screening tests offered in cooperation with Northwest Medical Center and the Falls/Dakota Clinic are an excellent way to have your cholesterol level determined.

SUMMER TRACK MEET

Thursday, July 18 and Thursday, August 15 at 6:30 p.m. at the Lincoln High School Track. Children and Adults of all ages are welcome to participate. Children will participate with their own age group. Ribbons given to all participants. Free Pepsi-Cola to participants. One dollar entry fee covers all events. Entry fees go to the TRF Track and Cross Country Teams. Co-sponsored by Pepsi-Cola Bottling of TRF.

Questions regarding these two programs may be directed to Gail Holland, Public Relations Coordinator, 681-4240.

Questions And Answers

Social Security Responds

Q. Are many Social Security disability claims initially denied?

A. Social Security disability has specific requirements with both non-medical and medical issues. Having enough work credit at the right time is an example of a non-medical issue. Medical decisions consider expected duration of the impairment as well as vocational and educational background. To be found disabled you must, in addition to meeting work requirements, have a physical or mental impairment which has lasted or is expected to last at least 12 months or end in your death before that time. The ability to work takes into consideration a person's vocational and educational background. Someone may not be able to return to his or her former employment but still not be eligible for Social Security disability. Social Security does not have partial (%) disability. Persons are either disabled or they are not. Those who disagree with a determination are encouraged to use the Social Security appeals system.

Nationally for the period January-April 1991, Social Security completed 367,574 disability claims. Of these about 35% were approved and 65% denied. Of the denials approximately 82% were medically related while 18% were for non-medical reasons such as the person not having enough work. No medical decision is made for cases such as these.

Within the Grand Forks district, 234 cases were completed in this time period. Of these, approximately 38% were approved and 62% denied. Of the denials about 68% were for medical reasons and 32% were for non-medical ones.

One reason for a higher non-medical denial rate locally is that Social Security does not turn away people who want to file claims. In this area, some other agencies insist on their clients filing for Social Security disability even though those clients may have a very limited work history so more non-medical denials exist.

Medical determinations are made by state employees using Social Security guidelines. A national review process is used to insure consistency through the country.

People filing for disability should not obtain medical evidence themselves but are asked to provide a list of medical sources including full addresses plus approximate periods and types of treatments.

Several months ago the Social Security regulations concerning the way the agency evaluated disability in children applying for Supplemental Security Income (SSI) were changed.

One of the changed regulations; which is a result of the February 20, 1990, Sullivan v. Zebley Supreme Court decision, significantly modifies the process and standard used to evaluate childhood disability cases.

The Supreme Court found that SSA's prior regulation, dating back to 1974, used a narrower test for evaluating the disabilities of children under age 18 than it did for evaluating the disabilities of adult workers. The determination for children was based solely on the medical evaluation contained in Social Security's "Listing of Impairments." However, when evaluating adults, Social Security reviews work-related functional capacities and considers vocational factors such as age, education and work experience.

The court said that in deciding if a child is disabled, SSA should use a similar process to assess the child's ability to function. Although adult vocational factors would not apply, the child's ability to function could be determined by looking at the impact of the impairment on the child's everyday activities such as communicating, walking and dressing and comparing them to the normal activities of other children in the same age group.

The new childhood disability regulation reflects current medical practice and was developed with the assistance of experts representing a wide range of specialties in the assessment of child development and childhood disability.

The new regulation outlines a disability evaluation process for children that is similar to the process used for adults by considering the child's ability to function. A child whose disability does not meet or equal the "Listing" will be given an individualized functional assessment to determine how the disability limits the child. The child's cognitive, communications, motor, social and personal skills will be examined and evaluated.

Parents of disabled children can obtain more information from any Social Security office or by calling the national toll free number, 1-800-234-5772.

Q. Can I file another claim for retirement even though I was denied a few years ago? Then I did not have enough work but now I would.

A. You certainly can. Basic evidence needed to process a retirement application is a certified copy of your birth or baptismal certificate. Certified means the document as issued by the record keeper such as the state, county or church. Since you are employed, also have last years W-2 form (tax return if self employed). The Social Security representative will discuss your retirement and any expected work plans with you.

Q. I know that I will be able to receive Social Security retirement from my own work plus some based on my husband's. Can I start retirement just on my husband's and not file on my own until later?

A. For retirement applications Social Security must first pay benefits due from a person's own earnings record. Only then can benefits be paid based on the record of someone else. You must take your own retirement first. Survivor benefits, where one of the parties is deceased, differs from this.

Q. My birthday is August 8 and I will be age 62. When can I get my first check? If I file for benefits now will I be paid any sooner?

A. You are 62 for only part of August so September, being the first month that you are completely 62, is the first month for which a retirement check will be payable. That check will be payable October 3. Whether you actually file the application now or in August will not get you the first payment any earlier.

AN OPEN LETTER FROM THE PRESIDENT OF PLANNED PARENTHOOD

Planned Parenthood of Minnesota

Dear Citizens of Thief River Falls,

Thief River Falls is one of the 20 communities in Greater Minnesota where Planned Parenthood clinics offer reproductive health care services to low-income women which are subsidized by funding through Title X, the nation's family planning program.

Last year, these clinics provided over 25,300 women with family planning and routine medical services such as Pap smears, breast and pelvic exams, and tests for diabetes and yeast infections. Planned Parenthood is the largest cancer screening service in the state.

For many women, Planned Parenthood's Title X clinics offer the only health care available to them. More than 10,000, or over one-third of our patients pay nothing for their care because they or their families do not earn enough to pay for services.

Rural health care is in trouble. Physicians are scarce, and clinics are overburdened. In some communities, women who seek private care must wait one to three months before getting an appointment. These clinics are telling us that they may not be able to handle Planned Parenthood's patients if our clinics close.

Planned Parenthood clinics supported through Title X funding have never and will never provide abortions. Our clinics provide pregnant women with a booklet referring them to agencies such as Lutheran Social Services, Catholic Charities and Birthright so they can receive information on all their options: parenthood, adoption or abortion, if that is their choice.

A recent Supreme Court decision gags doctors and nurses in Planned Parenthood clinics by restricting what they can tell patients, and prohibits us from listing information about abortion as one possible option in the booklet we currently give to patients. If the "gag rule" is enforced, Planned Parenthood will have to decide whether we can ethically provide women in Greater Minnesota with only part of the truth about their legal, medical options. If Planned Parenthood cannot continue its services in Greater Minnesota, thousands of low-income women will have to find alternative health care or go without family planning altogether.

It is crucial that we restore free speech for doctors in Greater Minnesota clinics. Call and write to Congressman Peterson and Senator Durenberger today urging them to overturn the "gag rule."

Sincerely yours,

Maureen Parkinson

Spit and polish key to Murphy Bros. carnival

"The visual presentation of the roadway is crucial to the overall success of the fair," states Bob Goleskie, unit manager for the Murphy Bros. carnival which will be in Thief River Falls for the five-day Pennington county fair.

The carnival will operate beginning at 5 p.m. Wednesday, July 10, and daily beginning at noon Thursday through Sunday. Advance tickets good for any number of rides from 5 p.m. to closing the first night or from noon to 6 p.m. or 6 p.m. to closing the other four days of the fair are on sale through today, July 9.

Goleskie said the carnival makes a concerted effort to present "the cleanest, brightest, most professionally run midway around."

Special discount days include The Times "Sneak a Peek" Wednesday with two kiddie ride coupons; KSNR Day Thursday with a one-price ticket at $9 good for rides from noon to closing; and Northland Foods and Pepsi Family Fun Day Sunday with super saver coupons worth $3 available only at Northland Foods.

Carla Raynbird, director of special events for the carnival, said the special discount days have been offered to work with the advance sale ticket and build repeat business. "We want to make it possible for families to attend the midway each time they come to the fair for other scheduled events," she said.

President and owner Gerald Murphy was born into the business and started his own show more than 26 years ago, building it from a family show to one of the nation's largest carnival operations. He said he will bring in a midway unit of over 20 riding devices, including several never before presented at the Pennington county fair, plus more than 25 games, novelties and food concessions.

Crash kills Goodridge man

Several taken to Northwest Medical Center following accidents

Law enforcement officials in and around Pennington county were kept busy. Friday evening, a 19-year-old Goodridge man was killed in a two-vehicle accident. Saturday morning, three men were injured when their vehicle rolled south of St. Hilaire. Sunday, two people were sent to Northwest Medical center after a collision on Highway 59 south.

Craig Allen Berndt, 19, Goodridge, was killed in a two vehicle accident at the intersection of Highway 1 and County Highway 219. Minnesota state patrol received a report of the accident at about 8 p.m. Friday, July 12. Berndt was pronounced dead upon arrival at Northwest Medical Center in Thief River Falls.

Three other people were also injured in the accident and taken to Northwest Medical Center by Midwest Ambulance systems. Marlin Paul Kotrba, 37, his wife Cindi Faye Kouba, 36, and his daughter Tiara Jo Kotrba, 11, sustained injuries in the accident and were taken to Northwest Medical Center. Marlin was believed to have had a chest injury, Cindi internal injuries and Tiara a cut to her head.

According to the accident report, Berndt, driving a 1986 Dodge two-door, was traveling south on County Highway 219 and allegedly failed to yield at the intersection with Highway 1. A 1985 Volkswagen driven by Marlin Kotrba was traveling west on Highway 1. Both vehicles were considered a total loss.

According to a spokesperson for Northwest Medical Center on Monday afternoon, Marlin and Tiara were discharged Saturday. Cindi was discharged on Sunday. An obituary for Berndt appears in this edition of The Times.

Early Saturday morning three men were injured when their pickup rolled. According to the state patrol, who received the accident report at 6:51 a.m., a vehicle rolled one-half mile south and two miles west of St. Hilaire on Pennington County Highway 55.

According to the accident report, Neil Alden Carlson, 19, Thief River Falls, was driving a 1970 Ford pickup east on Highway 55 when he lost control of the vehicle and it rolled. Officers were not sure

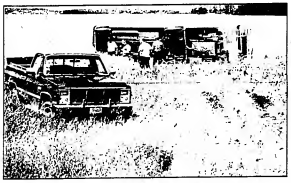
Craig Allen Berndt, 19, Goodridge, was killed in this two vehicle accident at the intersection of Highway 1 and County Highway 219 in Pennington county Friday evening. Berndt, driving the car to the right in the picture, was traveling on County Highway 219 and allegedly failed to yield at the intersection with Highway 1 and collided with the car pictured to the left in the photo, which was driven by Merlin Kotrba. Merlin Kotrba, his wife Cindi and his daughter Tiara were all taken to Northwest Medical Center for treatment.



This motorhome tipped over in a field south of Thief River Falls after it collided with a vehicle which pulled out onto Highway 1 from County Road 7 at about 11 a.m. Sunday. According to the accident report, Jeremy Seglem of Thief River Falls, age 20, driving a 1979 Dodge Aspen west on Smiley road, pulled out onto Highway 59 and collided with a 1976 Sportscoach motorhome pulling a 1978 Datsun which was traveling north on Highway 59. The motorhome veered off to the left side of the highway and tipped over. Ira Crew, Nevada, who was driving the motorhome was not injured. His wife Ruth was in stable condition at Northwest Medical Center in Thief River Falls as of Monday afternoon. Seglem's vehicle veered off to the right of the highway. Seglem was taken to Northwest Medical Center where Michelle Bergeron of Argyle will be one of the candidates for Miss Thief River Falls this year. A former Miss Marshall County, she is a student in the nursing department of the Thief River Falls Technical college and Northland Community college.

Bergeron seeks Miss T.R.F. title

(This is the fifth in a series of articles introducing candidates for the Miss Thief River Falls title. The annual Miss America preliminary scholarship pageant will be conducted Saturday, August 3, in the Lincoln high school auditorium.)

by Marvin Lundin

Michelle Bergeron is enrolled in the nursing program at the Thief River Falls Technical college and Northland Community college with a special motivation to to become a nurse and work with particular types of patients.

"At age 18 it was discovered I had cancer," Michelle explains. "During my treatment I found the medical profession interesting. The nurses who cared for me inspired my desire to care for others battling cancer."

Daughter of Gary and Colleen Bergeron of Argyle, 21-year-old Michelle is a 1988 graduate of Argyle high school. She is a former Miss Argyle and Miss Marshall County. Her pageant talent number will be a vocal solo entitled "Bring Him Home."

Michelle has had 11 years of vocal training, three years of piano lessons, four years of saxophone lessons and three years of guitar lessons. For three consecutive years she received state star rating on her vocal solos.

A varsity letter winner in both athletics and music, she was nominated as an ambassador to the Hugh O'Brien Youth leadership seminar. She was an honor roll student, class secretary and selected by her classmates to give the student address at graduation.

At Northland Community college she portrayed Carrie in the musical "Carousel" and last summer was talent winner at the

The Parnows have been parents of 4-H club members, adult leaders and project leaders in the Star 4-H club, and Adelina served on the county 4-H leaders' council. They have been strong supporters of the 4-H club program for many years.

Middle River bank plans to build in TRF

First National Bank of Middle River will establish its head office in Thief River Falls and operate a branch office at Middle River if an application filed with the Comptroller of the Currency on Monday, July 15, is accepted.

According to Scottie Petersen, assistant vice president at the bank, plans are to build a new building on the site of the former Holiday Motel along highway 59 in the southeast part of Thief River Falls. The bank has a purchase agreement to acquire all of the property on the former motel site.

Application to the Comptroller of the Currency is for permission to relocate the bank's head office. Any persons wishing to comment on the application may file comments in writing with the Deputy Comptroller, 2345 Grand Avenue, Suite 700, Kansas City, MO 64108 within 30 days.

Confidential portions of the application are on file with the Deputy Comptroller as part of the public file which is available for public inspection during regular business hours.

Clayton Troskey, executive vice president, and Peterson are operating officers of the bank which is independently owned by two other people. The bank offers complete banking services, Peterson said, and expects the new facility in Thief River Falls "would improve our ability to better serve our customers."

First National Bank of Middle River had assets of $12,442,000 as of June 30 and operates with a staff of nine full and part-time employees. Peterson said the change would have virtually no affect on the bank operation at Middle River.

90th annual fair was outstanding success

Attendance was estimated to be near 60,000

"What can you say? It was just another fantastic year!" stated Richard Anderson, president of the Pennington County Fair association, following conclusion of the 90th annual Pennington county fair on Sunday.

Some light rain dampened fair-goers early in the five-day event which began Wednesday, July 10, but it also served to boost crowds as it put farm and yard work on hold.

Crowds were outstanding throughout the fair, Anderson said, and parking on the grounds reached capacity Friday evening, requiring some persons to park about six blocks from the grounds to attend the fair. A similar crowd was in attendance Saturday evening.

"There were times when the grandstand was nearly filled, seating at the bandshell was nearly filled and there were still a lot of people on the carnival midway and in the exhibit areas," Anderson said.

He added that nothing but positive comments had been received in regard to the Murphy Bros. carnival which played the Pennington county fair for the first time. Public acceptance was shown in support which resulted in midway gross income being up 24 per cent from a year ago. After tax changes, insurance costs and other expenses, the net return to the local fair was still up 12 per cent.

Negotiations are presently underway to arrange for a long-term contract with Murphy Bros. to operate the county fair midway here. Anderson said the carnival management would need to contract with another fair between here and Minneapolis to enter into a five-year agreement for Pennington county's event.

Commendation was also in order for young people attending the teen dance Thursday evening at the grandstand, Anderson said. There were 328 people in paid attendance with absolutely no problems. "They had a good time and conducted themselves like young men and women," Anderson said.

Total premiums paid in 4-H club and open class were up $448 at $8,871 compared with $8,423 a year ago. Premiums in the 4-H department at $1,731.50 this year were down from $1,856 a year ago. Open class premiums at $7,140 were up from $6,567 in 1990.

Attendance overall for the four days from entry day Thursday through Sunday was estimated to be near the 60,000 mark.

Public acceptance of the "two for the price of one" grandstand concerts was also indicated by attendance of 2,248 compared with 1,877 last year. Ticket purchasers this year paid one price and could use the same ticket for both Friday and Saturday night performances by different performers each night.

It would appear at this time that a similar system will be used next year. Preliminary figures indicate about a break-even situation with the grandstand shows.

Demolition derby on Sunday drew a large number of entries but

Paula Carlson & Jason Cater wed June 22

Paula Lynn Carlson and Jason Marc Cater were united in marriage June 22 at the Immanuel Lutheran church in Plummer. Rev. David Brockopp officiated at the 7:30 p.m. double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Burton and Joyce Carlson of Plummer. Parents of the groom are Tom and Sue Neibauer of Middle River and Gary Cater of Crookston.

Special music was provided by Genora Schjeldrup, friend of the bride, who sang "Wedding Song," "The Rose" and "The Lord's Prayer." Betty Johnson, friend of the bride, served as organist, with "Trumpet Voluntary" as the processional and "Trumpet Air" as the recessional. Readers were Robert Carlson, brother of the bride, and Don Fox, brother-in-law of the bride.

The church was decorated with pink pew bows.

The bride chose a traditional white satin gown with illusion net embellished with lace, pearls and sequins. It had a sabrina neckline and sleeves, basque waistline, deep V back bordered with net and lace, rose-trimmed candy box bow at the back and a chapel length train. The bride complemented her gown with a fingertip veil trimmed with pearl sprays and net flowers, made by the bride's mother. The bride carried a bouquet of pink roses, white carnations, white ribbon, heart-shaped netting, pearl strands and greenery.

Debra Fox of Plummer, niece of the bride, served as the maid of honor. Bridesmaid was Lanae Cater of Middle River, sister-in-law of the groom. They wore pink satin dresses with puffed sleeves, bow peplums, sweetheart necklines, basque waistlines and full skirts. They carried bouquets which matched the bride's.

Jenny Tougas of Roosevelt, cousin of the bride, was the flower girl. She wore a pink dress with puffed sleeves, bow peplum, sweetheart neckline, basque waist and skirt which was made by her grandmother. She carried a bouquet to match the bride's.

Scharlene Fox, sister of the bride, served as the bride's personal attendant.

The groom was attired in a dark gray pinstriped tuxedo with tails, with matching bow tie and cummerbund, with a pink rose boutonniere.

Louie Cater of Middle River, brother of the groom, served as best man, with Chad Cater of Middle River, brother of the groom, as groomsman. They were dressed to match the groom with pink and white carnation boutonnieres.

Ringbearer was Jake Schenkey of Middle River, cousin of the groom. He was dressed to match the groom with a white carnation boutonniere.

Ushering the guests were Dick Fredrickson and Barry Walton, both friends of the groom. They were dressed to match the groom with pink and white carnation boutonnieres. Programs were handed out by David Fox, nephew of the bride.

For her daughter's wedding, the mother of the bride chose a pink street length dress. The groom's mother wore a coral tea length dress. Each had a corsage of pink roses, white carnations, white ribbon, netting and greenery. The fathers of the couple wore dark gray pinstriped tuxedos with matching bow ties and cummerbunds and pink and white carnation boutonnieres.

Honored guests at the ceremony were Cora Schenkey and Marion and Alvina Cater.

A reception was held for the couple following the ceremony. Host couples were Merlin and Judy Carlson, uncle and aunt of the bride, and David and Mary Morken, uncle and aunt of the groom. Coralie Carlson, niece of the bride, presided over the guest book.

Highlighting the serving table was a three-tier cake decorated with pink and white icing with two heart-shaped cakes with bride's and groom's names on them at the sides. It was cut by Irene Rosten, aunt of the bride, and Cathy Schenkey, aunt of the groom. Coffee was served by Jane Robbins, aunt of the bride, and Joni Peterson, cousin of the groom. Jerilee Froiland, friend of the bride, and Matt Carlson, nephew of the bride, served punch.

Flower hostesses were JoEllen Carlson, sister-in-law of the bride, Diane Smith, aunt of the groom. At the gift table were Kem and Alice Tillman, friends of the bride. Waitresses were Catherine Rosten and Amy Arlt, both cousins of the bride, Ingrid Morken and Lydia Morken, both cousins of the groom. Photographer was Cherie Sabo, friend of the bride.

Following a wedding trip to the Black Hills in South Dakota, the couple is now at home in Middle River. The groom is a 1986 graduate of Middle River high school. The bride is a 1988 graduate of Pershing high school in Plummer. Both are presently students at the University of Minnesota in Veterinary Science.

County fair successful

attendance slipped to 1,346 from 1,506 in 1990.

Terry Nelson, treasurer of the county fair association, said that income and expenditures should be on budget, which would leave the association with a positive balance again this year. The association has reduced its request for assistance from the county board from $14,000 in 1989 to $12,000 in 1990 and $11,000 for the 1991 fair.

Capital expenditures are needed on the grounds and much of the association's balance will likely be used to pay for some of these, Nelson said. Depending on the extent of improvements, the fair association would like to reduce its dependence on the county to an even smaller amount.

Premiums paid in various divisions of open class competition this year were as follows with last year's comparative figures in parentheses:

Beef, $1,505 ($1,459); dairy, $622.58 ($717.50); sheep, $414 ($203); swine, $96 ($20); goats, $434.50 ($506.50); poultry, $665 ($611); rabbits, $183 ($200); horses, $867.50 ($700); dogs, $42.50 ($53);

Also agriculture, $417 ($366); adults' flowers, $244 ($200); children's flowers, $38.25 ($33); adults' culinary, $452 ($373); children's culinary, $78.58 ($93); adults' needlework, $206 ($152.75); children's needlework, $7 ($10); adults' sewing, $127.25 ($122.50), children's sewing, $24 ($19.75); arts and crafts, $386 ($438); woodworking, $89.50 (woodworking was part of the arts and crafts division last year); student art, $114 ($148.50); and senior citizens, $126.50 ($140).

CORRECTION

In a recent Births column, the date of birth of Krista Renae Moyer, daughter of Brian and Jacqueline Moyer, was incorrectly stated. The correct date is June 26. The Times is sorry for the error.

Morris Miller, 82

Thief River Falls — Morris I. Miller, 82, a former resident of Goodridge, died July 11 at Northwest Medical center in Thief River Falls.

Funeral services were held July 14 at Our Saviour's Lutheran church in Thief River Falls with Rev. Del Palmer and James Molstre officiating. Special music was provided by Vernon Iverson, soloist, and Grace Hammer, organist. Casketbearers were Jack Miller, Gary Miller, Robert Miller, Lyle Miller, Jason Miller and Arlo Miller. Interment was in the Reiner Free Lutheran church cemetery, Reiner township, Pennington county. The Green Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements.

Morris Ingvald Miller was born Aug. 22, 1908 in Thief River Falls, the son of John S. and Alma (Lee) Miller. He attended the Reiner township school and grew up in Reiner township, Pennington county. On Sept. 6, 1930 he was united in marriage to Signe Sjulestad in Thief River Falls. They made their home and farmed in Reiner township until 1968, when they moved to Thief River Falls. Besides farming, he had been employed during the harvest season in North Dakota, on the Iron Range, by the ASCS office and Arctic Enterprises in Thief River Falls. He had served on the Reiner township board and Pennington County District #48 school board and was a member of the Sons of Norway, Odd Fellows lodge and the Heritage center, all in Thief River Falls.

He is survived by his wife; five sons: Edgar and Richard, both of Goodridge, Norman of Greenbush, Morrie of Grafton, ND, and Gene of Thief River Falls; five daughters: Delores Keim of Lakota, ND, Marilyn LaCoursiere of Brooklyn Park, Mrs. Leon (Sharon) Iverson and Mrs. Richard (Judy) Anderson, both of Thief River Falls, and Mrs. Larry (Joyce) Geer of Buffalo; 31 grandchildren; 22 great-grandchildren; one sister, Mrs. Arnold (Julia) Hovet of Thief River Falls and one brother, Leonard Miller of Evansville, IN.

He was preceded in death by his parents; one brother, Elmer; and one grandson, Michael Miller.

Beret Miller, 90

Thief River Falls — Beret Miller, 90, died July 12 at the CNC unit of Northwest Medical center in Thief River Falls.

Funeral services were held July 15 at Trinity Lutheran church in Thief River Falls with Rev. D. Josh Nelson officiating. Special music was provided by Jan Peterson, soloist, and Dorothy Larson, organist. Casketbearers were Brad Berg, Rick Erickson, Tim Kelly, John McLaughlin, Tom Nepper and Peter Palacio and Richard Kuntz in absentia. Interment was in the Greenwood cemetery. The Green Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements.

Beret Lunseth was born June 3, 1901 in Grand Forks, ND, the daughter of John and Caroline Lunseth. She lived in Grand Forks until 1920 when she moved to rural North Dakota to teach school. On Sept. 15, 1923 she was united in marriage with Albert L. Miller in Jamestown, ND. They moved to Grand Forks, ND in 1937, where she worked as a seamstress for Herbergers. In 1974 they moved to Thief River Falls. Her husband died on July 13, 1988.

She is survived by one daughter, Ruth Nepper of Thief River Falls; one son-in-law, George O'Connor of Wilmington, DE; seven grandchildren; 13 great-grandchildren; and a sister-in-law, Mrs. Carroll (Lillian) Lunseth of Bradenton, FL.

She was preceded in death by her husband; one daughter, Eva Gayle O'Connor; her parents; three brothers; three sisters; and a son-in-law, James Nepper.

Dear Readers,

We must be mindful that the bereaved, when in deep grief, are at great risk of both physical and mental health. They may seek solace in drugs or alcohol, and at times are tempted by suicide to end their pain and join the loved one. Friends are needed to visit and listen - to take them for a walk - a drive - shopping - to dinner - a get together - whatever will return their attention to the outside world of reality.

Respectfully,

Belmont Funeral Home

LETTERS

To The Editor:

Since becoming a new resident of Thief River Falls, I am concerned abut the water problems we have here in the city.

We are supposedly building a $7.5 million treatment plant. For what? Just to put more chlorine in the water so you can't drink it at all?

I have never had bladder problems until I moved here. I had been doctoring for this condition for four months. Then a while back I quit drinking this water and haul well water from my daughter's place. My bladder condition is all cleared up. Doesn't that tell you something?

Also, our city has the highest rate of cancer in the state of Minnesota.

I firmly believe that this city's water is hazardous to our health, not to mention the unpleasant taste and smell.

Sincerely,
MaDonna Gunderson

Speaking Of . . .

by Sharon LaCoursiere

. . . When In Doubt, Sue, Sue, Sue, and They Do

The Boy Scout organization has been making news lately, and not just because those little fellahs are dragging unsuspecting little old ladies across streets, either.

It seems that there are a couple of rather notorious lawsuits against the Boy Scouts going on right now. Yup, suing the Boy Scouts—what next? Would you believe that it is certainly true that this country is lawsuit happy?

There's a little eight-year-old girl in Florida who wants to become a Cub Scout. She and her parents brought a lawsuit against the Boy Scout organization because she was not allowed to join the Cub Scouts and go to Cub Scout camp.

The case was making headlines a few weeks ago, when a judge made an emergency ruling that little girls should be Girl Scouts and not concern themselves with the Boy Scouts or Cub Scouts. I believe that she and her parents are now deciding whether or not they should appeal the judge's decision.

In another interesting Boy Scout case, there are two young brothers in California who want to be Boy Scouts but will not recite the Boy Scout creed, or at least the part that talks about God, because they say they do not believe in God. The boys and their father, who is, by the way, an attorney, have braught a lawsuit because they have been told they cannot be Boy Scouts unless they recite the creed, "duty to God" and all.

In the case of the little girl who wanted to be a Cub Scout, she said that Brownie scouting was "boring," and that she would rather be a Cub Scout because they do exciting things like camping. I guess the fact that both of her parents were very involved in Boy Scouting and were both going to be active at the Cub Scout camp didn't influence her much either, right?

Having been both a Cub Scout and a Girl Scout leader, I don't see what all the fuss is about. If a girl wants to join the Boy Scouts, or vice versa, what should it matter? I just think that the youngsters should make their own decisions about which organization they want to join and not be manipulated by their parents in the big game of "Sue the System." So what if some little boys would rather be involved in Girl Scout activities? Frankly, I think the novelty would wear off in a year or two and they would choose to join the other organizations mighty quick.

Then too, maybe if the little girl's parents put as much of their time and talent into the Brownie Scout organization as they do into the Cub Scout organization, the little miss might just find it more to her liking. Both Boy and Girls Scouts welcome volunteers with open arms, and those volunteers are the ones that really make things happen in the organizations. In fact, neither the Boy Scouts nor the Girl Scouts would function very well without volunteers.

In the case of the boys who refuse to say the creed, what in the world is the fuss? Why didn't the boys just keep mum when the part about God was mentioned instead of calling attention to it? Gee, could Dad have wanted to get a little publicity going here?

My goodness, it seems to me that the more we bring up God in this world, the better it is for everybody. God had been banished from the schools in this country, which was, if I remember right, founded for the specific purpose of freedom of religion. Evidently the law has been interpreted to read that "freedom of religion" also means "freedom fram religion," so those who do not believe in God do not have to have their children subjected to words like "God" every day in public school prayers or participate in Christmas programs that bring up the birth of Jesus. (Never mind that the holiday of Christmas is a celebration of the birth of Jesus Christ.)

I doubt very much that these children came up with the idea of suing the Boy Scouts all by themselves. Don't you just have the sneaking suspicion that their parents might have had a tad bit of influence in those decisions? Anyway, suffice it to say that it might be a good idea for those "sue-happy" parents to get busy working within the organizations to make things better for their children rather than tying up the courts with frivolous cases.

HATS OFF TO 4-H

Highlanding

Highlanding 4-H club held its club tour July 8 at 8 p.m. beginning at the Donna Horechek home to view Valerie's exhibits and to see their beautiful lawn and garden.

We then continued on to Gerri and Kenny Nelson's home to see Jason and Amy Langseth's projects which included a well-kept huge garden and chickens. We ended up at the Goodridge senior citizen center to see Ben Hanson's and Adam Kassa's projects.

Special thanks to Howard Person for attending our tour. Leaders Dawn and Beattie served lunch to six members, five parents and five visitors.

Next meeting will be held at the Goodridge senior center on August 16. Members are asked to bring their 4-H records to that meeting.

Soupçon

By Sherry LaCoursiere

Pasta Salad

1/2 cup whole almonds
2 cups pasta (small shells, wheels, corkscrews or elbow macaroni) boiling salted water
1 cup sliced fresh green beans
2 cups sliced cooked ham
*1/2 cup halved, pitted ripe olives
1 (7 ounce) jar roasted sweet red peppers, chopped
1/3 cup chopped green onions

Italiano Broil

1 pound Italian sausage, split
1 green pepper, cut into rings
1 red pepper, cut into rings
1 tablespoon margarine
2 French bread rolls, cut in half lengthwise
1 (8 ounce) can pizza sauce
4 slices cheese

Place sausage on rack of broiler pan. Broil on both sides until cooked to desired doneness.

Saute peppers in margarine. Spread rolls with pizza sauce.

For each sandwich, top one roll half with sausage, cheese slices and peppers. Broil until cheese melts.

An old favorite that will have everybody saying, "home-made." They will never know how easy these sandwiches are:

Reuben Turnovers

1 (1 pound) loaf frozen bread dough
6 ounces sliced pastrami or corned beef
4 ounces sliced Swiss cheese
1/2 cup thinly sliced dill pickles

Let dough thaw until pliable.

On lightly floured board, roll dough to a 12-inch square. Cut into nine 4-inch squares.

Cut slices of meat and cheese in half diagonally to make triangles.

Layer slices of meat, pickles and cheese on half of each dough square. Fold remaining dough over filling ingredients to make turnovers. Pinch edges tightly to seal and crimp edge with fork. Slash top of turnover to vent steam.

Place turnovers on greased baking sheet and bake in preheated 375 degree oven for 35 minutes, until browned.

These sandwiches are a meal all by themselves, and especially delicious served with a side salad:

Mexican Muffin Divan

2 cups chopped cooked chicken
1 cup mushroom slices
1/3 cup picante sauce
1/4 cup mayonnaise
2 tablespoons green onion slices
2 tablespoons chopped green chilies
3 English muffins, split and toasted
1 cup chopped cooked broccoli
6 slices cheese

Combine chicken, mushrooms, picante sauce, mayonnaise, onions and chilies, mixing lightly.

Top muffin halves with chicken mixture and broccoli. Place on ungreased cookie sheet and bake at 350 for 10 minutes. Top with cheese slices and continue baking until cheese melts.

IT WAS GREAT!

Support and Cooperation of So Many People Made the 90th Annual Pennington County Fair One of the Best Ever!

The work of volunteers who spend so many hours of donated time with the help of County and City Workers is made less difficult by the people who enter exhibits and those who attend events and enjoy themselves at the annual fair. We thank all for their participation and dedication again this year.

Attendance at the bandshell was again this year excellent, with the combined financial effort of the Elks Lodge 1308, Eagles Club, VFW, St. Hilaire Lions Club and St. Hilaire Community Club and the Pennington County Fair pickup raffle.

THANKS, EVERYONE

For Making The Pennington County Fair a Thing Of Pride In a Proud Community.

Golf marathon raises cancer funds

Two foursomes played 12 rounds of golf – 108 total holes – Thursday during the Longest Day of Golf American Cancer Society fund-raising promotion at the Thief River Golf Club.

The two groups started their marathon efforts at 6:45 a.m. and wrapped things up in the rain about 7 p.m.

Pledges and donations netted $3,976 for the American Cancer Society.

Participating in the event were Derek Larson, Kjell Melvie, Steve Nordhagen, Eric Charlson, Stan Sjoberg, Tim Delmore, Mark Haugen, Jeff Wiltse and Larry Lee.

Wiltse teed off with the group in the morning, but ran into back problems and was replaced by Lee in the afternoon.

Thief River Golf Club received a plaque from the American Cancer Society in appreciation of its efforts as part of the nationwide fund-raising program.

Bemidji Invitational ...

TRF Legion wins title

A tie-breaker awarded Thief River Falls championship honors at the Bemidji Invitational American Legion baseball tournament played Friday and Saturday.

The four-team, round-robin event produced a three-way first place tie when Thief River Falls, Bemidji and Roseau all went 2-1 and Nashwauk finished 0-3.

Number of runs scored was the trophy-winning tie-breaking criteria, and Thief River Falls won out by scoring 18 runs in the three tournament starts, while Roseau had 16 and Bemidji wound 13 when the host team was awarded a 7-0 forfeit win over a non-showing Nashwauk Saturday.

Thief River Falls beat Nashwauk 10-0 to start the tournament, lost to Bemidji 6-2, but came back to edge Roseau 6-5.

Roseau had beaten Bemidji 4-0 and Nashwouk 7-5.

Results left Post 117 with a 14-13 record. Thief River Falls will host Crookston Wednesday and will take on West Fargo Friday in 6 p.m. doubleheaders at Irv Wilson Field.

Thief River Falls 10
Nashwauk 0

Thief River Falls pitchers Mike Rokke and Jeff Lutovsky combined on a five-hit, five-inning shutout as Post 117 handled Nashwauk 10-0 Friday afternoon.

Rokke struck out eight and did not walk a batter in four innings for the win. Lutovsky pitched a 1-2-3 fifth.

Nine Thief River Falls hits were combined with seven Nashwauk errors for the double-digit scoring total. Mike Swanson led the winners with three hits in three at-bats, driving in two runs.

Bemidji 6
Thief River Falls 2

Bemidji did all of its scoring in one inning in a 6-0 Friday evening win over Thief River Falls.

The winners banged out 14 base hits and drew eight walks from Thief River Falls pitcher Mitch Bernstein. Six of these hits came in their six-run fifth inning and four of those were for extra bases.

Thief River Falls came up with just five hits, and nobody had more than one.

Thief River Falls 6
Roseau 5

David Blazek was 3-for-3 with two doubles, Mitch Bernstein went 2-for-4 and Mike Swanson drove in a pair of runs as Thief River Falls got by Roseau 6-5 in a title-winning effort Saturday.

Post 117 scored early, grabbing a 3-0 first inning lead that became 5-1 in the second inning.

Five first inning singles got the Thief River Falls offense going. Blazek led off the second with a double and Bernstein followed with an RBI single. He scored following an error and a wild pitch.

Roseau managed to tie it 5-5 with a four-run fifth inning, but Thief River Falls quickly regained the lead the next frame when Jamie Lorenson singled with one-out and Blazek doubled with two outs.

Darin Wald pitched into the fifth inning for Post 117 before giving way to Bernstein. They struck out nine and walked two.

Babe Ruth sub-district tournament...

TRF teams eliminated in playoffs

Crookston Gold and the East Grand Forks A's, the top two seeded teams coming into the eight-team, double-elimination event, reached the district tournament-qualifying finals of the 1991 Lake Agassiz South Sub-District Babe Ruth baseball tournament for 14-15-year-olds played Saturday, Sunday and Monday in Crookston.

Thief River Falls Gophers, Strikers and Shockers, along with the East Grand Forks Blue Jays, Crookston Blues and Red Lake Falls, were eliminated as the two finalists, who met in Monday's championship game, earned spots in the Lake Agassiz District tournament Friday and Saturday in Roseau. They will be joined at the state tournament-qualifying district level by the top two finishers in the Lake Agassiz North Sub-District playoffs.

The third-seeded Gophers finished in the No. 3 spot, beating the No. 6-seeded Shockers, losing to the A's 11-8, then picking up loser bracket wins over No. 5-seeded Red Lake Falls 9-8 and the No. 4-seeded Strikers 14-13 before losing to the A's again, 16-9.

The Strikers opened with a 10-6 win over Red Lake Falls, fell to Crookston Gold 9-4 and beat the Shockers 4-1 before losing the shoot-out with the Gophers.

The Shockers bounced back from their first-round loss to the Gophers to beat the Crookston Blues 13-1, but dropped the season-ending three-run decision to the Strikers.

Reivers to start playoffs

Post-season playoffs are scheduled to start Sunday for the Middle River Reivers amateur baseball team.

A three-team, round-robin affair in Warroad will find the Reivers opening against Warroad at 12-noon, immediately followed by a Middle River vs. Karlstad match-up. Warroad and Karlstad will play the final game of the day.

The two teams with the best records will meet in the finals the following week, July 28.

Middle River is 6-7 for the year following weekend play when the Reivers split a Saturday doubleheader against Warroad – losing 1-0 and winning 6-2 – and won a single 13-0 Sunday match-up with East Grand Forks.

The Reivers host Pordville Wednesday in a 9-inning game starting at 6:30 p.m. in Middle River.

Warroad 1

Track meet scheduled Thursday

First Thief River Falls summer track meet of 1991 will be held Thursday beginning at 6:30 p.m. at Prowler Field.

Open to children and adults of all ages, the event includes the 100, 200, 400, 800, 1600 and 3200-meter runs, shot put and long jump. There will also be a 50-meter run and a softball throw for children ages 6-under. Participants will compete within their own age group.

A $1 entry fee covers all events, with the funds going to the Lincoln High School track programs.

The event is sponsored by Falls Clinic Div. of Dakota Clinic Ltd., Northwest Medical Center, Pepsi-Cola Bottling and the Lincoln coaches.

For additional information, contact Northwest Medical Center Public Relations Coordinator Gail Holland at 681-4240, extension 210.

Second portion of the two-part summer track series will be held August 15.

TRF Gamecocks split twinbill vs. Crookston

Crookston won the league-counting opener 17-7, with the Thief River Falls Gamecocks coming back to win the nonconference second game 7-5 Monday in a Babe Ruth Prep baseball doubleheader for 13-year-olds at Crookston.

The Chris Nelson-coached Gamecocks, 8-4-1 overall, were scheduled to close out their 1991 regular season schedule today (Tuesday) with a split doubleheader against East Grand Forks Optimists and Reds beginning at 10 a.m. at Irv Wilson Field.

Youth Baseball

The Indians won championship honors in the annual Fair Week Invitational youth baseball tournament completed Thursday.

It was a 4-0 finish for the Indians in the double-elimination event for the nine Thief River Falls teams competing in the 11-12-year-old portion of the Park & Recreation Department-sponsored baseball program.

The Indians beat the Mariners, Pirates and Yankees to reach the finals of the week-long event. The Pirates came out of the losers bracket to reach the championship game before losing to the Indians for the second time.

All Fair Week Invitational results were included in the regular season standings for the 11-12-year-olds to help compensate for a number of rain-cancelled games, according to program director Jeff Mumm.

DNR News

September Goose Seasons

Early September Canada goose seasons will again be held in three areas of Minnesota this year, according to the Department of Natural Resources (DNR). The zones will be identical to 1990 for the Fergus Falls/Alexandria Zone and Southwest Border Zone, but the Twin Cities Metro Zone boundary has been expanded slightly.

Individuals interested in participating in the September Canada goose seasons will need to apply for permits by August 1. Application forms will be available after July 10 at county auditors offices, DNR wildlife offices, license agents, and the DNR License Bureau at 500 Lafayette Road, St. Paul.

Special seasons are held prior to the arrival of migrant Canada geese from the Hudson's Bay area of Canada, said Tom Landwehr, wetland wildlife program leader for the DNR. "By hunting in September, we can direct hunting pressure toward the rapidly growing Minnesota resident goose flocks," explained Landwehr. "The special experimental seasons allow us to evaluate hunting as an effective means of reducing the growth of rapidly increasing resident Canada goose flocks."

"These three hunts were very successful last year," Landwehr said. Post-season hunter surveys estimated harvests of 3,900 geese in the Fergus Falls/Alexandria Zone, and 460 geese in the Southwest Border Zone. The hunts went very smoothly and few problems were reported."

To participate in these September seasons, all hunters must have the special goose hunt permit in their possession. An unlimited number of permits are available, but they must be applied for by the August 1 deadline. Applicants must mail a separate application along with a $3 fee (do not send cash) for each hunt to an address provided on the application.

Applications must be postmarked or delivered to the appropriate address given on the application by August 1. Persons who want to hunt in the proposed late December goose season in the metropolitan area need this same permit. They should apply for the early metro season. The same permit will be valid for both the early and the late metro hunts.

In addition to a valid special permit, hunters must have a current small game license, federal duck stamp, and a Minnesota migratory waterfowl stamp, in accordance with state and federal regulations.

All three seasons will run from September 1 through September 10, with shooting hours from one-half hour before sunrise to sunset daily. Bag limits will be four daily and eight in possession in the Twin Cities Metro Zone, and two daily and four in possession in the Fergus Falls/Alexandria and Southwest Border zones.

Steel shot is required for all waterfowl hunting in Minnesota. In order to protect resident duck populations, no hunting will be allowed within 100 yards of surface water. In addition, no hunting will be allowed from or upon public roads or road rights-of-way in the Fergus Falls/Alexandria Zone and the Twin Cities Metro Zone. Hunters should check regulations for closed refuges and hunt area boundaries. A summary of the regulations and a map depicting the hunt zone boundaries will be provided to each permittee.

"The majority of hunting opportunities will exist on private land and hunters must be willing to secure permission to hunt prior to the season," said Landwehr. "The restriction on hunting 100 yards from surface water, combined with the fact that many crops are not yet harvested in September, will severely limit hunting opportunities. Potential goose hunters should locate hunting sites prior to the season in order to be successful." advised Landwehr.

Maintaining Trails Systems

Registration and license renewal fees for snowmobiles have been increased in an effort to provide adequate funding for trail construction and maintenance, according to the Minnesota Department of Natural Resources.

The increase, due to action by the 1991 Legislature, is the first increase since 1982, said Dennis Asmussen of the DNR Trails and Waterway Unit.

"Without the increase," Asmussen said, "the state's account dedicated to the building and maintenance of snowmobile trails would have gone into the red in less than two years.

Asmussen said the fee changes were needed because costs to the state's grant-in-aid program serving more than 10,000 miles of snowmobile trails were rising while income from fees stayed the same.

The grant-in-aid program provides funding for snowmobile trail development and maintenance. "It's important that snowmobilers realize the increase directly benefits their trail system," Asmussen said.

The 1991 Legislature increased snowmobile license fees from $6 to $10 per year. Those registering their machines or renewing their license will now pay $30 for a three-year license.

Bombers sweep EGF twinbill

Thief River Falls Bombers will close out their 1991 regular season schedule this week with a variety of assignments, including a 7 p.m. Ninth District American Legion Tier II doubleheader at Ada Wednesday, a 5:30 p.m. VFW District 9 twinbill at Moorhead Friday and a 5:30 p.m. contest at Park River, ND Friday that will serve as the twice-postponed championship game of the Devils Lake Invitational.

The Bombers went to 33-9 overall Monday with a 12-0, 15-8 VFW doubleheader sweep at East Grand Forks. Thief River Falls has an 11-3 record in VFW play for 16-year-olds.

Post season play starts with the Tier II North Sub-District 9 Legion tournament beginning July 22. VFW District 9 playoffs get underway July 27. The Bombers are in position to claim the No. 1 seed for both tournaments.

DNR News

Minnesota's wild turkey management program continues to show marked progress, according to the Department of Natural Resources (DNR).

Hunters bagged a record number of the birds during the 1991 spring turkey season, and the DNR plans to hold its second fall turkey hunt in October.

"The 1,724 turkeys registered this spring breaks the previous record harvest of 1,709 in 1990, but not by as much as we had expected, given the 30 percent increase in permits," said DNR wild turkey specialist Gary Nelson.

"The 1991 figure represents the eighth consecutive record harvest," pointed out Nelson. "The increase is due to a thriving turkey population, expanded hunting zones and increased hunter numbers. This was accomplished even with an extremely wet spring, which reduced hunter activity and success."

"Our efforts are paying off," said Kevin Lines, DNR Farmland Wildlife Program leader. "The future continues to look bright for turkey hunters and wild turkeys in Minnesota."

Over the next six years, the DNR is going to accelerate its wild turkey trap and transplant program with financial help from the National Wild Turkey Federal and the Legislative Commission on Minnesota Resources. This accelerated trap and transplant project will complete relocation of wild turkeys into Minnesota's primary turkey habitat.

Approximately 20 percent of Minnesota's turkey hunters bagged a bird this spring, according to the DNR.

Turkey hunting is divided into zones in southeastern Minnesota from Goodhue County southeast to the Iowa border, in the Minnesota River Valley area of south-central Minnesota from Shakopee to Mankato to Amboy and in central Chisago County.

Myths About Bats

Bats still inspire irrational fear even though the facts show they do far more good than harm says Nongame Wildlife Specialist Joan Galli of the Minnesota Department of Natural Resources (DNR). According to Galli, many people who call the DNR about "bat problems" have common misconceptions.

Some think that bats attack people and get tangled in their hair. This is a misunderstanding of bat behavior. Galli said, "Bats attack moth, mosquitoes and other flying insects, not people. They fly erratically, up and down or darting to the side. Such movements are sometimes interpreted as an attack." Tales of bats in people's hair probably began in medieval times when houses had roofs but no ceilings. Occasionally a flightless young bat from a nursery-colony in the thatched roof may have fallen onto someone's head, and the incidents linger today as a myth.

Many people also believe that bat bites are a frequent cause of rabies in humans. "Statistically, you are more likely to die of food poisoning than to be bitten by a rabid bat," said Galli. "In Minnesota, an average of 150 cases of rabies are diagnosed annually in skunks, about a dozen cases in dogs and cats, and even 30 cases per year in cows. Since 1978 the state has recorded an average of only six rabid bats per year."

Bat droppings are often assumed to be a potential source of disease. Histoplasmosis is a flu-like illness caused by a fungus sometimes associated with soils enriched by animal feces, and infection may occur from breathing dust containing the fungal spores. However Galli said bird droppings from poultry or pigeons are the main source of infection for people. The fungus might be present in hot, dry attics where people in Minnesota are most likely to encounter an accumulation of bat droppings but the possibility of infection is remote. She said, "To minimize risk, simply avoid stirring up or breathing the dust associated with bat droppings. If you must remove droppings, dampen them first to reduce dust and wear a properly fitting respirator."

In spite of the lingering myths, Galli said attitudes toward bats are changing, some people have taken up bat watching at dusk or near street or yard lights where insects concentrate and some build special bat houses to attract them. "Any creature that will eat 3,000-7,000 insects per night, including mosquitoes, is a good neighbor," said Galli.

Remarkable Reptiles Program

Jim Gerholdt will be presenting a special program, The Remarkable Reptiles, Saturday, July 27, at 8 p.m. at Old Mill State Park and on Sunday, July 28, at 2 p.m. at Lake Bronson State Park.

The Remarkable Reptiles is an informative educational program using artifacts and live reptiles, such as a tortoise, turtles, lizards and snakes. For this program, he will use a timber rattlesnake and a massasauga – two venomous species.

Gerholdt's program is offered through the Minnesota state parks Lifetimes & Landscapes Special program series. Now in its eighth season, Lifetimes & Landscapes is a collection of programs relating to the natural, historical and cultural resources of the state. This year, more than 100 programs will enhance the celebration of the centennial of Minnesota state parks. A complete listing of programs is available at any state park in the Centennial Times.

The Remarkable Reptiles is free and open to the public, but a vehicle permit is required to enter the park. Daily permits are $3.25 ($2 for senior citizens).

Duck Stamps are now on sale for 1991

It is open season on the 1991-92 Federal Duck Stamp, also known as the Migratory Bird Hunting and Conservation Stamp.

The new stamp, designed by Vermont artist Nancy Howe and featuring a pair of king eiders, was unveiled at special first days of sale ceremonies held in Washington, D.C., June 30 and East Dorset, Vermont, July 1.

The 1991-92 Federal Duck Stamp will sell for $15, a $2.50 increase over last year. Congress authorized the price increase as part of the Emergency Wetlands Resources Act of 1986 to provide more funds to acquire and protect disappearing habitats.

John Turner, director of the Interior Department's U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service, said, "The Duck Stamp program is one of this country's most successful conservation efforts, but we still have a lot to do to secure the future of our waterfowl and other species. That's why it's so important for everyone who enjoys the outdoors and wildlife to purchase this splendid stamp."

Since the program began in 1934, over 350 million Duck Stamp dollars have helped preserve almost 4 million habitat acres.

Many of the more than 450 national wildlife refuges in the United States have been paid for entirely, or in part, through these Duck Stamp receipts.

During fiscal year 1990, the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service bought 89,996 acres of waterfowl habitat by obligating $30.3 million from the Migratory Bird Conservation Fund (which includes revenues from Duck Stamp sales), and, to date, has obligated more than $18.5 million to acquire 45,398 acres in fiscal year 1991.

Hunters 16 years of age or older must carry a current, signed Federal Duck Stamp in order to hunt waterfowl. The stamp is also popular with nonhunters wanting to make a contribution to conservation.

Outdoor News

Fishing is among our favorite outdoor pastimes. According to national figures, some 60 million Americans – or 27 percent of the United States – fish each year.

Sport anglers ages 16-and older spend $28 billion a year to fish and 977 million days fishing on 870 millions trips a year.

Of the days spent fishing, 84 percent are in freshwater and 16 percent are in saltwater.

The average angler 16 and over spends $607 to fish in one year's time, or $29 per day. Sixteen million of the 39 million freshwater anglers 16 years and older spend 343 millions days fishing for black bass – the most popular fished species, followed by panfish, catfish, crappie, trout, walleye and northern pike.

To continue viable fish populations for future fishing, good water quality is needed for spawning and growing.

Water quality is being threatened by acid rain, pesticide and chemical pollution, feedlot and farm runoff, wetland drainage sedimentation and by man's activities in the lakes and rivers.

But if all people work to reduce those problems, point out wildlife officials, water quality can be maintained and improved, and fish will continue to survive for present and future generation of sport anglers.

Personal Watercraft Law

Some think they are great fun. Others think they are a nuisance. And still others think they are often operated unsafely. They are called personal watercraft (also known as Jet Skis, Wave Runners, Wet Jets, water scooters, etc.) and they are subject to new laws in Minnesota that went into effect June 27.

"The increased popularity of water scooters have brought numerous calls voicing concerns from other boaters as well as from the general public," said Tim Smalley, Minnesota Department of Natural Resources boating safety specialist.

In addition, DNR statistics show that personal watercraft are involved in a disproportionate percentage of watercraft accidents, Smalley said.

"Even though they make up less than one percent of all registered boats in the state, personal watercraft account for 11 percent of the accidents," Smally said.

Those concerns led to the new laws regulating the operation of the machines, passed by the 1991 Legislature.

The new laws imposes several requirements:

- Anyone operating or riding on a personal-watercraft must wear a U.S. Coast Guard approved Type I, II, III or V personal floatation device.
- Personal watercraft may not be operation between sunset and 8 a.m. the following day.
- Personal watercraft may not be operated at greater than a slow-no-wake speed within 100 feet of any shoreline, dock, swimmers, any moored or anchored watercraft, any non-motorized watercraft or any swimming or diving raft.

Slow-no-wake is defined as the operation of a watercraft at the slowest possible speed necessary to maintain steerage, but never greater than five miles per hour.

If towing a person on water skis, kneeboard, an inflatable craft or any other device, there must be a second person on board the personal watercraft to act an an observer, and the skier/kneeboader must also be wearing a PFD, or there must be one on board the personal watercraft for the skier.

- People may not operate personal watercraft without the lanyard-type engine cutoff switch being attached to their body, clothing or personal floatation device. People may not operate a personal watercraft on which the spring-loaded throttle mechanism has been altered or tampered with.
- Personal watercraft operations may not chase or harass wildlife.
- Operators may not travel through emergent or floating vegetation at greater than slow-no-wake speed.
- People many not operate personal watercraft in a manner that unreasonably or unnecessarily endangers life, limb or property.
- Operators may not weave through congested watercraft traffic, or jump the wake of another watercraft within 100 feet of the other watercraft.

There are also age restrictions regarding the operation of personal watercraft:

- Those under 13 years old many not operate a personal watercraft, regardless of horsepower, unless there is adult (18 or older) on board.
- A 13-year-old must have a watercraft operator's permit to operate a watercraft without an adult on board. With a permit, the 13-year-old must be in full view of an adult while operating a personal watercraft.
- Operators ages 14-17 many not operate a personal watercraft without possessing a valid watercraft operator's permit, unless they have an adult on board.

Personal watercraft are considered motorboats, Smalley noted. therefore, personal watercraft are subject to all regulations that govern other motorboats. Violation of any watercraft safety law is a misdemeanor punishable by a fine of up to $700 and/or 90 days in jail. Those regulations include:

- All personal watercraft must display valid registration decals and registration numbers on the forward half of both sides of the craft.
- All personal watercraft with enclosed engine or fuel compartments— almost all personal watercraft fall into one or the other category – must carry a fully charged, readily accessible U.S. Coast Guard approved fire extinguisher.
- It is also unlawful to operate a personal-watercraft while intoxicated.

Effective July 27, personal watercraft rental operators must provide a summary of the laws and rules governing personal watercraft operation and provide instruction regarding the laws, rules and safe operation of personal watercraft to each person renting a personal watercraft.

"We feel these new regulations will act as guides for safe and responsible operation or water scooters, and ensure that they are a welcome addition to the state's waterways," Smalley said.

City Council votes to change mayor's term

In a six to two vote, the Thief River Falls city council adopted an amendment changing the term of office for mayor from four years to two years Tuesday night during the regular meeting of the Thief River Falls city council.

The council had deferred the matter of a two year vs. four year term of office on June 11. The purpose of the deferment was to allow residents an opportunity to express their concerns about the proposed change.

Thief River Falls Mayor Bob Carlson was among the strongest opponents to the proposed ordinance change. Mayor Carlson has expressed his belief that the proposed change was a personal attack against him.

Aldermen Don Barron and Robert Reeve who have supported the change since the council began discussing the change early in June have said that it was not a personal attack against the mayor. They both said the issue came up because they were under the impression that Mayor Carlson would not seek another term in office and therefore it would be an ideal time to consider a change.

During one of the first meetings in which the proposal was discussed, Don Barron listed several reasons for the change:

- that the city has had a two year term for all but eight years;
- under Minnesota law, the city is permitted to change the term of office;
- Mayor Carlson promised in his last election not to run for another term, which made consideration of a change convenient now;
- of the 106 charter cities in Minnesota only 25 have four-year terms;
- that a change satisfies a political philosophy that opportunities for major changes should be frequent;
- the two year term will bring the position closer to the people;
- the two year term will make the office holder more accountable to the people;
- it would increase citizen participation in local government;
- it would encourage additional filings for the position;
- it would result in an election with five positions in one year and four positions in the succeeding election;
- the needs of the community would dictate whether or not a two year term for mayor was desirable.

Tuesday night, Mayor Carlson said he had decided not to put up a fight. He said there had been enough ill-will in the last year.

The city council approved the proposal six votes to two. Mayor Carlson and Alderman Greg Brekke cast the dissenting votes.

The cutting of weeds in Alan-a-Dale park has one resident upset. Dr. Herbert Achenbach told the council he woke up to quite a bit of noise coming from the park the other day. He went over to the natural park, which is located east of Finsbury park, which is at the end of Robin Hood drive, and discovered they were cutting weeds. Dr. Achenbach said he wanted to see an ecological study done before weeds could be cut.

Mike Mongoven of the park and recreation department, explained that the County weed inspector had received a complaint about noxious weeds growing in the park. He told the city to cut the weeds. Mongoven said he attempted to contact Dr. Achenbach, but was unable to reach him because he was in the hospital.

The council requested that City Attorney Paul Ihle, and Mongoven look into the matter. Ihle said he wasn't sure whether the county weed inspector had authority to act within the city limits.

John Johnson, city forester, provided the council with a number of informational items. Johnson said he had met with the state about removal of trees on Highway 32 for the project next summer. Johnson said small trees will be transferred this fall. If trees on private property have to be moved, they will be moved to where the property owner wants. The state will also install trees, but the city will be responsible for maintenance. The city has agreed to credit property owners for 1,000 gallons of water for one year.

Mayor Carlson said he had heard some concerns about cutting trees now. He wanted to know why trees were coming down now on Highway 32 when they would be coming down next year.

Johnson explained that some trees were coming down now to prevent the spread of Dutch Elm Disease.

In other business, the council: referred to the public safety committee a matter of a request to use the Sports Arena on August 18 for a concern in case of inclement weather; amended the 1991 budget to explain the use of revolving capital fund grants for the streambank below the dam; hired Steve Mahling, water wastewater operator; noted the receipt of a thank you from the city of Warren because some city employees had provided assistance when the storm struck and knocked out power a couple of weeks ago; approved a request to continue the gambling license for Falls Day Activity Center at Lon's Restaurant and Pub and Family Bowl; approved requests for beer in Oakland park by the Elk's lodge on August 18, Arctco on August 28, and VFW on August 4; approved the transfer of a liquor license from Lon's to Curtis and James Efteland; approved a request for a beer garden at the Pennington county fair; referred a request return swimming pool donations to legal counsel; approved a contract for use of city recreation facilities with the school district; and approved a request by Best Western for a beer garden during Best Western days.

City Council

- ■ The city council has changed the term of office for mayor from four years to two years.
- ■ A local resident is upset about weeds being ordered cut in Alan a'Dale park by the county weed inspector.
- ■ Small trees in the way of the Highway 32 project next summer will be moved this fall.
- ■ Requests to return funds donated to the swimming pool fund will be studied by legal counsel.
- ■ A liquor license transfer from Lon's to the Eftelands has been approved.

Elsie Lefrooth's 80th Birthday

About 100 friends and relatives gathered at the Strandquist Community Center on Sunday afternoon to celebrate Elsie Lefrooth's 80th birthday, which really was on June 18th, but conflicting with her grandson, Douglas Holmstrom's wedding date in the Cities, that she and her family attended, it was postponed until July 14th. It was sponsored by her children, who were all present, and served a delicious lunch. The tables were decorated with all live flowers and a beautiful cake. The children were Shirley Lefrooth, Vance and Adrienne Lefrooth, Marcelyn and Morris Lindstrom, Donald and Marlys Lefrooth, Joanne and Dean Holmstrom, and Elaine and David Grovum. Elaine Grovum emceed the program and read a poem for her mother. The great-grandchildren sang three nice songs and the crowd joined in on "Happy Birthday" accompanied by Stephanie Hillstrom, of Rosemont. Danny and Marlys Lefrooth sang one of Elsie's favorite songs which Danny accompanied on the accordion. Betsy Thompson read a fitting tribute to Elsie, which she had composed. The rest of the afternoon was spent visiting and eating, so everyone had a wonderful day.

Jeff, Peggy and Jarad Lindstrom from Akeley, and Kris Lindstrom and Stephanie Hillstrom of Rosemont, and Paul Lindstrom and friend, Elaine from Kansas City, KS, spent the weekend at Morris and Marcelyn Lindstrom's and returned Monday.

Herb and Joyce King of Arden Hills, Evelyn Lewis of Phoenix, AZ, and Melford and Millie Boen of Bueno Park, CA, were guests for brunch at Philip and Yvonne Boen's on Monday morning. Guests this past week at Philip and Yvonne Boen's have been Dave and Yvetta Moberg, Mikhal and Devon of St. Port Lucie, FL. After spending time at the family cabin at Detroit Lakes, they returned to Florida on Tuesday.

On Wednesday Paul and Shirley Anderson, Jenny, Kristopher and Kenrick attended a potluck supper for the Golden Clovers 4-H club at the Strandquist Community Center. Others attending were Judy and Jeremy Larson, Janet Slaathaug, Cody and Cassie and Gordon and Lila Grandstrand. The 4-H Club presented Lila a plaque as a small thank you for 25 years as 4-H club leader. Thank you, Gordon and Lila!

Julius and Toni Kleinvachter attended the Pelan Park Annual Dinner Theater Sunday evening. After the dinner the play performed was "Tom Sawyer."

The Ole and Kristina Thompson family were pleasantly surprised by Julia Kittleson of Seattle and her son Jerome Thompson of Up-State, NY, son also of the late Ernest Thompson, arriving in Karlstad Monday morning. Geneva Nordin and Nancy Pagnac hurried and sent out the message to the rest of the family, rented the Community Center and a potluck celebration was held there Tuesday evening with over 70 of Ole and Kristina's descendants and their spouses present. A few near friends were also there. Jerome Thompson flew back to New York on Thursday, but Julia remained for a time.

Clifford Smith from St. Paul and Evelyn Stallock from Karlstad, visited with John and Ruth Harper and Ivalo Ombler on Tuesday afternoon.

Sunday Paul and Shirley Anderson, Kristopher and Kenrick attended the Gospel Tabernacle Sunday school picnic at Old Mill State Park.

Jennifer Anderson left for St. Paul Sunday for four days of orientation as state secretary for the 4-H.

Peter and Pearl Thompson and Agnes Vagle accompanied Roy and Myrtle Vagle to the wedding of Nicole Vagle and James Wilwant at Lancaster Saturday afternoon.

Leonard, Rose and Pam Anderson of Longview, WA, arrived at the Paul Anderson home Monday and spent the week visiting his brother, Morris and Hazel Anderson, returning home Sunday. Tuesday evening the Paul Anderson family and Leonard, Rose and Pam Anderson attended a potluck supper at the Karlstad Community Center for Julia Kittleson and Jerome Thompson.

Tuesday Isaac and Betsy Thompson, Polly Stevenson and Nelson LaDoux drove to Sebeka, to visit John and Anne Hendrickson. John and Gladys Simchuck of Park Rapids, joined them there for dinner and afternoon visit. On their return Isaac and Betsy joined a large group of Thompson relatives at the Karlstad Center to visit with Jerome Thompson and his mother, Julia Kittleson. Jerome and Julia were dinner guests at the Isaac Thompson farm on Wednesday.

Polly Stevenson and Betsy Thompson visited at Elsie Lefrooth's Friday evening after the supper at the Heritage school. Elda Vagle from Verndale, visited Elsie on Monday before returning home. Johnny and Elda Vagle had been visiting Roy and Myrtle Vagle for a few days and took in the wedding of Nicole Vagle and James Wilwant in Lancaster on Saturday.

Julia Kittleson of Seattle and Ruth Storeby of Fergus Falls, visited Frank Kleinvachter's Thursday afternoon.

LaVerne Rasmussen visited at Isaac Thompson's Saturday evening. LaVern Rasmussen remained here visiting his father, George Rasmussen, but his wife and daughter and her children returned to Chicago. They came up here to attend the Grandstrand wedding in Fosston a couple of weeks ago. LaVerne is checking out the old farm and getting rid of the raccoons who had taken up residence in his furnace.

Betsy Thompson, Polly Stevenson, Pearl Thompson and Elsie Lefrooth attended a W.M. meeting at Maureen Sundby's on Thursday evening.

Visitors at Louie Lofstrom's this past week have been Edmund and Tina Kastrzewski, Jeanetta Onger, Myrna Meader, Faye and Lacey Bangtson, Earl Grandstrand, Anthony Kasprowicz, Elmer and Blanche Lofstrom and Lenny and DeeAnn and Devon Lofstrom.

Thursday LaVol Thun, Edward and Janice Carlson visited at Arnold Larson's. Anna Rud visited Ida Bruce on Monday. LaVol Thun attended Elsie Lefrooth's birthday party on Sunday.

Gully........

James Hendrix from Spiro, OK, has been visiting with his sister, Dorothy Hogue and Jim and Donna Hess family.

Esther Rutkowski visited with Wanda Rydeen rural Clearbrook, on Monday afternoon.

MEMORIAM
In loving memory of Sharon Brenne
For My Wife (July 17th)
Because you mean so much, I'm never apart from you, because you're apart of everything I do. If you know how often I think of you when we're apart, you'd probably be surprised. Sometimes I think of things I want to tell you. Things I see or hear or get involved in that you'd enjoy hearing about. And other times I just like to picture you in my mind. It's almost as if we're together, that's how much you mean to me. You are missed greatly.

County Board Proceedings

July 16, 1991
OFFICIAL PROCEEDINGS
BOARD OF COMMISSIONER,
PENNINGTON COUNTY
June 25, 1991 - 8:00 P.M.

Pursuant to adjournment the Pennington County Board of Commissioners met in the Commissioners room in the courthouse in Thief River Falls on Tuesday, June 25, 1991 at 8:00 p.m. Members present: Koop, Jensen, Penning, Murphy and Swanson. Members absent: none.

County Assessor Gerry DeHaan met with the County Board to discuss a request for Homestead classification from Richard LeMoine. Commissioner Murphy moved, seconded by Commissioner Penning to grant Homestead to the property described as 1977 Rollohome Lot 63 Northwest Trailer Court owned by Richard LeMoine. Motion unanimously carried.

Commissioner Penning moved, seconded by Commissioner Murphy that the Pennington County Board of Commissioners send a letter to the Local Elected Officials Board to support the appointment of Maryel Anderson to represent education on the Northwest Private Industry Council. Motion unanimously carried. The letter was signed by the County Board Chairman and given to Gail Butenhoff.

Moved by Commissioner Swanson, seconded by Commissioner Penning to approve the minutes of the June 11, 1991 County Board meeting and the June 17, 1991 County Board of Equalization meeting. Motion carried.

The County Board then discussed the Beaver Dams. The County Attorney reported that the DNR is the responsible authority to remove the Beavers & Dams but that they will not do it. It appeared from a letter from DNR that landowners could take action themselves to get rid of beavers that are blocking drainage ditches.

Leon Haeth, Executive Director of the Northwest Regional Development Commission discussed the Recapitalization of the Northwest Regional Enterprise Loan Fund. The proposal calls for two steps. The first step includes receiving $5,000 from each of the seven counties and the second step uses a formula of population and percentage of benefit to come up with a match share of $2,994 for Pennington County. The $5,000 match is needed now but the $2,994 would not be required until 1992. Commissioner Penning moved, seconded by Commissioner Murphy to appropriate the $7,994 requested for recapitalization of the Northwest Regional Enterprise Loan Fund, $5,000 to be paid now and $2,994 to be paid in 1992. Motion unanimously carried.

Ray Nelson and Walter Raedel then met with the County Board. Ray Nelson had purchased a parcel of Tax Forfeited property with the understanding that the well was on the property. The adjoining property owner Walter Raedel had his staked out and found that the well was on his property. They are both requesting the county pay for a certified surveyor to survey the lot sold on tax forfeiture. Commissioner Murphy moved, seconded by Commissioner Koop to have the Ray Nelson property surveyed by a certified surveyor with the cost to be paid by Pennington County. Motion unanimously carried.

The County Board then Proceeded to open bids for a skid steer loader as duly advertised for the Solid Waste Facility. The following bids were opened:

Nelson Implement	$15,830.00
Schmaiz Industries	$15,500.00
Schmaiz Industries	$18,500.00

The County Board retained the bids to the County Engineer to see if all the specifications were met and to report back to the County Board July 9th, 1991.

Jean Heinrichs and Robert Wold met with the Board to discuss the Drug Abuse Resistance Education (D.A.R.E.) program. The school and Law Enforcement Officials are very interested in getting this program into the school districts. They are asking for inkind services in the form of time from Law Enforcement to be trained in the program and to teach it to the 5th and 6th graders. Commissioner Penning moved, seconded by Commissioner Swanson that the County support the D.A.R.E. program by allowing the Kind services to teach the program. Motion carried with Commissioner Koop voting Nay.

The following resolution was introduced by Commissioner Penning, seconded by Commissioner Koop and upon vote unanimously carried.

WHEREAS, A state and local fiscal relationship has historically been a very fundamental and integral part of Minnesota state government; and,

WHEREAS: Minnesota local governments provide many programs and services which local government provide on behalf of our state government, the state has been providing state aid to local governments for delivering such services as well as helping to equalize disparities in property wealth, and

WHEREAS: State aid to local government goes directly for local property tax relief, and

WHEREAS: As part of the state/local fiscal relationship, the State of Minnesota is requesting that local governments impose a one half cent sales tax increase to help off set some of the recent state budget cuts of hundreds of millions of dollars in state aid to local government.

NOW, THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED, That Pennington County agrees to impose the one half cent local option sales tax (pursuant to 1991 Law of Minnesota, Chapter 291, Article 2, Section 8, Subdivision 2)

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that in order for local governments to continue to afford and provide many state ordered services and programs and to ensure future local property tax relief and equalization, "This resolution is supported with the expectation that counties and cities will receive 100 percent of the future growth of the Local Government Trust Fund."

John Ellison appeared before the County Board to review the Pennington County Safety Program Policy. Mr. Ellison noted the changes made from the first draft and the comments made by Meadowbrook. Commissioner Swenson moved, seconded by Commissioner Koop to adopt the Pennington County Safety Program Policy as written. Motion unanimously carried.

John Ellison also presented 3 quotes for printing of the Safety policy and reports. Commissioner Murphy moved, seconded by Commissioner Koop to have Borsheim Printing do the printing of the Safety Policy for a price of $257.00. Motion unanimously carried.

Acting Engineer George Broadwell met with the County Board to discuss Highway Department matters. Commissioner Murphy moved, seconded by Commissioner Swanson to adjust Lori Marquis one step on the temporary seasonal pay scale to $6.25/hour. Motion unanimously carried.

Commissioner Swanson moved, seconded by Commissioner Penning to authorize the Highway Department to regrade portions of C.R. #55 on the east end of the County using County equipment and rental equipment. Motion unanimously carried.

The following resolution was introduced by Commissioner Murphy, seconded by Commissioner Koop and upon vote unanimously carried.

WHEREAS, Pennington County finds it advantageous to establish a joint County Engineer position with Red Lake County.

BE IT RESOLVED that Pennington County enter into a contract with Red Lake County for joint County Engineer services with a 50/50 split of the joint County Engineer's salary, benefits and time and,

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that all other costs of the Joint County Engineer position be split appropriately.

It was noted that Red Lake County is holding a meeting on Friday, June 28th, at 10:00 a.m. to discuss a dead animal pickup service.

Commissioner Murphy discussed the Solid Waste Committee meeting. Commissioner Murphy moved, seconded by Commissioner Koop to authorize the County Auditor to pay the expense of Richard Haugen in the amount of $235.68 for getting parts for the Solid Waste Facility in Cherokee, IA, by issuance of an Auditor's Warrant. Motion unanimously carried.

Commissioner Murphy moved, seconded by Commissioner Penning to authorize the purchase of an air compressor for the Solid Waste Facility. Motion unanimously carried.

The County Board authorized representatives of Pennington County to attend a meeting to investigate alternatives to the providing of computer software for the County's Tax, Financial and payroll systems. The meeting to be held in Ada, MN.

Other correspondence reviewed by the County Board included: MN Pollution control Agency concerning a Waste Tire Ordinance, NW MN Initiative Fund concerning the Northcentral Small Business Development Center, and the NW Regional Development Commission Public Interest Membership positions that are up for appointment.

Commissioner Swanson moved, seconded by Commissioner Penning to adjourn to July 9th, 1991 at 10:00 a.m. Motion carried.

Tech student second in national contest

Keeney earns silver medal in collision repair at competition

Tom Keeney of Crookston, who graduated this spring from the two-year auto body program at the Thief River Falls Technical college, earned a second place silver medal at the Vocational Industrial Clubs of America (VICA) United States Skill Olympics June 24-28 at Louisville, KY.

Keeney qualified for the national contest with a first place win at the state VICA contest in late March at South Hennepin Technical college in Minneapolis. Jeff Bronse of Thief River Falls placed third and Keith Lehman of Virginia placed fourth in that event as TRFTC students captured three of the top four places in the state contest.

Keeney is the second participant from the local technical college to place at national competition. Bob Harmon from Bagley earned a third place bronze medal in 1978.

It took a persuasive effort by instructor Ken Wagner to have Keeney enter the state contest. "He was one of our top students," Wagner said, "and I thought he would do well in competition, but he had work and other conflicts that made him reluctant to enter. As it turned out, I think he's glad he made the effort."

There are about 3,000 reasons Keeney should be glad he entered the competition—the prizes he won at the national event total about $3,000 in value.

In addition to a Snap-on roll-away tool chest base and a Devilbis paint spray gun which he received at the national event, he also received expense-paid courses for himself and his instructor at the Chief frame school in Grand Island, NE, and an I-Car unibody repair course in Illinois. Each of the courses is about a week in length.

While the state competition was a four-hour contest to demonstrate various skills in auto collision repair technology, the national contest was an eight-hour program in the Louisville Fair and Convention Center plus written tests. There were 38 state winners competing in each division of the national Skill Olympics.

Competition was divided into five main skill areas with 100 points being the maximum point total in each area. Keeney averaged 74.8 on his score, placing second to the 78.1 turned in by the contestant from Utah. A Wisconsin entrant was third with a score of 74.1.

Additional points were awarded for a VICA knowledge test and points were deducted if the work area wasn't cleaned up in preparation for the next contestant to use it.

The five skill areas were painting, frame, welding, sheetmetal and plastic. Each station had a 90-minute time limit and the contestants were grouped in several groups which rotated from station to station.

"Painting involved surface preparation, application of primer, top coat and top coat finish, blending of color and clear coating a blended panel," Keeney said. "They didn't have enough paint in my spray gun and I ran out. I think the paint had an accelerator in it because it dried very fast and I had problems blending after the gun was refilled."

> There are about 3,000 reasons Keeney should be glad he entered the competition — the prizes he won at the national event total about $3,000 in value.

Frame competition involved damage assessment, use of measuring systems, written test, reading of gauges, understanding of frame language and knowledge of how to correct damage that was assessed.

"Welding involved using both galvanized and mild steel and making vertical and horizontal welds, lap joint and butt joint welds, plug welding, plasma cutting and trouble-shooting as well as evaluating welds," Keeney said.

In the sheetmetal portion of the test, each contestant was given a fender with the identical damage and was to straighten, heat shrink, use filler and other methods to restore it to paintable condition.

In plastic repair each entrant was given a fixer panel which had been cut to repair. The work involved filling and finishing up to primer application.

Although he scored well in the welding category, Keeney felt he could have done better work in that phase of the competition. "I've done a lot better work before," he said.

Conversely, he was pleased with his painting but the score didn't reflect his satisfaction. "I would have been happy to have that finish on any vehicle I own," he said.

Keeney, whose home town is Shelly, has been employed for a couple of years at Red Power International in Crookston. Most of his work in the body shop there has been on large trucks.

According to the VICA organization, the VICA United States Skill Olympics is the largest and most diverse showcase of skill training in the nation. At the national event more than 3,000 state gold medalists from 49 states, Canada and Puerto Rico competed in the hands-on and leadership contests which were run, supported and judged by representatives from business and industry.

The Vocational Industrial Clubs of America is the organization for trade, industrial, technical and health occupations students in the nation's public high schools, vocational-technical centers, area vocational schools and junior and community colleges. It offers leadership, citizenship and character development programs and activities to complement student skill training.

Increase in tuition is expected for colleges

Students at Minnesota's Community Colleges will pay nine per cent higher tuition and their campuses will operate with reduced funding this fall under a budget approved by the Minnesota State Board for Community Colleges.

The board approved a series of actions recommended last month by Chancellor Gerald W. Christenson in the wake of the 1991 legislative session and subsequent vetoes by Governor Arne Carlson.

Tuition for 55,000 community college students will rise from the current $32.75 per credit to $35.50 per credit, effective with the start of fall quarter classes.

Full-time students from Minnesota, Wisconsin, North Dakota and South Dakota will pay about $1,598 a year for community college tuition, as opposed to the current rate of $1,474.

Students from adjacent states can attend public colleges and universities in Minnesota at the same tuition rates as residents under reciprocity agreements. Non-resident students from outside the reciprocity zone will pay double the standard tuition at community colleges.

The board also approved Christenson's recommendations for a salary freeze this year for top-level administrative employees and a reduction of 18 positions in the central office of the system.

Reduced allocations to the 21 campuses in the community college system also are expected to result in employee layoffs or unfilled positions.

Officials said it is hoped that faculty layoffs can be avoided, although the hiring of part-time teachers could be curtailed.

Christenson described the proposal as a "sharing of the pain" as all possible resources are channeled into serving students.

"Our mission is to provide quality education to students. Everything we do must be directed to that

YOUR HOUSE OF WORSHIP IS 20 DEGREES COOLER INSIDE

Has the midsummer heat been getting you down? Not to mention the humidity factor, which can only add to the oppressiveness of the soaring temperatures. Of course, being a sensible person, you dress right, live right and do what you can to offset the discomforts of the season. You spend as much time as your lifestyle will allow in air conditioned places, and maybe at the ol' swimmin hole. However, there is one more place you might add to your itinerary in search of a pleasant environment— your House of Worship. More than just a haven of refuge from the heat, it's a place for all seasons. However, in summer the only warmth you will feel there is the comforting assurance that God's love is with you all the year 'round, no matter what it says on the thermometer.

Now God comes to thee ...and all times are his seasons
—John Donne

College tuition increase is expected in MN

purpose," Christenson said.

The Legislature appropriated $200.2 million for the operation of community colleges over the next two years.

However, in a line-item veto after the session adjourned, Governor Carlson reduced this by $14.6 million.

Later, it was discovered that $3.8 million of this was receipts collected by colleges, which they normally get to keep and are not part of the state's general fund. The state Finance Department has notified the Community College system that this portion of the veto has been rescinded, leaving a net cut of $10.8 million.

Community college faculty and student groups have challenged the veto in court, contending that the vetoed language doe not fall under the governor's line item veto powers.

The governor's veto applies only to spending in the second year of the two-year budget period which began July 1. But Christenson said the full $10.8 million cut would be too severe to absorb in one year, so half the cut was assigned to each year of the budget period.

Christenson said cuts in administrative ranks, such as those in the central office, are necessary to preserve funds which directly affect the quality of education received by students. Higher tuition also is needed to maintain quality, he said.

"It's no bargain for students if they don't receive a high-quality education. They need good teachers, up-to-date classrooms and well-equipped laboratories and libraries. The tuition increase will help pay for those things."

The $35.50 resident tuition rate applies to students from Minnesota and states with reciprocity agreements — Wisconsin and the Dakotas. Other non-resident students would pay $71 per credit.

Community college tuition in Minnesota currently is the sixth highest in the nation. The impact of this high tuition is somewhat offset by Minnesota's strong financial aid program for students.

Community colleges have long been the most frugally funded of the state's four systems of higher education, receiving only 11 per cent of the total appropriation for Minnesota's public colleges and universities.

The legislature provided no funds to off-set inflation or pay for employee salary increases, meaning colleges and other state agencies must finance employee gains out of their basic operating funds.

About 80 per cent of community college operations are based on personnel costs.

Another Bit Of Explanation

When publisher Jean Gray of the Haxtun Herald in Colorado was asked by an organization in her community to make a presentation on how to get free publicity in her newspaper, she used the opportunity to present a few truths that people outside the business rarely consider.

"I never ceases to amaze me," she wrote, "that people would never dream of walking into the grocery store and asking for free groceries, or into the gas station and demanding free gasoline, but have no qualms about walking into my my business and asking me to give them what I sell.

"I have had people, on numerous occasions," she continued, "walk into my place of business with a news release, the sole purpose of which is to sell something to the public or publicize themselves or their cause or product, and not only demand that I give them the space to do that, but inform me that I am not to edit a word of their sales pitch.

"What would you tell people," she asked the business people attend the meeting she was addressing, "who walk into your place of business demanding that you given them something off your shelves and then inform you that it better be what they expect when they get it home? I imagine you would tell them what I did, that you would be happy to sell them the item and then guarantee it to be what they want."

Gray faults publishers as much as the public regarding the free publicity area. "These publishers suffer from the illusion that if they give their advertisers what they want it will make them happy and they will spend more money," she said. "You can all figure out the folly in that illusion. Are you going to buy what you can get for free?

"Publicity—I don't care how you package it or how you try to disguise it—when used to sell something to the public or when used to promote business profits—is pure and simple advertising."

Perhaps we as a newspaper are as guilty as any of being lenient with interpretation of what is news rather than advertising. In many cases there is a large gray area where the differences are not well defined, and when this is the case we have a tendency to lean toward the news side of things.

Gray's point is well made, however. Like a lawyer's advice, a doctor's diagnosis or a retailers merchandise, advertising in what we sell to earn a living. Advertisers buy our product because its message translates into sales or spreads the word to those the advertisers want to reach. Advertising has value...good value.

This isn't to announce any major change in policy or to take anyone to task for using our services for publicity. But when we may decide to turn you down in a request for a "news" story when the message is more promotional than informative, you will have a better understanding why we are doing so. Something has to pay the bills, and giving away what we have to sell won't do it.

Quotas Taken To The Extreme

Contractors across the country have been troubled for some time by hiring quotas that make it difficult for them to qualify for federal contracts or to carry out their day-to-day operations. The quotas have been authorized by Congress and are carried out by various federal agencies.

While the idea of quotas as a means of assisting minorities to gain employment is not without some merit, there is certainly the opportunity for abuse under the quota system. As evidence of this, executive vice president Hubert Beatty of the Associated General Contractors of America, points to the situation faced by Arnold O'Donnell.

O'Donnell is a street construction contractor, a citizen reared in the District of Columbia, and with his brother may be the only non-minorities engaged in street construction still located in the District of Columbia. He recently wrote to the President of the United States to bring to his attention the racial quotas commonly used to allocate public construction contracts.

In his letter, Arnold O'Donnell explained that the District of Columbia has set aside 49 per cent of its federally funded highway projects exclusively for minorities over the last four years. The District of Columbia has set aside 94.33 per cent of its locally funded street projects exclusively for minorities over the same four years.

At least 55 per cent of the federally funded projects went to minorities, and most of the remainder were very large and sophisticated projects that necessarily went to very large construction firms with the bonding capacity to take them on. At the same time, city officials who routinely question the racial motivation of their critics proceeded to award 99.75 per cent of all of the locally funded street projects to minorities.

O'Donnell didn't cry discrimination. He simply pointed out to the President that "common sense and fairness" had been abandoned. He called on the President to put some upper limit on the procurement quotas that the federal government (that means us as taxpayers) will continue to subsidize.

Forty-four days later O'Donnell received a response—but from the federal highway department. Beatty describes the letter as "three pages of deafening silence."

Nothing is wrong, O'Donnell was told. This is all "congressionally mandated." "The program is not a quota system nor strictly a set-aside program." As the highway department explained, "reasonableness" is a "major consideration," and "responsible officials of the District of Columbia" had determined that a 37 per cent "goal" would be appropriate. But this 37 per cent "goal" is "not a maximum limit," for that "would defeat the intent of the non-discrimination legislation which created the program."

In short, Beatty points out, O'Donnell is being told to go away, "have a nice day, " and his concerns are being ignored.

O'Donnell responded to the non-response. He pointed out that the mayor, the director of the department of public works, 11 of the 13 members of the city council and 85 per cent of the city's residents qualify for preferential treatment. He asked if he crossed the bounds of civility by suggesting that the city's actions might even involve "racial politics."

O'Donnell is not optimistic he will receive a response from the administration. Nor is he optimistic that the board of contract appeals in the District of Columbia will ever rule on the 18 protests he has filed over the years. In two years of federal district court his attempts to resolve the situation have gone nowhere.

His hope is that the district court or a higher court will follow the course that the Supreme Court charted more than 42 years ago when it declared that the constitutional right to equal protection under the law is a "personal" right, "guaranteed to the individual."

In 1989 the Supreme Court repeated, "To whatever racial group....citizens belong, their 'personal rights' to be treated with equal dignity and respect are implicated by [a] rigid rule erected race as the sole criterion in an aspect of public decision making."

"No," Beatty writes, "the District of Columbia cannot rewrite the Constitution. The District simply does not have that power. The wheels of justice grind slowly, but they are in motion. In time, if Arnold O'Donnell can hold on, the Constitution will prevail."

School Board Accepts Bids On Coal

"The board of education at its July session Monday evening received a comprehensive report from Supt. Morris Bye covering all phases of local school activities during the past school year. In addition, the board awarded contracts covering next year's coal supply, the low bids being substantially higher than those in effect a year ago. The O'Hara Fuel & Ice company will supply 475 tons, more of less, of screenings at $9.85, while the Red Lake Fuel company will furnish approximately 235 tons of Youghiogheny lump coal at $10.25."

Aluminim Scrap To Be Collected

"Arrangements for the collection of all possible scrap aluminum from homes and business places here and in other communities throughout the county are being completed under direction of Major Gustav Schilbred of Thief River Falls, who has been appointed chairman of the Civilian Defense council for this county by Governor Stassen. Dates set for the campaign are from July 21 to July 29. 'If a housewife has other types of utensils she can use in placed of her aluminum ware, she should donate all the aluminum she can spare, but she should not give away anything that would require her to purchase new utensils.'"

Twenty Philco Dealers Meet

"Twenty Philco dealers from throughout Northwestern Minnesota, together with a number of their salesmen, were guests of the Larson company, local Philco distributors, at a dinner meeting in the Palm Garden cafe Tuesday evening at which Ted Prifkin of the Philco factory in Philadelphia presented the 1942 line of radios and radio-phonographs and pointed out the many improvements in appearance and performance."

Most Varied Machinery Exhibit At Fair

"The biggest exhibit of agricultural machinery in the history of the Pennington county fair is assured following a meeting of Thief River Falls implement dealers Wednesday at which action was taken to lend the wholehearted cooperation of the dealers to making this department of the fair an outstanding success. As a result the fair will feature displays of a half-dozen of the leading lines of farm equipment."

Council To Open Library Bids

"At an adjourned session Tuesday evening, the city council approved plans and specifications covering repairs and alterations on the public library building, and voted to call for bids to be opened Tuesday evening, August 12."

Canning Project Stressed By 4-H

"Special emphasis is being placed on the value of home gardens and on the canning project in 4-H club work this year, Miss Margaret Gunelson, county club agent, said today. H. A. Pflughoeft, district club agent, is completing the judging of all the 4-H club gardens today. The outstanding gardener will receive the county award for the project."

"The annual school meeting for school district 102 was held last Saturday evening. S. M. Dainerd was elected Moderator and J. L. Johnson, Secretary. The meeting then adjourned until Monday evening about twenty voters were present. J. C. Dahl was elected school treasurer for a term of three years. The school board was authorized to have the school house fixed up, the expense being limited to $250. It was decided to have eight months school the coming year commencing Sept. 14th. It was voted to raise $600 for the coming year."

Response from the Thief River Falls Press to the Observations of "Ananias" Last Week

"[From the Thief River Falls Press] The wail of 'Ananias' in last week's St. Hilaire Spectator in regard to the unjust treatment he received in this place last Fourth from a poor old hat is simply heartrending, and the fact that so large a city as Thief River Falls should allow so many 'horrid men' to assail, hat in hand, so diminutive a person as little Ananias is terrible, still we must extend the heavy thanks of the village to Ananias for paying so much respect to that hat and dropping a nickle so often. Few men, and especially editors, have such deep pocket books nowadays. There is no doubt that if it had not been for Ananias the thing would have gone busted."

Immanuel's Centennial

The 100th anniversary of Immanuel Lutheran church of Plummer saw a large number of former members and confirmands returning to celebrate with the local congregation on June 29-30th. The event began with registration and refreshments served at the church on Saturday afternoon. Old friends viewed the picture displays and the building, which many had not seen since its remodeling in 1974. An anniversary choir of about 40 rehearsed at 4 o'clock with Carol Clemetson of Wheatland, WY, directing. She and her husband Lloyd and family had lived in Plummer in the mid-sixties when Lloyd was a teacher at PHS. Accompanist was Althea Krueger Owen of Windom, a confirmand in 1928. The enthusiastic choir sang at Sunday worship services and at the afternoon program in the school. At 6 p.m. the crowd assembled in the school for a catered banquet. Pollie Skjerven, chairperson of the planning committee gave the welcome before the meal. Eldon Vigstol, chairman of the church council was in charge of the evening program which began with a songfest, followed by devotions by Pastor Bob Amundson of Gatzke, former pastor here. Pastor Johnson had a few remarks and Pollie presented several awards. Replicas of the various stages of the church building had been made and they went to Lily Lee, oldest confirmand of Immanuel present, Wally and Marie Seeger, couple married in Immanuel for the most years, Vernice Phebe Hawkinson, 1st baptized in the town church, Art Froiland, oldest member baptized in Little Immanuel, Louise Bartels, oldest member present, Kristen Kay Hebert, most recently baptized, Cydnee Marie Peterson, youngest child attending, also churches were presented to Pastor Johnson, Pastor Amundson and Carol Clemetson. Then there was a picture taking session at the close of the evening with classes assembling by decades. On Sunday morning Bishop Lohr of Moorhead brought the message, and special music was provided by the Sunday school and the anniversary choir. Lectors were Rick Gustafson, class of 75, Lisa Eskell, class of 88 and Elaine Koskela Arntson, class of 55. Hazel Ollie brought greetings from the Ladies Aid, as a past president. The noon picnic dinner was served in the school because of wet grounds in the park, and the afternoon program was led by Debbie DuChamp, Sunday school superintendent. Group singing was followed by greetings read from Bishop Chilstrom and Lowell Almen of the ELCA, as well as names of former pastors. Letters of greeting from Mrs. Milton Grorud, Cliff Randall, Tim Miller, Lane Zaftke and John Krueger were read. Esther Sheldahl Hylden spoke on behalf of her family and both Bob and Mary Amundson recalled their years at Plummer. Debbie Vettleson and Arnold Stengel had some memories to share also. Several members of the Joyful Noise group who sang and toured under Pastor Randall sang several songs. They were Vance Haugen, DeeAnn Huotari, Jodi Peters, Cathy DuChamp and Cathy G. Zimpel. Their families joined them for a couple of songs, which made it interesting. The names of others who had sent greetings were read and former officers of the various departments of the church were recognized. The choir sang again and closing comments were made by Pastor Johnson and Pollie. The choir sang two more songs and the celebration closed with benediction and a hymn of thanks. Coffee and goodies were served to all. Many thanks to everyone who attended and helped to make our Centennial an unforgettable occasion.

Jerry and Jan Freitag attended the Catholic-Lutheran rural life program on June 30th at the Fertile fairgrounds. Jerry was one of the commission members installed by Bishop Balke of the Crookston Diocese Roman Catholic church, and Bishop Lohr NWMN Synod, ELCA. The large crowd enjoyed a pig roast and fellowship following the program.

Carol Clemetson of Wheatland, WY, and her sister, Gloria Raknes of Saratoga, WY, came on Saturday the 29th, to attend Immanuel's Centennial and were houseguests of their cousin, Ernie and Dorothy Pederson, leaving on Monday morning.

Roger Skjerven and John Skjerven of Bemidji, left on Saturday the 22nd for Sioux lookout, Ontario, to get in some fishing. On that day Pollie Skjerven, Kermit, Peggy and Kyla Genereux met Lorie Gildea of Alexandria, VA, in Grand Forks. On Monday Lorie and Pollie, also Don Skjerven of Santa Ana, CA, joined the fishermen for a couple of days, returning on Wednesday. Roger and Don returned on Thursday.

Hanson Reunion

The family and descendants of Alice Hanson Skjerven joined other Hanson relatives in a reunion held in the Cities on June 10-30. Going from here were Jerry Skjerven, Emilie and Jerry, Jr. for the weekend. Roger and daughters, Lorie Gildea and Peggy Genereux flew to the reunion on Friday, returning on Saturday for the Centennial banquet. Also attending were Mel Parise and Joseph, Kathy Helmbrecht and children of Brooklyn Park.

Harold and Marian Valthauer returned home from the Cities, where they spent time with the Greg Schmidtke and David Vigstols, on June 28. Returning with them were Joshua and Benjamin Schmidtke and Karalee Vigstol to visit a while.

Visitors who came to attend Immanuel's Centennial and staying at Esther Simonson's were Roger and Carol Mattson of Warren, Beverly and Angie Terhark of Minneapolis, and Gary and Jan Mattson of Rochester.

Jim Skjerven of Marshall, visited for a few days over the Fourth with his parents, Roger and Pollie Skjerven, leaving again on Friday.

Jim Shirley of Phoenix, AZ, arrived at his sister, Karen Vigstol's last Wednesday for his vacation. On Friday he, accompanied by Karen and Karl Vigstol, went to Minot, to spend the weekend with their brother, Al and his family, returning on Monday.

Marla and Dorothy Pederson went to Bemidji for several days over the Fourth. A potluck dinner was held there to honor Mr. and Mrs. David Knauer, who were guests from California. It was held at the Hilmer Pederson home with all relatives in the area attending.

Brief Bits from Pioneer Village

by
Donna Myhrer

Buildings and Displays

The exhibits of Pioneer Village are set up in two different ways. Some are displayed in buildings which show what that type of building would have looked like in the early part of the century. Examples of this kind of exhibit are the general store and the school.

Another type of exhibit may be seen in the Thief River Falls Great Northern depot and the Sons of Norway cabin. The cabin, which is dedicated to Art Rambeck, former sheriff of Pennington county and active member of the Sons of Norway, has items such as a tablecloth with members of the organization embroidered on it, a traditional Norwegian dress and several other items associated with the Sons of Norway lodge.

In the Great Northern depot, the first (eastern) room, which was originally a freight room for the railroad, has both agricultural (seeders, small cultivators and plows, farm wagons and grinding mill) and transportation (bicycles, sleds, a buggy, grocery wagon and a 1965 Arctic cat snowmobile) displays. The next room is set up as a medical and dental exhibit with many items from early doctors' and dentists' offices. The following room shows the uniforms of some of the local men who served in World War I, World War II and Korea in the various branches of the service. Another room is dedicated to L. B. Hartz and contains photographs and certificates which show his generosity and involvement in local community affairs.

The next area is the Thief River Falls room which exhibits many photographs of the early city, some of which have recently been printed in the Times. In the final room are displays of clothing, hats, printing presses, cameras, dairy equipment and musical instruments.

In these exhibits, similar items are grouped together and shown in a way that will help the visitor to understand their use, rather than to imagine how the items looked in a typical setting.

Special Events

On Sunday, July 21, from 1 to 5 p.m., as a feature of Western Days, you may visit Pioneer Village in a special way. Start at the parking lot of Lon's restaurant and ride in a horse-drawn carriage to the Viking Soo Line depot in the Pioneer Village. You may then tour the village and be picked up from the depot to ride back to Lon's. Cost will be $2 for each adult and $1 for children ten and under.

Can You Help?

Many of the buildings in Pioneer Village are arranged much as they were nearly one hundred years ago. During an event such as Pioneer Days, which was held recently, local people dressed in old time clothing and demonstrated some of the skills used by early settlers in this area, such as quilting, spinning, lefse making, etc. The Pennington County Historical society would like to offer this type of entertainment more often, perhaps once a month, during the summer. Even if you don't have a special skill to show, it would be fun to have people dressed in oldtime costumes and sitting in the various buildings to answer questions about the displays. If you would like to help in this way, please call Donna Myhrer at 681-5767 at Pioneer Village or 964-5245 at home.

Pipeline Testing Starting This Week

Lakehead Pipe Line Company, Inc.

Lakehead Pipe Line

Hydrostatic testing of the Lakehead pipeline system running through the Viking to Plummer area has been scheduled.

Testing will begin:
July 21, 1991

Thank you for your cooperation while we test the pipeline.

As a precaution we ask that residents and pipeline landowners stay clear of the pipeline right-of-way during the test. The hydrostatic test will involve replacing the pipeline's oil with water and building pressure to force pipe defects to rupture or leak. Lakehead crews will repair or replace any defective pipe section.

We're committed to ensuring pipeline safety throughout the Lakehead pipeline system for communities and their enviroment.

For more information about the hydrostatic test or any other pipeline related question, call (715) 394-1440.

ARCTCO, INC

Because they ordered their 1992 Arctic Cat EXT snowmobile prior to April 1, 1991, Gary and Barbara Gorenflo of Tonawanda, NY, were entered in the Cat's Pride club's "Watch Your Cat Being Built" promotion.

And because their names were drawn in the contest, they received an expense-paid trip to Thief River Falls to visit the Arctco, Inc., plant, watch their snowmobile being built from start to finish (about an hour and a half operation) and have dinner with Arctco president and chief executive officer Chris Twomey and other Arctco officers.

They also received a double snowmobile trailer (which will work well for their 1991 Arctic Cat Prowler in addition to the new EXT) and a cover for the new machine. And the early order also qualified them to receive $600 in "Cat Cash" coupons redeemable in parts or accessories.

The Gorenflos have been riding snowmobiles for the past 15 years. They took advantage of the early order program a year ago to order a 1991 Arctic Cat Prowler which became Barbara's sled.

"I didn't like it at first," Barbara admits. "It was different from what I was accustomed to riding. But we travel to go riding and we go out for hours on the trails. Now I love it. It was the ride and handling of the Prowler than convinced us to get another Arctic Cat."

After they purchased the 1991 Prowler, the Gorenflos joined the Cat's Pride club on the suggestion of a friend. That membership made them eligible for the drawing which brought them to Thief River Falls—a drawing they were unaware of when they placed their early order for the EXT.

Darcy Harbott, special promotions manager for Arctco, said he has been pushing the Cat's Pride club for the past couple of years

Former resident caught by Clay Co. Sheriff's dept.

Darren C. Knoff, wanted in Pennington county on a number of charges, was taken into custody by Clay County Sheriff's deputies in Moorhead Monday.

According to a police spokesperson at the law enforcement center in Thief River Falls, Darren C. Knoff, 26, formerly of Thief River Falls, was taken into custody in Moorhead and has been transported to the Pennington County Law Enforcement Center. Knoff has avoided capture for more than a year. He was wanted in Pennington County for the following: two counts of telephone fraud, third degree burglary, criminal damage to property and theft in connection with an incident at Pioneer Village, a bench warrant for failure to pay restitution, and disorderly conduct in connection with an incident in June of 1990.

Knoff is being held at the law enforcement center in Thief River Falls awaiting a court appearance.

VFW breakfast honors Korean War veterans

Pancake breakfast will be served from 9 to 11 a.m. Saturday, July 27, at the Veterans of Foreign Wars club room rooms in Thief River Falls in honor of veterans of the Korean War which officially ended July 27, 1953.

"Post 2793 would like to salute the men and women who served in this war and honor those who paid with their lives," states Dale Comstock, public relations officer for the post, who will be speaker for opening ceremonies at 9 a.m.

Comstock points out that the war began June 25, 1950, when communist-controlled North Korea invaded South Korea. Forty-one United Nations countries sent military supplies, food or equipment and 16 sent troops to assist South Korea. More than 90 per cent of the troops were provided by the United States.

Considered one of the bloodiest wars in history, the Korean war resulted in the deaths of about a million South Korean civilians; 580,135 South Korean and U.N. troops and about 1,600,000 communist troops killed, wounded or reported missing.

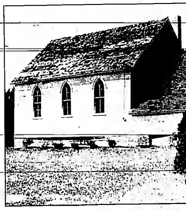
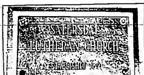
Satersdal Lutheran church notes centennial

100th anniversary services this Sunday at 10:30 a.m. and 2 p.m. in Excel township northeast of Thief River Falls





Satersdal Lutheran church northeast of Thief River Falls will observe its 100th anniversary with special services on Sunday, July 28, at 10:30 a.m. and 2 p.m. The church has not been used for weekly services since 1959 but a Memorial Day service is held annually and a candlelight service is conducted on the Saturday evening between Christmas and New Year's Day. Offerings received at those services are used for upkeep of the church building and maintenance of the cemetery. At left is a close-up of the plate on the rock in the foreground of the photo above.

Although closed for nearly a third of its lifetime except for special services, Satersdal Lutheran church three mi[illegible] miles north of Thief River Falls in Excel township of Marshall county will observe its 100th anniversary Sunday, July 28.

Morning worship service will begin at 10:30 a.m. and the heritage service at 2 p.m. in a large tent on the church grounds. "Faith of Our Fathers, Living Still" is the centennial theme. Historical books, prints of a drawing of the church by Ethel Sanders and souvenir cups will be sold at the church.

Dr. Roger Ose, one of the sons of the congregation presently in the ministry, will be worship leader at the morning service at which Rev. Silas Erickson and Rev. Lynn Luthard will be returning pastors participating. Organist will be Randy Moe.

Opening hymn will be "Faith of Our Fathers" and Scripture reading and prayer will be offered by Art Joppru. Moe Family Choir will present special music prior to the confession of faith and the Ose family will provide special music following the confession.

Morning messages will be brought by Rev. Erickson and Rev. Luthard and a vocal solo will be sung by Jan (Wold) Nyflot. Steven Anderson will lead the centennial offering and the closing hymn will be "God's Word Is Our Great Heritage."

A noon meal will be served at a price of $5 for adults and $3 for children under 12 years of age. Services during the day will be held in a large tent on the church grounds with the small church building itself used for sale of books and other centennial items and as a place for people to visit and reminisce.

At the afternoon heritage service Rev. Connely Dyrud, also a son of the congreg[illegible] er. LeRoy and Jennifer Ose and Kathy (Ose) Johnson will present the prelude and "Faith of Our Fathers" will again be sung as the opening hymn.

Rueben Wold will present Scripture and prayer, the Gustafson family will sing and greetings will be brought by Karen (Moe) Dalager (a daughter of the congregation who married a pastor) and Rev. Dyrud. Music also will be presented by the Dalagers. Lowell Dyrud, who was in charge of the church history book publication, will comment on history of the congregation.

Rev. Gaylen Ose, also a son of the congregation, will bring greetings and Rev. Silas Erickson will sing. Additional greetings will be given by Dr. Roger Ose and Betty (Ose) Valtinson (another daughter of the congregation who married a pastor). "What A Friend We Have In Jesus" will be sung and sharing of memories and centennial offering will precede the closing hymn, "God Be With You 'Til We Meet Again."

[illegible] Christian Saugstad as part of the Norway Congregation that included Emmanuel of Holt, and served by Rev. Elias Aas until 1889, Satersdal Lutheran church was organized as a separate congregation in 1891 by Rev. Elias Berlie."

"Because the congregation stretched from north of Holt to the Thief river in Excel township, a distance of over 12 miles, travel became too great for members and the north part became Emmanuel research of the congregation's history.

"A member of the United Church Synod for awhile," Dyrud [illegible] ciated with the Friends of Augsburg' in 1893. When the Lutheran Free Church was organized in 1897, Satersdal joined the synod and remained a Lutheran Free church until 1959 when the congregation voted to close its doors and join Our Saviour's Lutheran church, its sister congregation in Thief River Falls, a member of the Association of Free Lutheran churches."

Beginning in the spring of 1960, a Memorial Day service has been held each year. Since 1979 a candlelight service has been held on the Saturday between Christmas and New Year's day. Proceeds from the offerings at these services, as well as bequests and donations, are used for the upkeep of the cemetery and church building.

Pastors who have served Satersdal through the years included Rev. Elias Berlie (1891), Rev. Hans Villesvik (1891-1893), Rev. August Bredeson (1893-1920), Rev. O. J. Raaum (1920-1927), Rev. O. J. Haukeness (1929-1931), Rev. Reinhart Pedersen (1934-1937).

Jodi Goldesberry and Joseph Drevlow wed

Jodi ReNae Goldesberry and Joseph Hunter Drevlow were united in marriage June 15 at the Trinity Lutheran church in Thief River Falls. Rev. D. Josh Nelson officiated at the 5 p.m. double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of James and Olive Goldesberry of Thief River Falls. Parents of the groom are Dan and Sande Drevlow of Thief River Falls.

Special music was provided by Heather Wolbeck and Kari Jo DeLap, both friends of the couple, who sang "Wedding Song" and "The Lord's Prayer." Dorothy Larson, friend of the couple, served as organist, playing "Jesu, Joy of Man's Desiring," the "Wedding March" and "Hear Us Now, Our God and Father."

The bride chose a traditional white gown with a sabrina neckline accented by beaded lace edging and jeweled gems. The sleeves were gathered with a bow and shirred to the waist. A medallion of lace was beaded with a sequined point at the waist. The gown had a closed heart back and dangling pearls and featured a bow at the back, beaded and sequined lace and appliques on the front of the skirt and a cathedral length train. The bride complemented her gown with a headpiece of floral sprays, crystals and iridescent beads. The back of the veil had multi vertical poufs and was edged with braided silk floss lace. The bride carried a cascading bouquet of pink and white roses, white mini-carnations, pink alstroemeria lilies, purple crocus and German statice. It was accented by plumosus of net and babies' breath.

Jocelyn Goldesberry of Thief River Falls served as her sister's maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Jaki Weleski of Thief River Falls, friend of the bride, Stephanie Breiland of Thief River Falls, friend of the bride, Kathi Reidinger of Steel, ND, cousin of the bride, Kari Reidinger of Bismarck, ND, cousin of the bride, and Andrea Erickson of Thief River Falls, friend of the bride. They wore amethyst-colored satin dresses with sweetheart necklines, fitted bodices, drop basque waists and diagonal hemlines. The cuffed sleeves featured pointed details at the shoulders and triple Ushering the guests were Lloyd Dotson and Jim Calaway, both friends of the groom, Danny Mahoney, uncle of the groom, and Al Reidinger, uncle of the bride. They were dressed in black subtle stripe tuxedos with coordinating cummerbunds and bow ties and boutonnieres of pink sweetheart roses accented with purple almond blossoms.

For her daughter's wedding, the mother of the bride chose a mauve dress with sequins and pearls at the shoulder. The groom's mother wore a mauve sun dress with brocade flower bolero jacket. Each had a corsage of pink sweetheart roses, white mini-carnations and pink alstroemeria lilies. The fathers of the couple wore black subtle stripe tuxedos with tails and matching vest and bow ties. They had boutonhaws. They carried arm bouquets of pink roses, white mini-carnations, pink alstroemeria lilies, purple crocus and German statice accented by plumosus of net and babies' breath.

Taryn Pream and Tyla Pream of Thief River Falls, friends of the couple, were the flower girls. They wore dresses to match the bridesmaids and carried baskets of pink roses, white mini-carnations, pink alstroemeria lilies, purple crocus and German statice, accented by plumosus of net and babies' breath.

Nacia Olson, friend of the bride, served as the bride's personal attendant.

The groom was attired in a black style stripe tuxedo with tails, with matching bow tie and vest, and a boutonniere of double white sweetheart roses accented with purple almond blossoms.

Fella Drevlow of Maryville, MO, brother of the groom, served as best man, with Guy Drevlow of Thief River Falls, brother of the groom, Jared Goldesberry of Thief River Falls, brother of the bride, Jordan Goldesberry of Thief River Falls, brother of the bride, Brian T. Werth of Warwick, RI, friend of the groom, and Jim Engle of Providence, RI, friend of the groom, as groomsmen. They were dressed in black subtle stripe tuxedos with tails and amethyst bow ties and cummerbunds, and boutonnieres of pink sweetheart roses accented with purple almond blossoms.

niers of pink sweetheart roses and buds.

Honored guests at the ceremony were Naomi Goldesberry, grandmother of the bride, and Armen and Hannah Drevlow and Earl J. Hunter, grandparents of the groom.

A reception was held for the couple following the ceremony. Host couples were Alvin and Shirley French, relatives of the bride, and Barry and Diane Drevlow, uncle and aunt of the groom. Eunice and Al Kimble, friends of the couple, presided over the guest book.

Highlighting the serving table was a four tier white cake decorated with pink and white roses. It was cut by Carolyn Reidinger, aunt of the bride, and Barbara Mahoney, aunt of the groom. Coffee was served by Vicky Breiland and Judy Weleski, both friends of the bride. Nancy Geske, friend of the bride, served punch.

Flower hostess was Mary Beth Hunter, aunt of the groom. Waitresses were Sara Bataldén, Gretchen Bataldén, Stephanie Wold and Kelly Martinson, all friends of the groom.

Following a wedding trip to London, England, and Hamburg, Germany, the couple is now at home in Minneapolis. The groom is a 1987 graduate of Lincoln high school and is presently employed by Cargill in Minneapolis. The bride is a 1990 graduate of Lincoln high school.

Carrie Housker to wed Lee Genereux Aug. 10

Carrie Housker and Lee Genereux, along with their parents, Gary and Marjorie Housker of Thief River Falls and Sam and Delores Genereux of Thief River Falls, are happy to announce their engagement and forthcoming marriage.

The bride-to-be is a 1988 graduate of Lincoln high school and a 1989 graduate of Northland community college. She is employed by KTRF-KSNR. Her fiance is a 1984 graduate of Lincoln high school and a 1987 graduate of the Thief River Falls technical college. He is employed by Genereux Insurance and KTRF-KSNR.

An August 10 wedding will be held at St. Bernard's Catholic church in Thief River Falls.

Mr. and Mrs. Havon Hugg (Jody Pazloy) are at home in Keene, ND, following their July 4 wedding at the Canyon wedding chapel at Red Lodge, MT. Elaine Higgens officiated at the ceremony. The bride is the daughter of Gary and Barb Pazloy of Keokuk, IA. The groom is the son of Adeline Hugg of Viking and Harold Hugg of Hampton. The bride is a graduate of Western Illinois university in Marketing. The groom is a graduate of Marshall County Central high school in Newfolden and is employed by Rink Construction at Keene, ND.

Mr. and Mrs. Jason Kuznia (Michelle Hovet) are at home in Casper, WY, following their March 9 wedding at the St. Bernard's Catholic church in Thief River Falls. The bride is the daughter of Curtiss and Sharon Hovet of Casper, WY, and formerly of Thief River Falls. The groom is the son of Robert and Marge Kuznia of Thief River Falls.

Jennifer Westlin-Richard Sunstrom wed June 22

Jennifer Westlin and Richard Sunstrom were united in marriage at the United Methodist church in Thief River Falls. Rev. Tom Wilson of Thief River Falls and Rev. Neil Thielke of Morris officiated at the 2 p.m. double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Curtis and Rosalind Westlin of Thief River Falls. Parents of the groom are Jerome and Donna Sunstrom of Wadena.

Special music was provided by Patrick and Angela Franey, friends of the couple, who sang "Only God Could Love You More," "Household of Faith" and "I Will Be Here." Vi Barr served as organist, playing the "Bridal March," "Wedding March" and "Trumpet Voluntary."

The church was decorated with pew bows and three flowering fuchsia plants in memory of the bride's grandfathers, Emil Hagman and Clarence Westlin, and the groom's grandfather, Clyde Sunstrom.

The bride chose a traditional white satin gown with portrait neckline, tucked capelet sleeves, a fitted bodice featuring appliqued lace with sequins and pearls. The dress also featured a V back and a chapel length train edged in appliqued lace. The bride complemented her gown with a crown-style headpiece with appliqued lace, pearls and sequins and a chapel length veil accented by pearl clusters. She carried a cascading bouquet of white roses, mini-carnations, stephanotis and fuchsia-tipped sweetheart roses with pearl sprays.

Linda Duke of Thief River Falls, friend of the bride, served as maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Kris Marshall of Grove City and Brenda Masso of Farmington, both friends of the bride. They wore fuchsia off-the-shoulder tea length dresses with fitted bodices and bows at the front and back. They carried round bouquets of white mini carnations, roses, pink and hot pink alstroemeria lilies accented with netting, pearl sprays and white ribbon.

Tonya Pietruszewski and Betty Arther, both friends of the bride, served as the bride's personal attendants.

The groom was attired in a black tuxedo with tails and black bow tie and cummerbund, with a boutonniere of double white sweetheart roses, accented with fuchsia.

Stewart Farm of White Bear Lake, friend of the groom, served as best man, with Jason Sunstrom of Memphis, TN, brother of the groom, and Kent Westlin of Thief River Falls, brother of the bride, as groomsmen. They wore black tuxedos with fuchsia bow ties and cummerbunds. Their boutonnieres were fuchsia-tipped white roses.

Ushering the guests were Tony Lamere, friend of the bride, Joe Hayden, cousin of the groom, and Andy Cook and John Weber, both friends of the groom. They wore black tuxedos with fuchsia bow ties and cummerbunds with fuchsia-tipped white rose boutonnieres. Programs were handed out by Abby Hayden and Jill Hayden, cousins of the groom, and Chris Hagman and Daniel Hagman, cousins of the bride.

For her daughter's wedding, the mother of the bride chose a navy and fuchsia print tea length dress with puffed lattice sleeves, tied at the back. The groom's mother wore a teal and white floral print dress with a teal short sleeved jacket. Each wore a rose corsage in the wedding colors. The fathers of the couple wore black tuxedos with black bow ties and cummerbunds with sweetheart rose and bud boutonnieres accented with babies' breath.

A reception was held for the couple following the ceremony. Hosting were Elsie and Clarice Senum, godparents of the bride. Kristi Senum, friend of the bride, presided over the guest book.

Highlighting the serving table was a four tiered wedding cake, featuring a fountain and decorated with white roses tipped with fuchsia, fuchsia colored babies' breath and pearls. It was baked by Lois Bergland, friend of the bride, and cut by Violet Engstrom, aunt of the bride, and Ruth Hayden, aunt of the groom. Coffee was served by Nancy Hagman, aunt of the bride, and Judy Hayden, aunt of the groom. Duane Hagman, uncle of the bride, and Theresa Hagman, aunt of the bride, served punch.

Flower hostesses were Valerie Solem and Linda Helgeland, both friends of the bride. At the gift table were Susan Larson, friend of the bride and Rebecca Hayden, cousin of the groom.

Amy Hagman, cousin of the bride, served as waitress and Duane Hagman, Jr., cousin of the bride, as waiter. The ceremony was videotaped by Roger Hagman, uncle of the bride. Candid photos were taken by Dawn Hayden, aunt of the groom.

Following a wedding trip to the North Shore, the couple is now at home in Brainerd. The groom, a 1988 graduate of New York Mills high school, is presently a student in Secondary Education and Spanish at St. Cloud state university. The bride, a 1986 graduate of Lincoln high school and a graduate of the University of Minnesota, Morris in Elementary Education, is employed by the Brainerd school district.

Mime is grand finale for library program

A half-hour program of mime will be presented Thursday, July 25 at 2 p.m. in the Thief River Falls public library's children's room by performer RIKK as the finale for the summer reading program. This performance is free to the public and everyone is welcome to attend. Reading program awards will also be handed out at this program and all children must have their books recorded by July 23. The "library store" will be open immediately following the program for those who have earned coupons in the reading program.

RIKK is the pseudonym for Patrick Myhrer of St. Hilaire. Last year Myhrer attended the Minnesota Center for Arts Education in Golden Valley as a theatre student. He plans to do so again this year. This summer he also directed the Thief River Falls Community Arts children's theatre production, "Sheherazade and the Pillow Genie." He found his directing debut particularly rewarding. He also spent a week in March doing mime workshops in many of the elementary classes in Thief River Falls schools. "It was great," he noted, "to know I taught someone to do something -- seeing all the kids walk out doing the glass wall." Myhrer's future goals include obtaining a degree and perhaps teaching theatre arts and "getting my mom to buy me a sword."

For more information, please contact the Thief River Falls public library.

Local Kiwanis attend international convention

Recently two Thief River Falls Kiwanis club members attended the International Kiwanis convention which was held in Anaheim, CA. Cliff Larson, both a local club member and a district Lt. Governor, was honored as a sergeant-at-arms and also was one of the three on the Minnesota-North Dakota district who served on the nominations on trustees committee for the international board. Local club member Earl Gibson attended the Points of Light seminar, a seminar on volunteerism based on President Bush's slogan.

Shelly Anderson to wed Jon Melby

Shelly Jean Anderson and Jon Robert Melby, along with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Halward Anderson of Viking and Mr. and Mrs. Darol Melby of Bagley, are happy to announce their engagement and forthcoming marriage.

The bride-to-be is a 1984 graduate of Marshall County Central high school and is employed by Norwest Banks in Thief River Falls. Her fiance is a 1982 graduate of Bagley high school and a 1986 graduate of North Dakota state university. He is employed by Land O'Lakes, Inc.

An August 24 wedding is being planned at the Evangelical Covenant church in Thief River Falls.

THE TIMES' WEDDING POLICY

THE TIMES' policy on wedding write-ups is as follows:

- If the wedding took place within one month from date of receipt at THE TIMES office, a detailed write up will be published from information provided, along with a picture if submitted.
- If the wedding took place from one to three months before receipt at THE TIMES office, there will be brief write up, including names of participants but no description of decor, gowns, flowers, etc.
- For a wedding that took place from three to six months before submission to THE TIMES, we will run a brief social announcement or a picture with a short caption stating names of the bride and groom, names and addresses of parents, date and place of the wedding, and where the couple is residing.
- There will be no publication of weddings after six months have elapsed.
- Every effort will be made to publish the wedding write-up within two issues of receipt.
- Forms are available free of charge at THE TIMES office to help in organizing information about the wedding for publication. Nearly all information can be filled in on the forms prior to the wedding. To request forms by mail, send a self-addressed stamped envelope to THE TIMES, P.O. Box 100, Thief River Falls, MN 56701.
- Photographs may be picked up at THE TIMES office after the wedding write up has been published. Photographs will only be returned by mail if accompanied by a self-addressed stamped envelope.

THANK YOU

A very special Thank You is extended to everyone who sent flowers, gave cash donations, and participated in any way to make our Church Centennial a success.

A special Thanks to the Ladies of Zion for helping with the banquet.

GOD BLESS YOU ALL

Janette Bydlon-Thomas Braaten wed June 15

Janette Carol Bydlon and Thomas Anthony Braaten were united in marriage June 15 at the Zion Lutheran church in Thief River Falls. Rev. Roger Hanson officiated at the 2 p.m. double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Fred and Darlene Lowell of Plummer and George and Rochelle Bydlon of Fridley. Parents of the groom are Thomas and Diane Braaten of Plummer.

Special music was provided by Sherrie Katschke and Carrie Fallon, both friends of the couple, who sang "Wedding Song," "The Wind Beneath My Wings" and "The Lord's Prayer." Ida Nordvall, friend of the couple, served as organist.

The church was decorated with a candelabra accented by ferns and roses, lilies and babies' breath and two baskets of roses, carnations, pearls and greenery and pink and white pew bows. Another basket of roses, babies' breath and greenery was in memory of Chester Bydlon, Kathleen Lowell, Anton and Lillian Iverson and Albert and Vernie Toulouse, grandparents of the couple.

The bride chose a traditional white satin gown with Queen Anne neckline accented with pearls, sequins and rhinestones, a fitted bodice, long lace sleeves and full length satin skirt. It had a large cascading bow, a low back covered in lace and long train decorated with five bows accented with pearls, sequins and rhinestones. The bride complemented her gown with a rhinestone headpiece with floral and pearl sprays at the sides and a fingertip length veil. She carried a cascading bouquet of roses, lilies, babies' breath, pearl sprays, cascading pearls and ribbon.

Colleen Fallon of Brooks, friend of the couple, served as maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Melinda Amiot of Staples, friend of the couple, Jerilee Froiland of Plummer, friend of the couple, Lori Braaten of Plummer, sister of the groom, Stacey Braaten of Plummer, sister of the groom, and Angie Maki of Plummer, friend of the couple. They wore pink satin floor length dresses with lace covered bodices and low backs with cascading bows. Their headpieces were pink roses with sprays of pearls and ribbon. They carried crocheted fans, made by the mother of the bride, and decorated with lace, roses, baby carnations, pearls, babies' breath, ribbon and greenery.

Junior bridesmaid was Kathleen Lowell of Plummer, sister of the bride. She wore a floor length pink satin dress with three layers of satin in the back with a large bow.

Ashley Harbott of Thief River Falls, cousin of the groom, was the flower girl. She wore a floor length pink satin dress with three layers of satin in the back with a large bow and a wreath headpiece with pearls, roses and tulle. She carried a white lace basket of roses, pearls, carnations, ribbons and greenery.

The miniature bride was Stephanie Bruggeman of Thief River Falls, niece of the bride. She wore a white layered floor length dress of shiny taffeta with a large bow in back and short sleeves and a rhinestone headpiece, made by the bride and her mother, with floral and pearl sprays at the sides.

Lynnette Lloyd, sister of the bride, and Georgette Phillip, friend of the bride, served as the bride's personal attendants.

The groom was attired in a white tuxedo with tails and matching vest and bow tie, with a boutonniere of a pink rose with one bud, babies' breath and greenery.

Jeff Peters of Roseau, friend of the couple, served as best man, with Randy Koralewski of Thief River Falls, Gary Torkelson of Plummer, John Maki of Thief River Falls, Jeff Engesether of Plummer and Steven Pahlen of Plummer, all friends of the couple, as groomsmen. They wore grey tuxedos with tails and matching bow ties and vests. Their boutonnieres were roses with babies' breath and greenery.

Shawn Lowell of Plummer, brother of the bride, was the junior groomsman. He wore a grey tuxedo with tails and matching vest and tie and a boutonniere of a rose with babies' breath and greenery.

The ring bearer was Gary Tvedt of Plummer, nephew of the groom, and the miniature groom was Jacob Lloyd of Minneapolis, nephew of the bride. They wore grey tuxedos with tails and matching vests and ties and boutonniers of small roses with babies' breath and greenery.

Ushering the guests were Chad Nelson, Rodney Duden, Jason Sauve, Tammi Johnson and Mary Sullivan, all friends of the couple. Ushers wore grey tuxedos with tails, pink cummerbunds and ties and rose boutonnieres with babies' breath and greenery.

For her daughter's wedding, the mother of the bride chose a pink satin dress with lace bodice and accented with pearl necklace and earrings. The groom's mother wore an off-white tea length dress with belt and accented with gold jewelry. The fathers of the couple wore grey tuxedos with matching ties and vests and boutonnieres of two roses and babies' breath and greenery.

Honored guests at the ceremony were Dorothy Bydlon, grandmother of the bride, and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Braaten, grandparents of the groom.

A reception was held for the couple following the ceremony. Brian and Annette Bruggeman, brother-in-law and sister of the bride, and Jim and Deb Prodahl, brother-in-law and sister of the groom.

Highlighting the serving table was a four-tiered cake with cherubs, fountain, flowers and greenery. It had two stairways extending to three-tier cakes at the sides. It was cut by Linda Lowell, sister-in-law of the bride, and Joanne Anda, aunt of the groom. Coffee and dinner were served by Jeanne Bruggeman, Julie Bruggeman and Pat Heaton, all friends of the couple. Jessie Lowell, nephew of the bride, served punch.

Flower hostesses were Judy Fallon, friend of the couple, and Beverly Pahlen, aunt of the groom. At the gift table were Ryan Bruggeman, nephew of the bride, David Bruggeman, friend of the couple, and Kelsey Bruggeman, friend of the couple. Candy favors were distributed by Stephanie Bruggeman, niece of the bride, Kelsey Bruggeman, friend of the couple, and Jacob Lloyd, nephew of the bride. Waitresses were Davette Lloyd, niece of the bride, Antonette Lloyd, niece of the bride, and Kathryn Searson, niece of the bride.

The couple is now at home in Thief River Falls. The groom, a 1986 graduate of Pershing high school in Plummer, is employed by Hydro-Mac, Inc. The bride, a 1988 graduate of Pershing high school in Plummer, is employed by Valley Home and Oakland Park Nursing Home.

WIC & EPS Hold August Clinics

Women, infants and children supplemental nutritional educational program (WIC) is being held during the month of August.

Infants and children up to the age of five and women who are pregnant or breastfeeding may be eligible for the program. Prenatal nutrition is a vital part of producing a healthy baby. It is considered important to apply for WIC early in pregnancy; no proof of pregnancy is needed.

All potential clients must write to the EPS-WIC service and complete an application.

The schedule for WIC and EPS clinics for August includes August 5, 12, 15 and 16, all at the Redeemer Lutheran church in Thief River Falls.

Immunizations will be given August 16 from 9 to 9:30 a.m. only, at $3 per immunization.

For further information concerning the WIC and EPS programs, call or write: WIC/EPS, Quin County, Park Place Mall, Red Lake Falls, MN 56750 or telephone (218) 253-2125 or 1-800-223-1591 (toll free).

The WIC program must treat everyone the same. You can not be treated unfairly because of your race, color, national origin, age, sex or handicap. If you think you have been treated unfairly, you should write to: Administrator, Food and Nutrition Services, U.S. Department of Agriculture, 3101 Park Center Drive, Alexandria, VA 22302.

ELCA holds women's retreat Aug. 9-10

Summer Women's Retreat for clusters I and II of the ELCA will be held at Lake of the Woods Bible camp (Wabonica) north of Baudette on August 9-10. The retreat will begin Friday, August 9 with registration at 3 p.m. and end on Saturday following the noon lunch. The theme is "The Family of God."

There will be Bible study, music, skits, simple craft work and worship at a bonfire on the lake shore Friday evening. Women are reminded to bring a cup or mug for beverages so plastic doesn't have to be used.

Kari Peterson-Thomas Stromme wed July 6

Kari Jo Peterson and Thomas Victor Stromme were united in marriage July 6 at the Faith Lutheran church in Goodridge. Rev. Robert Dahlen officiated at the 2 p.m. double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Clarence and Janice Peterson of Goodridge. The groom is the son of Jeanette Stromme of Fargo, ND.

Special music was provided by Lisa Peterson and Peggy and Kevin Kourijean, friends of the couple, who sang "First Corinthians 13," "The Borning Cry," "Song of Ruth," "My Treasure," "In This Very Room," "The Wedding Prayer" and "An Irish Blessing." As a prelude, "The Wedding Song" was sung by the mother of the bride. Rev. Dahlen played the trumpet. Grace Hammer, friend of the bride, served as organist, playing "Trumpet Voluntary" as the processional and "Psalm 19" as the recessional.

The church was decorated with pink and white streamers and white bells.

The bride chose an ivory lace of crepe-de-chane tea length gown with scoop neckline with a V at the back, a cummerbund and long sleeves. The bridal gown and maid of honor's dress were made by the bride's mother. The bride complemented her gown with a bridal wreath of babies' breath, pearls and ivory ribbon and wore her mother's pearls. She carried an arm bouquet of white roses with babies' breath and ivory ribbon.

Becki Peterson of Hopkins served as her sister's maid of honor. She wore a dusty rose sophisticate jacquard tea length gown with long sleeves styled to match the bride's. She also wore a pearl necklace, a gift from the bride, and a headpiece to match her dress with accenting pearls and carried an arm bouquet of pink roses with babies' breath and pink ribbon.

Geraldine Peterson, aunt of the bride, served as the bride's personal attendant.

The groom was attired in a black tuxedo with a boutonniere of a white rose and babies' breath.

Brad Stromme of Kloten, ND, brother of the groom, served as best man. He wore a black tuxedo with a pink rose boutonniere accented with babies' breath.

Jesse Stromme, nephew of the groom, was the ring bearer. He wore a boutonniere of pink tipped carnations.

Ushering the guests were Jon Peterson, brother of the bride, and Zachary Stromme, Nick Stromme, Joe Ulmer and Jeremy Ulmer, all nephews of the groom. They wore boutonnieres of pink tipped carnations.

For her daughter's wedding, the mother of the bride chose a dusty pink street length dress. The groom's mother wore a street length dress of variegated pinks. Each had a corsage of pink roses and mini-carnations. The fathers of the couple wore boutonnieres pink roses and babies' breath.

Honored guest at the ceremony was Hazel Martin, grandmother and godmother of the bride.

A reception was held for the couple at the church following the ceremony. Host couples were Jack and Marlene Martin, uncle and aunt of the bride, and Tom and Sandy Ulmer, brother-in-law and sister of the groom. Hazel Martin, grandmother of the bride, presided over the guest book.

Highlighting the serving table was a four-tiered wedding cake with pillars trimmed with ivy and pearls. The cake was decorated with pearls and rose and topped with fresh roses, carnations, pearls and greenery. It was cut by Mary Stromme and Joyce Stromme, both sisters of the groom. Coffee was served by Donna Omdahl and Polly Tingom, both aunts of the bride. Jeff and Geneva Stromme, brother and sister-in-law of the groom, served punch.

Flower hostess was Elizabeth Stromme, sister-in-law of the groom. At the gift table were Jeff Ulmer, nephew of the groom, and Autumn and Laina McHam, cousins of the bride. Favors were distributed by Emily and Ashley Eislie, cousins of the bride.

Following a wedding trip to Yellowstone park and Jackson Hole, WY, the couple is now at home in Bismarck, ND. The groom, a graduate of Fargo South high school and the University of Guam, is employed by the Bismarck Tribune as head photographer. The bride, a graduate of Goodridge high school and Concordia college, is employed by St. Mary's Central high school.

LouAnn Marie Larson to wed David Rux

Jana Budke and Paul Wald wed June 22

Jana Leigh Budke and Paul Douglas Wald were united in marriage Lake Harriet United Methodist church in Minneapolis. Rev. Melvyn Budke, father of the bride, officiated at the 5 p.m. double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Rev. Melvyn and Elaine Budke of Edina and formerly of Thief River Falls. Parents of the groom are LaVina Wald of Fridley and the late Moritz Wald.

Special music was provided by Deb Ruskell, Pam Schilling and Todd Schilling, cousins of the bride, who sang "Perhaps Love," "To Me" and "In This Very Room." A trumpeter joined the organist for "Andante" for the processional and "Trumpet Voluntary" as the recessional. The organist also played "Toccata" from Symphony V as the postlude. Doris Warner, aunt of the bride, read the scripture for the ceremony.

The bride chose a traditional white satin silhouette gown that flared below the knees. The fitted, beaded bodice had a scalloped V-neck and Gibson sleeves. Delicate hemline lace bordered the flounce at the front and rose to the waist with a cathedral length train in back, accented with delicate appliques. The bride complemented her gown with a fingertip veil of sparkle illusion and headpiece of silk flowers, leaves and beads. She carried a cascading bouquet of large pink roses, stephanotis, white gladioli, Queen Anne's lace and ivy.

Carrie Budke of Minneapolis served as her sister's maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Denice Anderson Nelson and Barb Landley of Thief River Falls, Gail Voelker of Faribault, all friends of the bride, and Tricia Budke of Menomonie, WI, sister of the bride. They wore tea length floral chintz dresses and carried bouquets of pink aster, hot pink gladiola florets, Queen Anne's lace and soft greens.

Kathy Reuter Steichen and Ellen Welborn served as the bride's personal attendants.

The groom was attired in a dark gray tuxedo with tails and white bow tie and cummerbund. His boutonniere was a single large pink rose with ivy.

Jeff Boettcher of Anoka, friend of the groom, served as best man, with Mike Parvey and Mike Schmit, friends of the groom, and Jeff Wald and Mort Wald, brothers of the groom, as groomsmen. They wore dark gray tuxedos with fuchsia bow ties and cummerbunds. Their boutonnieres were miniature pink carnations and ivy.

Ushering the guests were Jeff Eckholm, Brian Falk and Jeff Lashinski, all friends of the groom, and Brian Silbernagel, cousin of the groom. They wore dark gray tuxedos with dark gray bow ties and cummerbunds with boutonnieres of miniature pink carnations and ivy.

For her daughter's wedding, the mother of the bride chose a fuchsia two piece silk dress with a wrist corsage of a white orchid with ferns and ivy on tulle. The groom's mother wore a light pink dress and had a wrist corsage of a pink orchid with ferns and ivy on tulle.

Honored guests at the ceremony were Helen Lamb of Marshalltown, IA and Shirley Budke of Cambridge, grandmothers of the bride, and Melonie Silbernagel of Melrose, grandmother of the groom.

A reception and dinner was held for the couple at the church following the ceremony. Host couples were Bill and Marlys Wolden, cousins of the bride, and John and Marie Silbernagel, uncle and aunt of the groom. Kim Foole Bergland and Kristi Thompson Numedahl, friends of the bride, presided over the guest book.

Lisa Eidem and Melonie Sosnicki, cousins of the groom, served punch. Gift bearers were David Kemper, godchild of the bride, and her sister, Katie Kemper. Flower attendant was Jan Burgad, cousin of the groom.

A wedding dance was held at the Edinborough Indoor Park in Edina.

Following a wedding trip to Estes Park, CO, the couple is now at home in Minnetonka. The groom, a graduate of Anoka high school and St. Cloud state university, is employed by FluiDyne Engineering in Minneapolis. The bride, a graduate of Lincoln high school and St. Cloud state university, is employed by LifeUSA in Minneapolis.

Agder

Myrtle Solberg and Bernice Trochmann called on Ella Overum at the Valley Home Thursday afternoon.

Emma Pederson of Oklee accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Larry Gustafson to the cities Sunday, where they attended the funeral of James Johnson. Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Williams, Mr. and Mrs. Don Jorde and Mr. and Mrs. Mike Parent of Anoka were also among those who attended the funeral.

The Pennington County Fair is over and was an outstanding success. Attendance was estimated to be near 60,000. Some light rain dampened fair goers early in the five day event, but it also served to boost crowds as it put farm and yard work on hold.

It was very interesting to read and see all the pictures in the July 16th Times. Congratulations are extended to all the 4-H members and their parents for all the work. In winning grand championship for their exhibits, congratulations are again extended to everyone.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Barth spent the weekend at the Kyle Kaushagen home at International Falls, enroute they were dinner guests at the David Barth home at Warroad, Friday. They also called at the Bill Barth home. Andy Barth is spending this week helping his grandfather on the farm.

Recruitment of students for Head Start

Recruitment of preschool children for the 91-92 Head Start Program is continuing. If you have a child that will be 3 through 5-years-old as of September 1, 1991, and are interested in finding out more about Head Start or applying for enrollment, please call the central Head Start office in Badger at 528-3227 or the teacher in your area at 874-3145 or 222-3439. If you have previously applied for this fall's program, you do not need to apply again.

Head Start, operated by Northwest Community Action, Inc., Badger, serves families in Eastern Marshall, Roseau, Lake of the Woods, and Kittson counties. Head Start programs are located in Lancaster, Hallock, Karlstad, Newfolden, Middle River, Grygla, Greenbush, Badger, Wannaska, Roseau, Warroad, and Baudette.

Head Start has served our area for 25 years as a comprehensive child development program. Children and their parents receive assistance in learning the necessary skills to have a successful school experience. The program also provides activities in the areas of education, health, social services, parent involvement to all enrolled children and special services to children with special needs. Head Start is offered to eligible families to meet the income guidelines or have children with special needs or handicaps.

If you have a child or know of a child who will be 3, 4, or 5 years old by September 1 and are interested in Head Start, please call 528-3227 for more information.

Donna Myhrer

1891 — One Hundred Years Ago

The county superintendent of schools, E. J. Gretthen, is in St Hilaire this week looking over the schools in this vicinity.

It is rumored that the Alliance is figuring on building a flat house to buy grain here this fall.

—George Williams has quit driving the creamery wagon for S. M. Hoff and will go below to work during harvest and threshing.

1901 — Ninety Years Ago

—The young son of M. Cloutier, the French merchant, was accidentally shot over the eye with a .22 rifle last week.

—The following were elected to the new consolidated school board of Thief River Falls: C. E. Winslow, E. E. Zeh, Mrs. S. R. Staples, C. L. Dobner, Mrs. C. C. Jackson and Lars Backe.

—T. G. Thompson has purchased the Bean & Johnson hardware store here.

1911 — Eighty Years Ago

—Citizens who live near the river below the dam are complaining of the odor of the sewage which flows into the river below the dam. If the water doesn't rise soon, Thief River Falls will be up against another problem.

—It is expected that the Thief River Falls power station will reopen soon and electric lights will be restored.

—Availability of a capable car for $350, approximately the cost of a horse and buggy, has made automobiles within the means of most citizens, instead of being considered an indication of spendthrift habits.

1921 — Seventy Years Ago

—First rye to be threshed in this locality was marketed July 26.

—Friends and neighbors held a surprise party for John Hegrenes of Silverton township, who recently broke his leg, and presented him with $400.

—A rest room complete with with cribs, cots and cold water, will be provided in the women's building at the fair this year.

1931 — Sixty Years Ago

—The annual Pennington county 4-H picnic will be held Wednesday at the Henry Oen farm.

—The first of a new type of harvester-thresher to be distributed from Thief River Falls was sold by the C. Gustafson and Son to Gust Hillyer.

—E. M. Bennes and A. E. Mattson were unanimously reelected to the school board, 41 votes being cast.

1941 — Fifty Years Ago

—Seventeen Pennington county residents were admitted to U. S. citizenship in proceedings conducted by Judge Oscar Knutson.

—A. B. Stenberg, Thief River Falls chief of police for the past ten years, resigned effective August 15 to resume working for the Soo Line railroad.

—Local drive for scrap aluminum was termed a success.

1951 — Forty Years Ago

—Corporal Morlow Davidson was one of the 40 enlisted men chosen from the 47th Infantry Division at Camp Rucker, Alabama to serve as military escorts for queen candidates at the Minneapolis Aquatennial.

—A dozen objectors appeared at a city council hearing to oppose a storm sewer project on the west side of the city.

—The fiftieth annual Pennington county fair will open a four-day run on August 1.

1961 — Thirty Years Ago

—Unit citations for music, Americanism, poppy sales, national security and civil defense were presented to the Thief River Falls American Legion auxiliary unit at the 43rd annual department convention in St. Paul.

—The legion municipal band will hold at the fairgrounds.

—Eight area girls will compete for the title of Miss Aquacade here next week.

1971 — Twenty Years Ago

—New clinical psychologist at Northwestern hospital is Richard Listiak.

—The 70th annual Pennington county fair will open Thursday.

—Randi Myhrer was chosen queen of the 4-H style revue held in the city auditorium.

1981 — Ten Years Ago

—A new event at this year's Pennington county fair was a mud wrestling competition.

—Kathy Dyrdal, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donavon Dyrdal of rural Thief River Falls, was selected to spend a year in Sweden under the Rotary International Youth program.

—The Thief River Falls Jaycee Women are sponsoring a baby photo contest.

THIEF RIVER FALLS TIMES

Thief River Falls, Pennington County, Minnesota July 24, 1941

From The Times Files of Fifty Years Ago

Large Audience Hears Band Concert

"A record-sized audience assembled Friday evening at the west side park to hear a concert presented jointly by the Thief River Falls and Red Lake Falls municipal bands, Vern Klofenheim, director of the local group, and Loren Amdahl, director of the Red Lake Falls band, alternated in directing the musicians. The local band is scheduled to make return appearance at Red Lake Falls Friday evening of this week."

This Area Has Heat Wave

"The northwest experienced its first protracted heat wave of the summer this week when the mercury mounted locally to the vicinity of the 95-degree mark each afternoon starting Sunday. Rainfall during the past week included .35 inch last Thursday and a trace Wednesday."

From The Editorial Page

"Are you one of those optimistic farmers who expect a big crop of grain this year? If so, maybe you should start figuring out what you are going to do with the crop after you get it threshed. There seems to be a shortage of storage space. In Kansas railroads have refused to accept shipments of grain for storage because no storage room is available. A thousand carloads of grain are on siding down there with no place to unload. Farmers are piling the grain in their fields. It already is a serious problem and isn't going to become less serious as the harvest moves north."

Gospel Tent Meetings To Start

"Beginning Sunday, July 27, Gospel meetings will be conducted by Rev. I. T. Mark and Rev. Wm. J. Ayotte, at the Gospel Tent, corner of Horace Ave., and Fourth Street. Rev. Mark has had a varied experience in Gospel work, having conducted over 100 meetings in the states of Michigan, Ohio, and Indiana. Rev. Ayotte is pastor of the Church of God at Grand Forks, N.D. Services will be held every evening except Saturday, and all are invited to attend."

City Considers Second Fire Unit

"The city council at an adjourned session Friday evening will open bids on an auxiliary fire fighting unit for the local fire department, City Clerk P. O. Pederson said today."

Over 500 Mattresses Made In County

"Over five hundred mattresses have now been made in the Pennington county mattress program. This brings the program past the half-way mark in the county as there are on file approximately one thousand applications. There are two centers in the county: one at Thief River Falls and one at Highlanding. Each center is capable of turning out about sixty mattresses a week but cannot run full capacity as the county allotment in ticks per week is only fifty. Unless the allotment is increased the program will probably be continuing through August and September."

—Congratulations to the group of Pennington county residents who were made American citizens last Friday. The nation to which they have sworn allegiance isn't perfect, but it is about the best there is in this world.

—Here's hoping that that aluminum ware shower is a big success in Pennington county.

—A Minneapolis girl was named Aquatennial queen Friday. Fortunately for her, Thief River Falls didn't have a candidate.

—Leon Henderson is one Washington New Dealer who deserves public support in his effort to head off a disastrous inflation.

—Developments of the past week indicate that the Minneapolis police chief is indeed sitting on the hot seat.

—Strange to say, a Northfield man complains that women's slacks aren't always sufficiently slack.

—A half-century ago, they tell us, our grandparents built churches at the crossroads, and now we build taverns.

—A Sunday paper carried this ad in typically abbreviated style: For Rent - Bdrm with two wdws. We gather that bdrm means bedroom; but there is room for speculation as whether wdws refers to widows or windows.

—This is the time of year when grain farmers are holding their breath.

St. Hilaire, Polk County, Minnesota July 29, 1891

From Newspaper Files of One Hundred Years Ago

Social Events

"The ladies of the Norwegian Lutheran church are preparing for a social to be given in the new church next Thurday evening. A musical program consisting of singing by the Norwegian and M.E. choirs and selections by the Orchestra will be rendered. Refreshments, consisting of ice cream, cake and coffee will be served. All are cordially invited to attend. No admittance fee will be charged and the usual price for refreshments."

"The St. Hilaire String Band will give a grand ball in the Hoff Hall on Friday evening July 30th. The boys have been at considerable expense lately buying instruments and hiring a teacher and deserve the patronage of every person in town. They are practicing every evening and will furnish some excellent music. The floor of the hall will be wased for the occasion. Tickets for the dance will be sold at only fifty cents each so as to enable all to attend. Supper extra. All are cordially invited to attend."

Notes on the Local Wheat Crop

"Two weeks more of this weather and we will commence to harvest the largest and best crop of wheat this country has ever seen. Never in the history of the country has wheat looked as fine as it does today. If no accidents happen the yield will be enormous, running from twenty-five to forty bushels to the acre. The straw is very heavy, stands very thick and is fully five feet high. The heads are from four to six inches long. Very little has lodges so far competent judges think it will be ready for the binder in about two weeks."

"August Erickson brough in some samples of wheat from his farm yesterday. The heads he brought in will average from fifty to sixty grains of wheat to the head. It should go at least forty bushels to the acre."

Agder . . . .

First I will have to correct the bad error I had in the last week news.

I owe Ray and Bernice Barth an apology. I hope I got it correct this time. It was their son-in-law and daughter Mr. and Mrs. Tom Oscarson of Red Lake Falls who celebrated their 25th wedding anniversary June 22. Mr. and Mrs. Ray Barth were among the many who attended the celebration.

LETTERS

To The Editor:

I have been angry over the Times decision to raise the paper rate to 75 cents for several weeks. My anger has not subsided.

First, as an advertiser, it has affected my customers. The price raise has lost over the counter sales and I have lost circulation. This is not the product I have been buying and paying for. I am not getting my dollar's worth in advertising.

Secondly, you can purchase the St. Paul Pioneer Press for 25 cents throughout Minnesota and the Minneapolis Tribune for 35 cents in the metro market. Do you think we should charge twice as much for the Times?

We (the Times and its advertisers) should be concerned about getting the paper into our customers' hands at a reasonable cost. Seventy-five cents is not reasonable.

As a Times reader I can buy a subscription to save money per issue. As an advertiser I can stop buying space and use my advertising dollars elsewhere.

Mr. Mattson, it is time to return to a 50-cent product. Your customers—and certainly mine—deserve it.

Sincerely,

Dick Bjorkman

To The Editor:

I appreciated MaDonna Gunderson's letter in the July 16 paper. I was beginning to think that I was the only one looking at the water situation from a health standpoint. I have read in health magazines that chlorinated water is bad for people with heart problems.

I really don't care much what they do to the water plant as most of the water goes for flushing toilets and watering lawns, etc. It seems a shame to spend all that money purifying it for that. Yet I don't think I am in favor of using well water for that either. Everyonce in awhile you hear in the news about a house being swallowed up by a cave-in because of the empty space where water has been removed. It would be scary to run out of well water, wouldn't it?

But we aren't all lucky enough to have a daughter with a well, so isn't there anyone else in town who thinks like I do—that we should have a public well for the city where those who wish to can go and fill their jugs? Sure, I realize there would be problems and red tape, but nothing that couldn't be worked out. I buy well water at the store so that makes at least three jugs a week added to the garbage problem.

O, yes, and all those gas pumps they are talking about putting so close to our water supply is scary, too. I sure hate the thought of another monstrosity coming in and putting more of our small businesses out of business.

Sincerely,

Donella Larson

My Time

John P. Mattson Publisher

The Times recognizes the concerns that Mr. Bjorkman raises in his letter. We are the first to recognize that the Times is not just a product put out by a company, but rather a product that has elements of input from the entire community it serves.

We constantly try to balance the needs of three interested constituents in pricing our local community newspaper, namely advertisers, subscribers and single copy buyers.

In part, our single copy price increase will allow us to keep our subscription and advertising rates at their current levels.

Yes, large daily newspapers carring national news sell at single copy prices less than the Times. They always have and they probably always will. The reason is simple: advertisers carry more of the load for producing a newspaper in the metro area.

We are proud of our loyal readers who have paid a larger single copy price with very little complaint. Nobody likes increasing prices, but they are a fact of life. Local newspapers nationwide have had to increase single copy prices in order to offset the constant increase in all costs of producing a community newspaper, especially in the areas of postage, newsprint and photographic and printing chemicals.

Thankfully, Times readers have been willing to pay a large proportion of the operating revenue of the Times, which helps keep advertising rates at reasonable cost for businessmen like Mr. Bjorkman.

Surprisingly, our per copy price increase has not affected the number of single copy sales. Our latest 75 cents per copy issue was our best single copy seller in the last three months.

A challenge to Mr. Bjorkman: You are invited to spend a week at the Times as a guest publisher. If, after that time, you still feel the same way, we can explore the possibility of reducing the price of the Times.

Speaking Of ...

by Sharon LaCoursiere

. . . Bare Bulges

The latest issue of a popular women's magazine features a very nude, very pregnant, popular actress on its cover. Some people don't like the picture at all. In fact, the publisher had to put little white jackets on the magazines to hide everything below the actress' neck after complaints from stores.

I guess it's all how you look at it, isn't it? Some people, like the magazine's editor (who else, no less) claim the picture is "beautiful," like "great Madonnas or a Picasso." Others think that a bulging bare belly belongs under wraps, so to speak.

I, for one, see nothing bad about a pregnant tummy. I've seen a few in my time, mostly in the privacy of my own home in the mirror. I would never have dreamed of putting what I saw there on public display in all its bare glory, though. (Sometimes it was bad enough having to display it in its covered glory.)

Plastering such a plenitude of pregnancy, bare, on the cover of a major magazine just seems inappropriate, somehow. It isn't that the picture is ugly, or "dirty," but that there is a time and a place for everything and the cover of a magazine that is sold in every convenience store, supermarket and drug store in the country is just not the place to put a picture of the "bare facts of life."

If it didn't appear that the reasons behind the picture were sensationalism and the quest for John Q. Public's almighty dollar, I might feel differently.

The fact that news of the issue has hit every major television network and newspaper since it came out, and the fact that issues of the magazine have sold like hotcakes in the stores, even selling out in some, seems to confirm my suspicion that altruism and fine feelings for the fecund feminine form were not the reasons behind the picture.

The fact that other pictures inside the magazine show the expectant mother-to-be in lacy undies and high heels and in a slinky negligee, baby-to-be and all, seem to uphold my suspicion that sensationalistic sex, and of course the bucks to be gained therefrom, are the reasons for the spread, rather than the beauty of pregnancy and motherhood.

The fact that Ms. Moore has flaunted her, all-be-it fine, bare, pre-pregnancy form in unfettered glory in other publications also gives rise to the speculation that she might be seeking some additional publicity by this most recent display.

The fact that the tumid tummy in question is tanned and totally lasting some of the more unpleasant side effects of a second pregnancy, stretch marks, splotches, protruding tummy button and the like, may lead one to wonder if the picture might not be as "natural" as it claims to be. Could it be that Mother Nature, beautiful as she is, was aided by the air brush in producing this "natural" tribute to pregnancy and motherhood?

Nevertheless, it's all in how you look at it. They say that beauty is in the eyes of the beholder. My daughter-in-law is sporting a bit of a bulge now too and, judging from the way my son looks at her, she is mighty beautiful and getting more so every day. She keeps her little bulge covered, however, and that's the way it should be.

since being assigned to his position. The club doubled in membership last year and is expected to double its membership again this year.

"To join the club a person has to own an Arctic Cat snowmobile and pay a $20 annual membership fee," Harbott explained. "In return the member receives a membership pin, membership card which admits him or her to Cat's Pride club special events, a video of the coming year's products, coupons for discounts valued at $45 to $50 on accessories and discounts on club events such as rides ranging in area from Quebec to West Yellowstone. There is even a 'Cat's Pride Melt-Down'—which is a Caribbean cruise."

Harbott said that club benefits grow as the club grows and the larger membership allows for more events and participation.

"Most of the club members are hard-core snowmobilers," Harbott said, "the kind of people who save up their time to take vacations in the winter."

The Gorenflos probably fit that mold. They ride in the Adirondack mountains and in Quebec and last year made a snowmobiling trip to West Yellowstone, MT. They plan other snowmobiling trips this year and include their two daughters, seven-year-old Melanie and two-year-old Megan, in their rides.

Gary has a heating and cooling company and Barbara is in health care administration at Beechwood Nursing home. Tonawanda is near Buffalo, NY.

One of the reasons Gary said he ordered early this year was "to secure the sled." He placed his order through Marcellus Sales at Earlville, NY. The reason was probably a good one, since production of a number of the 22 models Arctco is producing for 1992 has been sold out.

Gary said he was impressed with the teamwork shown by workers on the Arctco assembly line and their apparent interest in their jobs and pride in doing them well. He said he also appreciated the fact that they didn't seem to mind when he and Barbara came along with their sled on the line.

Barbara had never been through an assembly plant before (Gary had watched furnaces and air conditioners being built) and was surprised that the manufacturing time for their snowmobile was only an hour and a half.

The contest to watch the snowmobile being built is only one of several open to Cat's Pride club members. Another gives away a new 1992 Arctic Cat snowmobile and a third pays expenses for the winner to travel to a site near West Yellowstone, get a sneak preview of the new models for 1993 and appear in the 1993 product video.

This was the second year of the annual contest to allow a winner to watch the sled being built. Had the winners lived closer to the plant, they could have viewed the process, loaded the sled on the trailer and pulled it home with them.

Because of the distance, however, air travel was provided and the sled was crated for shipment to the New York dealer for delivery.

"I probably won't pick it up until later this fall," Gary said. Although a hard-core snowmobiler, he apparently doesn't sneak out to the garage in August to sit on his snowmobile, squeeze the throttle, make engine noises deep in his throat and fantasize about snow.

But that is understandable—he still hasn't had a season on his own Arctic Cat.

Lynnae Broten to participate in TRF pageant

Lynnae is currently a student at the Thief River Falls technical college where she is enrolled in the architectural drafting and design program. She says drafting allows her to use her creative mind and hands.

Having taken private skating lessons for six years and skated in a number of competitions, she was accepted for the chorus of Walt Disney's World on Ice and toured with that professional show for six months. She has also taken jazz and ballet dance classes, attended skating workshops and been a skating instructor.

While in high school she was voted most valuable cheerleader, was co-captain of the precision skating line for two years, and letters in DPFS skating, precision line, track, cheerleading and band.

In the county 4-H club program she earned state fair trips in construction and fashion, was 4-H fashion revue queen four times and participated in the state 4-H horse show twice. She also won the district and advanced to the state make-it-yourself-with-wool contest.

She has worked locally at The Main Line and Mr. Duane's clothing stores. Lynnae has one sister, Rona, 26 and one brother Aaron, 16. Her hobbies include skating, rollerblading, horseback riding, hunting, being in the outdoors and relaxing with friends.

When she completes her drafting course work Lynnae plans to work in that field. She says she would like to become involved in a program to help the homeless. It is also her intention to continue with her ice skating as a coach and for her own self-improvement.

State economic indicators show improvement

Most state economic indicators rose significantly in May, Commissioner R. Jane Brown of the Minnesota department of Jobs and Training announced. Brown said the rising indicators present strong evidence that the six-month economic downturn may be over.

"It now appears that the state went into a shallow recession in October 1990 which lasted through March 1991," Brown said.

The coincident index combines measures of employment, retail sales and manufacturing hours to predict economic trends in Minnesota. The index rose to 138.0 in May.

The index's recent low was 136.2 in March after a peak of 138.9 in September 1990. The prior drop of 1.9 per cent pales beside the 6.7 per cent lunge in the national coincident index. Moreover, the U.S. recession lasted three months longer than Minnesota's.

Business activity is now on the rise in all three categories — retailing, construction and manufacturing — whereas in the past few months, activity increased in only one or two categories. Building permits in particular surged in May, setting the stage for a vibrant economy to continue.

Overall winner in the seventh annual Thief River Falls Pepsi-Cola Triathlon Saturday was Jim Sandor of Winnipeg, who did the 500-yard swim, 12-mile bike and 3-mile run in 55:36.

Rain-soaked Thief River Falls event...

Triathlon held Saturday

Rain and stormy conditions delayed, but didn't stop the seventh annual Thief River Falls Pepsi-Cola Triathlon Saturday.

And despite the wet weather, both the male and female winners set course records.

Jim Sandor of Winnipeg was the overall winner, completing the 500-yard swim, 12-mile bike and 3-mile run in 55-minutes, 36-seconds – over one minute faster than the course record set one year ago. He turned in the fastest split times in all three stages of the race.

Another Winnipeg entry, Mikey Guzej, set a women's division record with a 1:05.7 effort. Her time not only shattered the previous course record by over 8 1/2 minutes, it was also better than all but four of the male competitors.

A thunderstorm delayed the start of the race and rain fell throughout much of the bike portion of the competition.

Added to the race line-up this year this year was a relay triathlon and a kids triathlon.

Fastest relay team was a men's combination of Kollman, Kajeusk and Tine of Thief River Falls in 1:09.29. Mixed relay was won by Fjosne, Carlson and Thompson of Karlstad in 1:11.38 and the women's relay was won by a two-person team of Hoverstad-Lee in 1:29.30.

While the adult triathletes competed in the rain, the sun came through for the kids' portion of the event. Two dozen participants, ranging in age from 6 to 13, took part in the inaugural event featuring a 50-yard swim, 2.4-mile bike and 1.2-mile run.

First place boy was Brian Thompson of Karlstad in a time of 19-minutes, 20-seconds. Girls winner wes Kate Ihle of Thief River Falls in 21:07.

Age group winners for the kids included Ben Worker, Thief River Falls, boys 6-under; Mike Langland, Thief River Falls, boys 7-8; Eric Rogers, Argyle, boys 9-10; Thompson, boys 11-12; Afton Hanson, Karlstad, girls, 9-10; Ihle, girls 11-12; Tara Lynn Nesland, Thief River Falls, girls 13-over. There were no entries in the girls 8-under category.

The races were sponsored by the Pepsi-Cola Bottling Company, Hugo's and the Falls Clinic division of Dakota Clinic Ltd. Race director Jim Langland indicated the importance of such sponsors because of the high cost of liability insurance for the events. He expressed thanks to Rod Sletten of Pepsi, Gary Anderson of Hugo's and Jan Nyflot of the Falls Clinic for their support.

Lakers select coach

Steve Fode has been appointed as the new head boys high school basketball coach at Detroit Lakes.

The 31-year-old Fode succeeds Bob Gorden, who led the Lakers for three years before stepping down at the end of the 1990-91 season.

Fode has been at Reeder, ND the past four year, where he was head boys and girls basketball coach, track coach and athletic director.

Meanwhile, the search continues for a head boys basketball coach in Thief River Falls to succeed Tom Hunt. Both Hunt and girls head coach Tom Schefer resigned after the 1990-91 season. Sally Wiltse was named earlier to take over the girls program.

Golf Club busy

League play, junior program and weekend tournament activity keeps the Thief River Golf Club busy, but members and non-residents are still afforded plenty of opportunity to test the 9-hole course.

Men's and women's league play tie up the schedule Tuesdays and Wednesdays, but the course is open the rest of the week, point out Club officials.

Rates are $8 for nine holes, $13 for 18 holes and $15 for all day. Cart rentals are $9.50 for nine holes and $16.75 for 18 holes.

For additional information, or to reserve a tee-off time, call the Pro Shop at 681-2955. Tom Olson is the club pro.

Mayville signs Poole

Mayville State University officials have announced that 1991 Lincoln High School graduate Corey Pool has signed a letter of intent to enroll at the North Dakota school and play baseball with the Comets.

Poole was a standout hockey and baseball player with the Prowlers.

Warriors pick coach

Eveleth High School and Bemidji State University graduate Pat Porte has been named as the new head high school hockey coach at Brainerd, where he succeeds Chuck Whalen.

The 25-year-old Porte was an assistant at Mora and Austin the past two years.

Playoffs are set in Tier II

Tony Sipe League American Legion baseball tournament got underway Monday for area Tier II teams.

Red Lake Falls and the Thief River Falls Bombers were tabbed 1-2, respectively, at the post-season seeding meeting Saturday for the 10-team event that serves as a qualifying playoff for the Ninth District Tier II tournament next week in Ada.

Tony Sipe Playoff Seeding Positions

1. Red Lake Falls; 2. Thief River Falls Bombers; 3. Ada, 4. Bagley; 5. Warroad, 6. Halstad, 7. Fertile; 8. Fosston; 9. Mahnomen; 10. Winger.

However, a nine-team playoff format was drawn up since No. 10-seeded Winger decided not to participate in post-season play.

No. 8-seeded Fosston hosted No. 9 Mahnomen Monday to round out the eight-team, double-elimination field that includes quarterfinals Thursday in Ada.

The draw will find Red Lake Falls taking on the Fosston-Mahnomen winner at 1 p.m., No. 4-seeded Bagley vs. No. 5 Warroad at 3 p.m., Thief River Falls vs. No. 7 Fertile at 6 and No. 3-seeded Ada vs. No. 6 Halstad at 8.

Play continues Friday and Saturday using the 1, 3, 6 and 8 p.m. starting times. Sunday games will be played at 2 p.m. (final loser's bracket match-up) and 7 p.m. (finals). If needed, the Sunday night finalists will meet again Monday at 2 p.m.

Top four finishers will advance to the state tournament-qualifying Ninth District Tier II tournament.

Darin Wald turned in a four-hit pitching effort, including six shutout innings, as Thief River Falls beat Detroit Lakes 5-3 Monday in the first half of a Ninth District American Legion baseball doubleheader in Thief River Falls.

Detroit Lakes, TRF split Legion games

Post 117 won the opener 5-3, with the visiting Lakers grabbing a come-from-behind 9-8 decision in Game 2.

A Ninth District homestand will continue for the Howard Dalager-coached Thief River Falls squad with a 5:30 p.m. Thursday doubleheader against Moorhead and 1 p.m. Saturday twinbill vs. Karlstad at Irv Wilson Field. Regular season play will end with a 6 p.m. game at Roseau Monday.

Thief River Falls will host the eight-double, double-elimination Ninth District tournament August 1-4.

Detroit Lakes is 15-8 for the year.

Thief River Falls	5
Detroit Lakes	3

Darin Wald threw six shutout innings, limiting Detroit Lakes to just four base hits, as Thief River Falls picked up a 5-3 first-game win.

All of the Thief River Falls scoring was bunched into the third inning, but the 5-0 cushion became a two-run game when Detroit Lakes came right back with a three-run fourth. However, neither side would score again.

Thief River Falls did all of its scoring with two out, starting with a two-run Mitch Bernstein home run to right field. The six-hit inning also included a two-run fade-away double with the wind to right field by Mike Swanson and a ground ball single through the left side by Barry Dowers.

Detroit Lakes collected three of its four base hits in the Lakers' next at-bat, including RBI singles by Mike Gunderson and Marcus Rhode, along with a run-producing wild pitch.

Wald finished with four strikeouts and three walks. Detroit Lakes pitcher Nik Alexander struck out four and walked one.

Bernstein and Dowers, along with the Lakers' Gary Vogt, were 2-for-3.

Detroit Lakes	9
Thief River Falls	8

Detroit Lakes came up with a five-run seventh inning to edge Thief River Falls 9-8 in the doubleheader nightcap.

Four Thief River Falls errors played a big part in the Lakers' final-inning rally, along with singles by Gary Vogt, Nik Alexander and Greg Henderson as Detroit Lakers turned a 7-4 deficit into a 9-7 lead.

Thief River Falls came back in the bottom of the seventh with a lead-off walk issued to Mike Rokke, a wild pitch, an error on a ball hit by Pete Balmer and an RBI single by Kyle Evenson.

But despite putting five runners on base, that was the lone Thief River Falls run of the inning. A sacrifice by Barry Dowers moved the runners up, but a fielder's choice play on a ball hit by Corey Offerdahl resulted in an out at the plate. Jon Hams drew a walk to load the bases before an infield ground-out ended the threat.

Evenson went the distance on the mound, striking out six and walking two.

Rokke was 3-for-3 with three RBI, including a two-run first inning home run. Evenson was 2-for-4 with three RBI. Pat Sims, Gary Vogt, Marcus Rhode and Greg Henderson all had two hits apiece for the Lakers.

Lake Region Classic completed...

Bombers win title

Championship trophy was finally awarded in the Lake Region Classic American Legion baseball tournament Saturday when the Thief River Falls Bombers edged Park River, ND 4-3 by scoring a tie-breaking run with two out in the bottom of the seventh inning.

The eight-team tournament was originally scheduled to be played June 29-30 in Devils Lake, ND. First two rounds were completed that Saturday, but the Sunday finals were wiped out by rain.

A July 3 meeting in Thief River Falls was picked out as a make-up date for the title game, but those plans had to be scrubbed because of another rain shower. The two teams then decided to try it again Saturday in Park River, and this time got it in.

Thief River Falls beat Winnipeg 4-3 and stopped Devils Lake 7-6 in those June 29 quarterfinals and semifinals. Park River defeated Ralette 8-3 and Grafton/St. Thomas 2-1 to reach the finals. Both semifinal games went into extra innings.

Saturday's encounter was turned into a doubleheader with the addition of a five-inning second game, and it wound up as a 4-4 tie, completing the Bombers' 1991 regular season schedule at 35-12-1.

TRF Bombers	4
Park River	3

Jason Svir beat out an infield hit with two out in the bottom of the seventh inning to score Jeremy Olson from third base, giving the Bombers a dramatic 4-3 championship game win.

A three-run third inning Park River home run stood up until Thief River Falls tied it with a run in the sixth on a single by Svir, a two-base error and an RBI infield ground-out by Nathan Knutson.

Olson drew a one-out walk to set up the tie-breaking seventh inning run. A two-out bloop single by Trevor Haugen dropped just into the right field foul line, sending Olson to third, and he scored when Svir beat the throw to first on a ground ball to the shortstop.

The Bombers were out-hit 9-6, but Svir was 3-for-4 and Rick Ostby went 2-for-3.

Olson was the starting and winning pitcher, striking out one and walking four in a full seven-inning

TRF Babe Ruth players to have pick-up games

Pick-up games for the Thief River Falls Babe Ruth baseball teams will be played Wednesday and Friday, according to program director Myron Peterson.

The games will be played from 9 a.m. to 12-noon, with the 13-year-olds playing at Irv Wilson Field and the 14-15-year-olds playing at Northland Community College.

Players are also asked to turn in uniforms Friday during the pick-up game schedules.

A two-run rally by Thief River Falls in the top of the fifth and final inning produced the 4-4 second game tie.

Lack of lights prohibited the coaches from even considering extra innings to break the stalemate in the planned five-inning affair.

Jason Svir and Jeff Stengrim were both 2-for-2 to lead the Bombers' offense. Svir also stole three bases, including a steal of home, and Stengrim drove in two runs.

Trailing 4-2 to start the fifth, the Bombers pulled within 4-3 on an RBI double by Marc Haugen and tied it on a single by Stengrim moments later.

Jason Niemi had his first pitching outing of the year for the Bombers, working the first three innings before giving way to Trevor Haugen. They struck out four and walked six.

Northwest Eye Clinic wins title

Northwest Eye Clinic of Thief River Falls claimed championship honors in the 16-team Thief River Falls Western Days Invitational men's slow pitch softball tournament Sunday.

In the qualifying games for the three-division format, Northwest Eye Clinic beat Thief River Stone's Mobile Radio 5-0 while losing to Thief River Falls Rusty Nail 13-12 in 10 innings.

In divisional play, Northwest Eye Clinic handled Grand Forks Bun Lounge 18-3, out-scored Thief River Falls Busch 22-13 and then edged Mahnomen GTA 7-6 with a seventh inning rally in the finals. Down 7-4 with two out and nobody on base in the seventh, Northwest Eye Clinic wound up winning on a three-run Rick Engelstad home run – his second homer of the game.

Lifeguard training class is offered

Lifeguard training class will be held August 5-23 at the Franklin Middle School pool.

Participants must be at least 15-year-olds old and must have current first aid and CPR certification.

Classes will be held from 8-9 a.m. Monday through Friday. Cost of the program is $20, plus books. You can register during open swimming hours at the pool July 29, August 1 and 2.

For additional information contact Ryan Lokken at 681-4942.

Reivers' season ends

Error-plagued Middle River ended its 1991 amateur baseball season Sunday with losses to Warroad 7-6 and Karlstad 15-5 in the three-team, round-robin playoffs at Warroad.

Middle River was charged with eight errors in the opener, and had seven more errors in the second game.

The Dan Cwikla-coached Reivers ended the year at 7-9 overall.

Warroad	7
Middle River	6

Middle River started with a 4-0 lead, but wound up with a 7-6 ten-inning tournament-opening loss at the hands of host Warroad.

Jason Kempert collected three hits in three at-bats for the Reivers, including a lead-off home run in the top of the first inning. Dean DuChamp produced a three-run third inning home run and Corey Johnson was 2-for-5 at the plate.

Chris Nelson went the distance on the mound for the Reivers, striking out five and walking five.

Scheduled as a nine-inning game, the contest went into the bottom of the tenth before Warroad put together a single, hit-batsman and walk to load the bases with one out, setting up a game-winning single.

Middle River gave Karlstad plenty of opportunities to score, and paid the price in a [illegible] ing loss.

The seven Middle River errors were added to 15 Karlstad hits and 10 walks issued by a trio of Reivers on the mound.

The 11 Middle River hits included a 3-for-5 game by Jason Kempert, a two-run first inning home run for Dean DuChamp and two-hit games by Joel Swanson and Robb Coltom.

DuChamp was the starting and losing pitcher. Dan Cwikla took over in the fourth, and he gave way to Hunter Boldt in the ninth. Together, they struck out five.

TRF, West Fargo Split

Thief River Falls won a 13-12 first-game shoot-out, but West Fargo came back to claim a mosquito-shortened 6-2 second-game decision for a Friday night American Legion baseball doubleheader split at Irv Wilson Field.

It was the second twinbill of the year between the two teams, with West Fargo sweeping a 13-3, 9-0 doubleheader on North Dakota soil back on June 10.

Thief River Falls	13
West Fargo	12

Mike Swansen hit a second inning grand slam home run and Mike Rokke broke a seventh inning tie with a game-winning sacrifice fly as Thief River Falls outlasted West Fargo 13-12 in Game 1.

Swanson's bases-clearing shot provided Thief River Falls with a 7-1 cushion, but West Fargo battled back, taking a 12-10 lead into the bottom of the seventh inning.

The final-inning Thief River Falls rally started at the bottom of the batting order as No. 7 hitter Jamie Lorenson came up with a one-out single, pinch-hitting Kyle Evenson drew a walk and Darin Wald singled to load the bases. David Blazek tied it with a two-run single and after an infield error, Rokke plated the game-winning run on a fly ball to center field.

Swanson was 3-for-4 with five RBI, while Rokke and Mitch Bernstein both had two hits and two RBI.

Rokke started on the mound, giving way to Bernstein in the fifth.

Scheduled as a five-inning affair, Game 2 was called a 6-2 West Fargo victory after three inning when mosquitoes swarming the players, coaches and umpires prompted an early ending.

West Fargo won it with a four-run first inning, limiting Thief River Falls to a second inning RBI single by Jeff Lutovsky and a third inning triple by David Blazek that was followed by an infield ground-out and RBI for Mitch Bernstein.

Thief River Falls pitcher Mike Swanson struck out six and walked five.

Athletes reminded to complete forms

Activities Director Lee Alger reminds all Thief River Falls student/athletes to plan ahead and have the necessary forms completed before the start of the 1991 fall sports season.

A record of a current physical must be on hand at before athletes will be allowed to take part in an activity. The physicals are good for a three-year period, noted Alger, and those requiring a physical this fall are advised to schedule the exam well in advance of the opening fall practice sessions.

August 12 will mark the start of practice for football players in grades 10-12, along with girls swimming, boys and girls cross country, girls tennis and cheerleading. Volleyball for grades 9-12, plus freshman football, will start Aug. 19.

All necessary forms may be picked up at the Lincoln High School Activities Office weekdays from 8 a.m. to 12-noon and from 1 to 4 p.m.

Activity fees are $35 per sport at the high school and $20 per sport at Franklin Middle School, unless the student participates at the varsity level. There is a family fee limit of $150 for the year.

"Please do not wait until the last minute or the last day," urged Alger. "Students are not allowed to participate unless all forms and other pertinent data is turned in."

VFW 16-year-olds...

TRF Bombers clinch No. 1 spot

Thief River Falls Bombers clinched the No. 1 seed in the upcoming District 9 VFW baseball tournament for 16-year-olds with a 6-5 win over host Moorhead in the first half of a Friday doubleheader match up.

Moorhead won the second game 8-2.

The five-team, double-elimination district playoffs start Sunday at East Grand Forks, where the Bombers will be competing against Bemidji, Fergus Falls, Moorhead and East Grand Forks for state tournament berth. Pairings will be announced later this week.

TRF Bombers	6
Moorhead VFW	5

The Bombers scored twice in the top of the seventh to pull out a come-from-behind regular season title-clinching 6-5 win over Moorhead in the doubleheader opener.

A sacrifice fly by Jeremy Olson tied it 5-5 and an RBI single by Jeremy Tallum won it in the seventh.

Marc Haugen and Josh Balmer were both 2-for-3 for the winners. Rick Ostby went the distance on the mound for the win, striking out three and walking four.

DNR News

New federal Recreation Vessel Fee (RVF), enacted by the U.S. Congress last year, will require most owners of boats longer than 16 feet to display a new decal while traversing U.S. waters on Lake of the Woods, and pay an annual registration fee, effective July 31, 1991.

Lake of the Woods was specifically mentioned in new rules recently published by the U.S. Coast Guard. According to information received by the state Boat and Water Safety Office from the Second and Ninth Coast Guard Districts, boats larger than 16 feet must pay the fee and display the decal on Lake of the Woods, Lake Superior and portions of six rivers in Minnesota including the St. Croix, St. Louis, Mississippi, Minnesota, Cannon and Root.

The rules apply to Lake of the Woods and any other navigable U.S. Waters where the Coast Guard has a presence or where a craft could navigate to tidal water (an ocean) during most of the boating season. In Minnesota, this generally applies to Lake Superior and the Mississippi River, including all bays and tributary streams or rivers up to an unnavigable dam or other obstruction. On the Mississippi, RVF registration will be required below the Coon Rapids Dam, south to the Gulf of Mexico.

Annual fee is based on the size of the vessel:

- More than 16 feet but less than 20 feet - $25 per year.
- 20 feet but less than 27 feet - $35 per year.
- 27 feet but less than 40 feet - $50 per year.
- 40 feet and more - $100 per year.

Exemptions under the rule include:

(1) Non-motorized canoes, kayaks, racing shells and sculls, sailboards (non sailboats) and rowboats.

(2) Motorized foreign vessels operating less than 30 days per year in the U.S. or those with U.S. Customs Cruising Permit, lifeboats and yacht tenders from larger vessels, public vessels including those owned by state and local governments, and U.S. Coast Guard Auxiliary craft displaying the Operational Facilities Decal.

(3) Craft used by a non-profit charitable organization for teaching youths boating and seamanship may be issued a set of fee-exempt decals. Some organizations are specifically exempt from the rule including the Boy and Girl Scouts, Sea Explorer Association, and the YMCA. Others may request fee-exempt status from the Coast Guard before applying for the decals.

A set of decals will be issued for each craft. They are square in shape and approximately the same size as the Minnesota boat registration decals. They will be valid for one calendar year (or the remaining portion of a year) and will be color-coded to show the expiration in the same sequence as the state decals (green will expire at the end of 1991). There will also be a letter (A, B, C or D) depending on the size of the vessel and the fee paid. The federal decal and letter must be displayed to the rear or stern of the state decal and within six inches of the state decal.

Boat owners may order decals over the phone with a Visa or MasterCard by calling 1-800-848-2100, or by writing: U.S. RVF, P.O. Box 740169, Atlanta, GA 30321-0169. You must include your credit card information or a check payable to U.S. RVF for the correct amount. Application forms (not the decals) will be available at most Coast Guard offices and stations. Walk-in retail outlets are currently being planned.

Enforcement of the RVF will be carried out by the Coast Guard. State and county officials will not be involved in collecting the fees or enforcing the rule. For more information, boat owners may call the Coast Guard at 1-800-368-5647.

The RVF is proving unpopular with Minnesota boat owners and dealers. The fees were not based on services currently received or any future expansion of boating safety programs by the Coast Guard. None of the revenues will be returned to the states for boat and water safety programs. Bills have been introduced in both houses of Congress to repeal the RVF. However, unless the law is repealed, the RVF will become effective July 31, 1991.

Burglaries are being investigated

Pennington county sheriff's deputies are investigating two burglaries.

Burglary. On July 16 at 6:53 p.m. Pennington county sheriff's department received a report of a residential burglary in Highlanding township. A house was broken into and the door jam broken. A storm window and basement window had been removed and the house completely gone through. Several items were missing from the home including: a microwave, a couple of humidifers, a long-handled spade, a black and white television, a single-shot 12-gauge shotgun, record player with eight track and radio, 40 larger records, fan and Seth-Thomas clock with pendulum. Total theft loss was estimated at $1,376.

On July 8 at 10:13 p.m. a resident of Thief River Falls reported that someone had broken into a vacant house and shed in Kratka township. The lock on a door was broken but nothing in the home was missing. The door on the shed was pried open and a stick welder taken along with a welder helmet and a 1970-72 Arctic mini-bike prototype. The total loss was estimated at $350.

Vandalism. On July 16 at 9:20 a.m. Paul Hendrickson, Goodridge, reported that someone had scratched the rear quarter panel of his vehicle and the trunk lid. Damage loss was estimated at $300.

On July 16 at 4:14 p.m. James Slocum, Thief River Falls, reported that someone had broken off the CB antenna on his car while parked in an apartment complex parking lot on North Kinney. Damage loss was estimated at $20.

On July 13 at 11:48 p.m. Floyd Erickson, Thief River Falls, reported that while his vehicle was parked in a parking lot someone broke the window out. Damage loss was estimated at $150.

On July 18 at 7:54 a.m. Kris Rokke, reported that someone had bent the antenna on his vehicle and scratched the hood with a beverage container while he was at work at Amoco 24. Damage loss was estimated at $50.

On July 18 at 2 p.m. Peggy Landreville, Thief River Falls, reported that someone had put three holes on three different occassions in her car tire. Damage loss was $33.

On July 17 a citation was issued for theft under $200 to Holly Martinson of Thief River Falls, age 24, following a report in Juno from Hugo's that two VCR movies had not been returned.

On July 21 at 4:20 a.m. Pennington county sheriff's department received a report from Dave Flatland, route 8, Thief River Falls that someone had damaged his vehicle while it was parked at his residence in North township. Another vehicle was allegedly used to damage the right hand side of his vehicle. Damage loss was estimated at $400. It is under investigation.

Thefts. On July 18 at 10 p.m. police received a call to the off-sale liquor store. A subject had come into the store and had opened a bottle of alcohol, taken a drink and spit it out on the counter. The subject then walked out of the store. He was located at 7-11 where he was causing a disturbance. He was taken home, but at 10:30 p.m. police received a disturbance call from a residence on North Kneale. Kevin John Hamre, 28, Thief River Falls, was taken into custody and faces charges of disorderly conduct and theft.

On July 17 at 5 p.m. Robert Raymond reported tapes stolen from his pickup. About 25 to 30 tapes and cassettes were taken from his pickup while it was parked near his residence. The vehicle was locked. The theft loss was estimated at $225.

On July 20 at 9:47 a.m. Clyde Ellefson, Red Lake Falls, reported that someone had stolen two one-ton hoists and cable from his pickup which was parked in Highlanding township. Theft loss was estimated at $410.

On July 19 at 11:44 a.m. Erl's reported that someone had stolen their weed eater belonging to Mike Olson. Theft loss was estimated at $129.

Public nuisance. On July 17 at 12:45 a.m. police received a complaint of loud noise from Greendale Manor. A loud stereo and voices could be heard. Merlin Schroeder, 36, Thief River Falls, was cited for public nuisance.

Misrepresentation of age. On July 18 at 11:47 p.m. police received a call to the Rusty Nail to check the identification of an individual attempting to present what they believed was a false I.D. James Sletten, Thief River Falls, 20, was cited for misrepresentation of age to purchase alcohol.

Weapon offense. On July 17 at 6:01 p.m. police received a report that a youth had been shot in the neck with a pellet gun. Two youths involved alleged that it was not intentional. The pellet is believed to have ricocheted off of the ground before striking a youth. There were marks on the youth's neck from the pellet. A 15-year-old boy from Houston, TX, was charged with discharging a firearm within the city limits. Two B-B guns were confiscated.

Accidents. On July 17 at 4:49 p.m. police received a report of an accident in an alley between Main and LaBree and Third and Fourth street. According to the report, a car owned by Elizabeth Perfecto, Thief River Falls, and driven by Billy Sweezer, was going south in the alley while a car owned by Vern Stusynski, route 6, Thief River Falls, and driven by Lynn Marie Hagen, Thief River Falls, was coming from the parking area near Narverud's. Damages were estimated at $500 each. Sweezer was cited for no driver's license.

On July 20 at 11:14 a.m. police received a report of an accident at the intersection of Hugo's drive and Pennington avenue. According to the report, a pickup driven by Monica Bushaw, Oilby, ND, was going north on Pennington avenue, when her pickup was struck in the side by a car driven by Brent Allan Hanson, Thief River Falls, which was going east out of the driveway. Damages were estimated at $500 to the Bushaw pickup and $1,000 to the Gilby car.

On July 19 at 2:40 p.m. Pennington county sheriff's department received a report that a gate and fence belonging to the city of St. Hilaire in the park had been run over. A 15-year-old male from route 1, St. Hilaire, was cited for leaving the scene of an accident.

Other. On July 20 at 9:35 p.m. police received a report of a car driving erratically. The car did cause damage to the lawn of Don Lykken on East Greenwood. Damage loss was estimated at $10. It is under investigation.

Driving while intoxicated. On July 21 at 12:22 a.m. Pennington county sheriff's deputies arrested Nancy Anne Osbjornson, Edina, 22, for gross driving while intoxicated.

Consumption under age. On July 21 at 9:15 p.m. Pennington county sheriff's deputies working a dance in North township found a youth who had been drinking alcohol. Leah Dee Anderson, route 1, Newfolden, age 18, was cited for consumption under age.

Several dogs and cats held

Several animals can be claimed by their owners or adopted from the Thief River Falls animal pound.

The following described animals are being held in the police animal pound: a gold lab cross caught July 15 in Rocksbury township; a gray and white kitten caught July 15 at 306 South Arnold; a gray and white kitten caught in the 400 block of North Main; a gray and white kitty caught July 16 at Eighth and Main; a black lab cross caught July 17 west on Highway 1; a black kitten caught July 17 in Rocksbury township; a tan lab caught July 19 at 217 West Fourth street; a black lab caught July 19 South on Highway 59; and black and brown lab cross puppies caught July 20 on State Aid 3 by the tower.

Animals may be claimed by proving ownership and/or paying pound fees, license fees and any other expense incurred by the police department. For more information, contact the police department at 681-6161.

The Bos Team was the winner of the Chili Cook-off during Western Week festivities recently. The team brewed up a chili feast and let chili-tasters add onion, cheese, jalapeno peppers, corn chips and even honey sticks for dessert. The team also ran away with the Queen's Choice award given by the Miss Thief River Falls queen candidates. Second place in the cook-off was awarded to the High-Tech team, followed by the Hotcats of Arctco. The Hotcats were also awarded the People's Choice award.

Seat belt usage improves

Thief River Falls Police Chief Ken Froschheiser announced Tuesday that seat belt usage in Thief River Falls has increased, but more residents need to use seat belts.

Last May Chief Froschheiser announced that following a traffic count and observations by officers, seat belt usage was about 105 per cent, the lowest in Minnesota. Seat belt usage in Thief River Falls has since improved. In a count last week, he estimated that in 40 per cent of the cars observed by officers the occupants were wearing seat belts. That's better, but more residents should be wearing seat belts.

According to National Highway Traffic Safety Administration (NHTSA), about 25,000 occupants of passenger cars are killed each year, more than all the nation's homicides. Several hundred thousand more are seriously injured in traffic crashes. Increasing compliance with safety belt use laws could save nearly half of those lives and prevent many thousands of severe injuries, NHTSA says. Three point lap/shoulder belts reduce the chances of being killed or seriously injured in a crash by 40 to 55 per cent.

Chief Froschheiser has endorsed the goals of a national two-year program to increase safety belt use in the United States to 70 per cent by 1992.

The program's title — "70 % x '92" — reflects President Bush's directive to the Department of Transportation to increase the safety belt use rate from the current 49 per cent to 70 per cent by 1992. The NHTSA has begun activities on several fronts, including a new "Buckle UP — Avoid the Summertime Blues" media campaign. Many organizations and corporations are lending their support and resources.

The motoring public will see some immediate results of the initiative this summer as the Thief River Falls police joins forces with NHTSA and other law enforcement agencies across the country to promote safety belt use through public information and enforcement of seat belt laws.

Riders club presents rodeo games

The Northern Riders Saddle Club will present an all-game horse show at the Warroad Eagles Rodeo on Saturday, August 3, at 10 a.m.

The show will feature a full agenda of game events and grand and reserve champion trophies will be awarded at the pee wee, junior an senior levels.

To comply with Rodeo rules, all riders must wear Western hats, boots and long-sleeved shirts. The cost is $1.50 per event. Horse show spectators are admitted free but will need to purchase a ticket for the evening rodeo events.

REGULAR BOARD MEETING
June 24, 1991, 7:00 p.m.
S.D.S.C. Conference Room

A Regular Board Meeting of Independent School District #564 was held on Monday, June 24, 1991, at 7:00 p.m. in Conference Room A of the School District Service Center.

The following Board members were present: Maryel Anderson, Larry Belmont, Carl Clark, Hank Hallstrom, Dennis Kiesow, Harry Sjulson and Darla Twomey. Also present was Dr. Robert Duncan, Superintendent.

Chairperson Maryel Anderson called the meeting to order and Clerk Larry Belmont established that a quorum was present.

A motion was made by D. Twomey and seconded by H. Sjulson to approve the agenda as amended. Motion carried unanimously.

The following students and community organization were recognized for their recent accomplishments and contributions: Lincoln student Derek Larson for advancing to state competition in golf, Lincoln students Toni Chiodo, Joel Davis and Anthony Diaz for advancing to state competition in track, and Norwest Bank for their donation of $60.00 for the Volunteer Program recognition luncheon.

Jane Mattson, Community Ed Director, updated the Board on programs offered through that department for the summer and upcoming year. Carol Ihle and Edith Etter provided the Board with information regarding the Junior Great Books Program the Thief River Falls Alumni Foundation will fund for third graders for the upcoming school year pending School Board approval. Carol also presented the Volunteer Program End-of-Year Report.

Jean Heinrichs presented information regarding the DARE (Drug Abuse Resistance Education) Program a group of community individuals would like to offer to 6th graders in the upcoming school year in cooperation with law enforcement officials.

Mth Hoff presented an end-of year report for Franklin Middle School and reviewed the new honor roll procedures that will be put into effect next year.

A report was given by Dennis Kiesow regarding the TC Subcommittee and Business Manager Harry Natson reported on investments as of June 19. TC Business Manager Dennis Paesler presented the revised FY91 TC budget and Assistant Superintendent Orley Gunderson reported on the housing meeting held in Thief River last week, discussions regarding TC regional districts that took place at the recent TC President's Association Meeting, and communications to be utilized in the upcoming school year.

Superintendent Robert Duncan reported the Career Teacher Program will not receive state funding for the upcoming year so a decision will need to be made as to whether or not to fund it locally. The list of staff and community individuals who actively participate on school district curriculum review committees was reviewed. Dr. Duncan also reviewed the June 1 enrollment report and enrollment projections for the next three years and the end of year report for the English as a Second Language program. He also indicated the TC has recommended the name of Don Jonson for consideration as the Northwest RDC public interest representative. The Nutrition Education Mini Grant proposal in the amount of $5,000 was reviewed and discussion was held concerning options in filling the elementary principal position now open due to the resignation of Bill Desrocher. Dr. Duncan also reviewed the district's personnel needs for the upcoming school year.

A motion was made by L. Belmont and seconded by D. Kiesow to approve the Minutes of the June 10, 1991, Regular Board Meeting. Motion carried unanimously.

The Board of Managers of the Red Lake Watershed District will receive bids at the office of the Red Lake Watershed District, 102 North Main, P.O. Box 803, Thief River Falls, MN 56701 until 0:00 a.m., August 1, 1991, for the construction of the Good Lake Project Stage 2A, Red Lake Watershed District Project No. 67.

The job is located in the Red Lake Indian Reservation. The proposed work includes, but is not limited to the following major quantities:

70 ac. clearing
99,000 c.y. excavation
130,000 c.y. common borrow

Bids will be received for the entire work as one job. Bid forms are furnished with the specifications and all bids will be submitted in a sealed envelope marked Bids for construction of the Good Lake Project Stage 2A, [illegible] Lake Watershed Project No. 67 and accompanied by a certified check or [illegible] for not less than 10% of the [illegible] bid as a guarantee that the bidder will enter into a contract and furnish [illegible] as required by law.

Contractors should be aware that the Red Lake Band of Chippewa Indians require [illegible] Business License of all prime contractors. The fee for this license is $50.00 plus two percent (2%) of the project cost. Securing this license is the responsibility of the Contractor.

At the time and place specified the bids will be publicly opened and read at the office of the Board of Managers. The job will be awarded to the lowest responsible bidder subject to the requirements that a performance and payment bond be furnished to the District in the amount of 100% of the contract price. The District reserves the right to reject any or all bids and to make the award in the best interest of the District. Plans and specifications are on file and can be obtained at the Watershed District office at Thief River Falls, address above. Plans are $15.00 per set.

No bidder may withdraw his bid within thirty (30) days after the actual date of the opening thereof.

Dated this 11th day of July, 1991.

Cemetery at the Satersdal Lutheran church northeast of Thief River Falls is maintained with funds from offerings at two annual services, bequests and gifts. The church has not been used on a weekly basis since 1959 but will observe its centennial this week.

Satersdal church to celebrate its centennial

Lay Pastor Einar Olson (1937), Rev. Carl I. Ostby (1938-1942), Rev. M. G. C. Vaagenes (1942-1943), Rev. Silas Erickson (1944-1947), Lay Pastor Eddie Berg (1948), Rev. Sigurd Berg (1948-1949), Rev. Jonas Helland (1950-1958) and Rev. Lynn Luthard (1959).

In his history of the church, Lolell Dyrud provides a feel for the conditions of the times as he quotes from Rev. Elias Aas' autobiography titled "The Pioneer Pastor." Rev. Aas wrote about a Christmas Service in 1886 with the Satersdolen. The home he was looking for was that of Gunstein Svenkesen, believed to live near his brothers Jorgen and Knut in Section 22 of Excel township. Rev. Aas wrote:

"In an area where I had been the previous summer and in which I had clashed with Prof. J. T. Ylvisaker, there lived a number of people from Saetersdalen, Norway. There was much drinking among them but they were very obliging and hospitable and happy with their new pastor.

"My first Christmas service there was announced for 2nd Christmas Day at 8 o'clock in the evening. I drove from Landstad church, where I had Christmas service in the afternoon, to Scandia. It got dark and the snow covered up what tracks there were as no one had driven ahead of me. I was not yet too familiar with the road I should take since in the previous summer found my way the best I could on foot.

"I drove and drove but seemed to get farther and farther from my destination. The horses were also unfamiliar with the country, otherwise I could have done what I often had done before and let the horses find the way on their own. It got to be 8:00, 9:00 and 10:00 o'clock but I could not find the place. But I could not give up, which would have meant death in this severe cold.

"At last I saw a light not far away. Coming closer I recognized the house. It was the place where my meeting was to be and by now it was past 12:00 o'clock. There was yet one man left of those who had been waiting for me at the meeting.

"'Well,' said I, 'I suppose there is nothing that can be done about the meeting.'

"'Oh, yes,' said the man, 'now that you have come we must have our meeting.' Then he disappeared into the darkness and the cold, and after an hour's time, the house was full of people.

"Just as I was ready to begin the worship service, after having recorded several children for baptism, I was told there was to be a 'churching.' Then I remembered that in Norway it was the custom, when a woman attended church for the first time after having given birth to a child, that the pastor would give a talk to her at the entrance and then escort her into the church. I had never seen or heard of this custom in America before. I was now shown a woman in a corner of the log house. There I conducted for the first and last time a churching ceremony. These Saetersdolings held tenaciously to old church customs.

"Thereupon I gave a Christmas sermon to an attentive audience, followed by baptisms, Christmas offering to the pastor and then closing service. Then each one, happy and satisfied, left for home at 2:00 o'clock in the morning. There was not heard any remark or complaint because I had come so late, but only hearty thank yous and warm handclasps because I had come.

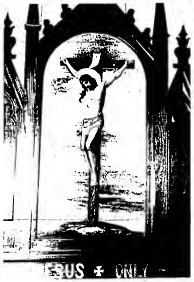
"When I, after 40 years, traveled in this community again I met in a meeting two of those I had baptized that night. They were now married and had children of their own. They were very glad to meet me, their first pastor, about whom they had heard so much."

The Satersdal church history book contains a good deal of area history in addition to that of the church. Dyrud points out that, "An amazing man, Pastor Aas made his final trip to Satersdal Church on November 25, 1940. While traveling for Ebenezer Home in Minneapolis, he was called upon for Scripture reading and prayer at the congregation's annual meeting. He was 85 years old at the time."

The present church is the original one built in 1896 with lumber from the P. and J. Meehan Lumber, Lath and Shingle company in Thief River Falls. A copy of the bill for materials is reproduced in the history book, having been found between pages of the first treasurer's book stored in the basement of Judith Wold this summer.

Total cost of lumber and shingles for the church was $138. The congregation bought 124 2x4s in 12 and 16-foot lengths for $13.94. The six big windows cost $1.28 each. Nine thousand standard A cedar shingles at $2.25 per 1,000 cost $20.25.

Other unique circumstances, such as moving of the cemetery, are also covered in the history book.



Altar area at the Satersdal Lutheran church three miles east of Thief River Falls and seven miles north on the range line road features this painting by Willie Windahl. It was painted in 1934.

Volunteer program at local schools shines

Over 150 volunteers donate 2,283.5 hours

"When parents are involved, children do better in school and they go to better schools," stated School District 564 volunteer coordinator Carol Ihle in a first year-end report to the board of education last week.

The report showed that more than 150 volunteers were involved in providing 2,283.5 documented hours in many different areas during the 1990-91 school year.

"But that is a very conservative number," Ihle said in regard to the number of hours, "because many volunteers did not register their time spent and the total did not include book fairs, hobby days, Art Adventure program or time spent by volunteers in meetings, telephone contacts, paperwork, coordinating volunteers with staff and other time donated to the program."

Among the documented hours were 269.5 hours by 39 volunteers at Knox elementary school; 605 hours by 43 volunteers at Mark Twain; 445 hours by 40 volunteers at Northrop; 580.5 hours by 44 volunteers at Washington; 203.5 hours by 36 volunteers (including 10 volunteers with 59 hours for the International Language Week Festival) at Franklin middle school, and 166 hours by 16 volunteers in other special project areas.

"Each volunteer activity provided enrichment and enhancement to the educational process," Ihle said in her report. "The volunteers reinforced basic skills, brought new and exciting information into the classroom, provided clerical help and provided teachers with more time to teach.

"Studies show that programs designed with strong parent involvement produce students who perform better than otherwise identical programs that do not involve parents as thoroughly, or do not involve them at all," she added. "Schools that relate to their communities have student bodies that out perform other schools."

Ihle said that the volunteer program was formed with a number of goals and objectives, and that all pertinent to the first year of operation had been met during the 1990-91 school year.

Goals were listed as follows:

(1) To provide individualized educational assistance to students;

(2) To enrich the students' curriculum and, in turn, broaden their awareness and experience;

(3) To relieve the teachers of some non-instructional tasks and duties;

(4) To stimulate community interest, concern and support for the educational system;

(5) To provide an opportunity for interested community members to become directly involved with the educational system and process;

(6) To strengthen school community relations through direct and positive participation in the schools, and

(7) To provide an opportunity for volunteers to share their talents and energies.

Objectives included forming a volunteer advisory board, developing a volunteer handbook and the program goals, employing a part-time [illegible] (200 hours at $10 per hour plus $1,000 for support expenses), develop and implement the program at the elementary school level, identify needs of the district for volunteer services and provide training for professional staff and volunteers.

An advisory committee was formed that included the following: Parent representatives Joanne Rambeck, Mary Follett and Sylvia Sjoberg; teacher representatives Susan Olson at Northrop, Glenna Wetald at Knox, Lois Benson at Mark Twain and Joan Buhl at Washington, Thief River Falls Education association representative Chris Burnham, elementary principals Glenn Espe of Mark

The Jewel Box in Thief River Falls has opened its doors for business. The store is located in the same location as the old Jewel Box. The new owners are (left to right) LeeAnn Nelson, Steve Hess and Judy Hess. Steve and Judy own the Jewel Box in Grand Forks, but will commute a couple times a week to work in their new store.

Jewel Box returns to TRF

by Amy Isaacson
Times Reporter

The Jewel Box is a familiar name to most people from Thief River Falls and the name Hess may also ring a bell, but the store is not the same, nor are the people who own it. Steve Hess is the son of the past owner of The Jewel Box and is also the owner of The Jewel Box in Grand Forks. The new store is also located in the same place as the old Jewel Box on 105 East 3rd Street.

Steve decided to open the store not because it was his father's, but because it was a great opportunity for him to get started in what he thinks is a "great community".

The reason for coming back to Thief River Falls was because Steve thinks that starting a business in town has to do with timing. Another generation is evolving right now, and the newer generation is taking over. Steve doesn't think that stores going out-of-business is a bad omen, but that in order for the new generation to get started in business, an opportunity has to be available.

Steve feels that this is going on in Thief River Falls and thinks that it is a positive rather than a negative change.

"The opportunity must be available first. There are a number of new businesses in Thief River Falls and I don't think they are going to be short-term businesses."

Steve is not in the business by himself. He is co-owner with LeeAnn Nelson and his wife Judy Hess.

LeeAnn, who is originally from Gryglа, graduated in the sales and marketing program at the Thief River Falls technical college and has studied diamonds and diamond grading through the GIA (Gemological Institute of America). She worked in the old Jewel Box for 13 years. After the closing of the old store, LeeAnn has commuted to Grand Forks to work at The Jewel Box for the past year. She will now have the responsibility of managing the new store in Thief River Falls.

"The key to opening a new store was finding someone to run it and she was the person," Steve said.

LeeAnn will manage the store in Thief River Falls and Steve and Judy will operate the store in Grand Forks. Steve plans to come to Thief River Falls at least twice a week to work here.

A nice thing about having the two stores is being able to do advertising together and share merchandise. "What LeeAnn doesn't have in the store here she can get from the store in Grand Forks," Steve said. The two stores will be working hand-in-hand with each other. The prices are the same at both stores and it's much easier to get merchandise from dealers because there are two stores and not just one. Another thing that helps them tremendously is a goldsmith and setter that can do 90 per cent of their gold repair and diamond setting for them right in the Grand Forks store.

Before opening the new store, LeeAnn, Steve and Judy put together a plan for the remodeling and decorating. "We're real pleased how everything turned out. When we decorated we needed to be careful that we projected the right image," they said. And the image is beautiful. The new store is bright, light and cheery.

The store is making a commitment to jewelry and there will no longer be a bridal registry or gift items like crystal or collectible figurines. LeeAnn says that jewelry is "the best gift you can give".

When asked how to tell the quality of a good diamond from a bad diamond, and how to know if a store is telling you the truth, Steve replied, "Our purpose is not to make it more difficult, it's to make it easier. Ever since I was a kid I've learned to tell the truth, there are no shades of gray. Going into a jewelry store to buy a diamond is an emotional decision, and for that you need specialists who can help you, not someone who is going to trick

GOD GAVE US THE TECHNOLOGY TO INVENT THE COMPUTER

Among the greatest inventions of this century is the computer. It has become a necessity to businesses, government, medical facilities, etc., and many a home now has one. It performs a mind-boggling array of useful functions like retrieving case histories in seconds. It serves as a typesetter, an artist, a composer, a photo processor, and a planner of achievements beyond the imagination of most of us. The computer is indeed a marvel of modern technology. Our House of Worship teaches us that God created man and endowed him with the ability to invent something like this. There is no finer example of the good that can be accomplished by human ingenuity, or of God's wisdom in making all things possible as a result of it.

God gave them wisdom that have it. Let them use their talents. — William Shakespeare

Volunteer program at local schools

Twain/Knox and Bill Desrocher of Washington/Northrop, and assistant principal Fran Finco of Franklin middle school.

Building volunteers are Christi Halbasch at Knox, Ruth Tweet at Mark Twain, Jodi Bendickson at Northrop and Sylvia Sjoberg at Washington.

Staff needs assessments were completed at all the schools and Ihle conducted staff in-service sessions on the use of volunteers at each of the schools. She also provided training for volunteers through orientation meetings, handbooks and arranging for in-service training with individuals or staff groups.

Ihle or building coordinators placed volunteers in need areas with staff approval of volunteers in most instances, although some teachers contacted their own volunteers for specific needs once they received names of volunteers from the volunteer program.

Periodically throughout the year Ihle met with school staffs to provide information and receive comments regarding the volunteer program. Advisory committee and building coordinator meetings were also held to continually evaluate the program and monitor and implement goals and objectives.

A number of recognition activities were also conducted to show appreciation to volunteers for their service to the district and its teachers and students.

"There are dozens and dozens of ways volunteers can be of assistance to the schools," Ihle said. "People don't have to be professionals or have college degrees in education; anyone with a concern for the schools and an interest in helping can be of great service."

Some of the many areas of assistance listed from the first year's program included reading, field trips, parties, book fair and other special events, computers, library, photocopying, clerical, laminating, videotaping, bulletin boards, piano accompaniment, poster delivery, assisting with hearing and vision screening, wallpapering a kindergarten playhouse, assembling booklets, correcting papers, computer assistance, typing, individual drill work, speaker on special interest subjects, tutoring special needs students and many others.

"Many of the goals for next year are the same as a year ago," Ihle said. "We hope to further improve and expand the program, develop written descriptions for volunteer tasks and maintain enthusiasm by providing opportunities for continuous feedback by volunteers and staff members.

"We are implementing the Junior Great Books program in the elementary schools and would like to develop a peer-tutor program at Franklin middle school and conduct a needs assessment for a peer-tutor program at Lincoln high school. We also plan to publish a volunteer newsletter several times during the school year."

Supt. Robert Duncan said he was pleased with the volunteer program report and the progress of the program during its first year of operation.

"We greatly appreciate the help of people in the community who make their time and talents available to provide assistance to our educational program," Dr. Duncan said. "We hope that they gain from their experience and the knowledge that their work is valuable and appreciated. We know that it is a plus for our staff and the students in our system.

"Community involvement in the schools is one of our areas of emphasis and we are encouraged by the response and quality of service provided by our volunteers."

Recognition luncheon to honor participants in the School District 564 volunteer program drew a large attendance at the Eagles hall in Thief River Falls. The Eagles auxiliary donated its time to prepare and serve the luncheon and entertainment was provided by the "Swingsations" jazz choir from Lincoln high school.

you into buying something you don't want."

Dealing with discounts is another subject that he doesn't like to discuss. "Like Benjamin Franklin once said, 'Discounts are like overcoats, you've got to put them on before you take them off,' and we don't have time to do that".

They buy many of their diamonds from Antwerp, Belgium, the main diamond cutting center in the world. They also buy from dealers in New York and Chicago. It also helps being a second generation store because they have many more connections.

"For 40 years people came into my father's store and expected quality merchandise. We're taking the opportunity to offer them the same quality that he gave them," Steve said.

Even though the new store is not associated with the old store, it doesn't hurt to look back on how things were done, and it's nice to have had the learning experience. Because of their experiences in working in the jewelry business, the store will have a different concept to bring it into the '90's. "This is a whole new store even though it happens to have the same name and is in the same location," Steve said.

LeeAnn, Steve and Judy are excited to be involved in the Thief River Falls community and are looking forward to seeing familiar faces and meeting new customers.

LeeAnn is married to Keith Nelson. They have two girls ages 10 and seven. Steve and Judy have two boys ages 18 and 10.

LETTERS

To The Editor:

I am totally disgusted about the water in this city. I lost over $20,000 because of this water. I could have sold my lots but the buyer did not like the water so I lost my sale. I worked hard on the farm to make the money to buy these lots.

I am going to tell you the truth. There are many drain fields running into the river, plus animals, people swimming in our water, fertilizers and sprays of all kinds in the water.

The State of Minnesota passes this water for drinking. It's a question mark in my book. As soon as I can move this old house out of the city I am going to move out in the country. I am getting tired of hauling my water, although I get real good water for drinking and for my coffee.

With water like it has, the city will go down the tube fast. We have a nice city here, everything we can ask for, let's not hurt it with this kind of water.

I have spent many dollars calling all over Minnesota about this water, but do not get any help, so it really makes me start wondering what's going on.

I would encourage my petitioners to hire Twin City testing out of Fargo, ND, to come here and do testing of this water. They would refer you to other testing labs. When you have surgery you have opinion from more than one doctor—it should be the same for testing the water.

To be fair with all the petitioners, it should have come up to a vote whether we want river water or well water. The city had a meeting on this project and I was there, but no one else showed up. I can't do it alone; I need help.

We have to think about our grandchildren and our kids growing up. That means looking to the future. This city's water is not fit for drinking.

Sincerely,
Doyle Thompson
Thief River Falls

To The Editor:

An article in the July 12 issue of the Northern Watch says three individuals who donated money for a new Thief River Falls outdoor swimming pool want their money back. I am disappointed. I favor a new outdoor swimming pool. This 90 degree heat wave makes me wonder why Thief River Falls does not have an outdoor pool that is open to the general public, not just for private club members like the three private pools in town.

The outdoor pool fund has $104,849 donated. Before this money is given back to donors and lost, couldn't 35 per cent be used to build a kids' wading pool as phase one of a new outdoor pool?

Phase two could be three years away and would consist of the main larger swimming pool section. More money may be raised by then for a pool. Phase three could be a new bath house addition.

The reason the Thief River Falls park board is against the pool is they do not want the maintenance cost of running an outdoor pool. Some time ago swimming pool consultants from Minneapolis made a $15,000 study of the Thief River Falls swimming pool idea. I was at their presentation of final findings meeting. They felt a new outdoor swimming pool would be good for Thief River Falls—it was a good proposal, including a water slide—but the cost was too high.

Since that meeting, what is the outdoor swimming pool status? An outdoor pool idea may have been dropped. Now may be the last chance to save the project because of people asking to have their money returned. Those who have served on the committee and worked hard on fund raisers for a number of years should comment on the request for withdrawal of funds due to inaction by Thief River Falls officials.

An article in the July 17 Grand Forks Herald states that Devils Lake, ND, which is the same size as Thief River Falls, approved a $670,000 swimming pool project by a vote of 841 to 208. Two weeks ago I looked at Clearbrook's new outdoor pool. Its size would be large enough for Thief River Falls.

A new outdoor swimming pool has been listed on a recent community needs survey. Please help the Thief River Falls swimming pool committee members get a new outdoor pool before it's too late. I suggest that something better be done soon because in the future residents will not donate money for worthy causes again. An outdoor pool would give kids a way to have more fun in Thief River Falls.

Sincerely,
Charlie Bedard
Thief River Falls

Thirty-two Keenagers met at the Holt Center on Friday, July 12th, beginning with a noon meal. Table Grace was sung before the meal led by Marion Guss. Dolly Davidson and Lewis Swenson won the door prizes. Joyce, president, opened the business meeting by having everyone stand and sing the theme song led by Marion. She made the announcement of the graveside services on Tuesday forenoon for a former resident, Mabel Sanoden who had passed away at the age of 99 years. The secretarys and treasurers reports were read and approved. The Keenagers are to leave at seven a.m. on Wednesday for Morris, Manitoba and be there to the ten a.m. parade. The next meeting will be August 2nd, potluck, and to enjoy the annual Nazareth Bible school parade. They were going to see if the Happy Seniors could put on the program then or later in the fall. There would be more discussion on another trip in August or September. Thank you cards were read from the family of Herman Saverts, Johnny Borters, and Nina Halvorson thanked the group for the memorial gift for Alvin's sister. Marion told the group they could continue to make trauma bears. The Carpenter bus would be making a trip to the State Fair and to contact them. Carol Stabno will be present at the September meeting about telephone hearing and Carla Abdo would be present on October 11th. Motion to adjourn by Marion, second by Harryet. The afternoon was spent playing games and enjoying afternoon lunch.

Help Your Kid Save $1,000,000

Here is a bit of sage advice from the American Lung Association:

"If the price of cigarettes rises five per cent each year (current increases are about twice that), a kid who puts the cash he or she could spend on a lifetime pack-a-day habit into a money market account (paying eight per cent interest annually) would save $100,000 by age 39 and $1,000,000 by age 65.

"Of course, $1 million won't buy as much in 2044 as it can today. But, if a 12-year-old can figure that out, he or she is smart enough not to smoke."

Have Fun In Water But Be Serious About Diving

Diving accidents account for one out of every 10 serious spinal cord injuries in the United States, and more than 90 per cent of these injuries result in paralysis below the neck. Each year about 700 swimmers are seriously injured in diving accidents.

It is often easy for people having fun in water sports to forget the safety rules that apply to diving, or to make a miscalculation that could end in a seriously disabling injury. Here are some rules suggested by the U.S. Consumer Product Safety commission and the National Swimming Pool Safety committee:

- Don't drink alcohol before diving. Diving requires precise coordination and distance judgement.
- Don't dive in shallow water.
- Don't dive off the side of a pool or diving board; don't dive off a slide.
- Don't go head-first down a pool slide.
- Don't dive in an above-ground pool.
- Plan your dive path; there should be at least 25 feet of clear water ahead of you.
- Make sure there are no submerged or floating obstacles in your path.
- Steer up with your hands once you enter the water; keep your head up and keep your arms extended over your head.
- Keep your dives simple.
- Don't try to dive through an inner tube or other pool toy.
- Never push or throw anyone into the water.
- Consider taking diving lessons from a qualified instructor.

The Fear Of Being Disarmed And Helpless

Following material is from the National Newspaper Association's special supplement on the U.S. Constitution:

When British soldiers landed in Boston in 1775, they were billeted in private buildings and homes before marching to Lexington and Concord to seize patriot arms.

By violating the sanctity of private property and attempting to disarm civilians, the British aroused fears that people had experienced since ancient times—the fear of being disarmed and helpless before a standing professional army.

In 370 B.C. Aristotle had said that government "backed by a standing army" would make bold decisions compared with those decisions made by a leader "awed by the fear of an armed people." Niccolo Machiavelli wrote that the citizen-warrior was the strength of a republic and that armed citizens kept rulers honest.

As relations between Britain and the American colonies worsened, Great Britain imposed a series of laws called the Coercive Acts which included the detested Quartering Act, authorizing colonial governors to put soldiers in private buildings. The reaction to these repressive acts was recorded in a series of tracts and pamphlets. Reminding Britain of its own Bill of Rights, the Boston Pamphlet of 1772 said "Introducing and quartering standing armies in a free country in times of peace without the consent of the people....is, and always has been deemed a violation of their rights as freemen."

The Declaration of Independence said, "He [King George III] has kept among us, in times of peace, standing armies without the consent of our Legislatures...."

Following independence, several states rewrote their colonial charters or drafted state constitutions, and several of the states included prohibitions against a standing army and reaffirmed the right to raise a state militia and the right of the citizens to bear arms.

The Framers shared the people's apprehension of a standing army and provided that Congressional appropriations for a national army could last no more than two years at a time. Neither this limitation nor the eloquent arguments of James Madison eased apprehension. Madison maintained that state militia would act as a counter balance to a national army. He wrote in Federalist 45 that a "regular army" in the service of the federal government would be not match for a combined militia of the states, "officered by men chosen from among themselves, fighting for their common liberties, and united...."

Madison added that the Constitution would not prohibit citizens from owning guns. Americans among all peoples had the unique advantage of the right to bear arms, he said, and this right "forms a barrier against any enterprises of ambition......"

Five of the eight states that proposed amendments to the Constitution wanted an amendment authorizing the individual states to maintain a militia, prohibiting the quartering of troops, and reaffirming the right of citizens to bear arms.

The Second and Third Amendments have provided practical checks on the dangers of military tyranny. The provisions in the Constitution for civilian control of the military have alleviated the worst fears of a standing army, and the provisions of the Third Amendment prohibiting the quartering of soldiers have never been tested.

The right of the states to raise a militia under the Second Amendment has been vindicated. State militia and National Guard units play a vital role in times of internal unrest and in defense of the nation. The right "to bear arms" has remained intact although the federal and several state governments have regulated certain firearms and prohibited the use of others.

Minnesota's State Lottery is already more than a year old, and by all accounts is popular and so far has been financially successful. Fears that it would ruin the charitable gaming industry are well-founded, but so far they don't seem to be coming true.

Meanwhile, whether or not you agree that the state ought to be in the business of allowing a lottery, it is yielding a substantial source of income to the state for some very worthwhile projects.

The Legislature this year changed the way proceeds are allocated, and people ask me all the time where all the money goes. So I asked the state lottery office to provide some details, and here they are.

From the lottery's launch in April 1990 through May 1991, Minnesotans wagered a grand total of $366 million on the lottery. Sales of instant or "scratch-off" tickets totalled $300 million, with Lotto America tickets bringing in $66 million.

From that, $201 million — about 55 per cent — was paid in prizes. Retailers who sell tickets were paid $20 million in commissions, an often-overlooked benefit. Lottery commissions are an important addition to income for many small retailers, especially for those in rural Minnesota.

The lottery aid $22 million in lieu of sales taxes to the state General Fund, where it funds state government programs and operations — everything from the Homestead Credit to school aid to game wardens. That is, however, only a small part of the state's $15 billion budget. Another $50 million paid for operating expenses for the lottery itself, much of it for advertising.

Now we get down to the bottom line, the net proceeds. The exact figure is $73,041,206.

Of this amount, the Environment & Natural Resources Trust Fund received more than $29 million or 40 per cent — the amount guaranteed to it by an amendment to the constitution voters approved last November. The fund pays for a variety of wildlife and environmental enhancement projects, acquisition of important natural areas and research work.

Another $25.5 million in lottery proceeds went into the Infrastructure Development Fund, a 35 per cent share established by law in 1990. That fund pays for bonding for capital improvement projects, and is divided with 6.7 per cent going to environmental projects and 28.3 per cent to repairs and new buildings at our state's colleges and universities.

Finally, the Greater Minnesota Corp. gets a 25 per cent share, or $18.2 million. However, the GMC will return $9 million to the General Fund. The legislature ordered that last January as part of the plan to cover the $197 million revenue shortfall in the 1990-91 budget.

In the 1992-93 budget plan, the legislature eliminated the allocations to both the GMC and the Infrastructure fund. This 60 per cent share — about $80 million over two years, if sales continue at current levels — will instead go to the General Fund.

As I mentioned above, the General Fund is the main fund for state government operations, so lottery dollars will find their way into virtually every state service, office, institution or program. In this way, the lottery provides indirect tax relief — what we get from the lottery doesn't have to come from income or sales taxes.

I hope this information helps people understand a little bit better how the lottery works. While it will never raise enough to replace any other tax, it has paid for worthwhile environmental, educational and economic development efforts that might otherwise have been delayed, or not finished at all. On the whole, I believe, it has worked well — but I believe careful scrutiny is still required to be sure it doesn't become a dangerous threat to charitable gambling.

As always, I appreciate your comments on this or any other state issue. You can reach me at 351 State Office Building, St. Paul, MN 55155; or telephone (612) 296-9918.

Traditional events at Steinbach, Man.

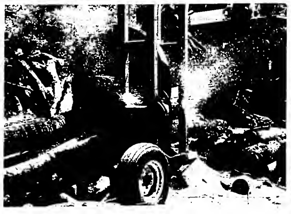
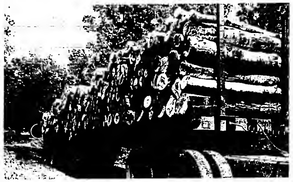
As easily as a person could handle a bamboo fishing rod, the shearer operated by P & E Logging of Clearbrook can handle a large tree. Not only can the unit grasp a tree, shear it off at the base, transport it in an upright position and lay it down—it can grasp the base of the trunk and raise it to an upright position again.





A 60-inch hydraulically driven saw chops its way effortlessly through a stack of aspen logs in the operation conducted by P & E Logging of Clearbrook in southeastern Pennington county. The logs are cut into 100-inch lengths, loaded on a semi-trailer truck and hauled to Northwood Panelboard in Solway.

In the top photo a knuckle boom loader is used to move logs from the skid pile into the saw crib. After the cut is made the loader is used to hoist the logs into place on the truck which will haul about 12 cords per load. For a story on harvest of mature aspen in the area, see the Friday, July 19, Northern Watch.

This load of logs being loaded in southeastern Pennington county shows the extent to which aspen in that area has been allowed to stand past its normal maturity. Nearly all of the logs show decomposition of the core and the trees would soon die.

Mandi Ruud wins Disney World vacation

Mandi Ruud, the 11 year old daughter of Wayne and Elaine Ruud of Karlstad, was notified by telephone Monday, July 15, that she had won a trip to Walt Disney World.

Mandi entered the contest through the Scholastic magazine "Dynamite". In order to win Mandi had to create a poster depicting the famous Main Street parade. According to the contest rules the judges would choose the most creative, most colorful poster submitted. Contestants did not have to be talented artists to win — just creative. Each poster submitted had to include five top-secret items somewhere on the poster. Entrants had to decipher the five coded messages found in Dynamite issues number 156-160. Beginning in the January issue and ending in the May issue, the five secret items were: the Cinderella Castle, Miss Piggy, Kermit the Frog, Mickey Mouse and the Main Street sign. As soon as the magazine arrived each month Mandi would find the clue and create it. By the end of May she had all of her clues drawn and decorated. She arranged them on poster board and mailed her poster off.

The spokesperson for Dynamite magazine told Mandi on the phone that "her poster was awesome!" The judges liked her use of 3-D and the many art mediums she displayed in her poster.

Mandi Ruud

As the top winner, Mandi receives a trip to Walt Disney World Vacation Kingdom for four nights and five days for a family of up to four persons. The prize includes meal coupons and admission tickets to the Magic Kingdom, EPCOT Center, Disney/MGM Studios theme park, and several of the new attractions opening at Walt Disney World in 1991. Round trip tickets will be provided by DELTA Airlines from the nearest DELTA served city to Orlando, FL. A room at a Walt Disney World resort hotel will be provided.

Mandi's poster will be featured in the October issue of Dynamite magazine. The Dynamite magazine is available through the Scholastic book orders the students receive at school.

Jaycee Summerfest week now underway

Events scheduled tonight, Thursday, Saturday and Sunday

Activities for the annual Thief River Falls Jaycees Summerfest are officially underway today with the schedule of events increasing toward the weekend. The treasure hunt began Monday and tonight's event will be the radio controlled model airplane demonstration.

Thursday events are an antique and custom car cruise, pizza eating contest and waterfights.

Saturday activities include the Summerfest parade at 11 a.m., Prairie Schooners car show, summer snowmobile races on the Red Lake river, duck races and the Miss Thief River Falls pageant.

Sunday events are a fly-in breakfast, continuation of the summer snowmobile races and concluding fireworks display.

First clues in the treasure hunt are: (1) "It's on public grounds and there's no need to fret; it's hidden in plain sight, you bet." (2) "My second clue, it is good, if you stay west of Robin Hood." (3) "North, south, east or west, the first direction is the best." (4) "As you get nearer the treasure, I am where many take pleasure."

Northern Navigators radio controlled airplane club will present its demonstration from 7 to 9 p.m. tonight (Tuesday) at the club grounds. To find the grounds, follow the airport road south past the airport and watch for directional signs.

Thursday night's antique, custom and classic car cruise will begin about 7 p.m. All special interest cars are invited to cruise the city at their leisure with the final stop being at the Kmart parking lot for a display from 9 to 9:30 p.m. There is no charge for entrants or spectators.

Danny's Pizza will sponsor the pizza-eating contest at 6 p.m. Thursday at Floyd B. Olson park. Entry fee will be $5 per person with all entry fees to be returned to contestants in prizes.

Waterfights, an annual entertainment staple for Summerfest, will take place at 7 p.m. in the area of Floyd B. Olson park at Knight avenue and Second street.

Summerfest parade Saturday forms at the sports arena on the Pennington county fairgrounds and begins at 11 a.m. Entries are welcome and may be registered in advance with Kermit Genereux at 681-4663 or simply report to the parade formation area at the sports arena between 10 and 10:30 a.m. Saturday. Advance registration is preferred to provide for parade planning.

Parade route will follow Third street from the fairgrounds to Horace avenue, travel one block north to Fourth street and follow Fourth street back to the fairgrounds.

Prairie Schooners car club members are invited to participate in the parade with their vehicles. Cars should be brought to the fairgrounds for placement in advance of the 11 a.m. parade start.

A new event will be held following the parade when an outdoor car show will be held at Floyd B. Olson park from 1 to 5 p.m. A $1 admission will be charged with children under 12 admitted free when accompanied by an adult. The show will be open to all custom, classic, collector and special interest vehicles.

Entry fee will be $5 with dash plaques provided for the first 75 cars entered. People's choice voting will be held in several categories with trophies to be awarded.

Eight girls compete for Miss T.R.F. crown Sat.

Eight candidates will compete Saturday at 7 p.m. in the Lincoln high school auditorium for the title of Miss Thief River Falls and a trip to the Miss Minnesota pageant in Austin next June. Reigning Miss Thief River Falls is Tami Wahl of Greenbush.

Thief River Falls chamber of commerce is sponsor of the Miss Thief River Falls program. Winner of the official Miss America preliminary scholarship pageant will receive a $750 scholarship, $1,200 travel and expense allowance, silver jewelry box, hand-crafted keepsake box and other special award from VFW Post 2793.

First runner-up will receive a $275 scholarship, second runner-up a $150 scholarship and Miss Congeniality, talent division winner and interview division winner each a $50 scholarship. The latter two scholarships are provided by the Women of Today.

All contestants receive a pageant bracelet and divisional winners receive an inscribed charm.

Reserved seat tickets for the pageant are on sale at Ekeren Drug and Kezar Music company at $5 each when purchased in advance. Admission will be $6 at the door for seats remaining. Both ticket outlets report that there are still good seats available but expect sales to be brisk as the pageant date nears.

Contestants this year and the talent numbers they will be performing include the following:

Heather Olson, 18, daughter of Myles and Susan Olson of Thief River Falls, vocal solo; Lynnae Broten, 19, daughter of Ron and Mary Broten of Thief River Falls, rollerblade dance routine; Michelle Bergeron, 21, daughter of Gary and Colleen Bergeron of Argyle, vocal solo; Laura Wygant, 19, daughter of Tom and Sallie Wygant of Warroad, dance;

Also Heather Westlund, 20, daughter of Armand and Donna Westlund of Strathcona, dramatic presentation; Stephanie Perreault, 19, daughter of Francis and Ann Perreault of Red Lake Falls, vocal solo; Doni Loeslie, 21, daughter of Donavon and Glorianne Loeslie of Warren, dance; and Tammy Johanning, 20, daughter of Arlene Johanning of Thief River Falls and Bob Johanning of Plummer, vocal solo.

Serving as emcee for the program will be Jodi Anderson Kozan, a former Miss Thief River Falls. Entertainment will be provided by Gary Chasoya—who will sing the "Pretty Woman" pageant theme song during the opening production number and sing "Hold On To The Night" later in the program; Kelsi Holland, Little Miss North Star Queen, who will open the pageant program singing a patriotic medley; Leslie Laznicka, Miss Warroad, who was the talent winner among non-finalists at the Miss Minnesota pageant; and Miss Thief River Falls, Tami Wahl, who will present her state pageant talent number.

Pageant co-chairs this year are Gail Holland and Carol Stumpf.

Ev Marshall is staging and lighting director again this year, assisted by Rachael Marshall and Jim Hoks. Regan Rohl chairs the booklet committee which includes Joel Swanson, Norm Wassink, Nonei Reed, Barb LaSalle, Connie Omdahl, Diane Freeman, Steve Olson, Karen Kirkeby and John Mattson.

Judges committee is comprised of Craig and Marcy Mickelson and Heidi Hoks. Personal interview chairman is Sue Erickson with mock interviews arranged by Diane Freeman and Jan Peterson. Award chairman is Marcie Shaffer. Publicity committee is Jan Nyflot, Bob Wold and Mary Twistol. Stage crew is Rick Woodruff, Duane Holland and LeRoy Stumpf.

Marge Lavalier chairs the visiting royalty committee with Jane Mattson, Judy Pinkerton and Jackie Filipy as contestant hostesses. Connie Stock chairs the preparation committee with members including Diane Marshall, Heidi Hoks, Jim Hoks, Marcia Kalinowski, Alicia Haviland, Thelma Culkins and Twenty-six tons of fighting vehicle can actually float as members of the Citizens Support Committees from Thief River Falls and Crookston discovered last Friday. The groups were taken by C-130 transport to Camp Ripley last week. While at the camp the group rode on the Bradley Fighting vehicles, tasted MREs, and toured some of the facilities of Camp Ripley.

Citizen Support Group visits Camp Ripley

by David Hill
Times Associate Editor

It's hard to believe a vehicle weighing nearly 28 tons can float until you actually see it happen. At the least, it's not something you readily put your trust in.

Members of the Thief River Falls and Crookston citizen's committee for the National Guard who visited Camp Ripley near Little Falls last week learned to put their trust in a Bradley Fighting Vehicle when they went on a float training exercise.

Citizen Support Committee members from Thief River Falls and Crookston went to Camp Ripley aboard a C-130 transport plane Friday to get a feel for what Minnesota National Guard members from Company B 2nd Battalion of the 136th infantry go through. Members of the support committee included former veterans, parents, employers, law enforcement and other interested citizens.

The C-130 transport plane probably wasn't the largest plane to ever land at the regional airport in Thief River Falls, but the large C-130 plane landing at the airport was impressive enough. It enticed several students from the Technical College Aviation School to step outside to watch it land and take-off.

Joe Forberg of Thief River Falls, who helped arrange the trip for the over 40 people who participated, explained that when they began working out the details for a visit they decided it wouldn't hurt to ask if the National Guard would fly a large group to Camp Ripley. Normally, only a few members of a citizens committee would travel to Camp Ripley. They would get up real early and drove by car there and back the same day.

Pilots for the National Guard are required to fly regular training flights. So instead of flying with an empty plane on a training mission, the crew landed the plane in Thief River Falls last Friday and picked up a plane load of curious citizens.

The trip to Camp Ripley took all of 45 minutes, which included some fairly low flights over lakes and rivers in Minnesota. According to information in the Ripley Reporter, Camp Ripley now trains in excess of 10,000 troops each winter, with personnel coming from both active and reserve components of all services. It is utilized throughout the year, not only by National Guard from many states, but by the active Army, Marines, Navy, Army Reserve, Marine Corps Reserve, Navy Reserve, and by the Norwegian Home Guard.

As a major training center for the National Guard and Army Reserve in the upper midwest, Camp Ripley encompasses 53,000 acres of diversified terrain that can accommodate the firing and use of all weapons and equipment in the

Cindy Meinert and Alan Mosbeck wed May 25

Cindy Lou Meinert and Alan James Mosbeck were united in marriage May 25 at the St. John's Lutheran church in Sleepy Eye. Rev. James D. Liggett officiated at the double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Norman and Hazel Meinert of Sleepy Eye. Parents of the groom are Donald and Ruthie Mosbeck of Red Lake Falls.

Connie Anderson of St. Louis Park served as her sister's matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Jolene Serbus of Eden Prairie, friend of the bride, Marci Mosbeck of Thief River Falls, sister of the groom, and Laurie Scherer of Cannon Falls, friend of the bride. Junior bridesmaid was Sarah Stavenes of Red Lake Falls, niece of the groom.

David Mosbeck of Eagan, brother of the groom, served as best man, with Ray Mosbeck of Cedar Rapids, IA, cousin of the groom, Tim Kruse of Minneapolis, friend of the groom, and Tom Scholin of Thief River Falls, friend of the groom, as groomsmen. Junior groomsman was Corey Meinert of Sleepy Eye, brother of the bride.

Ushering the guests were Jim Anderson, brother-in-law of the bride, and Kelly Mosbeck, brother of the groom.

Following the ceremony a reception and dance were held for the couple.

Following a wedding trip to the Bahamas, the couple is at home in the Prior Lake. The groom is a 1984 graduate of Lincoln high school and a 1988 graduate of the University of North Dakota. The bride is a 1985 graduate of Springfield high school and a 1987 graduate of Hutchinson technical college. Both are employed by MTS Systems of Eden Prairie.

Jennifer Dressel to wed Scott Kujanson

Jennifer Dressel and Scott Kujanson, along with their parents, Keith and LeAnne Dressel of West Fargo, ND, and Arne and Jeanne Kujanson of Horace, ND, are happy to announce their engagement and forthcoming marriage. Grandparents are Roy and Ida Paulson and Arne and Agnes Kujanson of Grygla.

The couple are both students at Mayville state university. An August 24 wedding is being planned at Faith Lutheran church in West Fargo.

Bridal shower planned for Christine Scramstad

An open house bridal shower will be held Friday, August 2 at 6:30 p.m. for Christine Scramstad, bride-to-be of Larry Korpi, Jr. The event will take place at the Owen Scramstad home, 116 North Conely, Thief River Falls. All friends and relatives are invited to attend.

Elinor Lieske to have 80th birthday Aug. 10

An open house celebration will be held August 10 from 2 to 4 p.m. to honor Elinor Lieske, former resident of Plummer, on her 80th birthday. The event will take place at the Sunset Court in Red Lake Falls. All friends and relatives are invited to attend.

Harold/Mae Haugen family reunion held

A family reunion was held July 6 for the descendants of the late Harold and Mae Haugen at the home place, now owned by Monte and Sue Haugen.

Those attending included Milan and Violette Eliason of Coon Rapids and family; Meldon and Mary, Melissa and Bret of Blaine; Roretta and Ron Kotten, Laura, Heidi and Erica of St. Michael; Clara and Vernon Iverson of Goodridge and family; Sandra and Tim Radniecki, Sara and Jill of Oklee, Harlen and Janet, Jenny, Margo and Kyle of Hallock; Harvey and Joy Haugen of Hibbing and family; Duane of Great Lakes Naval Base, IL; Brian and Gigi, Jessica, Marcia, Alicia, Scott and David of Nashwauk; Karen and Joe Warmuth, Katie, Andy, Jimmey and Peter of Hibbing; Marlyn and Deloris Haugen of Oklee and family; Vance and Bonnie, Inga, Olaf and Thor of Shawano, WI; Monte and Sue, Ross of Oklee; Deone of Grand Forks; Amy of Oklee, Marcella Hanson of Goodridge and family; Dale and Dawn, Ben, Cliff, Andy, Brittany, Tiffany of Goodridge; Dean and Colleen of Goodridge; Bonnie and Charles Prigge of Biwabib and family; Al and Carol and Tara of Biwabib, Kim and Dave Grippe, Samantha and William of Biwabib and Michelle of Biwabib.

Denise Hermanson and Davie Naeseth wed

Denise Hermanson and Davie Naeseth were united in marriage June 29 at the Zion Lutheran church in Thief River Falls. Rev. Robert Dahlen officiated at the 4 p.m. double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Henry and Alvina Hermanson of Goodridge. The groom is the son of Merle and Donna Naeseth of Goodridge.

Special music was provided by Michelle Bergeron, friend of the bride, who sang "Honestly," "Wedding Song" and "Always." Jodi Shultz, friend of the groom, sang "God, a Woman and a Man" and "My Only Love." Marian Marquis, friend of the couple, served as organist, playing "Jesu, Joy of Man's Desiring" and the "Wedding March" as the processional and "Trumpet Voluntary" as the recessional. Aaron Dahlen, friend of the couple, played the trumpet.

The church was decorated with two baskets of flowers at the altar, containing seafoam, peach and white carnations, babies' breath and net. Seafoam bows marked the pews.

The bride chose a white satin gown with V neckline with pearl appliques, fitted pleated bodice lined with rhinestones. The dress featured pearl drops dangling from the waist and poet sleeves gathered with pearl clusters. The dropped back of the bodice was accented with a bow and an elongated applique coming to a pleated center topped with another bow. The train was trimmed with delicate hemlace. The bride complemented her gown with a ruffled wreath with lilies of the valley and beaded appliques at the sides and a waist length veil. She carried a bouquet of white roses, large seafoam carnations, small peach carnations, with seafoam, peach, and white lace and white pearls, irridescent babies' breath and irridescent beads. She wore pearl drop and diamond earrings, borrowed from the matron of honor and a pearl drop necklace with rhinestone chain.

Deonne Bukken of Thief River Falls served as her twin sister's matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Denise Naeseth of Thief River Fall twin sister of the groom, Tracy Bishop of Gretna, NE, friend of the bride, and Nancy Newland of Thief River Falls, friend of the bride. Junior bridesmaid was Alissa Hoffman of Goodridge, niece of the bride. They wore seafoam gowns with boat necklines coming to a deep V at the back and accented with lace scallops. The bodice was also accented with lace and satin bows on the sleeves and back. The dresses had dropped waistlines, diagonal hemlines and featured large satin bows at the back. The headpieces were seafoam and peach with irridescent flowers, seafoam, peach and white ribbons and pearls. They also wore pearl drop earrings and necklaces, gifts from the bride. They carried fans accents with large seafoam carnations, small peach carnations, small white carnations, babies' breath and seafoam, peach and white ribbon.

Flower girl was Lacey Hoffman of Goodridge, niece of the bride. She was dressed to match the bridesmaids and carried a white basket with large seafoam carnations, small peach carnations, small white carnations, babies' breath, greenery and seafoam ribbon.

Amy Naegeli, cousin of the bride, served as the bride's personal attendant.

The groom was attired in a white tuxedo with tails, a white vest and bow tie, and a boutonniere of a large white rose with small seafoam rose, peach rose, babies' breath, pearl sprays and greenery.

Durin Easthouse of Moorhead, friend of the groom, served as best man with Rodney Hoffman of Goodridge, brother-in-law of the bride, Randy Naeseth of Thief River Falls, cousin of the groom, Merlin Klamur of Warroad, friend of the groom, and Jason Naeseth of Goodridge, brother of the groom. They wore black tuxedos with tails with seafoam bow ties and cummerbunds. They also wore boutonnieres of large seafoam carnations, small peach roses, babies' breath and greenery.

Auron Sigerud of Goodridge, cousin of the bride, was the ring bearer. He wore a black tuxedo with tails, black vest and bow tie and a boutonniere to match the groomsmen's. Honorary ring bearer was Brett Bakken, nephew of the bride and godchild of the couple.

Ushering the guests were Paul Odette, brother-in-law of the bride, Jeff Bakken, brother-in-law of the bride, Jim Johnson, uncle of the groom, and Kurt Sigerud, cousin of the bride. They wore black tuxedos and ties and boutonnieres of large and small seafoam carnations. Programs were handed out by Travis Komara, cousin of the bride, and Darren Johnson, cousin of the groom. Candlelighters were Kurt Sigerud and Jim Johnson.

For her daughter's wedding, the mother of the bride chose a lace aqua dress with matching accessories. The groom's mother wore a pink brocade dress. Each had a corsage of white roses, seafoam and peach rosebuds and seafoam and peach ribbon. The fathers of the couple wore black tuxedos with black vests and ties and boutonnieres of white and seafoam roses and small peach roses at the center.

Honored guests at the ceremony were Pearl Kolstrand, grandmother of the bride, Clarence and Mayme Johnson, grandparents of the groom, Rodney and Sylvia Hoffman, godparents of the bride, Agie Hale, godmother of the groom, Carrie Hermanson, great-aunt of the bride, and Brett Bakken, godchild of the couple.

A reception was held for the couple following the ceremony. Host couples were Lloyd and Carol Hermanson, uncle and aunt of the bride, and Robert and Kathy Johnson, uncle and aunt of the groom. Sylvia Hoffman, sister of the bride, and JoAnn Naeseth, sister of the groom, presided over the guest book.

Highlighting the serving table was a three-tiered wedding cake featuring a fountain, with two small side cakes. The cake was decorated with seafoam and peach flowers and was topped with a miniature bride and groom and crystal heart with white and seafoam flowers. It was cut by Hulda Sigerud, great-aunt of the bride, and Coreen Naeseth, aunt of the groom. Coffee was served by Mable Sigerud, great-aunt of the bride, and Lois Johnson, aunt of the groom. Kristie Sigerud, friend of the couple, and Marian Zavoral, cousin of the groom, served punch.

Flower hostesses were Barbara Odette, sister of the bride, and Jean Johnson, aunt of the groom. At the gift table was Lori Wiseth, cousin of the bride. Gift carriers were Dana Wiseth and Amie Kotrba, both cousins of the bride, and Elizabeth Johnson and Jessica Johnson, both cousins of the groom. Waitresses were Sonya Groven, friend of the couple, Kristen Dahlen, friend of the couple, Gena Kotrba, cousin of the bride, Roxanne Johnson, cousin of the groom, Jenny Johnson, cousin of the groom and Allison Quam, friend of the bride.

The wedding was videotaped by Lowell Naeseth, uncle of the groom, and Lana Anderson, friend of the couple.

Ribbons were handed out by Dallas Wiseth, cousin of the bride. Candy kisses were handed out by Katie Johnson and Christine Johnson, cousins of the groom, and Adam Wells, friend of the bride, and supervised by Kim Koroma, cousins of the bride. Rice was distributed by DaNae Wiseth, and Mindy Kotrba, cousins of the bride, and Monica and Michelle Johnson, cousins of the groom, and supervised by Gilda Kotrba, cousin of the bride.

Following a wedding trip to the Wisconsin Dells, the couple is now at home in Goodridge. The groom, a 1983 graduate of Goodridge high school, is employed by Marvin Windows in Warroad. The bride, a 1989 graduate of Goodridge high school and a 1991 graduate of Northland community college, is employed by Price World.

Pauline Lindberg and Michael Norgard wed

Pauline Kay Lindberg and Michael James Norgard were united in marriage June 29 at the St. Bernard's Catholic church in Thief River Falls. Rev. Dave Super officiated at the 2 p.m. double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Ronald and Judy Lindberg of Thief River Falls. The groom is the son of James and Carol Norgard of Arnegard, ND.

Special music was provided by Jennifer and Kristi Lindberg, sisters of the bride, who sang "He Has Chosen You For Me" and "The Our Father;" Barry Jensen, cousin of the bride, who sang "We Are The Reason," "On Eagle's Wings," and "The Greatest of These Is Love." The three also sang "Peace is Flowing Like a River" with signing by Kerrie Myers and Sue Eisenzimmer, friends of the bride. Alison Dutton, Australian host mother of the groom, sang "El-Shaddai" and "Time for Joy." Jennifer Davidson, friend of the bride, was the pianist, playing "Friends" and "Thy Word" as solos, and duets of "Canon in D" and Jesu, Joy of Man's Desiring" with Nicole Brang, friend of the bride, who served as organist. Sister Mardelle Molts, friend of the couple, served reader and guitarist. Arlene Thune, friend of the bride, also served as reader.

The church was decorated with springeri and babies' breath.

The bride chose a white taffeta gown with fitted bodice, sweetheart front and basque waist. It featured off-the-shoulder pouffed sleeves, each edged with eight large taffeta rosettes. The bodice was decorated with sposabella lace motifs and sequins, pearls and beads. The deep V back featured taffeta-covered buttons. A seven gored skirt was edged with beaded sposabella lace. The back of the skirt featured a pouffed bustle decorated with appliques of sposabella lace and taffeta rosettes. A ten-foot train, edged in the same lace as the skirt, flowed from the bustle. The bride complemented her gown with a tiara made from sposabella lace motif matching the gown with a pouf and shoulder length veil. She carried a colonial-style bouquet of white roses, bavardin, lily of the valley, pearl sprays and white ribbon.

Jennifer Lindberg of Thief River Falls and Kristi Lindberg of Thief River Falls served as their sister's maids of honor. Bridesmaids were Tami Norgard of Arnegard, ND, sister of the groom, and Lisa Langan of Thief River Falls, friend of the bride. They wore basque-waisted gowns of matte taffeta in hot pink. The dresses featured wide off-the-should collars that gathered in the center front and were accented with a matching rosette. The skirts were floor length and gathered at the waist. They carried a bouquets of purple liatrus, fuchsia, nerine lily, purple alstroemeria, babies' breath, green springeri, German status and white ribbon.

Flower girl was Kerrie Myers of Grand Forks, YMCA "little sister" of the bride. She wore a basque-waisted dress with square neckline. It had short pouffed sleeves decorated with matching rosettes. The gathered skirt featured a back panel of ruffled tiers. The back waist was accented with three rosettes matching those on the sleeves. She carried a white Victorian wicker basket decorated with ceramic flowers matching the wedding colors. The flowers matched the bride's bouquet.

Nicole Woodman, friend of the bride, served as the bride's personal attendant.

The groom was attired in a white lumina full dress tuxedo with tails and a boutonniere of a white rose, pearl sprays, German status, lily of the valley and babies' breath.

Jon Norstog of Arnegard, ND, friend of the groom, served as best man, with Scott Geirke of Grand Forks, ND, cousin of the groom, Dave Everson of Grand Forks, ND and Mick Covlin of Grand Forks, ND, both friends of the groom, as groomsmen. They wore black full dress tuxedos with tails and white vests and bow ties. They wore boutonnieres of alstroemeria, purple status, German status, greenery and babies' breath.

Marc Tveit of Roseau, cousin of the bride, was the ring bearer. He wore a white shirt, black dress shorts, white stockings, black suspenders and bow tie and carried a pillow made of lace matching the bride's gown, sequins and taffeta. He had a boutonniere of a white rose, purple status and accents to match the groom's boutonniere.

Ushering the guests were Troy Clark, friend of the couple, Todd Chwialkowski, friend of the groom, Aaron Gravos, cousin of the groom and Zachary Otto, cousin of the bride. They wore black full dress tuxedos, black vests and bow ties and boutonnieres of white carnations. Programs were illustrated, produced and distributed by Jeff and Wendy Ryan, uncle and aunt of the bride. Banner bearers were Kim Kenville and Susie Spaeth, both friends of the bride.

For her daughter's wedding, the mother of the bride chose a pink satin two piece suit with pouffed bishop sleeves and gathered skirt of pink chiffon. The groom's mother wore a dusty rose chiffon dress with rhinestones at the neckline. The mothers of the couple each had a corsage of pink sweetheart roses and alstroemeria with irridescent ribbon. The fathers of the couple wore black full dress tuxedos with black vest and bow ties and boutonnieres of pink sweetheart roses.

Honored guests at the ceremony were Violet Lindberg, Roy and Catherine Jorgenson, grandparents of the bride, Andrew and Mahle Norgard, grandparents of the groom, and Jack and Alison Dutton, the groom's Australian host parents.

A reception was held in the church basement following the ceremony with a wedding dance following at the Eagles hall. Host couples were Dean and Mary Otto, uncle and aunt of the bride, and Charles and Lucy Rotzien, uncle and aunt of the groom. Cindy Geirke, cousin of the groom, and Diane Jensen, cousin of the bride, presided at the guest book.

Highlighting the serving table was a four-tiered chocolate and white wedding cake iced in white and decorated with pink roses and sweet peas and surrounded at the base with fresh greenery and babies' breath. Separating the tiers were five cherub pillars and topping the cake was an ornament of pearls, flowers and a glass heart wreath surrounding a cherub. The cake was cut by Trish Gravos, aunt of the groom, and Peggy Norstog, friend of the groom. Kansekaga was served by Evonne Lindberg-Knutson, aunt of the bride, and Agnes Lindberg, great-aunt of the bride. Coffee was served by Nancy Tveit, aunt of the bride, and Sharon Gravos, aunt of the groom. Kathy Graef, aunt of the bride, and Lowaine Lee, aunt of the groom, served punch.

Flower hostess was Cheri Jensen, aunt of the bride. At the gift table were Cory Ryan and Nicholas Otto, both cousins of the bride. Waitresses were Kelly Ryan, cousin of the bride, Alecia Gravos, Nikki Gravos and Jamie Gravos, all cousins of the groom. Wedding scrolls were handed out by Andrea Tveit, cousin of the bride. Wedding kisses were handed out by Morgan Gravos, cousin of the groom. Decorations were done by Sally Mumm and Carmen Narverud, both cousins of the bride. The wedding was videotaped by Richard Bjerken, cousin of the bride.

Following a wedding trip to Glacier park in Canada and Montana, the couple is now at home in Grand Forks, ND. The groom, a 1990 graduate of the University of North Dakota in Biology, is a medical student at the University of North Dakota medical school. The bride, a student in Elementary Education and Math at the University of North Dakota, is also employed by the Grand Forks YMCA.

Joe "Shorty" Holtan, 69

Thief River Falls — Joe "Shorty" G. Holtan, 69, died July 28 at Winger.

Funeral services will be held Aug. 1 at Faith Lutheran Brethren church in Thief River Falls with Rev. George Davis officiating. Special music was provided by Van Swanson, soloist, and Grace Hammer, organist. Casketbearers were Don Dyrdal, Joel Nelson, Don Joppru, Lloyd Ottesen, Anton Helmer and Chester Nessen. Interment was in the Greenwood cemetery. The Green Funeral Home is in charge of arrangements.

Visitation will be held Wednesday from 1 to 9 p.m. at the Green Funeral Home with an 8 p.m. prayer service and at the church for one hour before the time of the service.

Joe Gustave Holtan was born May 13, 1922 at Stoughton, WI, the son of Ole and Jessie (Clarenson) Holtan. He grew up in Edgerton, WI, and graduated from Crimsen high school in 1941. He owned and operated the Edgerton Cab Service in the late 1940's and early 1950's before he moved to Thief River Falls in 1952 where he bought and sold cattle. On May 1, 1954 he was united in marriage to Mabel Tharaldson at Fosston. They made their home at Thief River Falls for one year and since then had lived in Norden township, Pennington county, where he operated the Thief River Falls speedway from 1958 to 1961 and had been in the salvage and recycling business. He was a member of the Eagles.

He is survived by his wife: two daughters: Mrs. Randy (Mary) Lian and Jeanette Holtan, both of Nashwauk; three sons: Russell of Thief River Falls, Dale of Newfolden and Dean of Thief River Falls; 11 grandchildren; three sisters: Mrs. Norman (Doris) Yeske and Mrs. LeRoy (Lucy) Ide, both of Edgerton, WI, and Mrs. Don (Jean) Onsrud of Janesville, WI, and one brother, Kenneth Holtan of Waukesha, WI.

He was preceded in death by his parents, and two brothers: Irving and Raymond.

Halvor Groven, 75

Oklee — Halvor Groven, 75, died July 22 at the McIntosh Manor Nursing Home in McIntosh.

Funeral services were held July 28 at the Zion Lutheran church in Oklee with Rev. Kirsten Fransvog officiating. Special music was provided by Grace Hammer. Honorary casketbearers were Gunde Austad, Albert Breivold, Russell Norberg, K. B. Knutson, Larry O'Neill, Jim Knutson, George Johnson and Michael Person. Active casketbearers were nephews Sherman Groven, Robert Tate, Ronald Tate, Bruce Nelson, Jack Nelson and Gary Nelson. Interment was in the church cemetery. The Petterson Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements.

Halvor Carl Groven was born Nov. 24, 1915 in Equality township, Red Lake county, the son of Saamund and Anne (Aakness) Groven. He grew up and lived his entire life on his farm in Equality township. He attended rural school there and was baptized and confirmed at the Valle Lutheran church, rural Trail. He married Lillian Lorraine Bakke on Sept. 11, 1943 in rural Oklee and they farmed in Equality township, retiring in 1982. In 1988 he became a resident of the Pioneer Care center, Erskine, and, later that year, a resident of McIntosh Manor Nursing Home. He had been a church council member of both the Valle Lutheran church and Zion Lutheran church. He was also a member of the Equality township board for many years. He and his wife were recipients of the 1976 Valley Farmer and Homemaker award for Red Lake county at the Red River Valley winter shows.

He is survived by his wife; two daughters: Mrs. Craig (Sandra) Holmstrom of rural Red Lake Falls and Mrs. Steven (Carol) Erickson of Forest Lake; five grandchildren; one brother, Gustein Groven of Port Angeles, WA; and four sisters: Mrs. Millard (Helga) Nelson of Thief River Falls, Mrs. David (Dora) Tate of Black River, MI, Inga Mansfield of Waterford, MI and Ragnild Thompson of Drayton Plains, MI.

He was preceded in death by his parents and two brothers: Bennie and Leif.

Life Line Center to hold Hawaiian night

The Life line Christian center in Newfolden will present a Hawaiian night Saturday, August 3 with supper at 6:30 p.m. and a program featuring Sherry and the Sonshine Family at 7:30 p.m. Reservations must by made by August 2 by calling 874-3171.

Dear Readers,
A study of 95,000 widowed persons found the death rate among them during the first year of widowhood was more than twice the expected rate. For men, widowed more than a month, the suicide and accident rate was 17 times normal - for women it was 4-1/2 times normal. Guilt feelings felt by widowed people over the loss of their spouses may trigger intense depression, self-neglect, poor nutrition, and insomnia, all of which may lead to an early demise.
Respectfully,
Belmont Funeral Home

Missionaries to speak here

Doug Blue

Doug and Pat Blue, missionaries for the Assemblies of God in Botswana, Southern Africa, will speak at the Assembly of God church in Thief River Falls Wednesday, July 31, at 7 p.m. in a special missions service.

The Blues have served from 1986 to 1991 in the Republic of Botswana. Doug, who began his missionary service in 1968 in Zaire, now teaches at the Assembly Bible college in Botswana and works with building a new dormitory, preaching evangelistic crusades and helping to start new churches.

Pat Blue taught at the Bible college and worked with the women's ministries to organize a Missionettes program for girls 11 to 19. They have two teenage children, both born in Zaire.

Rev. Sandy Stevenson, pastor of the local congregation, invites the community to attend the service.

Arts project grants made

Funds totaling $6,200 were awarded to regional arts organizations for sponsorship and production assistance projects by the Northwest Regional Development commission (NWRDC) on July 23, according to Linda Nelson, arts council director for the NWRDC.

In addition, $530 was awarded for "Small Arts" projects, Nelson said.

Middle River Community Theatre was awarded $995 for four performances of "The Hound of the Baskerville" September 25, 26, 28 and 29. Northland Community college was awarded $430 for sponsorship of a student honors band and performance by Paul Brodie November 18.

Northland will also receive $2,375 and the Crookston Civic Music league will receive $2,400 for sponsorship of concerts by the Minneapolis Chamber Symphony on Feb. 19 and 20, 1992.

Under the Small Arts program, Artists Unlimited of Lake Bronson was awarded $280 for sponsorship of visual arts workshops and critiques by Jean Johnson Ranstrom and Frances Karlsson September 13, 14 and 15.

Northland college will receive $250 for sponsorship of a workshop and concert by the string quartet of the Minneapolis Chamber Symphony on Feb. 20, 1992.

Upcoming deadlines for Small Arts grants applications are August 20, September 20 and October 21, 1991. Organizations may apply for up to $500 in Small Arts grants for projects which do not exceed $1,000 in total costs.

December 2 is the next deadline for arts grants applications for production assistance and sponsorship projects starting after Feb. 1, 1992. Matching grants of up to $3,500 are available for organizations creating, performing or exhibiting arts, or to host arts activities by contracting for the services of another organization.

Application guidelines, forms and instructions for the two arts grant programs are available from Linda Nelson, Arts Council Director, NWRDC, 525 Brooks Avenue South, Thief River Falls, MN 56701, phone 681-2637 or 1-800-537-0601.

Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Sustad left on Friday, July 12th, for the Bluewater Covenant Bible camp near Deer River. Rev. and Mrs. Lloyd Tornell of Overland Park, KS, was also there as he was the camp speaker. On Saturday afternoon the Tornells and the Sustads were coffee guests at the Erickson (cousins) family reunion being held at the Campfire girl camp on Bluewater Lake. Cousins Charles and Nona Jean of Alexandria, Genevieve and John Bowman of Soudan, Edla and Nels Holmberg of Thief River Falls, Jim and Marilyn Erickson of Moorhead, Dorothy Erickson of Minneapolis and Paulina Ptacek of rural Goodridge, and all their family and children making a total of between 50 and 60 family members present were enjoying the weekend reunion. On Monday Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Sustad left Bluewater and went to Carlton, where they were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Ostrom and daughter, Gail and Gary Anderson and Linde of Reno, NV. Tuesday the Sustads continued on to Superior, where they visited with Mrs. Sustad's brother, Linus Peterson. By late afternoon the Sustads arrived at the Arnold and Gloria Johnson home where Rev. and Mrs. Fred Grandstrom of Turlock, CA, were guests of the Johnsons, while at the "Johnsons Berry Patch" they had the experience of picking blueberries and picking and hulling strawberries. It was not customer picking day but Wednesday was, so cars were lining up by 7 a.m. with pickers and workers. It was considered a slow time as the peak of the berry season was passed. It had rained during the night but that was no problem, when berries are ready they are picked regardless. Wednesday dawned fresh, sunny and hot, but no mosquitoes. The Johnsons have owned and operated their family commercial strawberry farm for many years. By mid-morning on Wednesday the Sustads were heading back to Bluewater Bible camp, where they stayed until Friday afternoon when they left and returned to their home at Viking.

Solid waste incinerator

A proposed set of rules that would set new requirements for municipal solid waste incinerator ash testing, storage, transport and disposal in Minnesota was published June 24 in the State Register, beginning a month-long public comment period. The rules were approved for publication by the Minnesota Pollution Control Agency's (MPCA) Citizens Board during its monthly meeting May 22.

The MPCA has been developing the proposed incinerator ash rules for the past two years with input from the solid waste combustion industry, environmental organizations, as well as local and state governments and private citizens.

The new ash rules would require continued quarterly testing of incinerator ash to see if the toxicity of the ash is being reduced as required under a 1988 state law. This testing is currently being done under a temporary ash management program required by the 1988 law. The law requires incinerators to take steps to reduce both the toxicity and the quantity of the ash they produce.

The new rules would also set strict guidelines for ash disposal sites, such as use of liners under the buried ash and systems to collect moisture that seeps through the ash and forms leachate. Results of testing leachate from ash landfills indicate that incinerator ash does not generate leachate with dangerous levels of toxic metals. Also, ash which is managed in accordance with the proposed rules is classified as a solid waste and is exempt from hazardous waste regulations.

All existing municipal solid waste incinerators in the state would be required to comply with the new ash rules. Any new incinerators that are built in the state would also be covered under these rules.

The month-long public comment period on the proposed rules will end July 25. The MPCA will hold a series of public hearings if the agency receives 25 or more requests for hearings on the proposed ash rules.

The rules will go back to the MPCA's Citizens Board for final approval and adoption by this fall. Copies of the proposed ash rules are available from the MPCA by calling (612) 297-2759, or toll-free in Minnesota at 1-800-652-9747.

Motorcycle instructor

Minnesota Safety program is looking for motorcyclists interested in becoming motorcycle training instructors in Thief River Falls.

The non-profit program, funded through motorcycle endorsement fees and administered by the Minnesota Department of Public Safety, trains about 1,600 motorcycle riders statewide each year. The program currently has 88 certified instructors, but more are needed to meet the demand for training and expansion of course sites.

Instructor candidates must be experienced motorcyclists who currently ride a motorcycle and possess a valid Minnesota driver's license with a motorcycle endorsement.

All instructor candidates are carefully screened prior to admission to instructor training, according to Bruce Ahlberg, training coordinator of the Minnesota Motorcycle Safety program. An absolute requirement is that they have the necessary motorcycle knowledge and riding skills. Instructor candidates receive over 75 hours of formal training, which includes student teaching.

When candidates successfully complete the course and are certified, they will be entitled to part-time employment with the program. The Motorcycle Safety Instructor Preparation course and the 20-hour rider training course given by the program are conducted according to National Motorcycle Safety Foundation standards.

For more information contact Ahlberg by calling 1-800-247-1303.

Former resident gets in Fellows program

Jerald R. Nesland, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Nesland of Thief River Falls, and the superintendent of New York Mills public schools, has been selected as one of 23 participants in the Bush Public Schools Executive Fellows program for 1991-92. This unique program is funded by a grant from the Bush Foundation to the Minnesota Association of School Administrators.

The Bush program is designed to enhance management skills of highly motivated school executives in mid-career so they may continue to give strong leadership in the fast-changing arena of public education. Individuals participate in a series of one and two-week intensive residential sessions scheduled over a period of 18 months. This scheduling permits participants to arrange their work responsibilities with the least disruption. A two-day segment for board chairs and one for guests are included.

An important requirement of the program is to design and implement a task force project that will prove beneficial to the participant' school district or, in the case of some participants, the educational agency in which they are employed.

A mini-grant, including staff consultation time, is provided to each participant to launch this project. Some task force efforts engaged in by previous Bush Fellows include projects such as designing new accountability or evaluation systems, developing a wellness program, designing a facilities plan, a new strategic plan, or a levy referendum campaign, reorganizing a district, or introducing a major new program or process, etc.

By participating in the Bush Program, Nesland will have an opportunity to work with other public school executives from across the state and learn from leading resource personnel in educational administration. The faculty includes outstanding scholars, management consultants and leaders from business and government. The program began July 7, 1991, with a two-week session.

Fellows in the program come from 23 different school districts and educational agencies ranging in student population from 315 to 48,000. They represent two urban, seven suburban and 14 greater Minnesota districts and educational agencies.

A graduate of Northland Community College and Moorhead State University, Nesland received his master of arts degree from St. Cloud State University. (He is a 1966 graduate of Lincoln high school in Thief River Falls.)

His past experience includes being a high school geography and district-wide audio visual director of the Pierz, Minnesota, school system, a high school principal and later superintendent in the Cyrus school system, superintendent of the Halstad and later Norman county West (Halstad/Hendrum) school systems and currently, superintendent of schools in the New York Mills public school system.

During Nesland's tenure as a Minnesota educator, he has been an active member of many community and school committees, including the state department of education commissioner's forum and district and regional MSHSL committees. In addition, he was 1985 Halstad citizen of the year and has served at various church and civic officer levels.

Jerry, along with his wife Jeri and their four children, reside in New York Mills.

Retail vitality discussed at TRF workshop

An overview of the retail vitality of the Thief River Falls region is the subject of a retailing program that will be held in Thief River Falls, August 6.

Part One of a three-part program designed to assist retailers in the Thief River Falls area will be held from 7:30 to 9 p.m. August 6 in room 134 of the Thief River Falls Technical College. Part one, "overview of the Retail Vitality of the Thief River Falls Region" is an explanation of information on the overall economics and demographics of this region. The retail vitality and the vitality of selected store types in Pennington County will be compared with performance ratios characteristic of other areas. Art Gullette, director of the Regional Small Business Development Center and professor of business administration at Bemidji State University will be the presenter.

Retail business owners and managers, prospective owners of a retail store, or any other individual who feels they may benefit from attendance is encouraged to attend. The program is sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce, Jobs Inc., and the Small Business Development Center.

The event is free and no pre-registration is required. For information call the SBDC office at 681-5424 or the Chamber of Commerce at 681-3720.

Animal pound holds one dog

Thief River Falls animal control pound has a black dog that can either be claimed by its owner or adopted. The dog was caught July 26 in Hazel.

Each animal at the animal pound is kept for a minimum of five days from the date of impoundment. Animals may be claimed by proving ownership. Pound fees, license fees and any other expense incurred by the department will be assessed prior to release. Contact the police department at 681-6161 for more information.

Tillage clinic August 20

Crop residue and production management will be demonstrated and discussed during the tillage clinic Tuesday, August 20, at the Northwest Experiment Station, University of Minnesota—Crookston. The clinic will begin at 9 a.m. and conclude by 12:30 p.m.

Working tillage demonstrations will include the SunFlower Trashmulcher, DMI colter Champ II with parabolic disc assembly, John Deere 712 Mulch Tiller, chisel plow with varying shovels, disk and plow.

Topics and speakers will be: "Tillage and Disease," Dr. Robert Jones; "Compaction and Soil Tilth," Dr. John Moncrief; "Tillage and Weed Control," Dr. Bev Durgan; "Nutrient Transfer," Dr. George Rehm; "Residue Estimating and Measuring," Dave Breitbach, and "Tree Culture," John Staley.

At the end of the clinic, visitors will be able to talk with the speakers individually and ask questions. In case of rain, the speaker portion of the program will be held in the ARC auditorium at the Northwest Experiment station beginning at 9:30 a.m.

Sponsoring the activities are soil and water conservation districts in Roseau, Kittson, Marshall, Wilkin, Marshall Beltrami, Pennington, Red Lake, Norman and Clay counties, Northwest Experiment station, Minnesota Extension service, Soil Conservation service, and the West Central and Northwest Minnesota Initiative funds.

Impressions . . .

Have you noticed the new exercise in our area these days? If you haven't, you probably have not been out-of-doors recently. Those of us who have had the opportunity to be outside for even a brief amount of time have quickly discovered this new summertime exercise. I call it "avoiding mosquitoes, if you can".

There are various ways to play this "fun" game. The best way to let the mosquitoes win is to simply be still. Sitting in your favorite lawn chair trying to enjoy the beauty around you will be nigh unto impossible. The mosquitoes seem to like the still targets the best. So, unless your chair is surrounded by mosquito netting, you will find yourself to be a feast for hungry mosquitoes anytime you try to sit still for a few moments.

To try to win at this game, the target, we humans, need to keep in motion. That means constant motion. You will not be permitted to stand still for even a few moments when you are attempting to win this game. If you are playing catch, for example, you can not stand still for those few seconds in which you are waiting for the ball to be thrown to you. You must hop and move your arms to keep from being bitten.

Winning at the mosquito game means altering how you do some things. I like to weed my garden. I also like to stand with the hose in my hand, watering my gardens. Both activities are stopped for the time being. The weeds will just have to enjoy the respite from the weeder. And the watering will have to be done with a sprinkler for a while. I'm playing the "avoid mosquitoes game" so I guess my weeding and watering will have to wait.

Mosquitoes are quite persistent. Our town has been sprayed at least three times for these pesky bugs. But regardless of the preventive measures, there are mosquitoes everywhere!! What survivalists they must be!!

But survivalists or not, they are still the enemy of us human targets. We who end up being bitten pay for our bites with itching. We find it hard to love the persistence of these insects.

When we find ourselves losing the "Avoid mosquitoes game" we can reson to the lovely smell of bug spray. Who of us haven't felt the the need to finally give in and spray ourselves with the overpowering smell of a variety of bug sprays? One of my earliest memories is of bug spray. The church my father pastored in the mountains of Pennsylvania had a small park in which they held their summer Sunday night services. As we sang "Day is Dying in the West", we could hear the cows mooing in the nearby pasture, and we could smell the lovely fragrance of bug spray being frantically sprayed by the mothers on all of us children. What a memory—bug spray! But we knew that for at least a few moments, we humans had won the war against the mosquitoes.

We don't always win the war against the mosquitoes. Mosquitoes can, by the nature of their attack against us humans, carry diseases to us. I had a friend, Donna. Donna was bitten by a mosquito that gave her the disease encephalitis. Donna didn't win the war against that small, persistent, dangerous insect. I've always wondered what other diseases these insects can transmit to us. Hopefully, the medical community is keeping themselves educated about the damage this insect can do.

But, whether we win or lose the "avoid mosquitoes game", mosquitoes are truly a sign of better times for us. Since moving to Minnesota we have heard about the mosquito being the state bird. We have heard terror stories of the size these insects can get here in Minnesota. But, until this year, I simply ignored your warnings. For, we have been in a drought the entire time I have lived in this fine state. In times of drought, mosquitoes do not flourish. The drought has ended in our area. We need to be eternally grateful for this. So, even as you play the "Avoid mosquito game", be thankful that the reason we need to play this game is rain. And for rain we have patiently waited and hoped and prayed.

Bikeway map for northwest area printed

Publication of a new northwestern Minnesota bikeway map which covers about one-fourth of the state and replaces 12 existing bikeway maps published in the early 1980s has been announced by the Minnesota Department of Transportation.

Area covered by the map is north and west of lines from Little Falls to the North Dakota and Canadian borders. Measuring 24x32 inches, the map folds to the size of a standard highway map.

The map provides cyclists with information on roadway suitability and the location of off-road bikeways including the Heartland state trail. Park locations and facility information are also available for state, county and inset city parks.

Inset maps of Little Falls, Moorhead, East Grand Forks, Detroit Lakes, Bemidji, Crookston, Fergus Falls and Thief River Falls are also included on the map, as well as a mini-tour route that highlights the cultural and historical nature of this part of Minnesota.

The maps cost $3 plus $1 for postage and are available from the MnDOT map sales office.

Area students participate in UND Co-op

Area students are gaining valuable work experience this summer through the Cooperative Education program at the University of North Dakota in Grand Forks.

Anita Cardinal, a nursing student at the school is working with Inter County Nursing Services in Thief River Falls; Scott Greelis, an industrial technology student is working with Tim Shea Nursery in Grand Forks; and, Betty Jo Kiesow, electrical engineering student is working with Alliant Techsystems Inc. in Hopkins. Cardinal, Greelis and Kiesow are among 179 UND students taking part in the program this summer, working throughout the United States and Canada for companies such as UNISYS, Rockwell International, Transport Canada and governmental entities such as the North Dakota department of Human Services and U.S. Fish and Wildlife.

And most are making good money while they earn college credit and job experience. But while many colleges promote cooperative education as a way to earn money for college expenses, co-op at UND is a lot more than cash in the pocket. It is based on the philosophy that learning extends beyond the classroom. While participating in the program, students work as regular employees of the cooperating employer and receive professional supervision and training.

"Cooperative education gives students an edge in the job market," according to Darlene Van Tour, program director. "It's a real benefit, both to students and employers. We find that students who have cooperative work experience often top employers' recruiting lists. The students are more mature, responsible and self-confident. Employers look at their credentials and see meaningful experience. That's a definite plus when it comes to hiring."

Shafland to attend Wartburg

Heidi Shafland, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Shafland of Thief River Falls, is among 212 freshmen and transfers to register for the 1991-92 academic year at Wartburg college in Waverly, IA. Classes will begin September 9.

Soaking The Rich Plan All Wet

Americans are funny people. We are proud to live in a land where we have the freedom to succeed and to prosper and make our fortune. On the other hand, we are critical of the "rich" and resentful that some have accumulated greater wealth than others.

Yes, Americans are funny people and U.S. Congressmen and Senators are the funniest of all. They are eager to extol the freedoms of the nation they serve but equally eager to single out the "rich" for special taxation. "Ability to pay" is the theme often sung on Capital Hill.

In its short-sighted zeal to "soak the rich" it seems the Congress has outsmarted itself and proved to be "all wet" in its reasoning once again. It also has succeeded in showing that most "rich" Americans didn't get that way by being stupid or foolish.

Ever conscious of the political popularity of taking from the "rich" and giving to the voters, Congress last year passed a luxury tax, a boost in excise taxes to 10 per cent on a range of so-called luxury items. Included were such things as yachts, private airplanes, expensive jewelry and furs, and cars costing more than $30,000.

The reasoning among the Washington officialdom was that the tax would raise revenue from only the "rich" because only wealthy people could afford such items. The logic was true, as far as it goes. But Congress hadn't given the well-to-do credit for living on the sunny side of simple. When the punitive tax went into effect, many of the wealthy simply quit buying luxury items.

The result: Sales of expensive automobiles dropped 20 per cent in the first part of this year, representing a loss of an estimated $1.3 billion in sales. About 50 dealerships were expected to close with a loss of about 2,100 jobs. Surviving dealerships will cut back another 1,100 jobs. Hundreds of workers also are being put on lay-off in the boat building industry.

The irony of the situation is that far from raising additional revenue, as Congress had expected, the luxury tax is likely to cost the government money!

In the auto industry alone it is estimated that state and federal governments will lose about $135 million in tax revenues this year. That figure doesn't take into account the money these governments will have to spend on increased unemployment compensation benefits for the workers who lose their jobs.

Some of the members of Congress who have a little better flair for realism than their compatriots are already considering legislation to repeal the so-called luxury tax. They should be properly embarrassed for having to undo what they needn't have done in the first place. And they should use the example for a bit of personal reflection on the long-term effects of their short-sighted action on taxes and the basic intelligence of the American people.

Ninja Turtles Spread Mutant Nonsense

"Farmland News," published by Farmland Industries, recently carried an article by Bill Matteson which should increase awareness by farmers and gain attention in areas of the country which have a high personal stake in agriculture.

Matteson points out that the Teenage Mutant Ninja Turtle characters generally are "guys representing the virtues we all hold dear," but that a comic booklet entitled "ABC's for a Better Planet" that features the Turtles has a couple of entries that take dead aim at agriculture.

In the booklet, the characters use letters of the alphabet to introduce a wide range of environmental concerns and tell children what they can do to help protect the environment and the earth's resources.

"M is for Meat," says the book, published by Random House, Inc. "Some animals are injected with artificial hormones to make them grow faster. But some of these hormones cause cancer. A lot of the world's cereal crop is fed to cattle, when it could be used to feed starving people instead. And cattle expel methane, a gas that makes the greenhouse effect worse.

"What can you do? How about not eating so much meat in the first place" And ask your folks to buy meat from organically raised beef cattle."

What about "P is for Pesticides?"

"Pesticides are chemical poisons used by farmers to kill weeds and insect pests," the comic booklet states. "But some pesticides are still in the food when it gets to the supermarket. And pesticides also poison animals that aren't pests.

"What can you do? Get your folks to buy fruits and vegetables that are grown organically—that is, without chemical pesticides. Organically grown stuff may not look as perfect, but it tastes great—and it's good for you."

"It's easy to disregard such incomplete and misleading treatment of complex issues as is represented by this Random House publication," Matteson writes. "But to do so is to ignore the negative impact such misinformation can have on young people now and in the future. And it is to ignore that inaccurate depictions of production agriculture are becoming more and more commonplace.

"What can you do? It's hard to know the answer. Certainly, our challenge is to provide a balanced and informed view of environmental and food production questions at every opportunity. It isn't wise to ignore Leonardo, Michelangelo, Raphael and Donatello. These turtles seem to be influential dudes.

"Maybe we need to recruit them to tell the rest of the story: That Americans enjoy the most nutritious, healthful and assorted supply of reasonably-priced food that's available, thanks to the productivity and technology of U.S. agriculture."

Matteson makes a good point. The more that misinformation about agriculture is allowed to be distributed, the more it is accepted as fact. It's never too early to challenge these statements and receive acknowledgment through correction.

Dick and Shirley Berg of Elk River, Corky and Pam Ringstad, Plymouth, April Ringstad, San Antonio, TX, Randy Rooney of Brooklyn Park, Karry, Mary and Arnold Thomas Ringstad of Novato, CA, Deloris Ringstad of Gully together at the Floyd Bergs to celebrate Floyd's birthday Saturday evening. They also celebrated Corky Ringstad's birthday too. Other visitors over the weekend were Roger and June Melbo of LaCrosse, WI, Ann Lohse of McIntosh, Barbara, Kimberly and Stephanie Olson and Morvin, Rhoda, Dustin, Melissa and Rachel Berg of Gully.

Kenneth and Alice Forsberg and grandchildren, Lisa, Amy and Brent Miller of Buffalo, and Esther Rutkowski went to Crose Lake on Saturday to attend the Tharaldson and Gunderson family reunion, and we had a potluck picnic dinner. The Orin Tharaldsons and Archie Rinkenburger families did a good job making all the arrangements, but we missed the Dunderson musicians as they couldn't make it, but they played volleyball, horseshoe, cards and little kids had games. We looked at a lot of pictures and mementoes of the past and they were taking a lot of pictures, so it was another fun get to gather or to reminisce. It turned out to be a beautiful day after the morning rain.

Karry, Mary and "Boo" Ringstad of Novato, CA, spent 10 days with his mother, Deloris Ringstad and with aunts and uncles in the area. April Ringstad of San Antonio, TX, spent two days with her grandmother, Deloris, Corky and Pam Ringstad of Plymouth were also guests.

Karry, Mary, Deloris and "Boo" Ringstad were Monday dinner guests of Wally and Maxine Paulson of Bemidji.

Mrs. David Rollins (Eleanor Thorson) Amy and Scott left Wednesday afternoon for their home at Portland, Oregon. They have been houseguests at Mrs. Esther Thorssen and while here they visited relatives and friends. They also spent some time at her farms.

Henrietta Knutson came home from the Bemidji hospital on Monday after having surgery, her sister, Rose and husband Eddy Opsund of Thief River Falls, came on Wednesday to help Henrietta and spent the day with Henry and Henrietta Knutson.

Visitors at Cora Hanson have been Clara Strand of Fosston, Florence and Dennis Driflin from Mt. Vernon, WA, and Doris and Elmer Hanson of Oklee.

Speaking Of . . .

. . . Warning . . .
Treasure Hunting can be Hazardous!

It started simply enough. I went to the library looking for cookbooks so I could find something new to pep up my recipe column. The lady at the desk sent me to the cookbook section—supposedly.

I ended up somewhere in the library, but wherever I was, it certainly was not the cookbook section I found myself confronted with dozens upon dozens of books on antiques. I glanced through one or two and I was hooked. I went home with my book bag bulging, filled with books on what type of old things are now valuable, what they might be worth, and how to find them. I never did get around to finding the cookbook section.

I read all of those books on antiques, every one, and then went back for more. I became fascinated with old dishes and glassware. They were so pretty, and so valuable, besides being just the right size to collect. I zeroed in on books about such things. I was intrigued, to say the least.

After assimilating everything I could about the valuable treasures tucked away in Grannys' cupboards and Moms' cabinets, I pondered how I could get my hands on some of these goodies. Auction sales would be a good place. Yes. But auction sales are few and far between. Hum, think some more.

RUMMAGE SALES! Yes. There are rummage sales all over town in the summer, and I can go to all of them, get there first, and get some really great treasures.

I started going to just a few rummage sales—just a few—looking for dishes and glasses. I did find some. I doubt very much that they are valuable, but I liked them, so I bought them. I figure for two bits or maybe four bits, how can a person lose. They're such bargains! Anyway, they'll be absolute treasures in 20 years or so, right?

Finding all these bargains at just a few rummage sales, how many more bargains might I find if I go to more. I did. I quickly learned to make maps in order to hit the most rummage sales in the shortest amount of time, since those people who have rummage sales never seem to realize that people who work from 8 to 5 have to use their lunch hours to "treasure hunt." (TO THOSE OF YOU WHO HAVE RUMMAGE SALES: If you are smart, you will set your hours a little earlier and a little later on weekdays or have your sales on the weekend in order to allow us poor "working stiffs" to come and buy your "treasures."

Anyway, the problem with this treasure hunting is not so much that I am buying dishes and glasses. They do look pretty enough sitting around shining in the sunlight after they've been washed and polished. I guess I must admit it might be getting to be just a teeny bit of a problem finding space to display all my "treasures." Come to think of it, I've had to set up two more bookcases to hold all of the treasures I've found, and I've only been doing this for three weeks! But we won't worry about that minor problem.

The really major problem with this rummage sale treasure hunting is that I can't seem to resist a bargain. I'm buying things that are not dishes and glasses. I'm buying all kinds of things that I don't need, and that I'm not even sure I want. I can't seem to stop myself. After all, for two bits or maybe four bits, how can a person lose. They're such bargains!

At first I bought interesting things just for myself and the house, like candlesticks (6 of them—no candles, though), plant pots (10 of them), a tea kettle, an ash tray (it was blue, you know), bamboo trays (5), a bowl with a handle and a spout (never mind that it has "Plummer Creamery" on it), bronze wall plaques (2), Christmas decorations and a Halloween pumpkin (it doesn't hurt to think ahead), baubles and beads (11), lamps (2), glass jars with covers (4), lap trays (2), and a few other things. After all, for two bits or maybe four bits, how can a person lose. They're such bargains!

It's gotten worse. Now I've begun buying things for my friends and family. I'm sure they need these things; at least I think they've mentioned needing them at one time or another—maybe. After all, for two bits or maybe four bits, how can a person lose. They're such bargains!

But now I'm really afraid this buying stuff might really get out of hand. I'm afraid I may eventually begin to buy things just because they are there and a bargain at two bits or four bits. I'm afraid that I may have to go out and look for people to give these bargains to. I think this may have to stop.

You know, some day it might get so bad that I may even have to have a rummage sale of my own to sell all the things I've bought at other people's rummage sales.

Capitol Commentary

by LeRoy Stumpf
State Senator — District 1

Every so often in the Legislature, I get the chance to work on something that will make long-term changes. That happened during the past session in higher education. As an added bonus, I know now that northwestern Minnesota will have another voice working on the same issue very soon.

Bill Ness of Thief River Falls has been appointed by Governor Carlson to the new Higher Education Board. This board will oversee the merger of the state's technical college, community college, and state university systems over the next four years.

This is a prestigious appointment. The Governor was able to choose only six people for the board. Six more individuals were chosen by the current college system boards.

I often hear from District One residents who are concerned that the needs of northwestern Minnesota are not heard in St. Paul. It is sometimes tough to make people from the metro area understand what life is like 300 miles away, but the more that people from the area work on statewide projects, the easier it becomes.

Ness is well-qualified for his new position. He has served on a financial management commission for the University of Minnesota, and the general advisory committee for the Thief River Falls Technical college.

He also has extensive experience in business. Ness is chairman of the board of Arctco, Inc., a director of AirTran corporation, and vice president of Northern Woodwork, Inc. This experience will also be helpful in bringing together the state's higher education systems.

The other five gubernatorial appointees include two from Minneapolis, one from Rochester, one from Willmar and one from Cloquet. All have experience in business or education.

The appointment of Greater Minnesota residents to this board is important. There will be growing pressure from metro residents during the next few years to close rural campuses that have smaller enrollments than urban campuses. The board will play an important role in making sure that rural Minnesota has continued access to higher education.

Senate Majority Leader Roger Moe said during the session that the merger and the board are necessary because of current trends. With the merger, one board will have the authority to get various colleges and universities to work together on facilities and programs. This sort of cooperation does exist now in some areas, but it will be essential in the future.

The assignment that Bill Ness and his colleagues on the new board have is a difficult one, but I know that they are up to the task.

Army Light Infantry Division structure.

From the Ray S. Miller Army Airfield at Camp Ripley the members of the committees climbed onto two buses, which took them to where members of the Minnesota National Guard were undergoing training exercises with the Bradley Fighting vehicle. The group arrived as some of the impressive Bradleys were being taken into a lake.

It was one of the first times the Bradley has been tested in water in Minnesota. It was not the first time a Bradley had been taken into the water, however.

To the visitors, the only visible adjustment to the Bradleys was a tarp spread around the machine to prevent water from going over the top. The driver is completely under the outside water level. While inside the machine and unable to see, he is given directions by a soldier on top of the machine.

Many in the group were able to ride on the Bradleys as they went out onto the lake. They can attest to the fact that riders on top remain high and dry as do individuals inside the vehicle.

Camp Ripley has about 60 of the fighting vehicles. Each costs roughly $1.7 million. They can travel up to 40 miles an hour and some even faster. It is considered an infantry support vehicle, but can also be used in first strike situations, depending upon the situation, said one officer.

Members of the 2nd Battalion of the 136th Infantry regiment were undergoing their testing on the Bradley Fighting vehicles. An officer for the National Guard said that he now has every confidence in the 2nd battalion.

If war with Iraq had started this fall instead of last year, he said he believed soldiers from the unit in Thief River Falls would have been there.

Not only did the citizens committee ride in military transports, but they tasted military food.

That's our lunch! Without saying anything, I think everyone wondered whether it was a joke. An officer for the National Guard gleefully handed out MREs, which he explained stands for Meals, Ready-to-Eat.

Beef patty, pork, ham and other varieties of the MREs were handed out. If you were a hungry soldier and inclined to take orders, I suppose the MREs wouldn't taste too bad.

During a briefing at the new armory, an officer told members of the committee that there are many bears at Camp Ripley and many stories to tell about the bears. In one instance, he said, several soldiers had left candy and other snacks in their camp and had left. When they returned they discovered that a bear had gone through their camp and had skipped over the snacks and had gotten into the MREs.

After having tasted some of the MREs, members of the committee shared knowing looks. Obviously the bear was sick or the officer was stretching the truth a bit as some older military men are inclined to do.

Menu No. 3 "Beef Patty, Bean Component" contained beans with tomato sauce, a dehydrated beef patty, which the consumer is instructed to "let soak until soft (one to five minutes)", dry unsalted crackers, cheese spread (not much to taste), a dehydrated chocolate covered brownie, and a variety pack which contained a beverage base powder, instant coffee, cream substitute, soup and gravy base - beef flavored, sugar, matches, iodized salt, a small pack of toilet paper, Tabasco pepper sauce, two small pieces of chewing gum, and a chocolate fudge candy bar.

Actually, MREs are probably fairly nutritious. Several of the older veterans said they are better than C-rations. I'll have to take their word for it. But quite honestly, the beef patty was so dry it seemed to absorb all moisture it came in contact with.

Following a short picnic near an inactive firing range the group received a briefing about Camp Ripley at the camp's new armory. The group was then given a quick tour of the armory and taken back to Thief River Falls via the same C-130 that flew them to Camp Ripley.

Citizens committee members from Thief River Falls and Crookston flew on a C-130 transport plane to Camp Ripley last Friday. The members of the committee learned what national guard members go through during their training. While at the $3,000 acre training site, the members of the citizens support group were able to ride on a Bradley Fighting vehicle.

C-130 transport plane landed at Thief River Falls regional airport last Friday. The plane took over 40 members of the Citizens Support Committee from Thief River Falls and Crookston to Camp Ripley.

Marriage/family therapists must be licensed

Three years ago, the Minnesota State Legislature created the State Board of Marriage and Family Therapy. The purpose of the board was to protect the public by setting standards for qualifications, training, experience and ethics for those who seek to represent themselves as marriage and/or family therapists.

While the term "marriage and family therapist" is relatively new in Minnesota, other states have regulated them for years. This mental health discipline focuses on solving problems in relationships between couples, parents and children, siblings, ex-spouses, friends, co-workers, etc.

In three years since that enactment, the board has been established and has developed permanent rules governing the profession. As of June 1991, 735 Minnesotans have become licensed marriage and family therapists.

Under board rules a Minnesota licensed marriage and family therapist must have earned at least a master's degree from a regionally accredited college or university. Required graduate course work in addition to marriage and family therapy is geared to make the therapist knowledgeable in such areas as human growth and development behavior patterns, interpersonal relations and family systems. After completion of this graduate course work, each potential licensee must successfully pass a national competency examination and complete two full years of supervised clinical experience before state licensure.

Any person who feels they may benefit from the services of a licensed marriage and family therapist may find them listed in the yellow pages of their local telephone directory under the heading — "Counselors - Marriage, Family, Child and Individual." Licensed therapists will use the initials "LMFT" after their names indicating that they are Minnesota licensed. The board strongly suggests that potential clients interview potential therapists as to their areas of expertise, probable number of therapy sessions and fees.

While the Board of Marriage and Family Therapy cannot recommend specific individual therapists, it can provide lists of licensees in a given geographical area.

Questions about the profession, the licensing process or complaints about licensees should be directed to the board of Marriage and Family Therapy, 2700 University Avenue West, Suite 67, St. Paul, Minnesota 55114.

Arlette Abrahamson and Sheriff Bob Wold were among the Citizen Support Group members from Thief River Falls who participated in a visit to Camp Ripley last Friday. Abrahamson and Wold were among the members of the group to ride on Bradley Fighting vehicles. The vehicles, which weigh about 26 tons, were taken into a lake during fleet training exercises.

Pressure test finds Lakehead line weak spots

Hydrostatic testing on the Lakehead Pipe Line 34-inch transmission line between Viking and Plummer found two weak spots in the line which were immediately repaired, according to Kevin Hatfield of the Lakehead office in Bemidji.

Hatfield said the two ruptures found through the increased pressure test were about half a mile apart in the area of Thief River Falls. Following repair of the faults in the line a successful eight-hour pressure test was successfully concluded Friday.

Under controlled conditions, the hydrostatic test of the pipeline uses water dyed fluorescent green to build pressure in the pipeline above normal maximum operating pressures. Oil in the line was displaced, the pipe cleaned and the dyed water used to replace the oil prior to the test.

Testing began in July, according to the pipeline company, and is expected to continue through October. Next testing will be done on the section of the line from Plummer to Clearbrook. Preparation, monitoring and repairs, if any, will take approximately four to seven days per month, including the actual eight-hour pressure test.

Testing of the line at a higher pressure than used in normal operations is intended to assure that it will "work properly during normal operation and protect the environment to the highest standards of pipeline safety," the company said.

Prisoners? Members of Thief River Falls and Crookston Citizen Support Committees visited Camp Ripley last Friday. The group of over 40 citizens traveled by C-130 transport from Thief River Falls. While at the camp the group went on a training exercise with the Bradley Fighting vehicles, pictured above; toured facilities, and tasted MREs.

Members of Citizen Support Groups from Thief River Falls and Crookston rode on Bradley Fighting vehicles while they were at Camp Ripley last week. Many of the members rode on the vehicles while they went through float training exercises. Over 40 members of the two committees were taken to Camp Ripley by C-130 transport last week.

New Armory in the cantonement area at Camp Ripley is an impressive structure. Over 40 members of Citizen Support Committees from Thief River Falls and Crookston traveled to Camp Ripley last Friday. The group was taken to the camp by C-130 transport plane. They returned that afternoon but not before riding on Bradley Fighting vehicles, tasting MREs, and touring the new armory.

Blood drive for TRF has 141 donors

Kay Nelson, blood drive coordinator, reports an excellent turnout for the blood drive held in Thief River Falls on June 25 and 26. Nelson said that 152 people volunteered to donate blood and 141 were able to give. Seven of the donors gave blood for the first time.

Local assistance was given by Kay Nelson, Clarice Collins, Marie Sandsmark, Ella Larson, Dorothy Poolman, Margaret Seaverson, Denise Jesme, Ardelle Ostgarden, Edna McEnelly, Pat Anenson and Richard Spyhalski.

Donations will help meet the blood needs of many patients in more than 50 hospitals served by United Blood Services.

My Time

[illegible]

Newspaper home delivery is a never-ending challenge that every publisher faces every time an issue is printed. Every week we hear of many customers who:

a) Haven't received their copy.

b) My paper takes a week to get here.

c) My paper was all wet, or

d) All of the above.

It isn't enough just to see that the news and advertising are gathered, typeset and printed. No, we must do one more important thing – get it into the hands of the reader quickly and in readable form. Well, Saturday of last week we took it on the chin on home delivery in Thief River Falls and yours truly is the negligent party.

Recently I attended a delivery seminar and was "told" that newspapers could be delivered to homes by placing the paper in or under the postal receptacle at each home as long as this did not interfere with the delivery of the United States mail. Whoever did the "telling," as it turns out, was dead wrong.

The actual policy of the postal authorities on this matter is explicitly clear, as it states in section 151.2 of the Domestic Mail Manual that "mail receptacles shall be used exclusively for matter which bears postage . . . and therefore no part of a mail receptacle may be used to deliver any matter not bearing postage. This applies to items or matter placed upon, supported by, attached to, hung from, or inserted into, a mail receptacle."

Somehow this reminds me of the warning on the old computer cards: do not staple, fold, bend, crinkle or mutilate. Nevertheless, the message is very clear after reading the rule or notice as the case may be.

Needless to say, I didn't find this out until after our paper boys delivered last Friday's edition of the Northern Watch. The paper boys had earlier been informed by me that they could use the mailbox as long as it did not interfere with the delivery of the United States mail. On Saturday, the Thief River Falls mail carriers correctly followed U.S. postal regulations, and picked up every copy of the Northern Watch "placed upon, supported by, attached to, hung from, or inserted into, a mail receptacle."

No wonder we had so many calls on Monday morning about missing copies of the Northern Watch. This was somewhat perplexing since we had just had a meeting last Friday morning with all of the paper boys on making good home delivery. This publisher and our paper boys now know that mail receptacles are like "shrines" and are only to be gazed upon by us and no Northern Watch is to be placed upon, supported by, attached to, hung from, or inserted into them.

We are asking all of our readers in Thief River Falls to work with us and our paper boys in order to best achieve home delivery you are happy with. Please feel free to tell your paper boy where you would like your copy delivered, but remember the above warning – no mail receptacle can be used in any way!

Please let us know if you are missing your paper and we will do our very best to get the problem corrected. Our telephone number is 681-4450.

Tent services August 13-18

Evangelistic crusade sponsored by the Hauge Lutheran Innermission federation, in cooperation with area churches, will be held in a tent at the Newfolden city park August 13-18 at 7:45 p.m. each evening.

Rev. James Asp of Brooklyn Park, a native of McIntosh, will be speaker for the services. The park is located on the south side of Newfolden along highway 59. Rev. Asp has served parishes in Montana, North Dakota, South Dakota, Minnesota and Illinois and recently was vacancy pastor of Our Saviour's Lutheran church in Thief River Falls.

Rev. Asp is married to Anna Masted and is a brother of the late Robert Asp, builder of the Viking ship "Hjemcomst."

Vocal and instrumental music by people from the area will begin each service and be interspersed in the evening program. Public attendance is invited. There is no admission charge but a free-will offering will be received each evening.

Rev. Jay Erickson of Plymouth is coordinator of the meetings for the Hauge Federation.

Aasland attends reading session

Lucille Aasland of Thief River Falls recently attended the Minnesota Reading Association conference at the College of Saint Benedict.

The association was started in order to promote reading and literacy of all ages. There are 15 councils throughout the state of Minnesota.

State Patrol investigates two accidents

Minnesota state patrol responded to two accidents in the area over the weekend. Four people were injured in the accidents.

On Sunday at 3:06 a.m. Minnesota state patrol received a report of an accident three to four miles south of Thief River Falls on Highway 32. The state patrol is still investigating the accident and is not sure who was driving. Kent Hamre, Thief River Falls, and Terry Peterson, St. Hilaire, were taken to Northwest Medical Center and treated and released. According to the report the vehicle was south-bound when it ran off the curb and hit an approach. The 1979 Buick was considered a total loss.

On Saturday at 1:41 p.m. the state patrol received a report of an accident that happened about one mile south of Thief River Falls on Highway 59 south. According to the report, a 1983 International Semi towing a house was stopped at a stop sign and attempting a left turn when a 1982 Toyota pickup driven by Troy Taggart, route, 2, Newfolden, attempted to pass. The pickup collided with the corner of the semi. There was light damage to the semi, but severe damage to the Toyota pickup driven by Taggart. Taggart had a scrape to his elbow, and a passenger, Kelly Egenes, Thief River Falls, was treated and released from Northwest Medical Center. The accident is still under investigation.

Art workshop August 12-16

Thief River Falls elementary school teachers will be given the opportunity to work with professional visual artists during the "Visual Arts Institute for Elementary Teachers" workshops to be held August 12-16 in the art room at Franklin middle school.

Elementary teachers explore the basic concepts, principles and techniques of visual arts. Through lecture/demonstrations, discussion and hands-on arts activities, teachers develop practical strategies for integrating visual arts activities into the classroom.

For more information, call the Minnesota Center for Arts Education at 1-800-657-3515.

Antihistimine use and chickenpox

Physicians at Children's Hospital are reminding parents of the potential toxicity of antihistimine when used both orally and topically for patients with the chickenpox.

Children with chickenpox may find relief from extreme itching by using an antihistamine product like Benadryl (diphenhydramine). The drug is also present in topical medications like Caladryl.

Parents may be giving their children proper doses of the oral medication but still be putting their children at risk for an overdose because anti-itch medication applied to the skin also contains the drug. Parents often don't realize that medication can be absorbed into the blood stream, sometimes in large amounts, especially when medication is applied liberally to raw or blistered skin, as is the case with chickenpox.

Because oral and topical medications used simultaneously to reduce itching may cause toxic levels of the medication in a child's blood, parents of children with chickenpox should seek the advice of their physician before using any medication. Parents also may call Children's On-Call at (612) 220-6868 or (800) 869-1320.

Health interest group plans new health program

Pennington County Health Interest Group is offering a new way to promote exercise and good health. Walk Around Pennington County will get its official kick-off on Saturday August 3.

On August 3 the Pennington County Health Interest Group will encourage people lining the Summerfest parade route to join them in their walk around Pennington county. The group isn't going to actually walk around Pennington county. The group is offering a plan and map. For every 15 minutes of exercise the plan participant can mark off a square on the map.

There are 100 squares on the map. When the participant completes the map they will receive a certificate of accomplishment. T-shirts will be given free to the first 50 participates completing the route by November 3, 1991. Additional "I walked Pennington County T-shirts" can be purchased at a cost of $5.

Exercise, just about any type of exercise applies. The plan participant, however, must complete at least 15 minutes of continuous exercise. Types of exercise to choose from this year, include walking, running, bicycling, aerobics, rollerblading, swimming laps, weight room, tennis, and golfing without a golf cart.

Age is no barrier, but the health interest group is specifically targeting individuals ages 25 to 59. The purpose is to get these individuals to exercise more and eat sensibly.

Maps and applications can be picked up at the Chamber of Commerce office in Thief River Falls. When the map is completed drop it off at the Chamber of Commerce to receive a certificate of accomplishment.

For more information about the Walk Pennington County plan contact Helen Anderson at 681-4922.

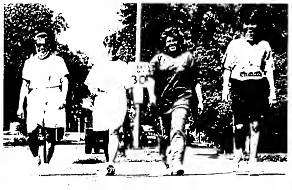
Watch for the Pennington County Health Interest Group in the Summerfest Parade Saturday.



Pulling their best foot forward to promote health in Pennington county are members of the Pennington County Health Interest Group. The group is promoting a new health exercise program called "Walk Around Pennington County". For every 15 minutes of exercise plan participants can mark off one square on a map. Upon completion, the participant will receive a certification of completion. There are 100 squares on the map. Pictured from left is Jodi Bendickson, Joy Gillespie, Diedre Nordin and Helen Anderson.

Brief Bits from Pioneer Village

by
Donna Myhrer

Buildings and Displays

Featured at Pioneer are a "blacksmith" shop which shows tools used for metal work in the early part of the century. The shop has a set of bellows, an anvil, several sets of tongs and a variety of items such as wheel rims and horse shoes which were made in such a shop. Examining the displayed items can help to give a better understanding of the "olden days."

Another building which gives one the feeling of going back in time is the Noper log cabin. It is displayed as it would have looked when it was first built with furniture and kitchen gear from years ago.

Special Events

Many of the Lincoln high school classes which are planning reunions this summer have been holding visits at Pioneer Village or even church services on Sunday morning to complete the weekend activities. Any group may schedule a meeting and/or tour of the Village by calling Donna Myhrer at 681-5767 or 964-5245. Cost of using the church is $50.

Can You Help?

Groups and organizations in Thief River Falls are welcome visitors at Pioneer Village at any time, but especially when they agree to take on a small (or large) project. The Village can always use help for such things as painting walls or farm machinery, moving, tagging or sorting items for display or general cleaning and dusting. If you or your organization would like to help in this way, please call Donna Myhrer at 681-5767 at Pioneer Village or 964-5245 at home.

MN Company expands trade with Japanese

Jameson-Williams Company of Fairmont has signed a contract with the Nishimoto Trading Company to supply 650,000 pounds of edamame, a popular Japanese snack food, to Japan, according to a news release from the Agricultural Utilization Research Institute in Crookston.

The market for edamame in Japan totals 171 million pounds with a value of $85 to 88 million per year. Currently, Japan imports most of its edamame from Taiwan. As the only U.S. supplier of edamame, Jameson Williams plans to initially export 650,000 pounds with intent to raise that number to 10 million pounds within the next five years, representing 17 per cent of the Japanese market.

"Minnesota beans utilized through Jameson-Williams have tested well and stand the prospect of 'beating up' the competition in this tough competitive market," said Eiji Watanabe, representative of Nishimoto Trading Company. "We have high confidence in the product."

The Agricultural Utilization Research Institute (AURI) has contributed to the research and product development of edamame for the past two years. AURI, with support from local legislators and other state agencies, plans to continue to provide assistance to help the company solve storage issues to further improve the competitiveness of the Minnesota-based product.

The good news for Minnesota is that contracted growers receive returns of up to $60 per acre more for edamame than for conventional soybeans. Also, Jameson-Williams will eventually employ up to 50 additional people on a seasonal basis.

A Saki ceremony, scheduled to follow harvest in September, is an honored Japanese tradition and will be used to seal the relationship between Nishimoto Trading and Jameson-Williams.

Edamame is a Japanese word meaning "branch beans". It is an immature soybean with the texture of a lima bean. Edamame is harvested at the peak of ripening before it becomes hard and turns into mature seeds. It is the U.S. equivalent to eating salted-in-the-shell peanuts.

Thefts and Vandalism keep officers busy

Law enforcement officers were kept busy last week responding to a number of theft reports and vandalism reports.

Phone solicitations. On July 24 two residents of St. Hilaire contacted Pennington county sheriff's department to report that someone representing themselves as a Peace and Police Officers association representative was requesting funds. In one instance the caller asked for a credit card number. In the second instance when the St. Hilaire resident asked for a brochure the caller hung up.

Pennington County Sheriff's Investigator Howard Seim said there is such an organizatoin, but what was said in the phone calls doesn't sound like that organization. Seim reminds residents to be careful when responding to phone solicitations. Asking for a brochure is a good idea. Don't give your credit card number out on the telephone.

Following investigation, the calls were verified by the Minnesota Police and Peace Officers Association.

Thefts. On July 23 at 11:15 a.m. Hugo's reported apprehending two youths involved in a shoplifting incident. One youth allegedly took a cigarette lighter from a carton of cigarettes and put it in his pocket. The 11-year-old St. Hilaire resident faces charges of theft in juvenile court.

On July 24 at 7:29 a.m. the school district reported the theft of a soaker hose in the 100 block of South Knight. Theft loss was estimated at $28.

On July 26 at 12:13 a.m. Blake Tangquist reported the theft of five to six cassette tapes from the car. A young boy was seen inside the car. He ran out but the suspect escaped. Another boy was by the garage. He ran also when seen. Theft loss was estimated at $40. The suspects were about 15-years-old.

On July 27 at 1:44 p.m. James Weckwerth, Thief River Falls, reported that he had purchased two cases of beer and had put them in a 48-quart cooler and left it in his pickup. During the evening he parked his vehicle near his residence and someone took the cooler and beer. The theft loss was estimated at $42.

On July 28 at 2:57 p.m. Dave Shaske, Bemidji, reported that his 1980 Olds Cutlass had been parked in front of the Goodridge liquor store and left over night. When he returned he discovered that someone had stolen the vehicle. The vehicle was later located on Highway 1 just inside the reservation. It had been burned and was considered a total loss.

Burglary. On July 24 at 10:08 a.m. a resident of Rocksbury township reported to Pennington county sheriff's department the theft of guns from his residence. The incident is believed to have happened sometime since April. Missing is a Winchester 44-40, model 73, and a Remington 12-gauge pump shotgun with full choke. The total theft loss was estimated at $1,500.

Driving while intoxicated. On July 24 at 12:30 a.m. Pennington county sheriff's department received a report of a pickup in a ditch along County road 24 in Highlanding township. Joseph Barrett, 27, Redlake, was charged with driving while intoxicated and giving a false name to peace officers. He was allegedly driving when the vehicle went into the ditch. Adrian Beaulieu, Redlake, age 39, was also charged with aggravated driving while intoxicated for allegedly attempting to drive the vehicle out of the ditch.

Accident. On July 23 at 9:53 a.m. Pennington county sheriff's department received a report of an accident. According to the report, a car driven by Patti Jo Jensen, Grand Forks, was going east on State Aid 3 when a deer jumped out of the ditch in front of the vehicle. Damages were estimated at $600.

On July 28 at 8:43 p.m. police received a report of a motorcycle accident on Centennial drive. According to the report, Jarod Haugen, Thief River Falls, was riding a Suzuki GSX east on Centennial drive when he lost control of the vehicle and it tipped over on its side. Haugen was not injured. Damage loss was estimated at $900.

On July 27 at 10 p.m. Pennington county sheriff's department received a report of a car and moose accident. According to the report, a car driven by Terrance Koisti, Kelliher, was going west on State Aid 3 three miles west of Highway 32 when it struck a moose in the roadway. Damage loss was estimated at $1,000.

On July 27 at 5:20 p.m. police received a report of an accident at LaBree and Second street. According to the report, a Blazer driven by Jan Nordin, route 3, Thief River Falls, was going south on LaBree, and a car driven by John Halsa, route 2, Thief River Falls, was going east on Second when the vehicles collided. Damage loss was estimated at $500 to the Nordin vehicle and $1,200 to the Halsa vehicle.

On July 27 at 2:03 p.m. Pennington county sheriff's department received a report of an accident in North township. According to the report, a station wagon driven by Peggy Bjerke, route 4, Thief River Falls, was in reverse and going east out of a driveway when it accelerated into a tree. Peggy and Jordan Bjerke, age 5, had sore necks. Damage to the station wagon was estimated at $1,000.

On July 26 at 5:20 p.m. police received a report of an accident at Davis and Fourth street. According to the report, a car driven by Jennifer Johnson, route 2, Thief River Falls, was going north on Davis, and a car driven by Kristi Kae Olson, Thief River Falls, was going west on Fourth street. The Olson vehicle started from a yield to enter Davis when the accident happened. Over $500 damage to each vehicle was reported. A passenger in the Olson vehicle, Kelly Olson, 13, had a bump to the head. Jennifer Johnson bumped her face on the steering wheel.

Vandalism. On July 23 at 4:24 p.m. Linda Messner, Thief River Falls, reported that someone had driven through her yard. Damage loss was estimated at $20. The incident is under investigation.

On July 16 a 4:12 p.m. Clair Larson, Thief River Falls, reported damage to the boat at his residence. A seat was punctured with a fillet knife about 30 times. The knife was also stuck in the seat. The outboard motor oil was punctured and a hand degreaser dumped on the floor. Following investigation, a 7-year-old boy admitted to the damage. Restitution is being made. Damage loss was estimated at $107.50.

On July 22 at 9:06 a.m. Farmers Co-op Grain reported damage to a payloader. A rock was thrown through a window. Damage loss was estimated at $150.

On July 27 at 1:30 p.m. Dave Sarenson, Thief River Falls, reported while his van was parked on Nara someone threw a bottle against the van causing a nine-inch dent.

On July 29 at 12:25 a.m. Robert Camp, route 2, Thief River Falls, reported that someone damaged his pickup and stole his Air Gate. Damage loss from a scratch on the side was estimated at $110. Theft loss was estimated at $90.

Hit and run. On July 28 at 1:45 a.m. Roger Mickelsan, route 1, Goodridge, reported that his pickup was parked at Third and Knight facing west and an unknown vehicle, probably a Ford LTD, going west on Third struck the pickup pushing it onto the sidewalk and into a cement barrier. Damage loss to the pickup was estimated at $2,500. Damage to the cement bank was estimated at $100. It is under investigation.

Assault. On July 23 at 11:17 a.m. Randall Scott Olsan, Thief River Falls, reported that he had been assaulted early Sunday, July 21. According to the report he was at a residence in North township when he was struck. He had several bruises. It is under investigation.

On July 27 at 11:40 p.m. Pennington county sheriff's department received a call about a domestic incident in Basswood trailer court. Christopher Pricket, Thief River Falls, was cited for fifth degree assault for allegedly striking a woman.

On July 27 at 1:30 a.m. Police received a call about an assault that happened at Second and Main. A woman claimed she had been struck in the face. A citation for fifth degree assault was issued to Dennis Seaverson, 31, Thief River Falls. Seaverson later complained that he had been assaulted in a local bar. A citation for fifth degree assault was then issued to Cindy Jaeger, 32, Thief River Falls.

Consumption Under Age. Police, Pennington county sheriff's department and the Minnesota state patrol were called to break up a large party. Over 20 young people were cited for consumption of alcohol under age. Juveniles charged included: a 17-year-old female from route 2, Goodridge; a 17-year-old male from Thief River Falls; a 17-year-old female from route 2, Goodridge; a 16-year-old female from St. Hilaire; a 17-year-old male from route 2, Thief River Falls; a 17-year-old female from route 1, Thief River Falls. Don Jorstad attends class

Don Jorstad of Thief River Falls recently participated in an education workshop at Bemidji State University. Titled "Vocational Tests and Measurements," the two-day course was designed to assist educators in constructing tests which contribute to a comprehensive and continuous program of evaluation.

Jorstad, who is manager of KSRQ radio at Thief River Falls Technical College, said the group discussions featured as part of the course were particularly informative.

"I gained new insights," he commented. "This was my first exposure to some testing techniques."

The workshop, taught by Dr. Irv Larson, was one of over 100 workshops and short courses offered at Bemidji State University this summer.

"Saddle Tramp" selected for "We Fest" act

Thief River Falls band "Saddle Tramp" has been selected to perform during the We Fest country music celebration at the Soo Pass ranch near Detroit Lakes this weekend. The band will play for a one-hour performance from noon to 1 p.m. Friday.

Joel Kezar said "Saddle Tramp" has been performing in the area for about four years and is comprised primarily of musicians from this area who have been with traveling bands in the past. Most have been We Fest performers with other groups in the past, including several with the now disbanded "Back Behind the Barn Boys."

Kezar plays accoustic guitar, harmonica and fiddle and takes part in vocals. Mike Anderson of Thief River Falls plays drums and Jeral Gilbert of Thief River Falls plays lead guitar and sings.

Craig Swenson, formerly of Newfolden and now of Grand Forks, ND, plays accoustic guitar and takes part in vocals. Randy McMillan of the Grygla-Gatzke area plays keyboard and Randy Larson of that area plays bass guitar and sings as well as being the principal songwriter in the group.

Mike Sistad, the band's "secret weapon," is also from the Grygla-Gatzke area and now living in Nashville, TN, where he is attending school and working in the music field. Sistad plays fiddle, banjo and mandolin as well as doing vocals.

Kezar said that area bands perform beginning at 10 a.m. each day.

Grygla student gets BSU honor scholarship

Krista Rindahl of Grygla has accepted a $500 Bemidji State University Honor Scholarship. The scholarship is available to students who rank in the top 15 per cent of their high school class or to community college graduates who have achieved a cumulative 3.50 grade point average.

Rindahl graduated from Grygla High School where she was a piano accompanist for chorus, a cheerleader, and an honor student. She also was a member of the National Honor Society, volleyball and basketball teams, chorus, band, drama club, FHA, newspaper staff, annual staff and letter persons club. The recipient of a star rating on French horn solo, she is undecided on a major field of study at the university.

Talcum powder on infants may cause problems

Physicians at Children's Hospital of St. Paul are cautioning parents about the potential danger of using talcum powder on infants.

While it may seem harmless to sprinkle baby powder on a child's bottom during a diaper change, this seemingly innocent act may be putting babies at serious risk of aspiration. Many cases in which infants have become very ill (eight have died) as a result of inhaling talcum powder have been reported nationally. Most cases occur during a diaper change when parents entertain or distract a child with a powder container. Accidental inversion of the container or older children using powder on siblings also are common scenarios.

Physicians at Children's Hospital encourage parents to discontinue routine use of baby powder because there is is little evidence of any benefit to babies and a great deal of evidence of its hazards.

Poaching Crack-Down

In a one-month time period, Conservation Officers from the Minnesota Department of Natural Resources (DNR) have arrested 84 people for a variety of fishing violations during road checks, the most common violations being for over-limit and illegal transportation of fish.

Some seasoned poachers have successfully avoided road checks in the past by traveling odd hours on out-of-the-way roads, taking the long but "safe" way home, according to Col. Leo Haseman, DNR Enforcement Division director.

Conservation officers have countered with road checks starting at midnight or 2 a.m., held on county or even gravel roads, Haseman said. One such recent check resulted in the arrest of four nonresidents with 100 bass over the limit, which cost the group a total of $2,064 in fines.

"The fish must have been biting," Haseman said, since conservation officers conducting another unlikely road check stopped their first vehicle and discovered one person with 80 walleye. During that road check, conservation officers made 14 arrests for overlimits of Walleye and seized 300 walleye, resulting in fines totaling $3,546.

In addition to the road checks, conservation officers have been given a hand by sportsmen and women who call the TIP hotline to report poaching, Haseman said. TIP's toll-free hotline (1-800-652-9093) received 71 poaching reports in June, which resulted in 57 arrests for the month.

TIP offers cash rewards for information leading to arrests, although more than two-thirds of the people refuse rewards; stopping poachers is enough.

"The road checks and the TIP program are two valuable tools used by conservation officers in the battle against poachers in Minnesota," Haseman said.

DNR Budget Cuts

Department of Natural Resources has announced the first in a series of budget reductions being made throughout the department. The first of these reductions will be made in the Division of Parks and Recreation, as Minnesota State Parks prepares for the layoff of 39 seasonal employees. These employees include lifeguards and interpretive center hosts.

According to Kathleen Wallace, assistant director of Minnesota State Parks, the layoffs took effect July 29. Wallace explained that this is just the first in a series of cuts currently being reviewed by the division in order to meet its 1992 budget.

"Budget cutting is never an easy process," said Wallace," and it's particularly painful when it means laying off people and reducing services." Wallace continued, "Minnesota state parks has always prided itself on providing the public with a level of service that has made our system among the best in the nation. Today, we must ask for the public's help. Traditionally, we have been able to provide lifeguard service at most, but not all of our swimming beaches, until Labor Day. This year we will be able to provide that service at only three of our beaches; Fort Snelling, Camden and Flandrau State Parks."

She went on to ask the public to take responsibility for water safety at state park swimming areas without lifeguards. This is customary at public swimming areas in counties across the state, state forest campgrounds and other state park systems.

Interpretive hosts are part of the program-services offered at many state parks. Their duties include greeting guests, answering questions and staffing the interpretive centers while naturalists are out of the building presenting environmental education programs to park visitors.

Announcements of additional cuts in state parks are expected in the next few weeks as well as in other DNR divisions including Forestry, and Trails and Waterways, as workplan reviews are completed in the light of budget underfunding.

Stamp Contests

Entry deadlines are approaching for stamp artwork contests conducted by the Minnesota Department of Natural Resources (DNR). Criteria for stamp contests are available for artists considering submission of designs for the 1992 Minnesota Migratory Waterfowl Stamp, Pheasant Habitat Stamp and Trout and Salmon Stamp.

Stamp art contests, which are open only to Minnesota artists, offer no prizes. Winning artists retain reproduction rights, however, and artists usually issue limited edition prints of the artwork.

Trout and Salmon Stamp contest entries are due at the DNR headquarters, 500 Lafayette Road in St. Paul, no later than 4 p.m. on Friday, Aug. 9. Judging is scheduled for Thursday, Aug. 15.

Migratory Waterfowl Stamp (Duck Stamp) contest entries are due by Friday, Aug. 30, with judging scheduled for Thursday, Sept. 5.

Pheasant Habitat Stamp contest artwork is due by Friday, Sept. 20, with judging set for Thursday, Sept. 26.

Each contest will have a separate six-member judging panel consisting of members with expertise in art, ornithology, ichthyology, hunting, angling, conservation or printing. Judging for all three contests will take place at Woodlake Nature Center, 735 Lake Shore Drive, Richfield. Only the final stage of judging will be open to the public. Approximate times of the public judging are 2 p.m. for the Pheasant Habitat Stamp and the Trout and Salmon Stamp contests, and 2:30 p.m. for the Migratory Waterfowl Stamp contest.

Finalists and other selected entries will be exhibited at the Bell Museum of Natural History in Minneapolis from Oct. 26, 1991, through Jan. 26, 1992.

Revenues from stamp sales are dedicated to the development, restoration, maintenance and preservation of the species and their habitats.

For contest criteria information, write: Stamp Contest, Bureau of Information and Education, Minnesota DNR, 500 Lafayette Road, St. Paul, MN 55155-4046. The information is also available by calling the DNR toll-free in Minnesota 1-800-652-9747 (ask for the DNR).

Heartland State Trail

Manual Lujan Jr., United States Secretary of the Interior, announced on July 3 that the Minnesota Heartland State Trail has been designated as a National Recreation Trail.

In receiving this award, Dennis Asmussen, director of the Minnesota Department of Natural Resources' Trails and Waterways Unit, praised the trail and its development. "This National Trail Designation is a well deserved recognition of the foresight, dedication and hard work of the many individuals and organizations who made the Heartland State Trail possible," Asmussen said.

Heartland Trail was one of the first abandoned railroads in the country to be paved for recreational use. For more than 15 years, the trail has provide access to the popular north woods to bicyclists and hikers in the summer and snowmobilers in the winter.

In 1990, the trail was enjoyed by people more than 100,000 times, Asmussen said. The 27 paved miles stretch from Park Rapids to Walker through the fields, lakes and woods of northern Minnesota. The trail also passes through Chippewa National Forest, which is home to one of the largest bald eagle populations in the country.

DNR has maps and information about the Heartland State Trail and other state trails and facilities for people who want to explore these resources. For this information, contact the DNR Information Center toll-free in Minnesota 1-800-652-9747 (ask for the DNR).

Minnesotans believe the ads they read more than the ones they hear. A recent survey shows print carries the most believable advertising. In fact, over 32% of Minnesotans put newspapers on top, followed by the Yellow Pages at 29%. 22% chose television and 6% said radio. This means your advertising message carries more weight in print and your investment has a bigger payoff.

TRF hosts Ninth District American Legion baseball tournament...

Moorhead heads district field

Five-time defending champion Moorhead Blues head an eight-team field for the 1991 Ninth District Tier 1 American Legion baseball tournament that begins Thursday at Irv Wilson Field in Thief River Falls.

Winner of the four-day, double-elimination event will advance to the state tournament August 8-11 in Mankato.

Moorhead opens defense of its title Thursday at 10 a.m. vs. East Grand Forks. Roseau and Perham meet in the second Upper Bracket opener at 12:30 p.m. In the Lower Bracket, Detroit Lakes will play Crookston at 3 p.m and host Thief River Falls draws Fergus Falls at 5:30.

Final first-day game Thursday will match the first round Upper Bracket losers at 8 p.m.

Lower Bracket first round losers play Friday at 10 a.m., fallowed by games matching the Upper Bracket first round winners at 12:30 p.m. and the Lower Bracket first round winners at 3. Additional losers bracket games will be played at 5:30 and 8 p.m. Friday.

Saturday games are set for 2, 4:30 and 7:30 p.m. Sunday finals will be played at 2 p.m., followed immediately by a second game, if needed.

Past-season play actually got underway Monday when Crookston defeated Karlstad 14-4 to claim the No. 4 seed in the north portion of the Ninth District, rounding out the eight-team field in Thief River Falls.

Although the Blues have a history of success on their side, Moorhead doesn't loom as an overwhelming favarite this time around. Almost everyone has a legitimate title shot, according to Thief River Falls coach Howard Dalager. "I think it's up for grabs," he said. "Everybody is pretty excited about their chancas this year. It looks like a pretty balanced tournament."

Thief River Falls, like the others, is capable of challenging the Blues' title reign, said Dalager. Post 117 finished a .500 regular season at 19-19. Those 38 games included a 10-2 record in tournament appearances at East Grand Forks, Williston and Thief River Falls, along with a 9-17 mark in regularly-scheduled games.

"The kids seem to play well in tournaments," mentianed Dalager. "They get up for the tournament games."

Tournament Schedule

Thursday, Aug. 1
10 a.m. - (Game 1) Moorhead vs. East Grand Forks.
12:30 p.m. - (Game 2) Roseau vs Perham
3 p.m. - (Game 3) Detroit Lakes vs Crookston.
5:30 p.m. - (Game 4) Thief River Falls vs Fergus Falls.
8 p.m. - (Game 5) Moorhead-East Grand Forks loser vs. Roseau-Perham loser

Friday, Aug. 2
10 a.m. - (Game 6) Detroit Lakes-Crookston loser vs. Thief River Falls-Fergus Falls loser
12:30 p.m. - (Game 7) Moorhead-East Grand Forks winner vs. Roseau-Perham winner
3 p.m. - (Game 8) Detroit Lakes-Crookston winner vs. Thief River Falls-Fergus Falls winner
5:30 p.m. - (Game 9) Game 6 winner vs Game 7 loser
8 p.m. - (Game 10) Game 5 winner vs Game 8 loser

Saturday, Aug. 3
2 p.m. - (Game 11) Game 7 winner vs. Game 8 winner
4:30 p.m. (Game 12) - Game 9 winner vs. Game 10 winner
7:30 p.m. - (Game 13) - Game 12 winner vs. Game 11 loser

Sunday, Aug. 4
2 p.m. - (Game 14) Game 11 winner vs. Game 13 winner – finals.
4:30 p.m. - (Game 15) if needed – championship

And they shaw up for tournaments. A long summer season will often produce some absence among the players because of family and job committments. But the players try to clear their schedules for the tournaments, and, according to Dalager, when the full roster is on hand, Post 117 is capable of playing some good baseball. "When everybody is there, we've some pretty quality ball players," he said.

A pitching staff featuring Mike Rokke, Mitch Bernstein, Darin Wald and Kyle Evenson has been solid, pointed out Dalager, and the offense, led by Dave Blazek, Bernstein and Mike Swanson at the top of the order, has the potential to be productive.

But defense hasn't been a strong suit, admitted Dalager. "Defense has been our downfall," he said. "If we can play well defensively, we'll be all right. It's just a matter of playing some good baseball."

Dalager is putting a lot of emphasis on a good tournament start. "It's always important to win that first game," he pointed out. "It's really tough, mentally, to come back after losing that first one, and it puts an awful lot of pressure on you the rest of the tournament."

Rokke will start on the mound against Fergus Falls, with Jamie Lorenson expected to do the catching. In the infield, Post 117 will likely use Pete Balmer at first base, Bernstein at second, Barry Dowers at shortstop and Kyle Evenson at third. Evenson could, however, be the catcher, with Cory Offerdahl playing third. From left to right, Wald, Swanson and Blazek will be the outfielders.

Thief River Falls' regular season Ninth District results this summer includes a 1-1 mark vs. Fergus Falls, 2-2 against East Grand Forks, 3-3 against Roseau and 2-3 vs. Detroit Lakes, 1-3 with Crookston and 0-2 against Moorhead. Thief River Falls did not play Perham this year.

Post 117 reached the Ninth District finals a year ago before losing to Moorhead at Detroit Lakes.

A new format this year will find The Ninth District crowning champions in two eight-team, double-elimination tournaments, with the Tier II event taking place in Ada the same time the larger Tier I programs compete in Thief River Falls. For the first time, there is both a Tier I and Tier II state tournament this year.

A single-class Ninth District tournament was played from 1927 through 1982 before a Class AA/A format went into effect beginning in 1983, with the winners meeting for the Ninth District berth at the single-class state tournament.

That format was changed last year when the four Class AA teams were joined by four Class A qualifiers far an eight-team Ninth District tournament. The switch to separate taurnaments this year also included the move of Roseau, Perham, Crookston, Karlstad and East Grand Forks into the Tier I (Class AA) level, joining Thief River Falls, Detroit Lakes, Fergus Falls and Moorhead.

Ninth District admission prices are $3 per day or $7 for a tournament pass for adults, and $2 per day or $5 for a tournament pass for ages 13-18. Children ages 12-under will be admitted free of charge.

Bertram, Broten skate in Ottawa tournament

Troy Bertram and Aaron Broten, who will serve as co-captains of the 1991-92 Lincoln High School heckey team, were teammates on the Junior North Stars team that competed recently in the tenth annual Ottawa Capitals AAA Summer Heckey Tournament.

The two Prowlers received invitations to the first Juniar North Stars try-outs in Minneapolis in April, and were among the skaters invited to return for a second try-out session in May, when they selected to compete in the Midget-age tournament.

Five practice sessions were held in St. Paul in June before the team made the 1,200-mile trip to Ottawa, Canada, where they placed third while competing against teams from Canada, Connecticut, Maine, New York, Michigan and Massachusetts.

Junior North Stars team members hailed from throughout Minnesota, many of whom played in the 1991 Minnesota state high school heckey tournament.

Troy, who will be a senior at Lincoln this year, is the son of Dan and Jackie Bertram. Aaron, who will be a junior, is the son of Ron and Mary Broten.

TRF hosts archery tournament

Close to 500 entries are expected to be received during the 40th annual Thief River Falls Archery Club Fall Tournament this weekend.

Forty 3-D targets will be used for the event, which draws shooters from throughout Minnesota, North Dakota and Manitoba.

Competitian will be held at the club's outdoor range, located south and west of the airport off Pennington Avenue. Registrations will be taken from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. both Saturday and Sunday.

Entry fee is $10 per person. Trophies will be awarded in various classes.

The 1990 tournament drew 247 entries, but officials look for that number to nearly double this year with an anticipated large number of Winnipeg-area archers.

Tony Sipe League Legion baseball playoffs...

RLF beats Bombers for title

Red Lake Falls won two out of three match-ups with the Thief River Falls Bombers to claim championship honors in the Tony Sipe League American Legion baseball playoffs.

Top four finishers in the week-long, eight-team, double-elimination event at Ada – Red Lake Falls, Thief River Falls Bombers, Warroad, Bagley – earned spots in the Ninth District American Legion Tier II tournament which beings Thursday back in Ada.

The second-seeded Bombers beat No. 7 Fertile 7-5 Thursday, outscored No. 3 Ada 15-11 Friday and got by top-seeded Red Lake Falls 21-18 Saturday to reach the finals.

But Red Lake Falls, after beating No. 8-seeded Fosston 6-5 Thursday and No. 5 Warroad 12-11 Friday, bounced back from the loss to the Bombers with a 4-3 nine-inning Sunday afternoon win over Warroad, then claimed a 14-12 Sunday night victory over the Bombers to square the finals at one win apiece.

With the Bombers splitting their 18-member squad between the Tony Sipe League playoffs in Ada and the Ninth District VFW tournament being played in East Grand Forks at the same time, Thief River Falls' second unit fell to Red Lake Falls 11-1 in Monday's championship game.

The Bombers, being directed by assistant coach Jerald Hagen, played the final two innings of the five-inning final with just eight players after Tony Greene suffered a broken thumb in a collision at second base. (Other details of the Monday game were not available at press time today).

Thief River Falls, 37-16-1 overall, will play the Moorhead Vets in the 9 a.m. Ninth District opener Thursday in Ada. Rest of the first day match-ups include New York Mills vs. Bagley at 11:15 a.m., Breckenridge vs. Warroad at 1:30 p.m., Red Lake Falls vs. Frazee at 3:45, the Thief River Falls-Moorhead loser vs. the New York Mills-Bagley loser at 6 and the Breckenridge-Warroad loser vs. the Red Lake Falls-Frazee loser at 8:15.

Friday games will be played at 12-noon, 2:30, 5:30 and 7:30 p.m. Saturday games get underway at 1, 3:30 and 7 p.m., and the Sunday finals are scheduled far 2 p.m.

Tony Sipe League Playoffs

Thief River Falls out-scored Ada 15-11 in a see-saw Friday night match-up.

Ada started with a 4-0 lead, but a two-run double by Carter Rogalla highlighted a seven-run Thief River Falls third inning.

Thief River Falls fell behind again, 11-7, in the top of the fifth before coming back to tie it with a four-run effort in the bottom of the inning that included a two-run single by Nathan Knutson.

A two-run Jason Svir double sparked another four-run Thief River Falls inning in the sixth that broke the 11-11 tie.

Knutson was 3-for-5, Jeremy Tallum went 2-for-4 and Svir was 2-for-5.

Rick Ostby pitched the first 4 1/3 innings, with Jeremy Olson pitching two-thirds of an inning before Marc Haugen struck out five in two innings of game-ending relief for the win.

What appeared to be a blow-out wound up a nail-biter Saturday night when the Bombers outlasted Red Lake Falls 21-18 in a battle of the tournament's final two unbeaten teams.

Thief River Falls erupted for 15 runs in the top of the third inning to go up 20-1. The Bombers' reserves had trouble holding that lead, however, as Red Lake Falls pulled within three runs before it was done.

Wade Evenson and Jeremy Tallum were both 2-for-2, while Rick Osthy went 3-for-4 with five RBI, Carter Rogalla had a 2-far-4 night and Josh Balmer drove in two runs on sacrifice fly at-bats.

Tallum was the starting and winning pitcher, going four innings before Jason Svir came on for two innings of mound work. Marc Haugen struck out the side in a final inning save effort.

First of the post-season conflicts Sunday night found most of the Thief River Falls starters staying in East Grand Forks to finish up a 4 p.m. first-round Ninth District VFW tournament game against Moorhead, while the bench left to begin a 7 p.m. rematch with Red Lake Falls in the Tony Sipe League Legion playoff finals at Ada. The Bombers wound up with a loss at both sites, including a 14-12 defeat at the hands of Red Lake Falls that necessitated a return trip to Ada Monday for the third TRF/RLF encounter of the tournament.

Thief River Falls stayed with Red Lake Falls 4-3 through two innings before the rest of the squad arrived, but even with the Bombers' regulars making their way back in the line-up, Red Lake Falls opened up a 9-3 third inning lead and had a 14-7 seventh inning cushion.

A five-run bottom of the seventh got the Bombers within 14-12 when Wade Evenson came through with a bases-loaded triple, but they left runners at second and third when the final out was recorded on an

John Matchefts began coaching career with TRF

John Matchefts, named recently as one of three 1991 inductees into the United States Heckey Hall of Fame in Eveleth, began his hockey coaching career in Thief River Falls during the 1956-57 season.

An article in Friday's Northern Watch indicated the Eveleth High School, University of Michigan and U.S. Olympic standout began coaching at Eveleth before moving to Thief River Falls. It should have read the other way around, with Matchefts coaching the Prowlers in 1956-57, 1957-58 and 1958-59 before finishing 10 years of high school coaching at Eveleth.

The Prowlers won the 1959 Minnesota state high school hockey tournament consolation title under Matchefts.

He went on to coach at Colorado College for five years and at the United States Air Force Academy 15 years. He currently servas in the Air Force Academy athletic department.

Matchefts, Bob Johnaon and Robbie Ftorek will be officially inducted into the Hall of Fame during October 12 ceremonies in Eveleth.

Women's Softball

First night of the 1991 Thief River Falls Women's Slow Pitch Softball League playoffs was held Monday.

Best Western Inn Ridgerunners started with a 10-6 first-round win over the Mush-A-Rets as Micky Erickson and Becky Beito both went 2-for-2, Shannon Olson was 2-for-3 and Andi Nelson tripled and homered in a 2-for-4 game.

Holly Gram was 4-for-4, Kerry Nelson hit two home runs and Jennifer Lorenson came up with a three-run hame run as Middla River M&M out-scored the Swingers 16-15.

Pizza Hut got by the Mush-A-Rets 10-8 as Deanne Thompson went 3-for-3 with a home run, a double and five RBI, and Colleen Rook was 3-for-4 with a triple.

Deb Williams and Michelle Lund home homered and Angie Kiesow was 3-for-5 to lead Best Wastern Inn past Middle River M&M 12-2.

VFW won twice, beating Legion/Sather Law 8-2 and Pizza Hut 5-1, while Rainbow Nursery lost twice, falling to the Swingers 15-2 and St. Hilaire Elevator/Lynn's Refrigerating 11-6.

Playoffs will resume Wednesday, with the field narrowed to four teams for the Monday games, setting up the Wednesday, August 7, finals.

Bombers lose in VFW tournament

Moorhead and Bemidji were scheduled to meet today (Tuesday) at 4 p.m. in the finals of the Ninth District VFW baseball tournament for 16-year-olds at East Grand Forks.

Thief River Falls Bombers were seeded No. 1 heading into the five-team, double-elimination event that began Sunday, but the Wayne Rahlf-coached squad, after a first round bye, dropped a 5-4 Sunday afternoon decision to No. 4-seeded Moorhead and was eliminated with a 3-1 Monday afternoon loss to No. 3-seeded Fergus Falls.

No. 4-seeded Moorhead surprised No. 1 Thief River Falls 5-4 Saturday afternoon with a three-run seventh inning rally.

Trailing 4-2 heading into the final frame, Moorhead used four walks and a two-out infield error to score three times for the win.

Thief River Falls out-hit Moorhead 8-3, with Carter Rogalla going 3-for-4 and Jason Svir picking up two hits in three at-bats.

Thief River Falls came up short offensively Monday in a 3-1 loss to Fergus Falls that knocked the Bombers out of the tournament.

Jeremy Olson, like Kevin Erickson the day before, was a tough-luck loser, giving up just five hits. He struck one one and walked three.

"We got outstanding pitching both days – we gave up just eight hits in two days and still got beat twice," pointed out Thief River Falls coach Wayne Rahlf. "But when we had to have a big play, we didn't get one. That's not the fault of the kids. It's tournament time, and upsets happen."

Thief River Falls' lone run crossed the plate in the bottom of the first when Jason Svir singled, stole second and third and scored on an infield error.

The Bombers did not get another base hit until Nathan Knutson and Marc Haugen both singled in the seventh. There was also a walk and a fielder's choice play that inning, but no Thief River Falls scoring.

DNR waterfowl survey completed

Mallard breeding populations were unchanged from 1990 to 1991, but blue-winged teal and locally-breeding Canada goose populations declined, according to results of the annual May waterfowl population breeding ground survey in Minnesota done by the Department of Natural Resources (DNR).

"Although mallard populations were unchanged, they were still 22 percent above the 1975-90 average," said Jeff Lawrence, waterfowl staff specialist with the DNR. "Mallard populations in Minnesota have generally been on an upward trend for the past several years. Blue-winged team declined 20 percent, after a 16 percent increase last year. Early duck production was expected to be only moderate, but improved water conditions may yield a strong late nesting effort."

The number of breeding waterfowl in Minnesota is estimated annually as part of an overall inventory of North American breeding waterfowl. In Canada and the north-central United States, duck breeding papulations increased 6 percent compared to 1990. Blue-winged teal (up 34 percent compared to 1990) and scaup (up 25 percent) showed the largest increases, while pintail populations continued ta decline (down 20 percent).

"The pintail is only a small portion of Minnesota's breeding population and duck harvest, but we are concerned about its status," said Lawrence. "Numbers in Canada and the north-central U.S. are 62 percent below the long-term average. Their population reached a record low this year."

"Pintails are more sensitive to drought than most species of ducks, and the recent series of drought years have adversely affected their productivity," Lawrence noted. "The status of the pintail will be a major discussion topic at the upcoming Mississippi Flyway Council meetings."

Minnesota's population of locally breeding Canada geese decreased 28 percent from 1990, but was almost 130 percent above the 1975-90 average. This was the first decline in Minnesota goose breeding populatian since 1982. The survey does not include the Twin Cities area, which also has a substantial goose population. Breeding Canada geese are espanding their range throughout mast of Minnesota. "We espect the dramatic growth of this populatian to slow as available habitat is occupied and goose regulations are liberalized," Lawrence said.

Eastern Prairie Population Canada goose flock, which nests near Hudson's Bay and migrates through Minnesota, had a breeding similar to last year, so the DNR espects good production. "This is the population of geesa that accounts for the bulk of the birds seen at areas such as Lac qui Parle, Thief Lake and Roseau," Lawrence said.

Habitat conditions for waterfowl improved throughout much of Minnesota in 1991, Lawrence said. Below normal precipitation was recorded during the winter, but above normal precipitation in April and May improved water conditions throughout much of the state. In most of the southern half and extreme northwest portions of Minnesota, April-May precipitation was in the top 10 percent on record. May pond numbers were 29 percent above 1990 and equal to the lang-term average.

"In general, habitat conditions were good by the later part of the breeding season," Lawrence said. "Waterfowl managers are hopeful that habitat conditions will continue to improve throughaut the north-central U.S. and prairie Canada."

Status of the North American waterfowl populations were to be discussed by the Mississippi Flyway Council at its July meeting in Biloxi, MS. The Flyway Council is an organization of waterfowl biologists and administrators representing 14 states and three Canadian provinces. Flyway Council recommendations on waterfowl hunting regulations will be presented by the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service in early August in Washington, D.C.

DNR News

Minnesota Department of Natural Resources (DNR) is considering a way to provide soma traditional late season hunting opportunity by using an option to split the waterfowl season into three segments, it was announced recently.

U.S. Fish and Wildlifa Servica, which has overall responsibility for management of migratory birds in the United States, will allow states to select use of zones or seasons split into three segments in 1991. These options will nat be allowed again for five years, until 1996.

"Waterfowlers in Minnesota hava requested late season hunting opportunity in recent years," according to Roger Holmes, director of the DNR Fish and Wildlife Division. "By splitting the season into three parts, we can take three days out of our current season and move them to November to provide some late season hunting," Holmes said. "This will provide additianal opportunity for hunting late divers and mallards in many portions of tha state.

"When we had 50-day duck seasons we could provide opportunity for all our waterfowl huntar groups," Helmes said. "However, with the short seasons due to current low duck populations, lato season hunting has not been available. The Fish and Wildlife Service is allowing these options this year to standardize zone and split seasons that states may use for the next five years. This additional late season hunting can be provided without having a detrimental effect on the duck resource," he said.

However, the state will be evaluating and reporting back to the Fish and Wildlife Service an the effects of the new season structure on waterfowl harvest and species compositian, Halmes said.

"We had previously suggested zoning the state into two parts, and then having a split sesson in the south," said Holmes. "However, following the public input process, we decided that it would be difficult to have a zone line that would satisfy averyone. Also, a single closure would have meant thet, to provide significant additional late season oppartunity, a large segment of early season hunting would have been sacrificed. Therefore, we are considering the optlan to split the season into three parts. We are propasing to take three weekdays out of the third week of the season and move those daya to tha second weekend of November."

"For example, assuming a season framework similar to last year, the season would likely bo divided into the fallowing three segments: Oct. 5-13, Oct. 17-Nov. 3, and Nov. 8-10. This structure gives consideration to migration chronology, freeze-up dotes, waterfowl populations, and late season hunting recreatioa, while maintaining an open season during tha popular teachers' convention ("MEA") weekend that begins October 17, Holmes said. "The Nav. 8-10 period would add an additional weekend to tha season whila staying within tha likely 30-day framework," he said. "It also would allow waterfowl hunters who intend to hunt deer on Nov. 9 tha opportunity to hunt ducks oo Friday, bofore tha deer season opens. One other advantaga to this system is that the waterfowl season would bo open the same days in all areas, and no person could hunt ducks in Minnesota for more days than the basic framework," Holmes added.

"Hunters should keep in mind that these dates are strictly proposals at this point, and they will remain tentative until final seasons are selected in late August," Holmes stressed. He also stated that the split season option is being considered for ducks only, and that goose seasons will bo unaffected.

Status of waterfowl was scheduled to bo discussed at tha Denver Status Meeting July 25. The Mississippi Flyway Council met July 27-28 in Biloxi, MS, to develop season recommendations for the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service. The USFWS will develop preliminary waterfowl seasan recommendations for the U.S. Fish and Wildlifa Service. The USFWS will davelop preliminary waterfowl-season frameworks (earliest and latest opening dates, number of days of hunting, bag limits, etc.) in early August. The DNR Waterfowl Committee will then develop Minnesota's final waterfowl season recommeadations. The DNR's selection of waterfowl seasons will be announced in late August.

Counties receiving payment from DNR

Checks totaling $741,200 were recently sent to 81 Minnesota counties from the Department of Natural Resources Bureau of Real Estate Management to compensate for the loss of tax revenues on lands purchased for wildlife management areas (WMAs).

The payments in-lieu-of-taxes are made annually from the Minnesota State Game & Fish Fund. Receipts into the fund are primarily from the sale of hunting, trapping and fishing licenses, and federal aid monies appropriated to the state for fish and wildlife restoration projects.

Payments to the individual counties are calculated based on the following formula, using whichever amount is greatest:

- 35 percent of the gross receipts from all special use permits and leases of lands acquired for WMAs, or
- 50 cents per acre on purchased land actually used for WMAs, or
- 3/4 of one percent of the appraised value of purchased WMA lands.

By law, the county treasurer is required to distribute the payments among the county and the respective towns and school districts where the wildlife lands are located, on the same basis as if the payments were received as property taxes.

Purchase price of the acquired wildlife lands is considered the appraised value for five-year increments following acquisition, according to the Minnesota Department of Natural Resources (DNR). Every five years (or in the case of lands acquired prior to July 1, 1985) the appraised value is set by the county assessor. The fiscal year 1990 payment is based on new appraisals.

In addition to these payments, the DNR also makes in-lieu-of-tax payments to counties from the General Fund amounting to more than 4.7 million dollars.

Outdoor News

Individuals interested in participating in the special September 1-10 Canada goose seasons in the Twin Cities Metro Zone, Fergus Falls/Alexandria Zone, or the Southwest Border Zone are reminded that they must submit an application by August 1, according to the Minnesota Department of Natural Resources (DNR). A separate application must be submitted for each hunt.

Application forms are available at county auditors offices.

Hunting, fishing license figures...

License sales increase

Revenue from hunting and fishing license sales rose 5.6 percent in 1990, reported John Turner, director of the Interior Department's U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service. The total sales of hunting licenses decreased slightly from the previous year, while fishing license sales held stead.

A total of 15,806,864 people purchased hunting licenses during fiscal year 1990, compared with 15,858,063 in 1989. Fishing license purchasers numbered 30,731,821 in fiscal year 1990, compared with 30,302,244 in 1989. Income from the sale of licenses and associated permits, tags and stamps in 1990 reached an overall total of $784 million, compared with $740 million in 1989.

In making the announcement, Turner said, "Nearly 50 million Americans enjoyed hunting and fishing activities last year. These sportsmen and women, through the purchase of licenses, tags and stamps, provided vital funding to enhance outdoor recreation opportunities for all Americans."

In U.S. Fish and Wildlife Region 3, which includes Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Michigan, Minnesota, Missouri, Ohio and Wisconsin, license sales during fiscal year 1990 totaled $93,445,436 for fishing and $103,722,811 for hunting.

By state, paid fishing license holders included: Illinois - 820,395; Indiana - 655,191; Iowa - 424,795; Michigan - 1,577,875; Minnesota - 1,551,621; Missouri - 1,047,205; Ohio - 1,358,991; Wisconsin - 1,470,521.

By state, paid hunting license holders included: Illinois - 329,734; Indiana - 317,486, Iowa - 271,663; Michigan - 1,148,163; Minnesota - 510,277; Missouri - 557,855; Ohio - 491,494; Wisconsin - 741,433.

Hunting and fishing are two of the activities highlighted in the Interior Department's recently-announced outdoor recreation initiative, "Enjoy Outdoors America."

"Interior Secretary Lujan and I recognize the valuable contributions of our hunters and anglers, not only to their own pastime, but to the conservation of this country's natural resources. We look to them as prime examples of good stewardship and conservation of this nation's wildlife and wild lands. I would like to see more than more Americans showing the same type of commitment," said Turner.

Money from the sale of fishing and hunting licenses, permits, tags and stamps is used to fund state fish and wildlife programs. License sales figures are compiled annually by the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service from information submitted by state fish and wildlife agencies.

Federal Aid in Wildlife Restoration and the Federal Aid in Sport Fish Restoration programs, both administered by the Service, is apportioned in part by the number of paid fishing and hunting license holders in each state.
